TYEE

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

FORWARD

WITH THE WAR behind us and the future filled with ideas of rebuilding the old world into a wiser one which will seek to maintain peace among nations, we turn to the concept of international understanding and good will as a peg upon which to hang our hope for lasting peace.

We have learned that despite the economic and military strength of our nation, we cannot isolate ourselves. We cannot shut out our neighbors and brothers across the oceans. Therefore, we must endeavor to understand peoples of foreign lands just as they try to learn our ways. Not only do we want to acquire knowledge of other lands and inhabitants through books and other secondary means, but we want to meet our contemporaries from other parts of the world face to face . . . live, learn and play side by side with them.

Here at the University where 235 students representing 28 foreign countries are enrolled, we are fortunate to be able to enjoy this experience and gain from it.

Because we know that past wars have been caused partly by misunderstandings of nations and peoples, Tyee 1947 holds up international understanding as a goal toward which we must strive if lasting peace is to belong to the world.

WHEN THE UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON shifted into the post-war era with an all-time high record of enrollment last fall, it presented a challenge for Dr. Raymond B. Allen who took office September 1, 1946, as Washington's twenty-first president.

Dr. Allen came to the campus at a time when classrooms were overflowing and when departments and schools were in need of more facilities to handle the increased enrollment. Because he is a rare combination of educator and administrator, Dr. Allen met the challenge and with calm determination guided the University through a difficult year.

It is to Dr. Raymond B. Allen we dedicate Tyee 1947.

Lyn Roth, Helen Langer, Assistants

Again it is my privilege to extend my greetings and best wishes to the faculty and the students at the University of Washington.

I am well aware that the physical facilities of all of our schools are inadequate and do not provide comfortable conditions for the many thousands of students, but the fact that so large a number is preparing to take part in the affairs of our state and our nation is reassuring.

I can assure you that our whole state is interested in you and in your careers, and we have confidence that you will lead useful lives and that you will contribute much to the welfare of the communities in which you will cast your lot.

BOARD OF REGENTS

THE BIENNium 1947-49 promises to be about the busiest period of the University's history as far as expansion is concerned. A $20,000,000 budget, including extended payrolls and equipment budgets, an unprecedented building program, including the inauguration of the medical-dental center, forms a program that will challenge the closest interest of the regents . . . the governing board.

The reappointment of the veteran regents Balmer and Miller and the appointment of George Stuntz supply the news items for the personnel of the Board.

Composed of seven members, the Board of Regents is appointed by the governor, by and with consent of the Senate, for a term of six years, and members serve without financial compensation.

CLARENCE J. COLEMAN: President, Board of Regents; Everett; LL.B., Washington, 1922. Practices law in company with his father. Term expires 1950.

THOMAS BALMER: Seattle; University Law School, 1909. Vice-President and western counsel, Great Northern Railway Co. Term expires 1953.

DAVE BECK: Seattle; Vice-President of International Brotherhood of Teamsters; Chairman, Western Conference of Teamsters, State Joint Council of Teamsters. Term expires 1951.

JOSEPH DRUMHELLER: Spokane; chemist and oil man; graduate chemical engineering, Washington, 1925. Member State Senate, 1935-41. Operates Drumheller Laboratories. Term expires 1950.

JOHN M. FOX: Seattle; Captain in Maritime Service; graduate Uttmark Nautical Academy. President, Inlandboatmen's Union of the Pacific, CIO; Business Manager, Masters, Mates and Pilots of America, AFL, Local No. 6; Labor member Wage Stabilization Board. Term expired 1947.

JOHN L. KING: Seattle; director Radio and Research, Washington State Grange; graduate Washington A.B., 1925; M.A. Washington, 1941. Member State Advisory Commission. Taught school 1925-1937. State High School Supervisor, 1937-41. Term expires 1951.

WINLOCK W. MILLER: Seattle; Attorney and real estate investments. Graduate Yale. Known as "Dean" of University regents after 25 years' service. Overseer of Whitman College. Term expires 1953.

GEORGE R. STUNTZ: Seattle; Attorney; graduate Washington, 1928. Served in U. S. Navy two and one-half years during World War II. Term expires 1951.

INCREASE IN THE SIZE of the student body brought numerous new problems to the Office of Student Affairs, which likes to call itself the "Students' Unofficial Attorney." This added load called for a staff increase. An important change was made when the Veterans' Administration was brought into OSA. This eliminated the tendency to place veterans in a separate section of the student government. Another addition to the staff was the Counselor to Foreign Students.

THE DESIRE of the Alumni Association is to aid the University to reach unattained objectives, to secure greater recognition, and to serve the country in a more splendid manner. Membership in the association aids it to initiate long-term projects of importance to the University, the development of the "Foundation for Research at the University of Washington, Inc.", class reunions, homecomings and other Alumni festivities.

The Alumni Association is expanding. In January, Mrs. Edith Korres was appointed assistant secretary, a newly created position to take care of the women's alumnae groups in the interest of a stronger and more unified Alumni association. The Quarterback Club, called "Washington Club in the Sky," atop the Camlin Hotel, was opened by a group of Washington Alumni. A series of popular Sunday evening firesides have been held at the Faculty Club. Among the speakers were Dr. George Taylor, of the Far East department and Dr. Edward Turner, dean of the Medical School.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Dean Edward H. Lauer

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES is made up of 8 schools, 24 departments, 947 staff members from professors to readers, 9,000 students . . . a big family. All pre-majors are in this department, including students in pre-law, pre-medics and pre-dentistry as well as those who are still undecided as to a permanent major field. This year there were 2,952 such students.

COLLEGE OF ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS

Dean Howard H. Preston

WORKING OUT TIGHT SCHEDULES, recruiting competent teachers, and solving classroom and textbook shortages have added to the regular teaching responsibilities of the faculty and have been the major tasks of Dean Howard H. Preston, long-time faculty member and head of the College.

A new unit of the University, in the creation of which the faculty of the College of Economics and Business had a leading role, is the Institute of Industrial Relations. The new institute, directed by William S. Hopkins, Professor of Labor Economics, will coordinate teaching, community relations and research in the labor field.

Other major fields in the College include accounting, economics, international relations and many more.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Dean Francis F. Powers

THE WORK of the College of Education extends into many areas and special fields. The demand for well-trained teachers is reflected in the tremendous increase in enrollment both at the undergraduate and graduate levels. The College of Education is aware of the fact that teachers of tomorrow's citizens will be no better than the training which is given them in the teacher-training institutions. It is for this reason that careful attention and study is given to the planning of new courses and to the revision of the teacher-training curriculum to meet the needs of a changing society.

As Dean of the College and Head of the Department of Education, Dr. Francis F. Powers has many duties which occupy his time and attention. At present he is studying recommendations of the Strayer Survey of Public Education and planning a diagnostic reading survey. In moments of relaxation his thoughts turn to his hobby fishing.

they meet changes and additions in the college.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

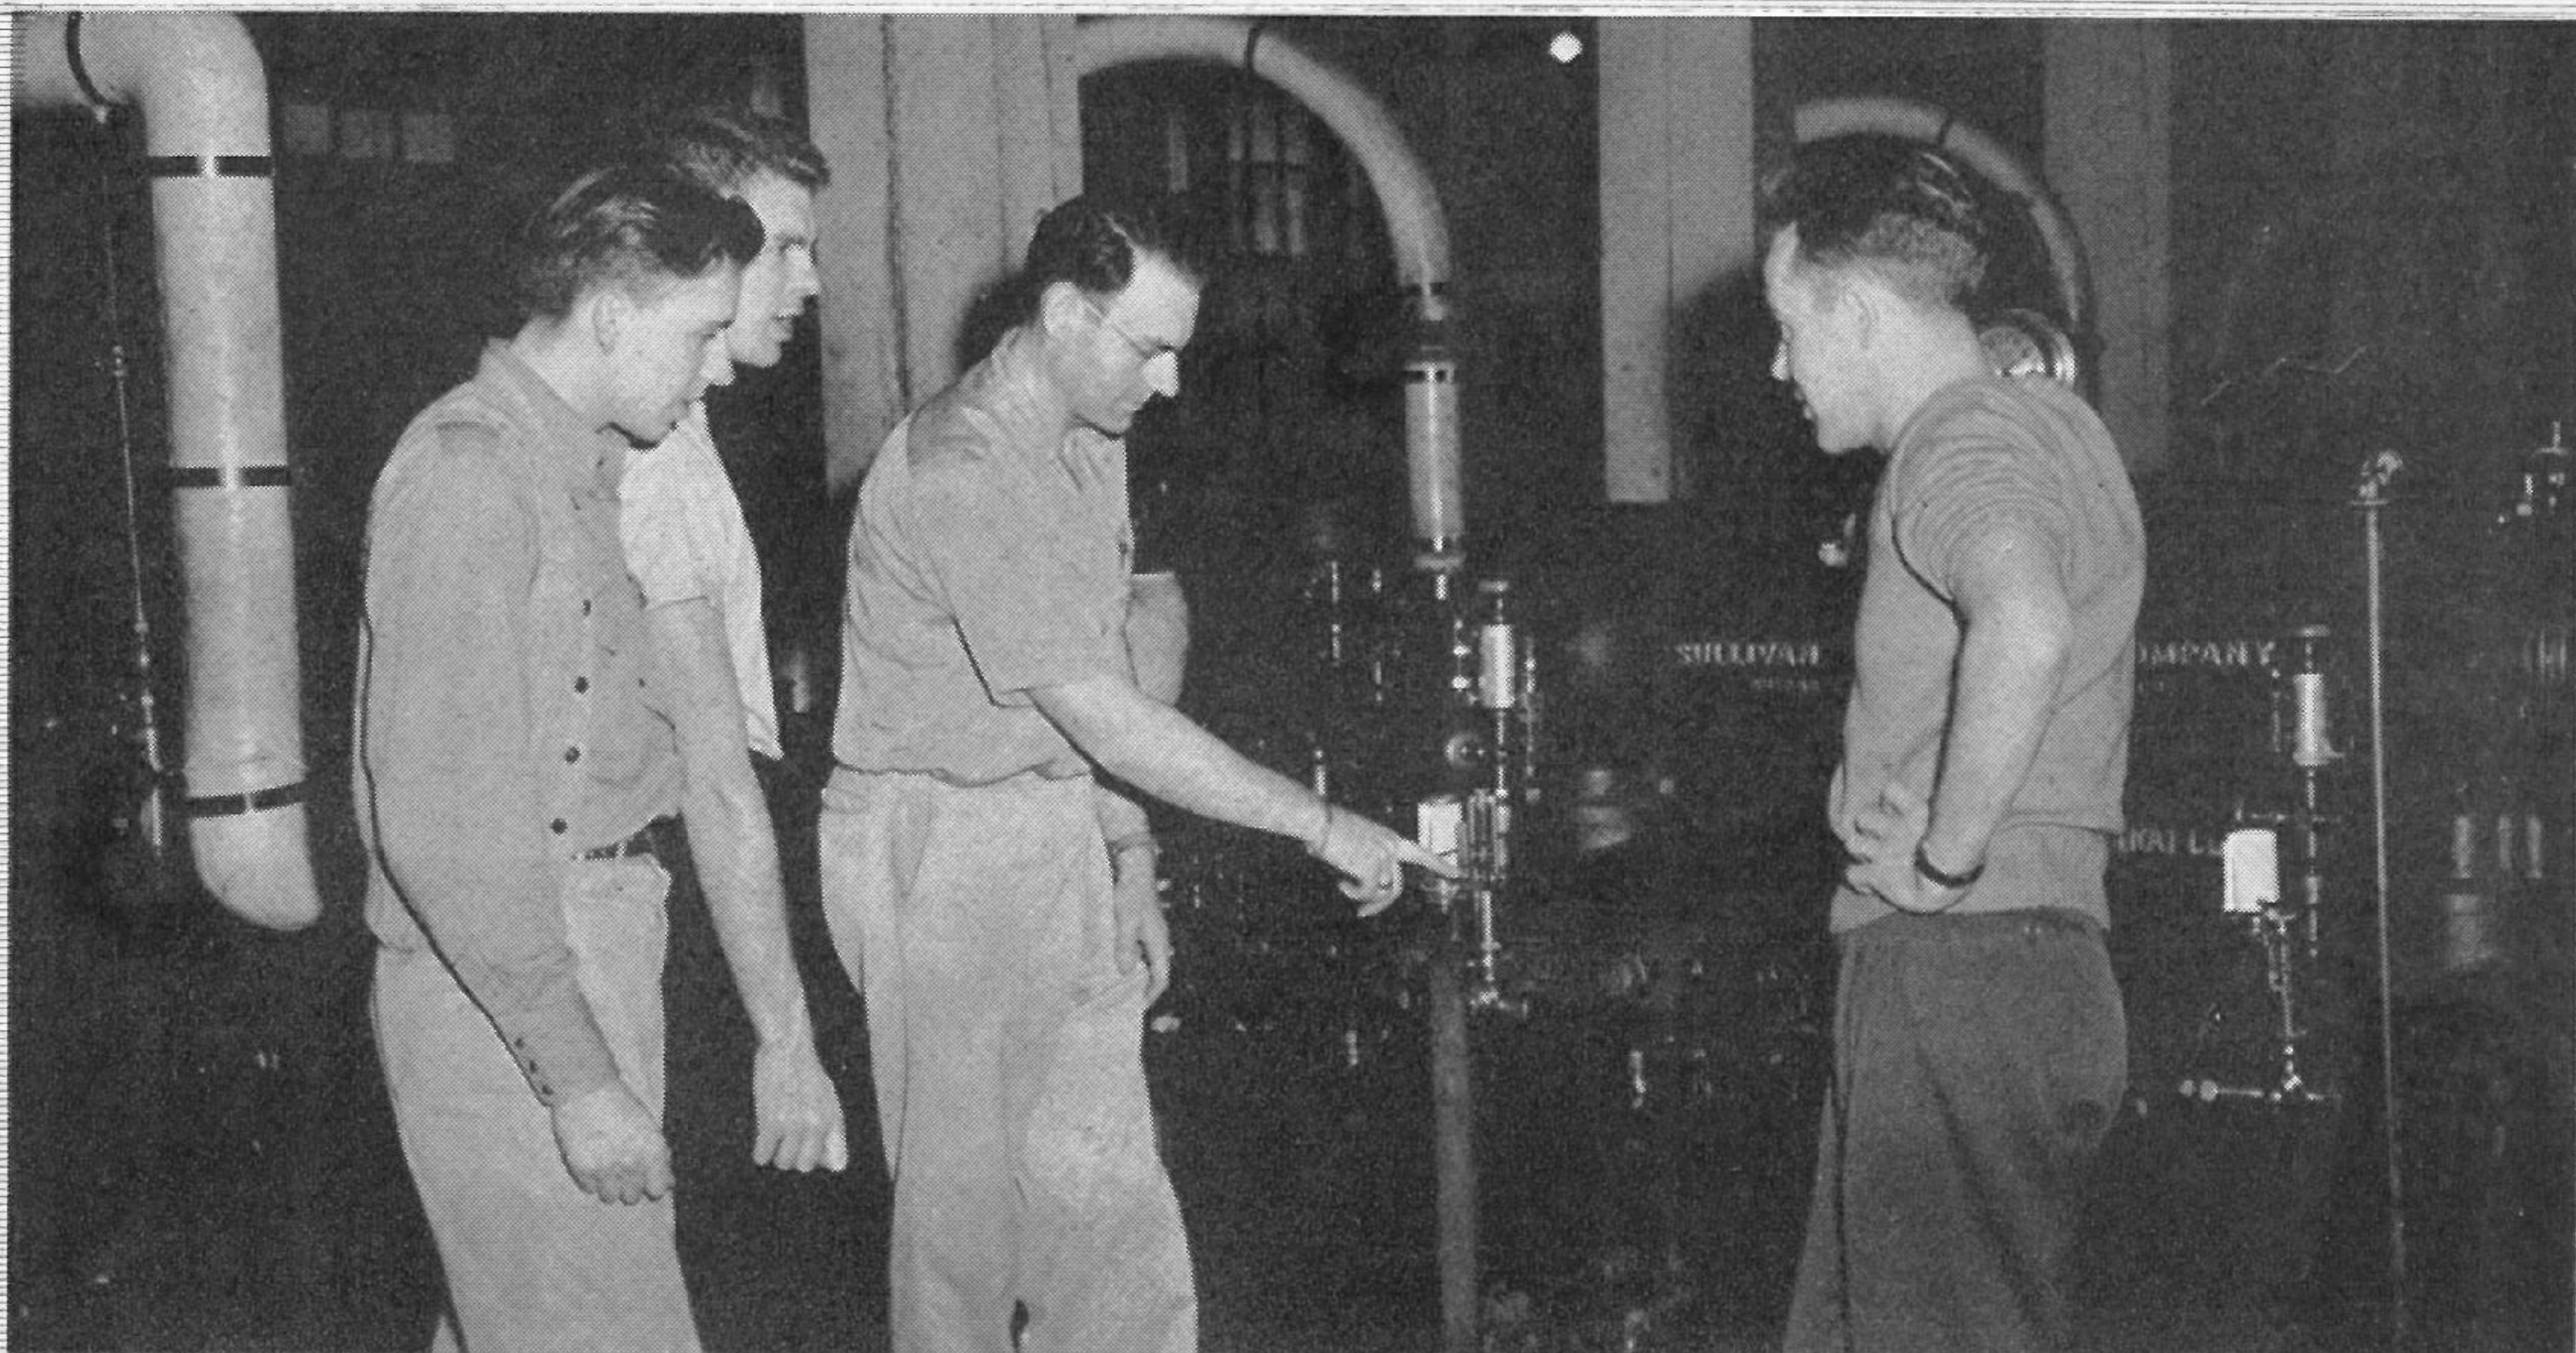

Dean Edgar A. Loew

THE COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING has felt the full force of the pressures of enrollment and attendant problems of shortages in housing laboratory, classroom, office and staff since the highly mechanized nature of World War II has been a powerful stimulus in directing veterans returning to college toward engineering as a profession.

Present enrollment in the Engineering college is limited to 2100, a number which is fifty per cent in excess of the previous maximum. Veterans comprise more than ninety per cent of the Freshman and eighty-five per cent of the other classes. The staff has been increased by one-third, although no additional space has as yet been provided.

After many years of distinguished service as professor of mechanical engineering, E. O. Eastwood has relinquished his executive duties. Professor E. S. Eastman has been appointed head of Aeronautical Engineering and Professor B. T. McMinn, head of the Mechanical Engineering division.

With the increase in enrollment and staff came additional activity in the College. The structural laboratory has been completed; C. C. More Hall is expected to be ready next fall.

COLLEGE OF FORESTRY

Dean Gordon D. Marckworth

AFTER FOUR YEARS of restricted enrollment due to the war, the College of Forestry is again back in the running with the largest enrollment since 1937 and with the largest Freshman class on record. Veterans are very much in evidence, making up eighty-two per cent of the enrollment. Last spring Pack Forest, where Sophomores secure their initial wood experience, had its first class since 1942. This year, in order to take care of the large number which must attend, both spring and summer sessions are being held. Garb Day, with its log rolling, tree climbing, chopping, bucking and beard-growing, is also back on a pre-war basis, as is the annual Forest Club banquet where alumni and others engaged in the forest and wood-using industries become acquainted with students.

The College has been active in research in co-operation with industry and government this year.

J. Kenneth Pearce, Professor of Logging Engineering, has been active in examination of University lands and in the annual analysis of timber sales in the Douglas fir region.

In addition to research with industry and government, the College of Forestry has also looked after interests of the University in sale of University land and timber.

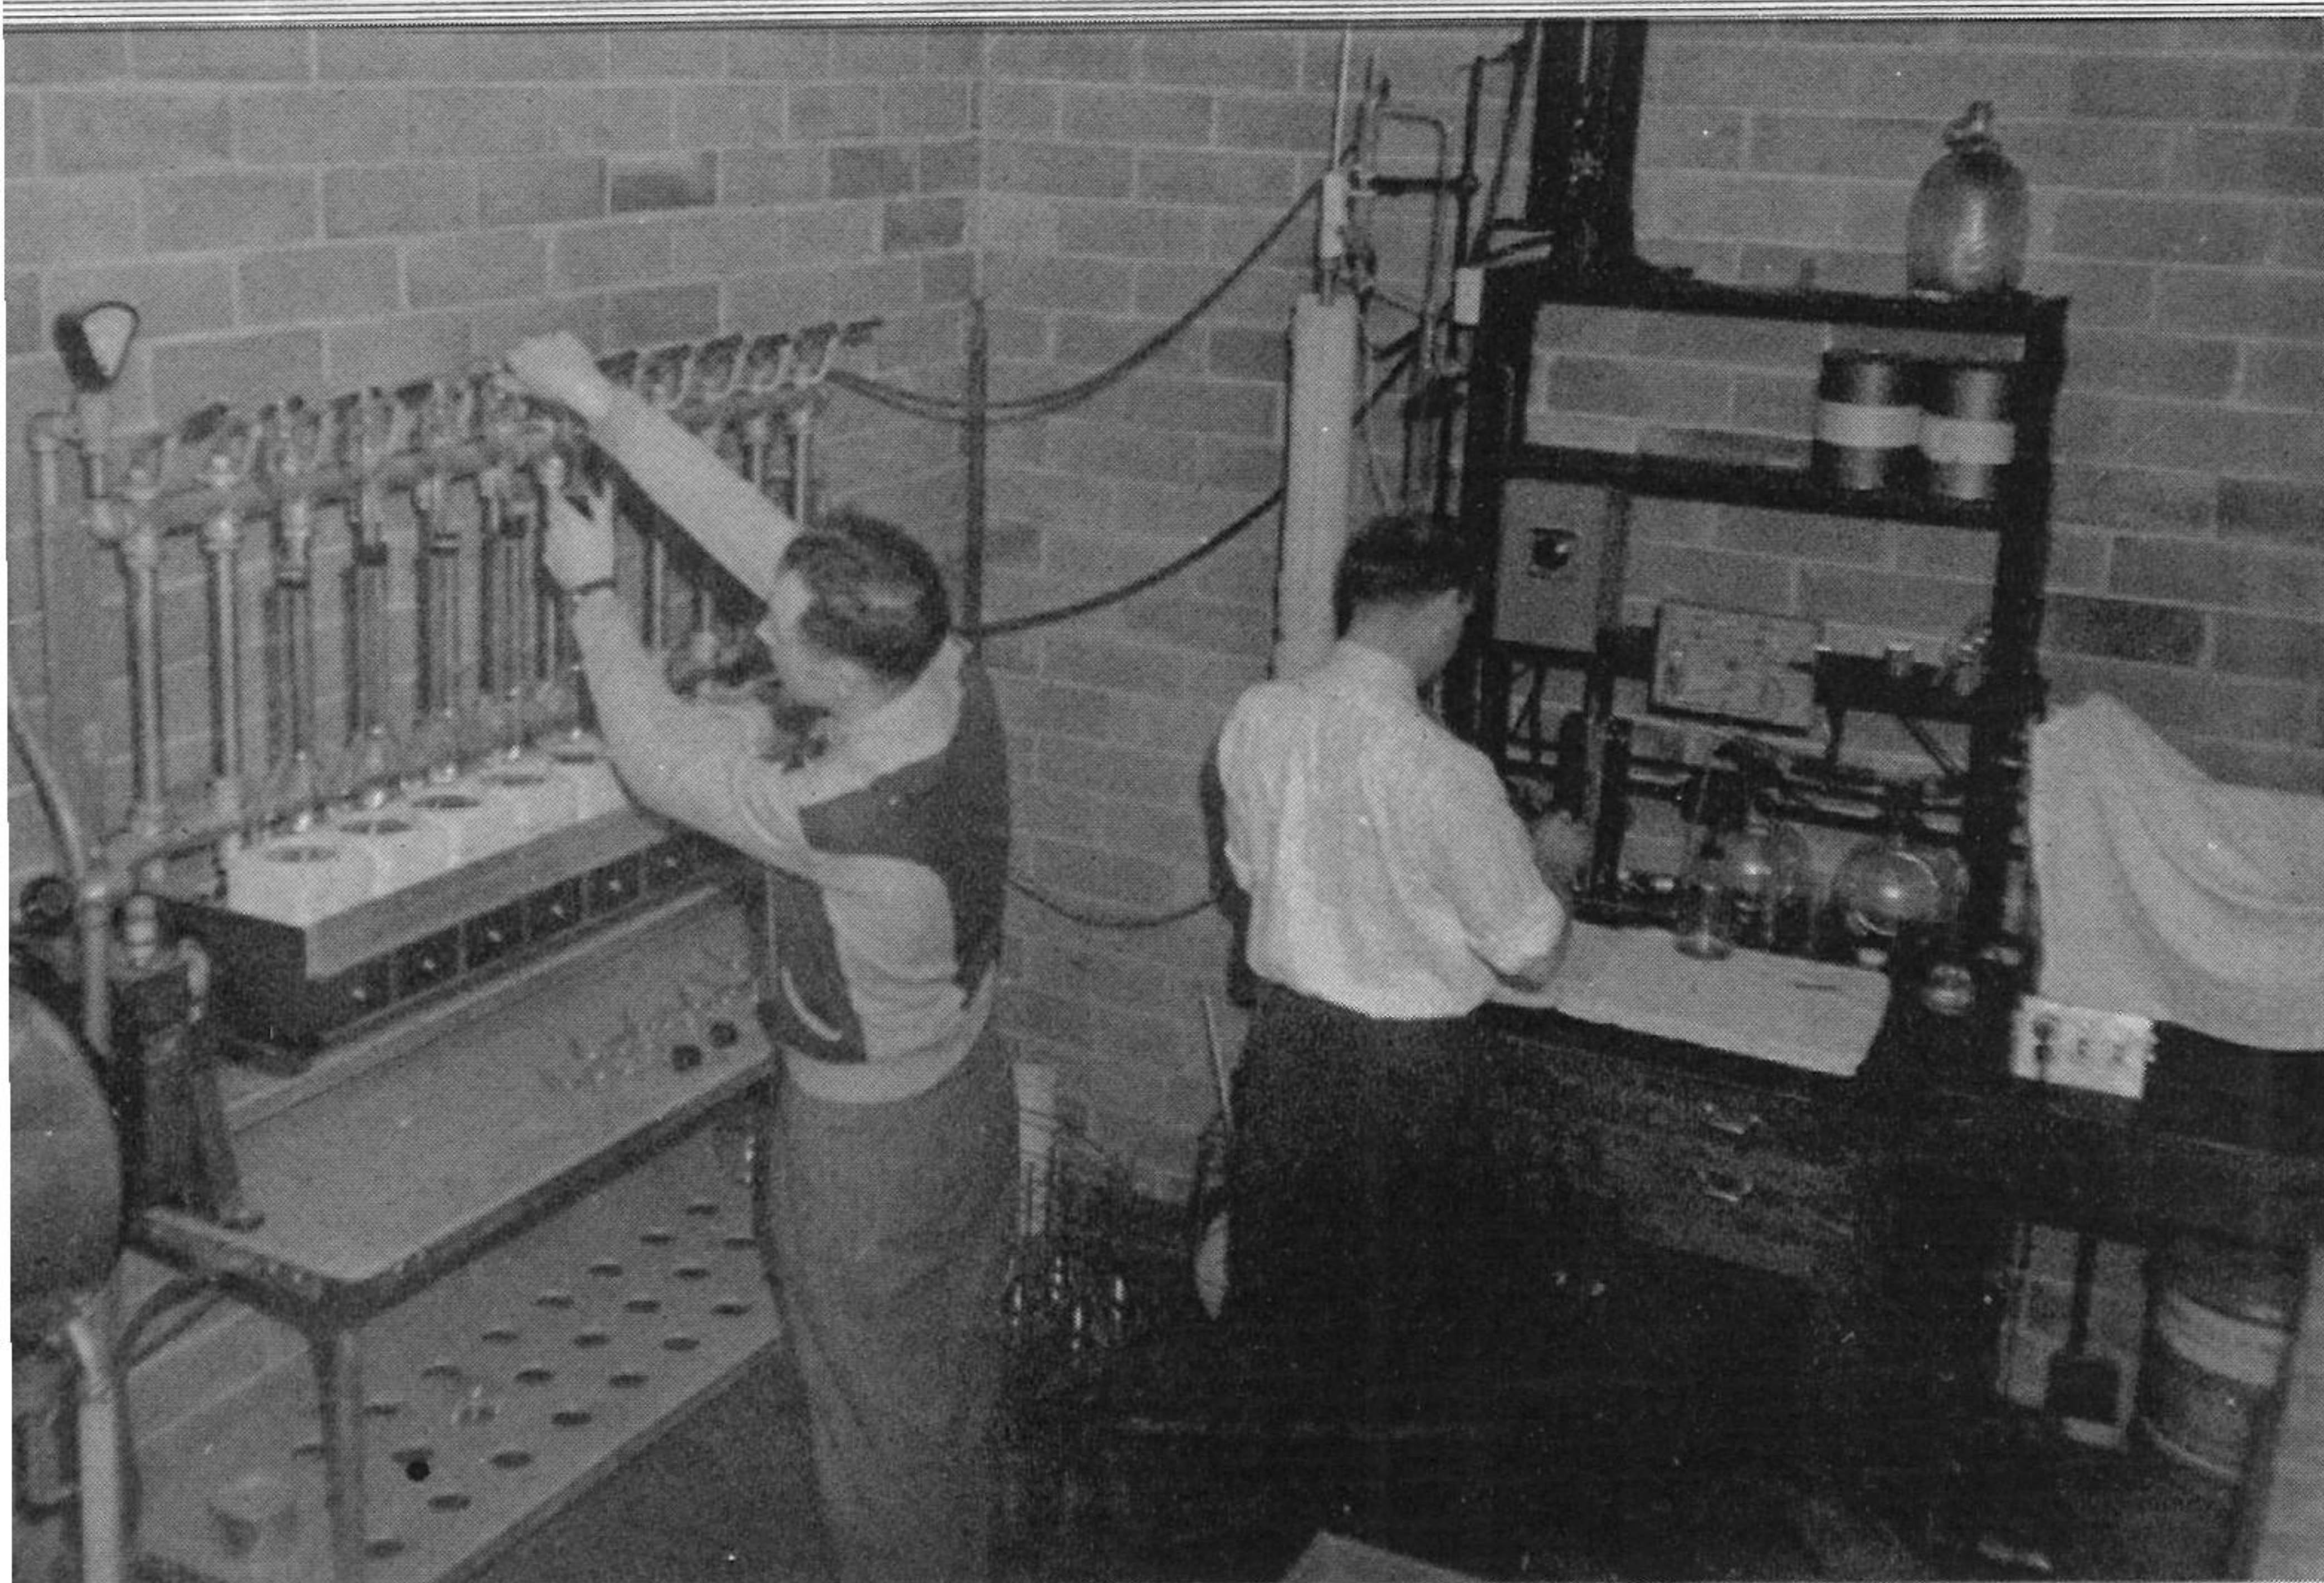

GRADUATE SCHOOL

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL includes a number of divisions, the Graduate School of Librarianship, the Graduate School of Social Work, the Division of Vocational Guidance and Testing and the Division of Oceanography. The real business of the Graduate School is the supervision of advanced degrees. The requirements for master's and doctor's degree in the various departments are set by the Graduate Council and the Council exercises a general supervision over graduate examinations for these degrees as well as giving the Graduate Record Examinations to all candidates for advanced degrees.

Dean Edwin R. Guthrie

Robert Gitler, Director of
School of Librarianship

THE TWELVE-MAN GRADUATE COUNCIL representing the four large divisions of the University . . . humanities, social sciences, natural sciences and technology . . . makes the majority of decisions concerning degrees.

SCHOOL OF LAW

Dean Judson Falknor

THE UNIVERSITY of Washington Law School was established in 1899 by the late Dean John T. Condon, for whom the present law building was named.

The law building houses the law library which contains in excess of 103,000 volumes. By a substantial margin, the law library is the largest and most complete west of the Mississippi River and in size ranks ninth among the law school libraries of the country.

The law course is a four-year course, although it may be completed in three calendar years.

J. Gordon Gose
Professor of Law

Total enrollment in the law school for the last prewar year was 155.
Enrollment in the law school for the 1946 autumn quarter is 441.

Dean Edward L. Turner

ON OCTOBER 10, 1885, the Board of Regents of the Territorial University received a report from a committee which had been appointed to submit a plan for the organization of a department of medicine. The report included a detailed outline of the curriculum, the faculty, the costs, tuition, fees and requirements for graduation. According to the minutes, the Board of Regents authorized the announcement of the opening of the school.

It would make an interesting historical document to investigate all of the details as to what happened to this plan, but the medical school was not started. Abortive attempts were made to start a medical school on at least two other occasions. It was not, however, until the legislative meeting of 1945 that schools of medicine and dentistry were finally authorized and funds set aside to become a reality. Thus, sixty-one years after the original proposal, these schools have become part of the University of Washington.

Dean Ernest M. Jones

THE UNIVERSITY of Washington School of Dentistry opened formally on October 2, 1946, to a freshman class of fifty students. Of the students over forty-five are residents of the state of Washington. Forty-eight of the fifty students are veterans.

A good start has been made. The potentialities for developing outstanding medical and dental schools in a new medical center offer a challenge that is unique. Eventually the University of Washington will have a group of Health Sciences in which it may justifiably take great pride.

COLLEGE OF MINES

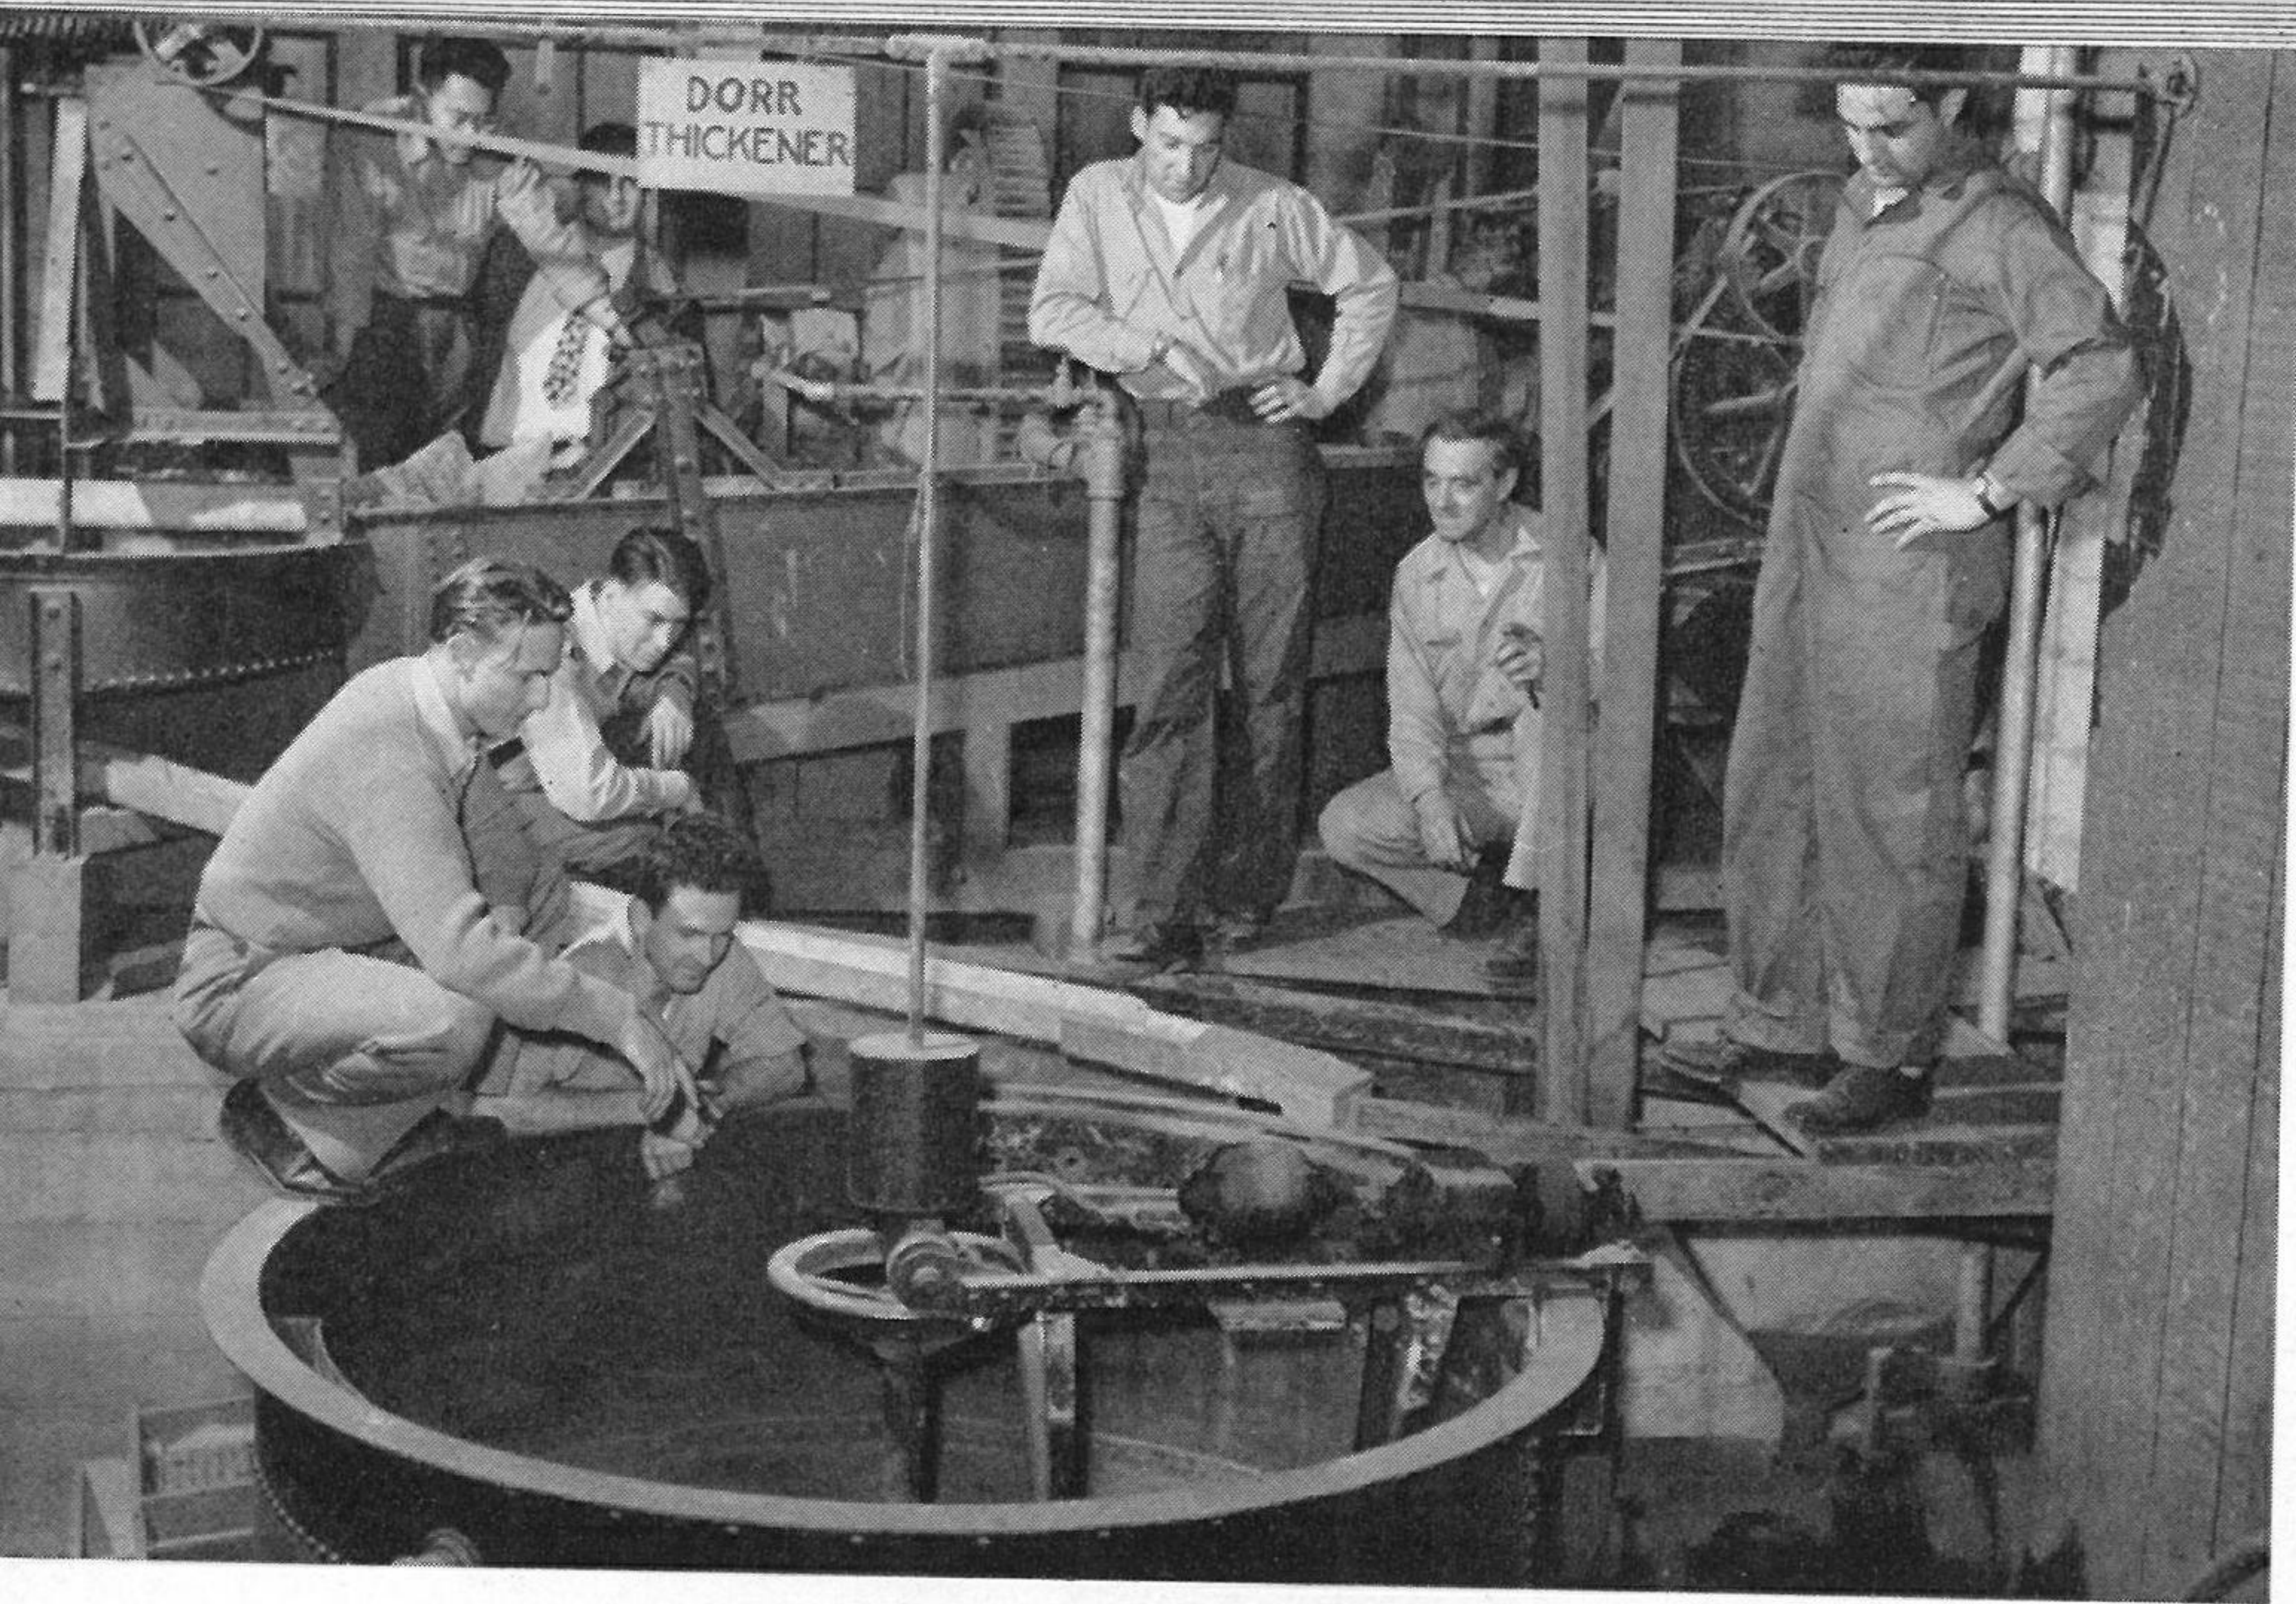

Dean Milnor Roberts

THE INCREASED STRESS of added activity found in many lower campus departments is evident in the College of Mines. Veterans have brought back accounts of mining regions in distant lands that excited their interest and whetted their desire for a technical education in mining engineering. At home the higher prices for metals and minerals are causing an increased demand for professional men in the mines.

The metallurgical plants in the state which were built for war purposes have been taken over for commercial operation with little delay. Evidently the industry will continue to absorb metallurgists as fast as they are graduated.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines conducts investigations in cooperation with the College of Mines.

C. H. Zwermann, Professor of Ceramic Engineering, returned from position as Governor of Kanywon Province of Korea.

The College of Mines made use of the opportunity afforded by absence of classes during the war to improve laboratories, enlarge collections and add equipment.

SCHOOL OF NURSING

Elizabeth S. Soule, Dean of the School of Nursing

THESE STUDENTS are not only from the University of Washington School of Nursing but from other hospitals throughout the state. Also from this office the advanced clinical program is directed. Graduate nurses seeking Bachelor of Science and Master's degrees receive help in planning their programs. With the Army and Navy Nurse Corps, enrollment in such courses has been increased greatly during the past year.

This year the School of Nursing is glad to welcome the new School of Medicine and School of Dentistry to the campus. Some day a spacious new building will form these three schools into a true health teaching center.

The office of Miss Virginia Olcott, who is in charge of the program of the division of hospitals is also located in the Nursing Education Building. From here is handled the placement of student nurses in various teaching units in hospitals and specialized institutions such as mental hospitals, tuberculosis hospitals and children's hospitals.

Under the able and kindly direction of Elizabeth S. Soule, unity and progress continue in the School of Nursing.

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

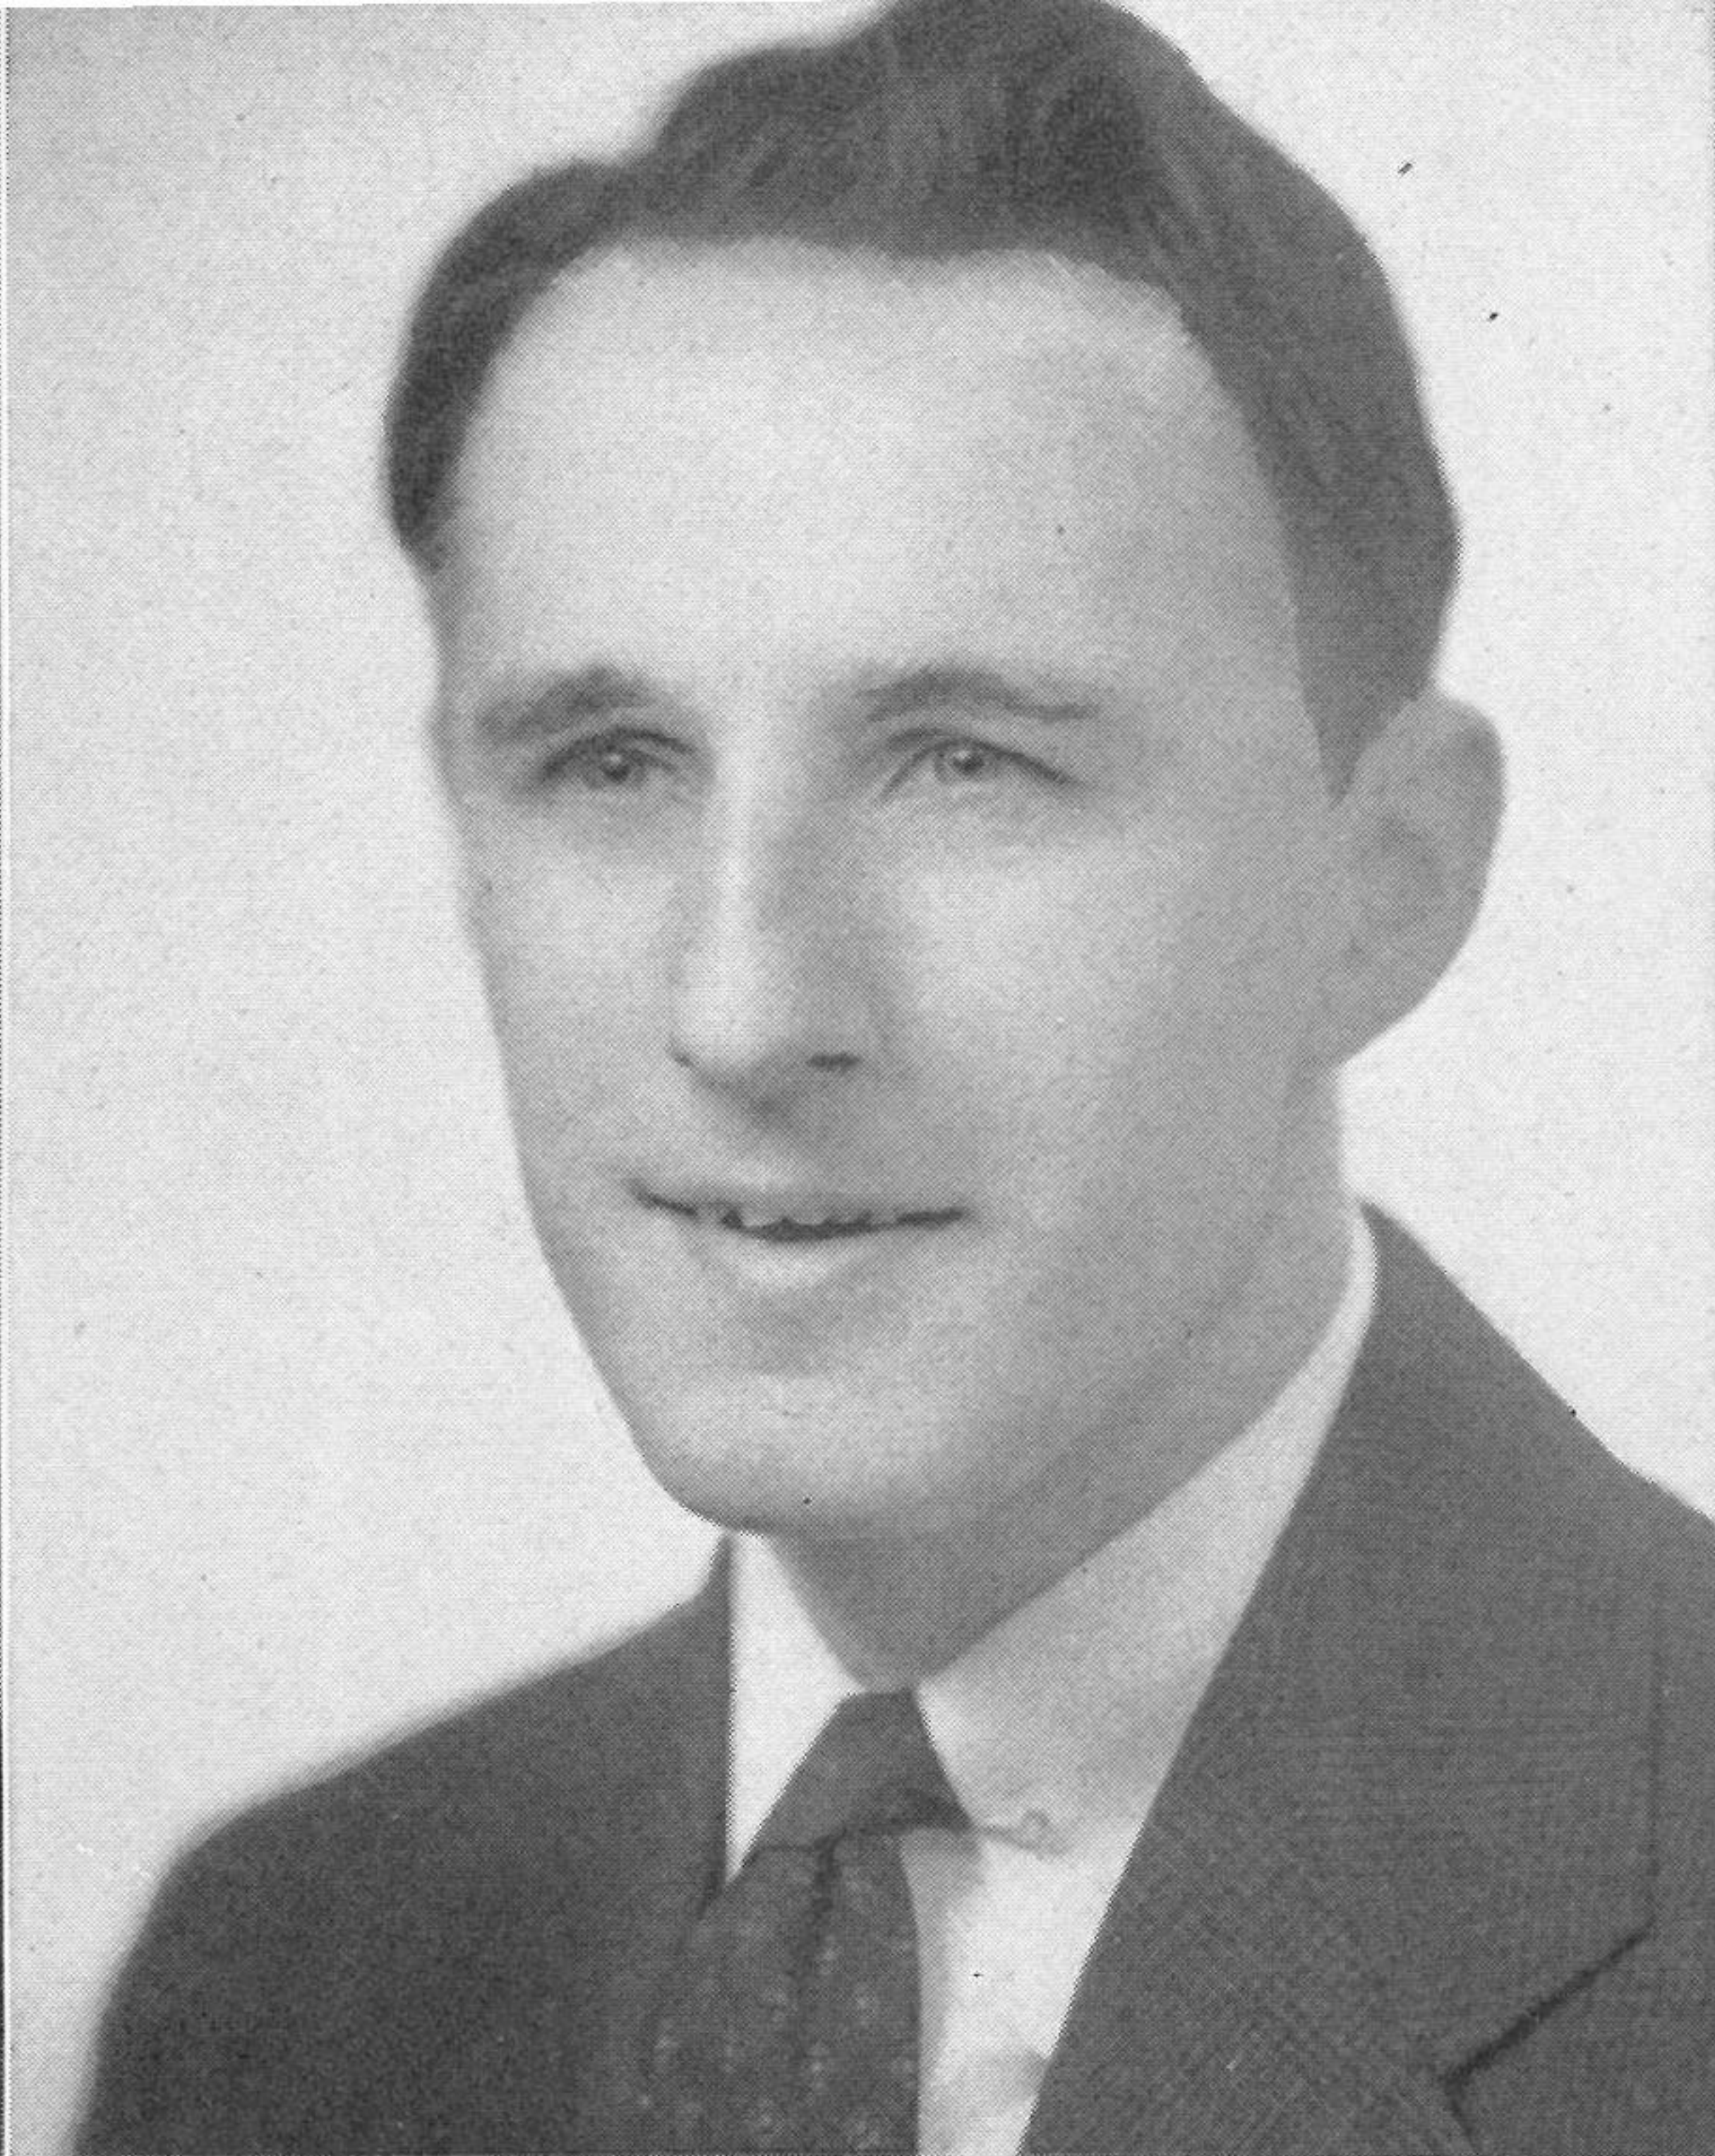

Dean Forest J. Goodrich

THE COLLEGE OF PHARMACY is proud of its garden of medicinal plants in which plants from many parts of the world are growing. Tea, figs, pomegranates and chestnuts thrive along with the sassafras, eucalyptus, bay and other sweet smelling growths. Poisonous plants are numerous and many others are unique in growth, flowers and fruit. The garden and greenhouse serve in the teaching program for pharmacy students.

For the past eight years, much time has been devoted to study of cascara growth on logged-off land. Several hundred cascara trees have been planted for the purpose of studying growth conditions on cheap and unused land. The cascara tree is native only to the Pacific Northwest and the project deals with an important drug source which is widely used in pharmacy and medicine.

L. W. Rising, author of recent textbook, "Fundamental Principles and Processes of Pharmacy"

Heber Youngken, former Navy lieutenant and active research man on plant drugs

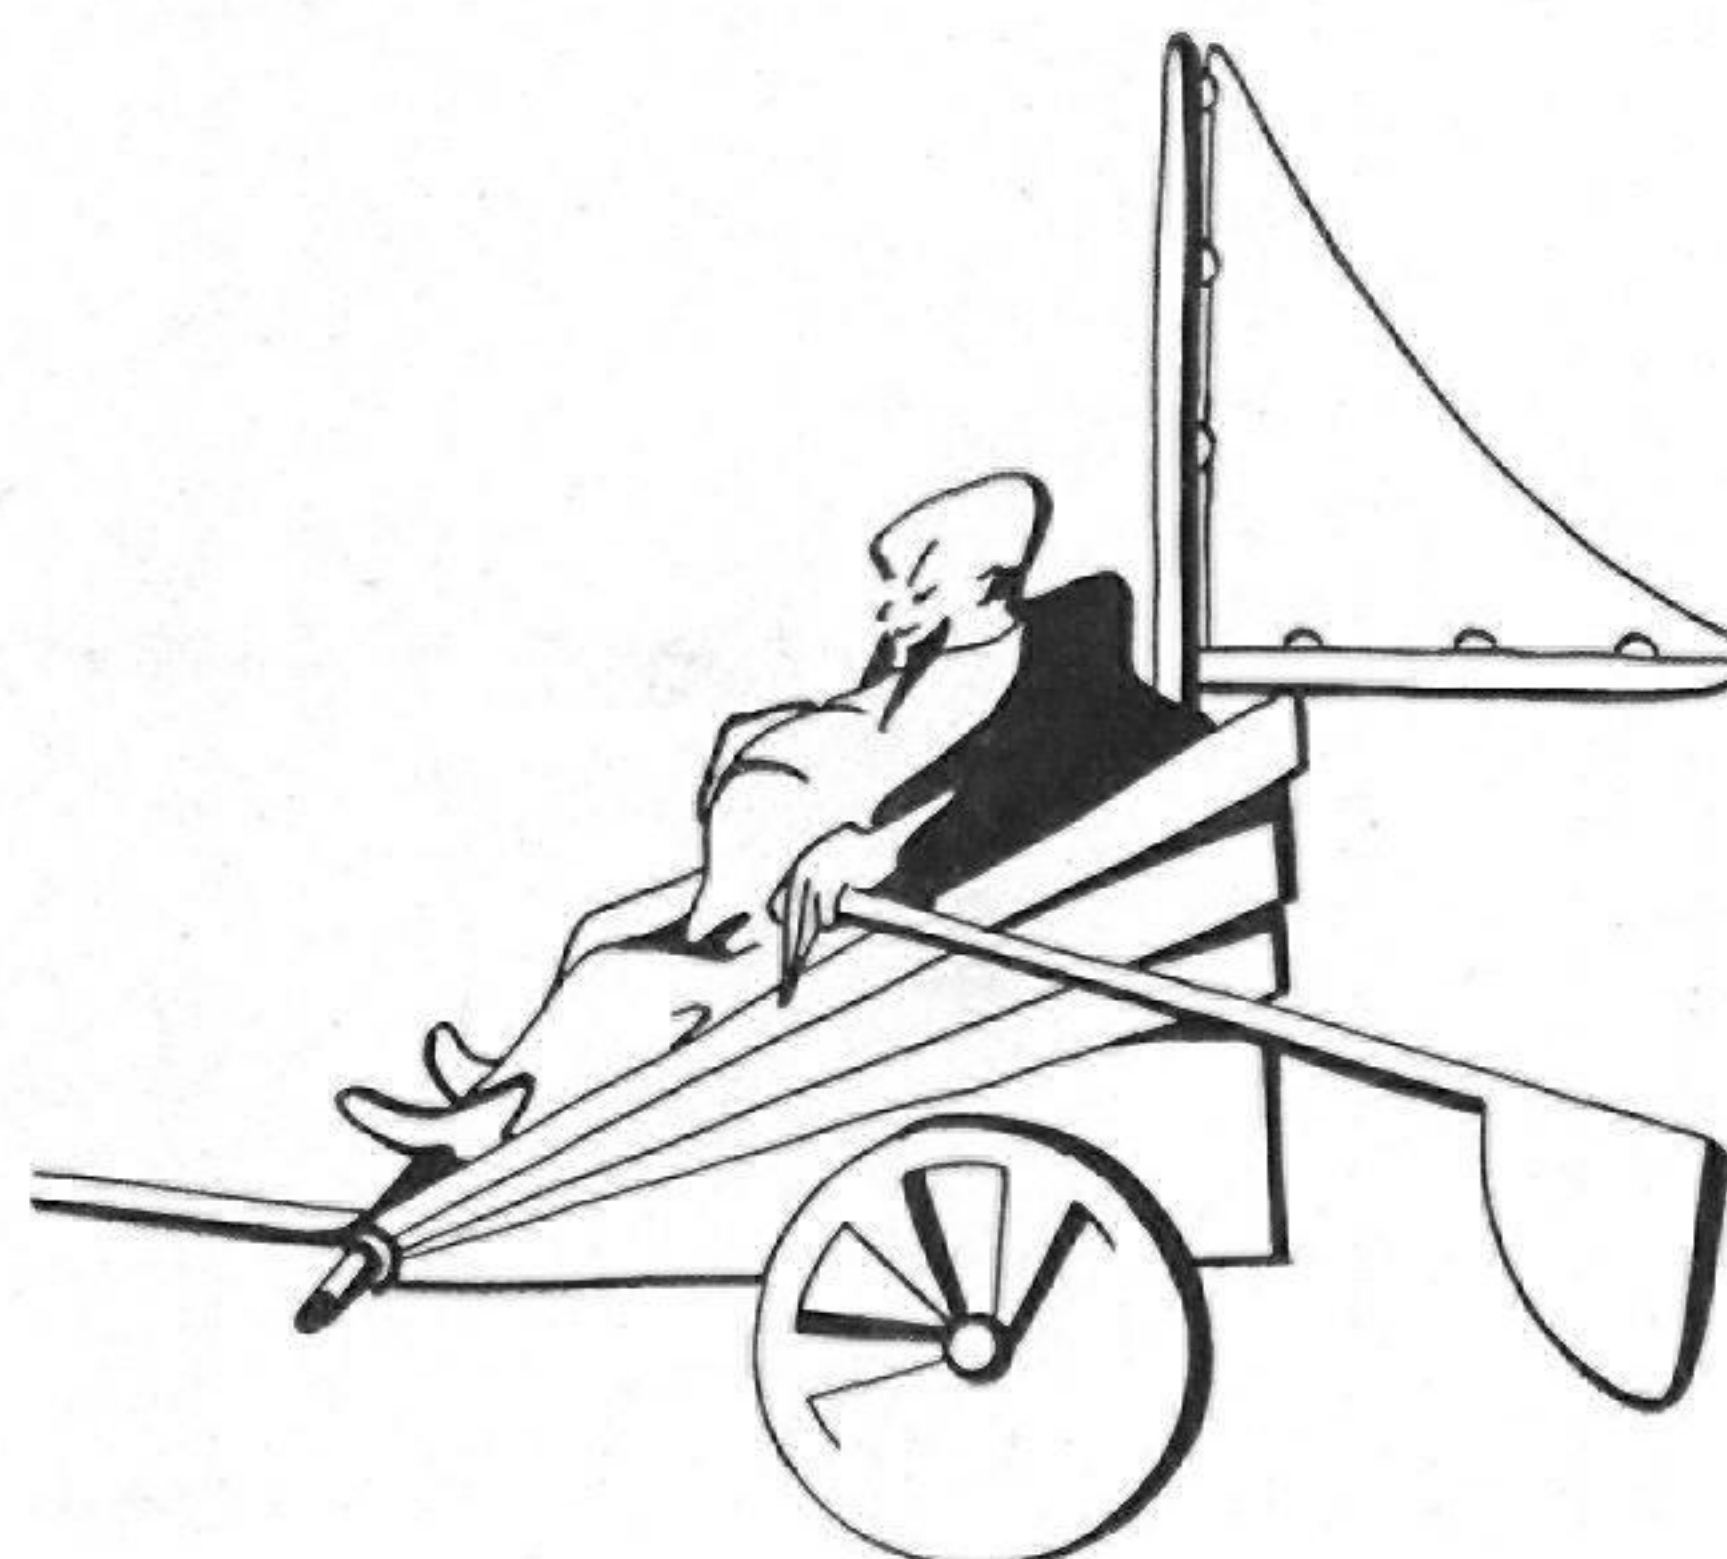

Louis Fischer, Director of Pharmaceutical Chemistry

THE DEAN OF THE COLLEGE, Forest J. Goodrich, is chemist for the State Department of Agriculture. In the laboratory appear all types of foods and drugs sent in by state inspectors. Wines, spirituous liquors are also checked and analyzed. The laboratory is housed in Bagley Hall and is devoted entirely to analytical and control work for the state.

ARMY OFFICERS

A PART OF THE UNIVERSITY for more than fifty years, the Reserve Officers Training Corps is again moving to take its place as a leading element in the peacetime military establishment. From its self-selected ranks have gone officers who have made brilliant records in two World Wars.

Now in a new phase, with the freshmen and sophomores come veterans from all the wartime services, all volunteers, qualifying for their Reserve commissions while they work for their college degrees. New war-proven equipment and Officer and NCO instructors with an aggregate foreign service experience of more than thirty-eight years make the post-war courses far outmeasure in value those of former years.

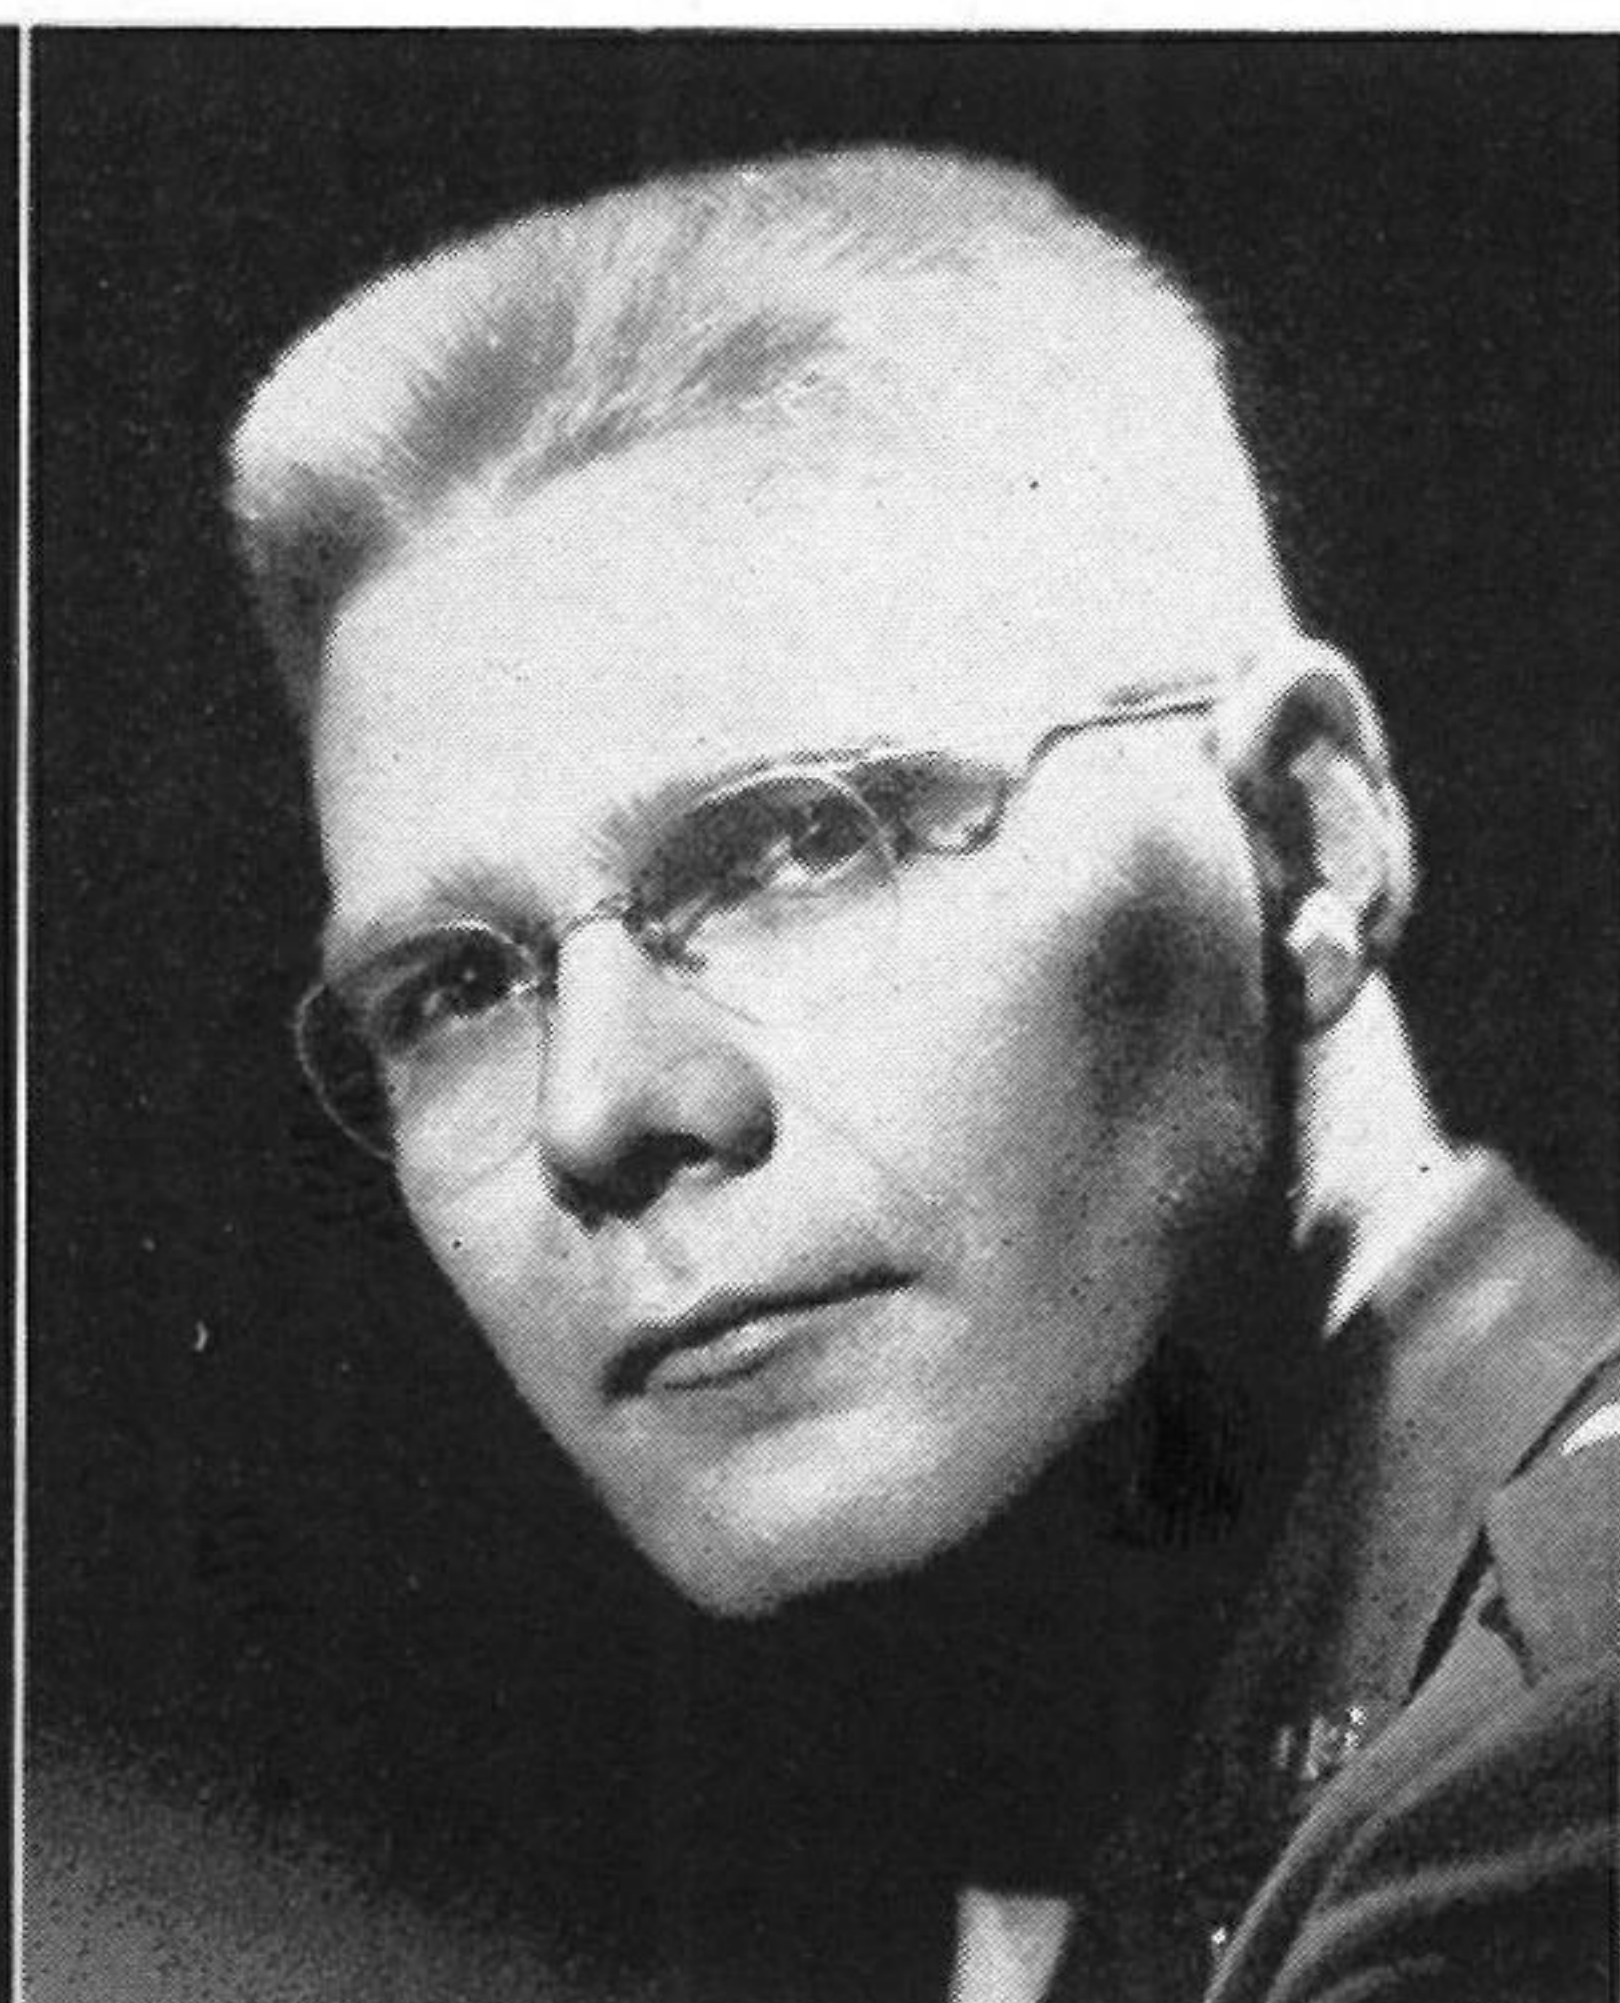

The Scabbard and Blade, re-activated after a suspension of four years, is combining again the Naval and Army ROTC advanced students in its participation in the activities of the National Services honorary.

WITH THE PASSAGE OF THE HOLLOWAY BILL, the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps embarked upon an expanded peacetime program that includes 52 colleges throughout the country. A revised and broad curriculum will now turn out Junior Officers ready to take their places at the side of the Naval Academy graduates. In addition to the academic curriculum at the University, facilities are provided to broaden the interests of Midshipmen. These interests may find an outlet in the Radio Club, Boat Club, rifle and pistol teams, Glee Club or Compass and Chart.

RING DANCE

COMPASS AND CHART held their first peacetime NROTC ring dance April 15 at the Meany Hotel. The dance is patterned after the traditional naval academy ring dance at which the Annapolis cadets present their dates with the class ring.

In the ring here, made by Bill Olson, each cadet presented his girl with a miniature anchor for which he was rewarded with a kiss.

Highlight of the evening was the crowning of the queen, Bette Mae Kameron, who was chosen from photographs submitted by the cadets. Queen Bette Mae, who was crowned on the authority of a commission granted by King Neptune, received an orchid lei imported from Hawaii in addition to a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Miss Kameron and her escort, Bill Frankland, were the first to enter the ring.

A SENIOR COUNCIL of twenty men and women advised ATO Bill Gazecki, president; Phi Delt Howie Blodgett, vice-president; Secretary Jean Melton, Theta; and Gamma Phi Carol Stam, treasurer, in planning senior class activities.

The success of this method was shown in the varied activities of the class of '47. On January 18 "Club 47" opened its doors in the Spanish Ballroom to seniors only, and on February 7 "Peter Puget" represented the seniors in Song and Stunt Night. Climaxing their last year was Senior Week in June, including a banquet, a picnic, a seniors-only dance, ivy-planting, and—wondrous day—graduation!

Gummie Johnson, ASUW President

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

THE UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON seismograph probably has not recorded any earthquake originating in the vicinity of Clark Hall, but any habitue of the region will agree that the walls practically palpitate in their efforts to stand up under the enormous amount of activity going on within them.

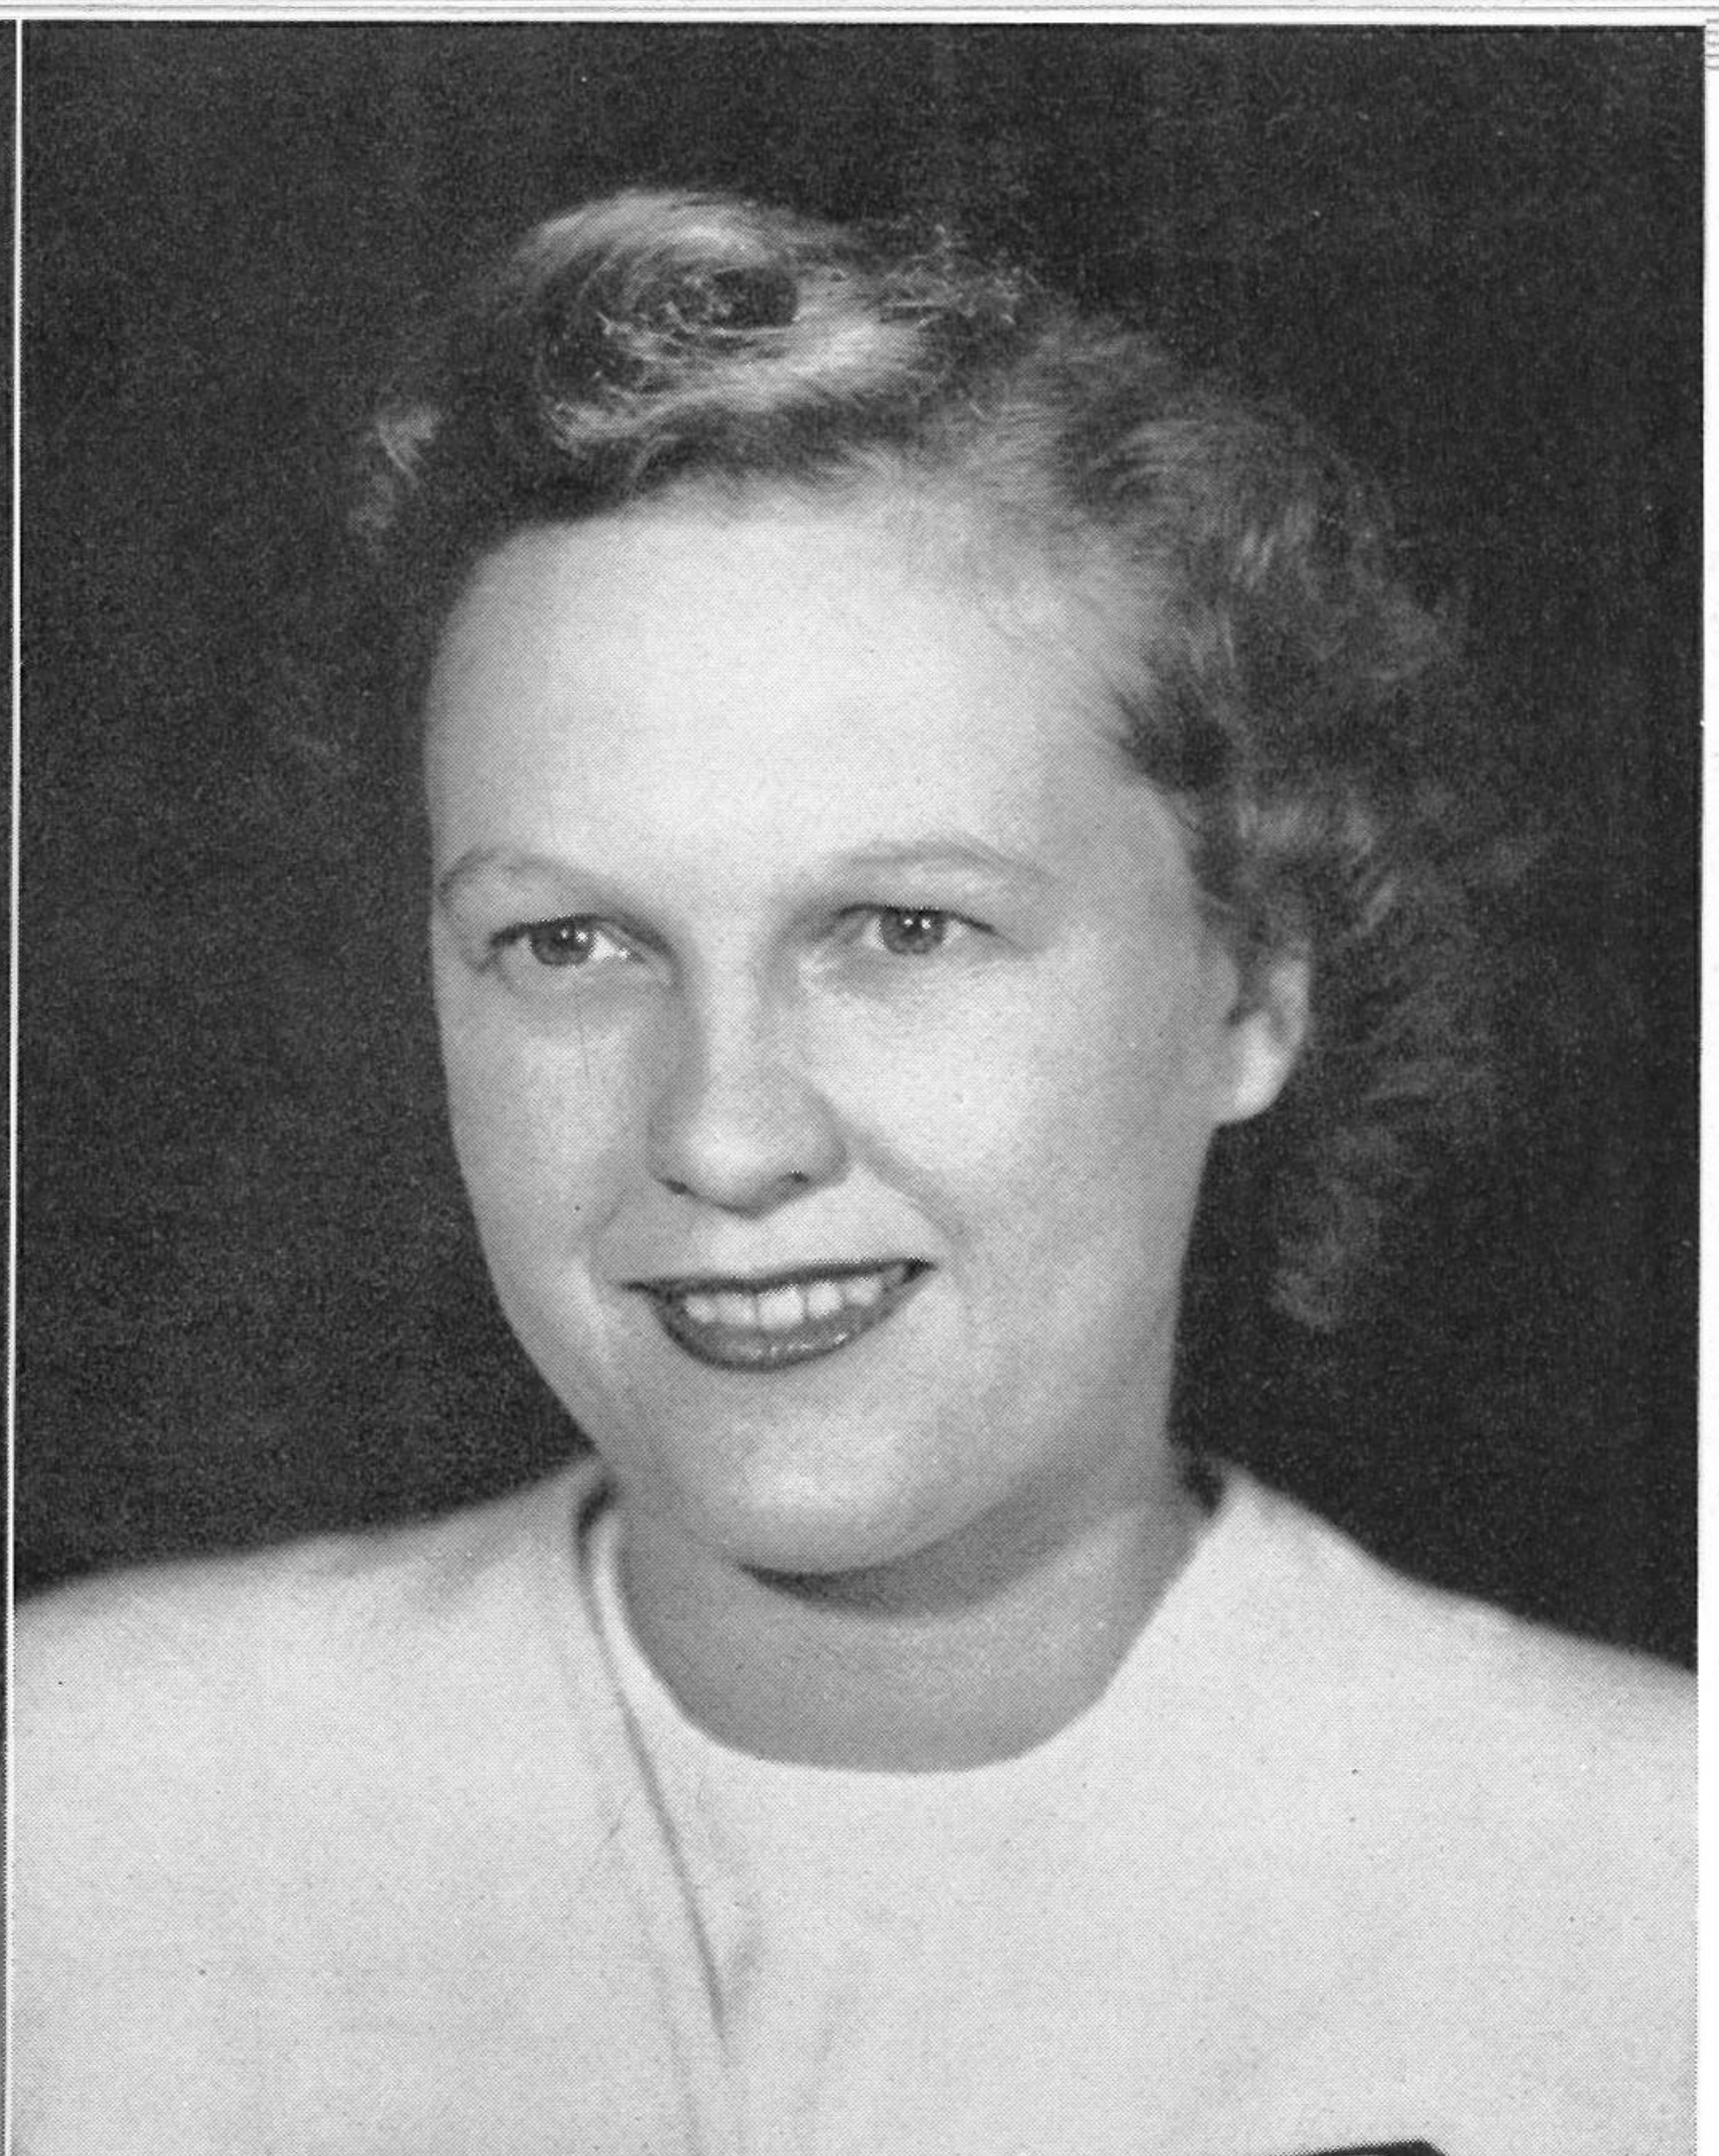

Up from lower campus for awhile this year, "Gummie" Johnson, as president, is making good his campaign promise to place more students in ASUW activities.

Husky Fred Osterhout came up from the gridiron to take over duties as vice-president, which include his able chairmanship of the Elections and Legal Interpretations committee.

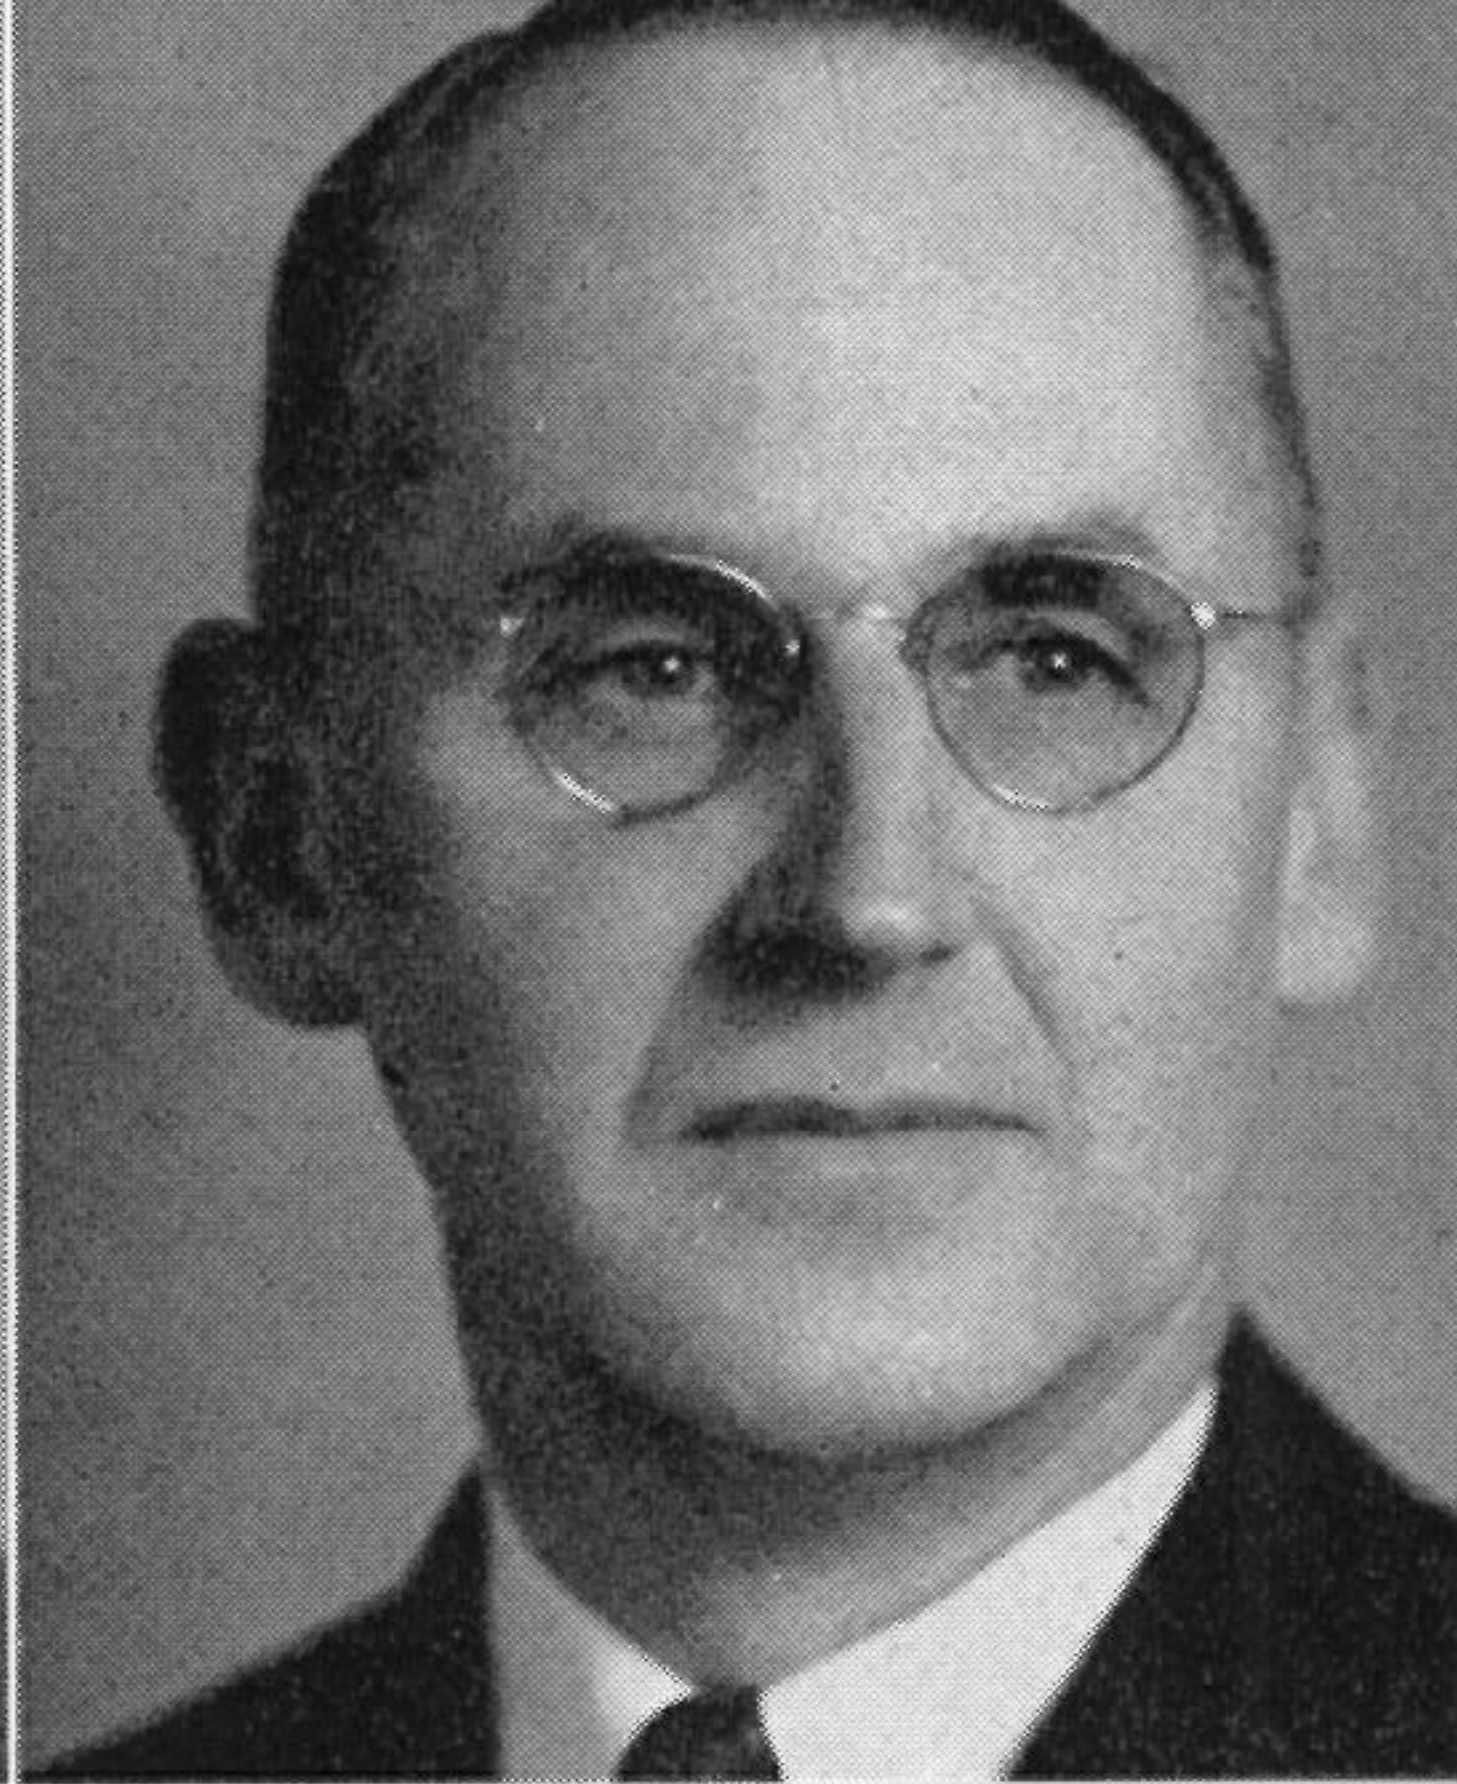

Adding sugar and spice, the feminine touch to an otherwise masculine scene . . . Delta Gamma Margie Anne Jenne tried to keep the place tidied up and watch the many details involved in the management of student affairs.

PAT NIESZ,
AWS President

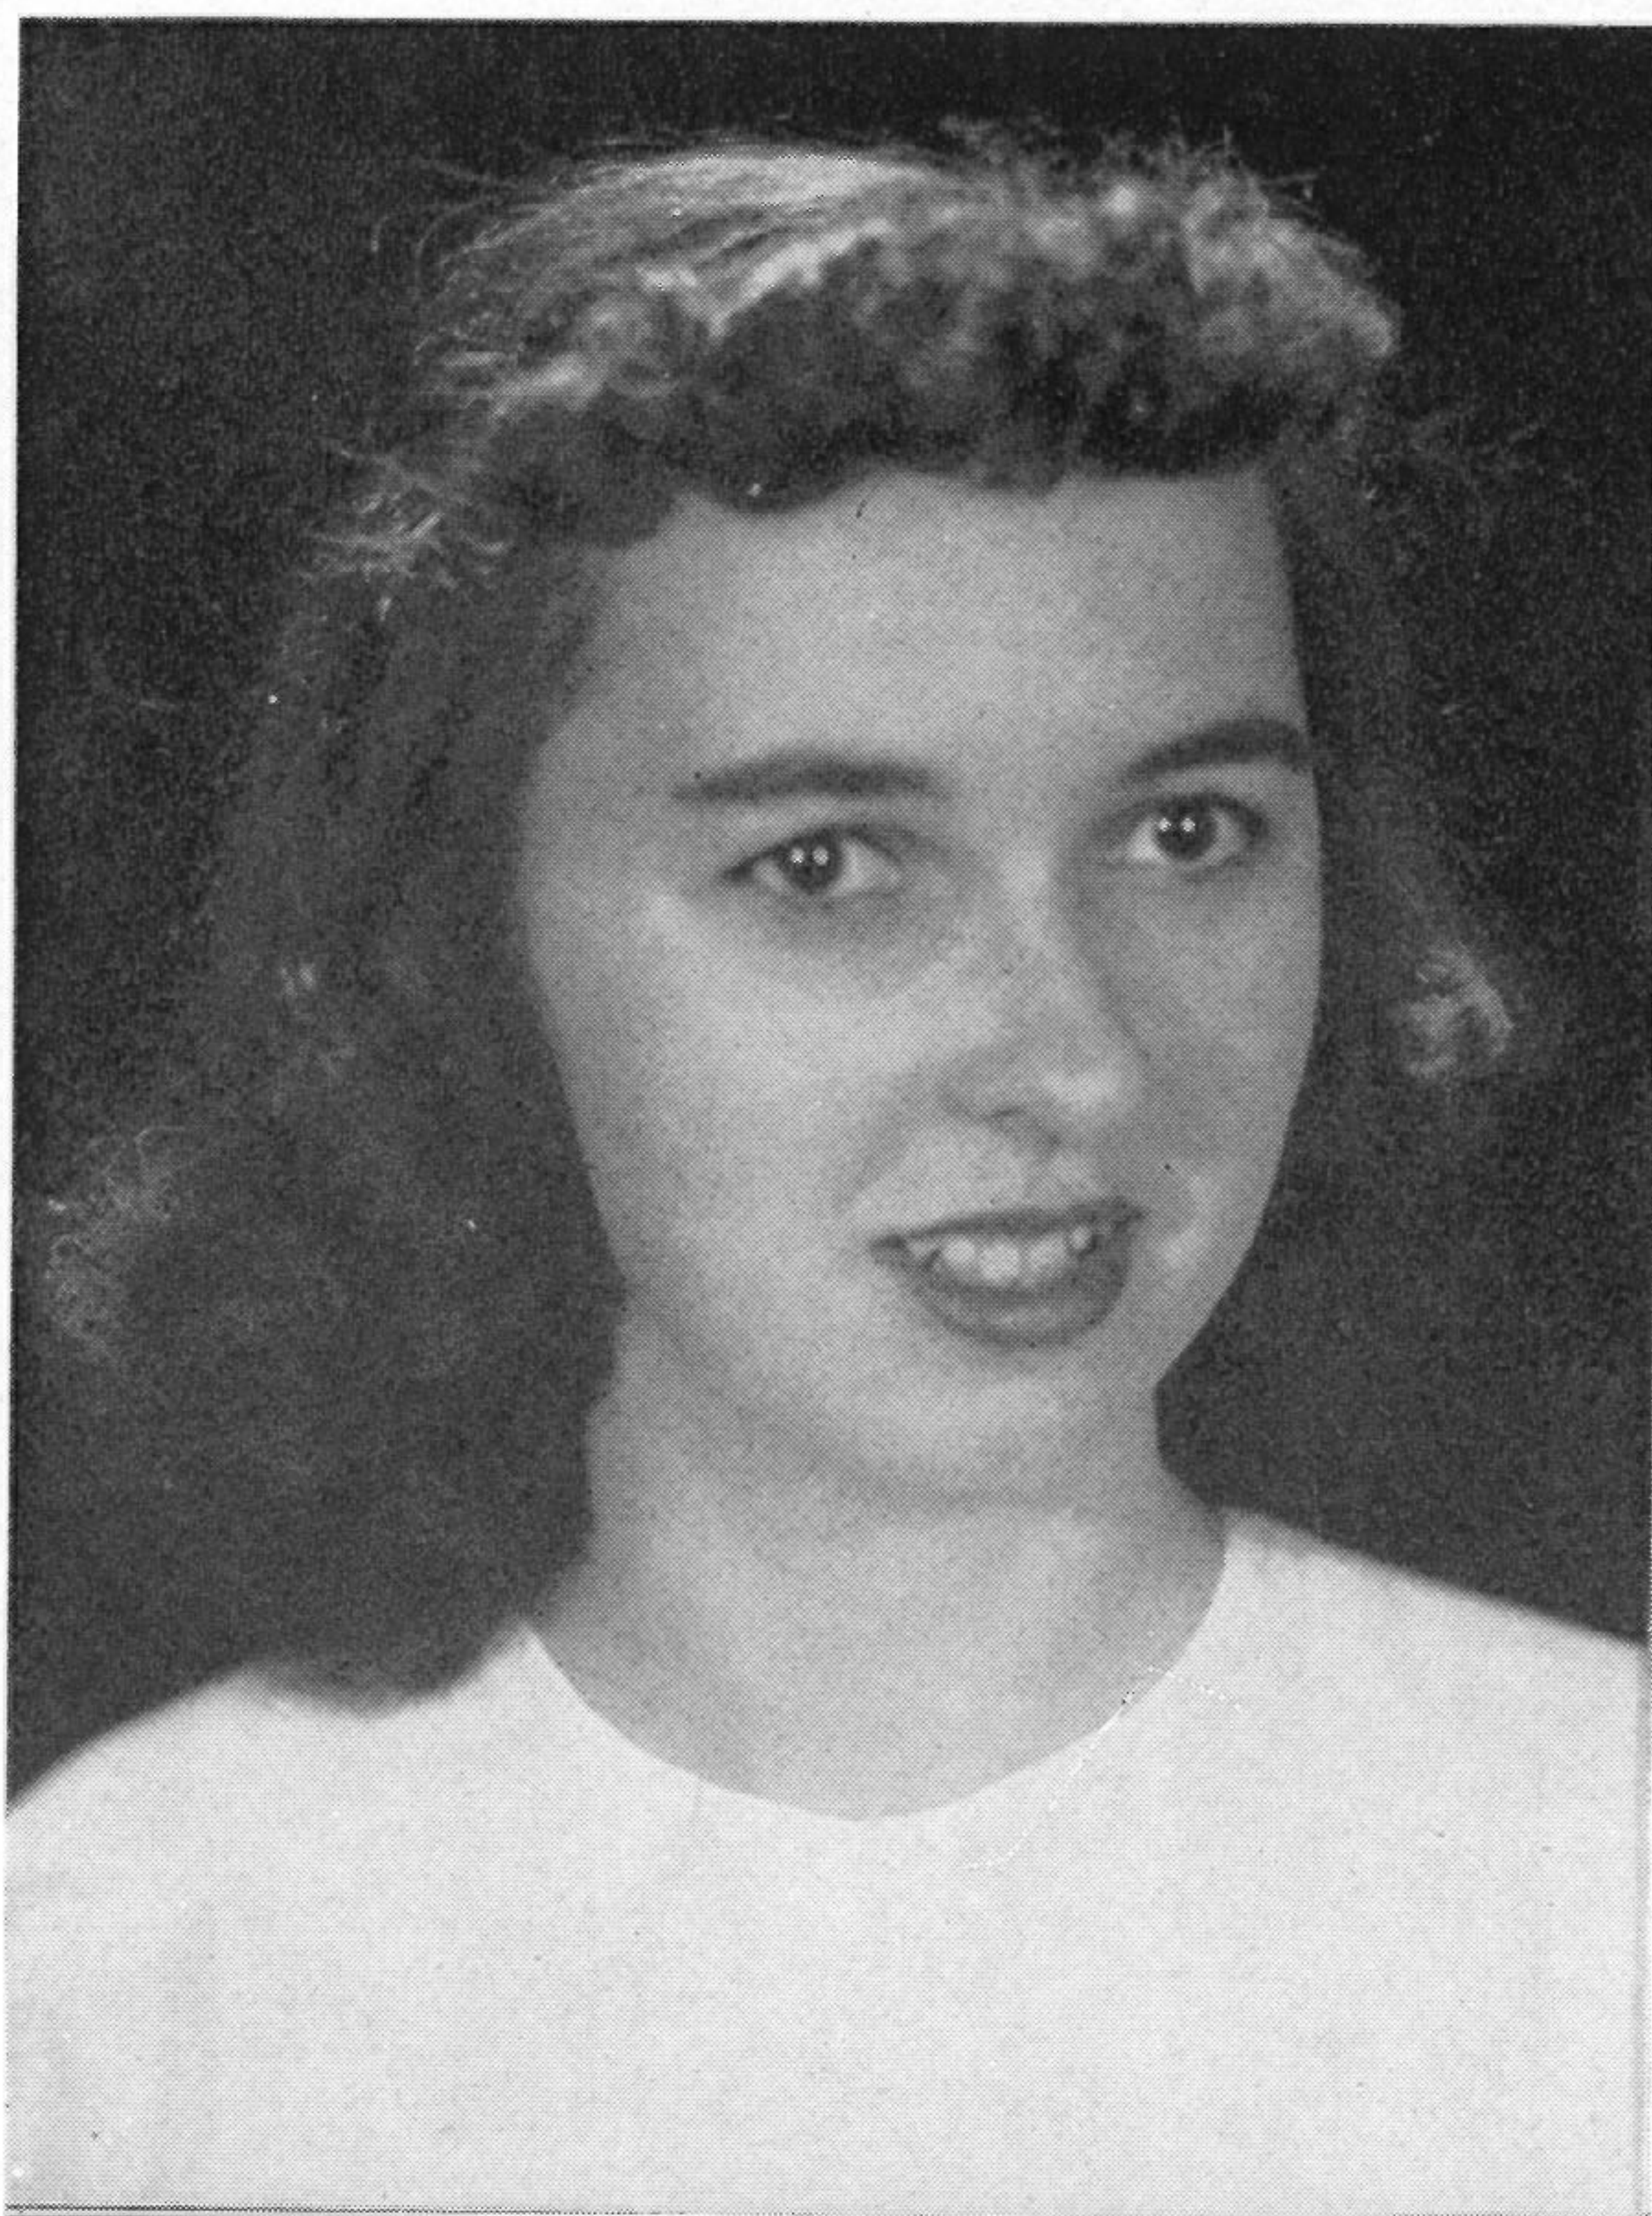

THAT FRIENDLY AND INVITING lounge on the second floor of Clark Hall is the headquarters of the Associated Women Students, the coordinating organization of campus women's groups. AWS has been the training ground for potential BWOC's and has made a name on campus for its social functions, community service and campus services.

Policy-making body for the organization is the AWS Council composed of presidents of women's groups. The AWS Cabinet consists of chairmen and assistant chairmen of the standing committees. The Cabinet meets every other week to determine the AWS program, vote on policy matters and approve the actions of the executive board. Cabinet-Council has several yearly extra-curricular events including fall and spring conferences, the Mother and Daughter teas and the usually hilarious Father-Daughter banquet.

The executive board which holds the strings is composed of the five officers of AWS. Mainspring of AWS has been enthusiastic, hard-working Pat Niesz, whose vital interest in things AWS has been responsible for much of the organization's activity this year. The girl who hounded cabinet members for reports was vice-president Patty Greenwood. She also served as AWS representative on the Social Events committee. Sylvia Nilsen was executive chairman and officially represented all women's groups not otherwise represented on council. Sylvia handled AWS elections and planned the spring leadership conference.

Ruth Allingham, as AWS secretary, took care of correspondence and agendas, and Marilyn Mathis pored over an adding machine and account books as AWS treasurer.

AWS CANDIDS

TOP TO BOTTOM: Jean Melton, Mortar Board president, presents Joan Campbell and Jean Hammarlund with the Mortar Board plaque in recognition of outstanding scholarship.

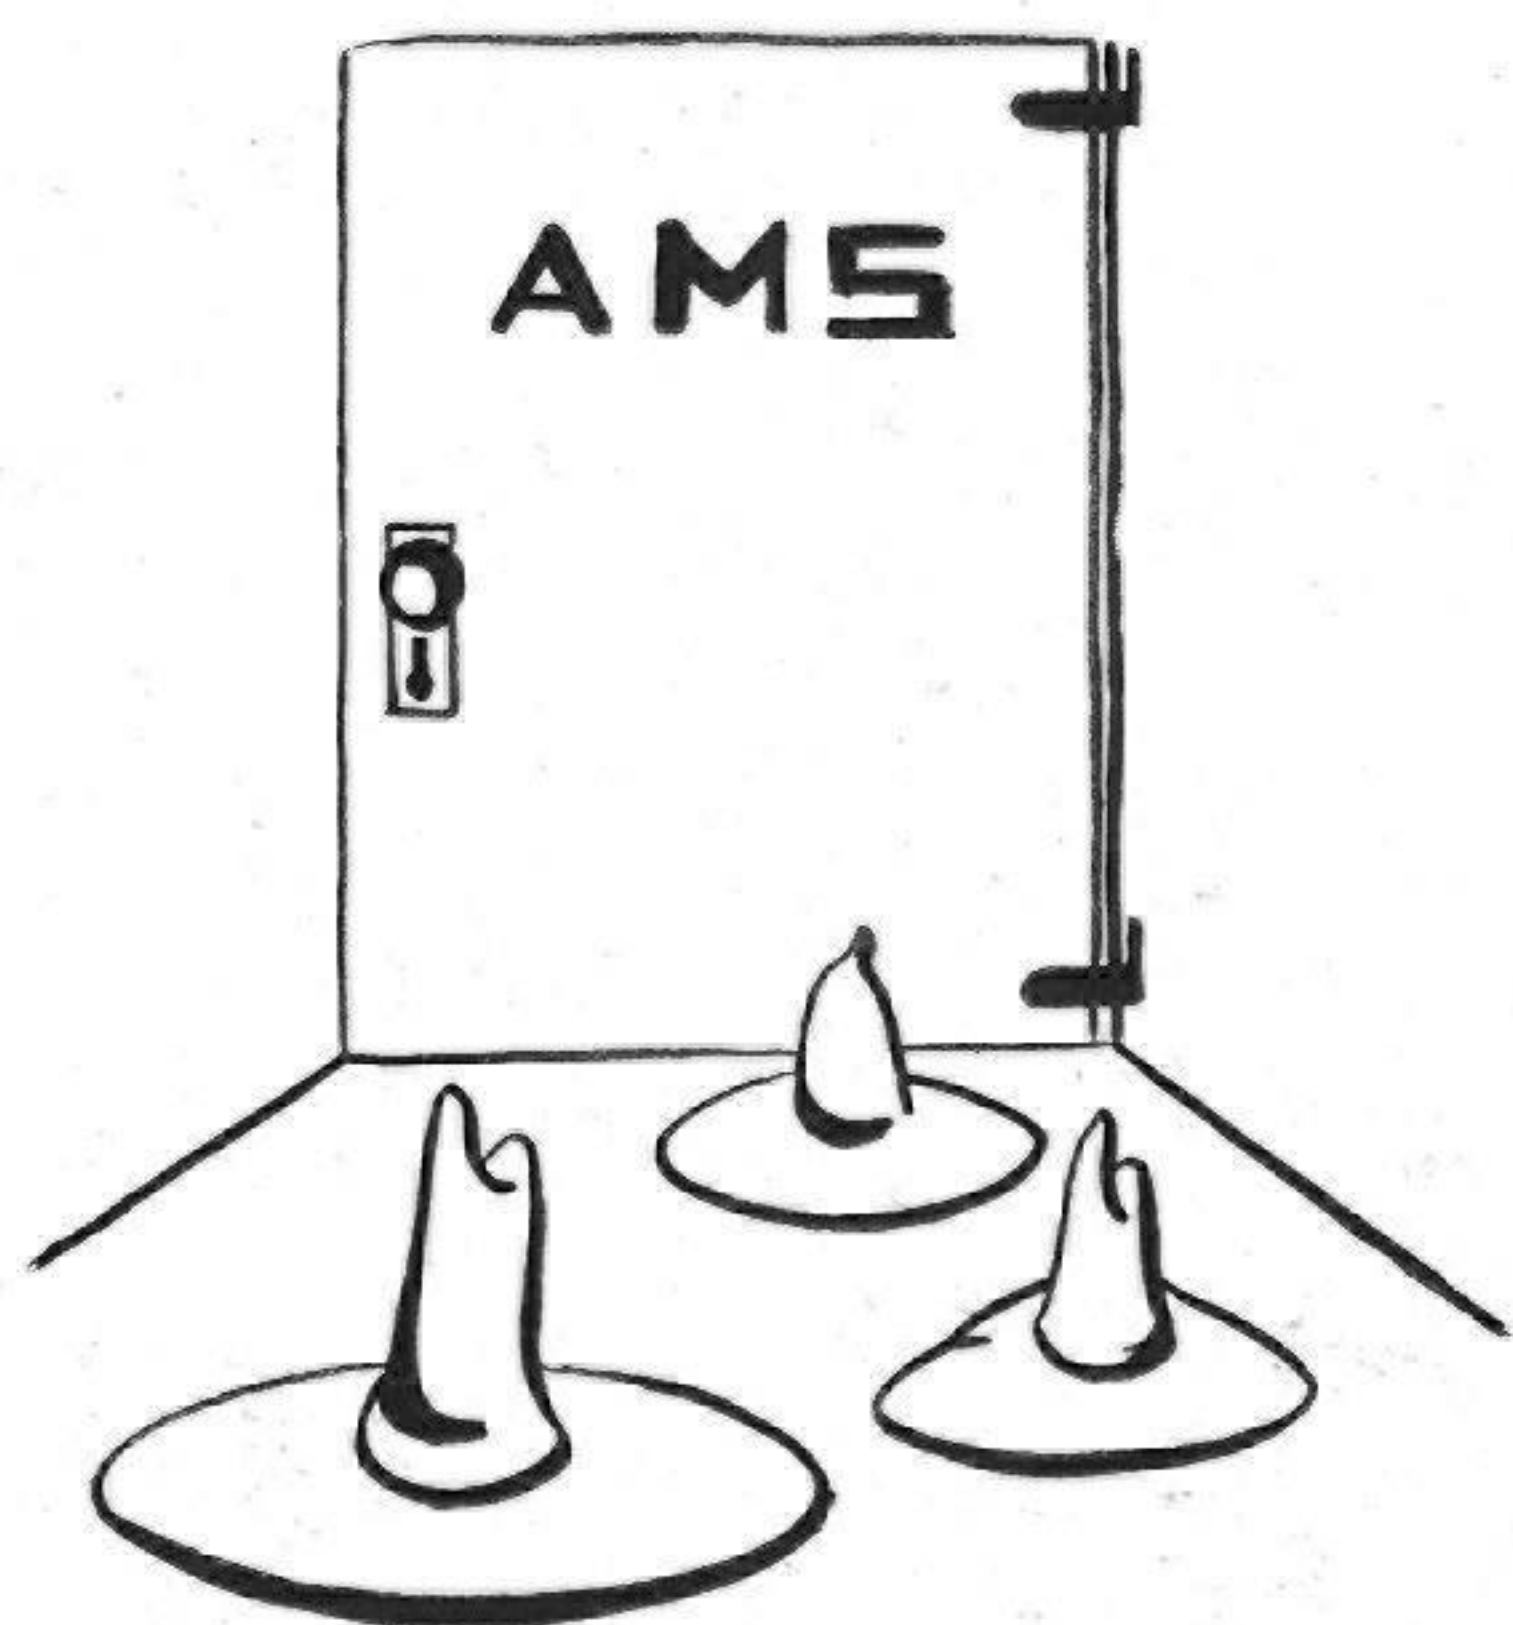

Members of cabinet-council and of standing committees became acquainted with foreign women students at a tea given by AWS in their honor last November at Eagleson Hall.

AWS officers for 1947-1948 just after they were announced at the scholarship banquet are Joan Campbell, president; Eileen Berry, secretary; Anne Adams, executive chairman; Katie McKeown, treasurer, and Marilyn Hieber, vice-president.

Members of the freshman standards council display the toys which they wrapped at Christmas time for children at Harborview and Orthopedic hospitals.

BELOW: The Tri-Delt pansy ring, at which senior women who have become engaged or married during the last year are honored. The event, which started on this campus June 1946, is an annual Tri-Delt tradition.

ASSOCIATED MEN STUDENTS

George Sainsbury

ORIGINATING DURING the year 1944-1945 under the name of the Men's Federation, the Associated Men Students is rapidly developing into a progressive organization on the campus.

The purpose of AMS, as stated by its constitution, is to provide "social, athletic and cultural activities for all men, regardless of age, affiliation, race or creed; so that each new student shall find easily and quickly his place in campus life." Consequently AMS is interested in seeing that Veterans get a "square deal."

The Executive Department consists of a Board of Directors served by seven students and three faculty members. The Board selects its own chairman who represents the organization on the Board of Control.

Analogous to AWS and functioning under the ASUW, AMS has taken an active part in campus life, considering that the organization is still somewhat in the initial stages.

AMS was the first representative men's group to be organized in the Pacific Coast colleges.

STRUGGLING TO MAKE THE DAILY "the students' newspaper," yet trying to publish more than a campus bulletin board, The Daily staff spent the first full-scale post-war year in Lewis Hall's second floor "Shack." But spring vacation's "facial" lifted the room from the "shack" to modern city-room category.

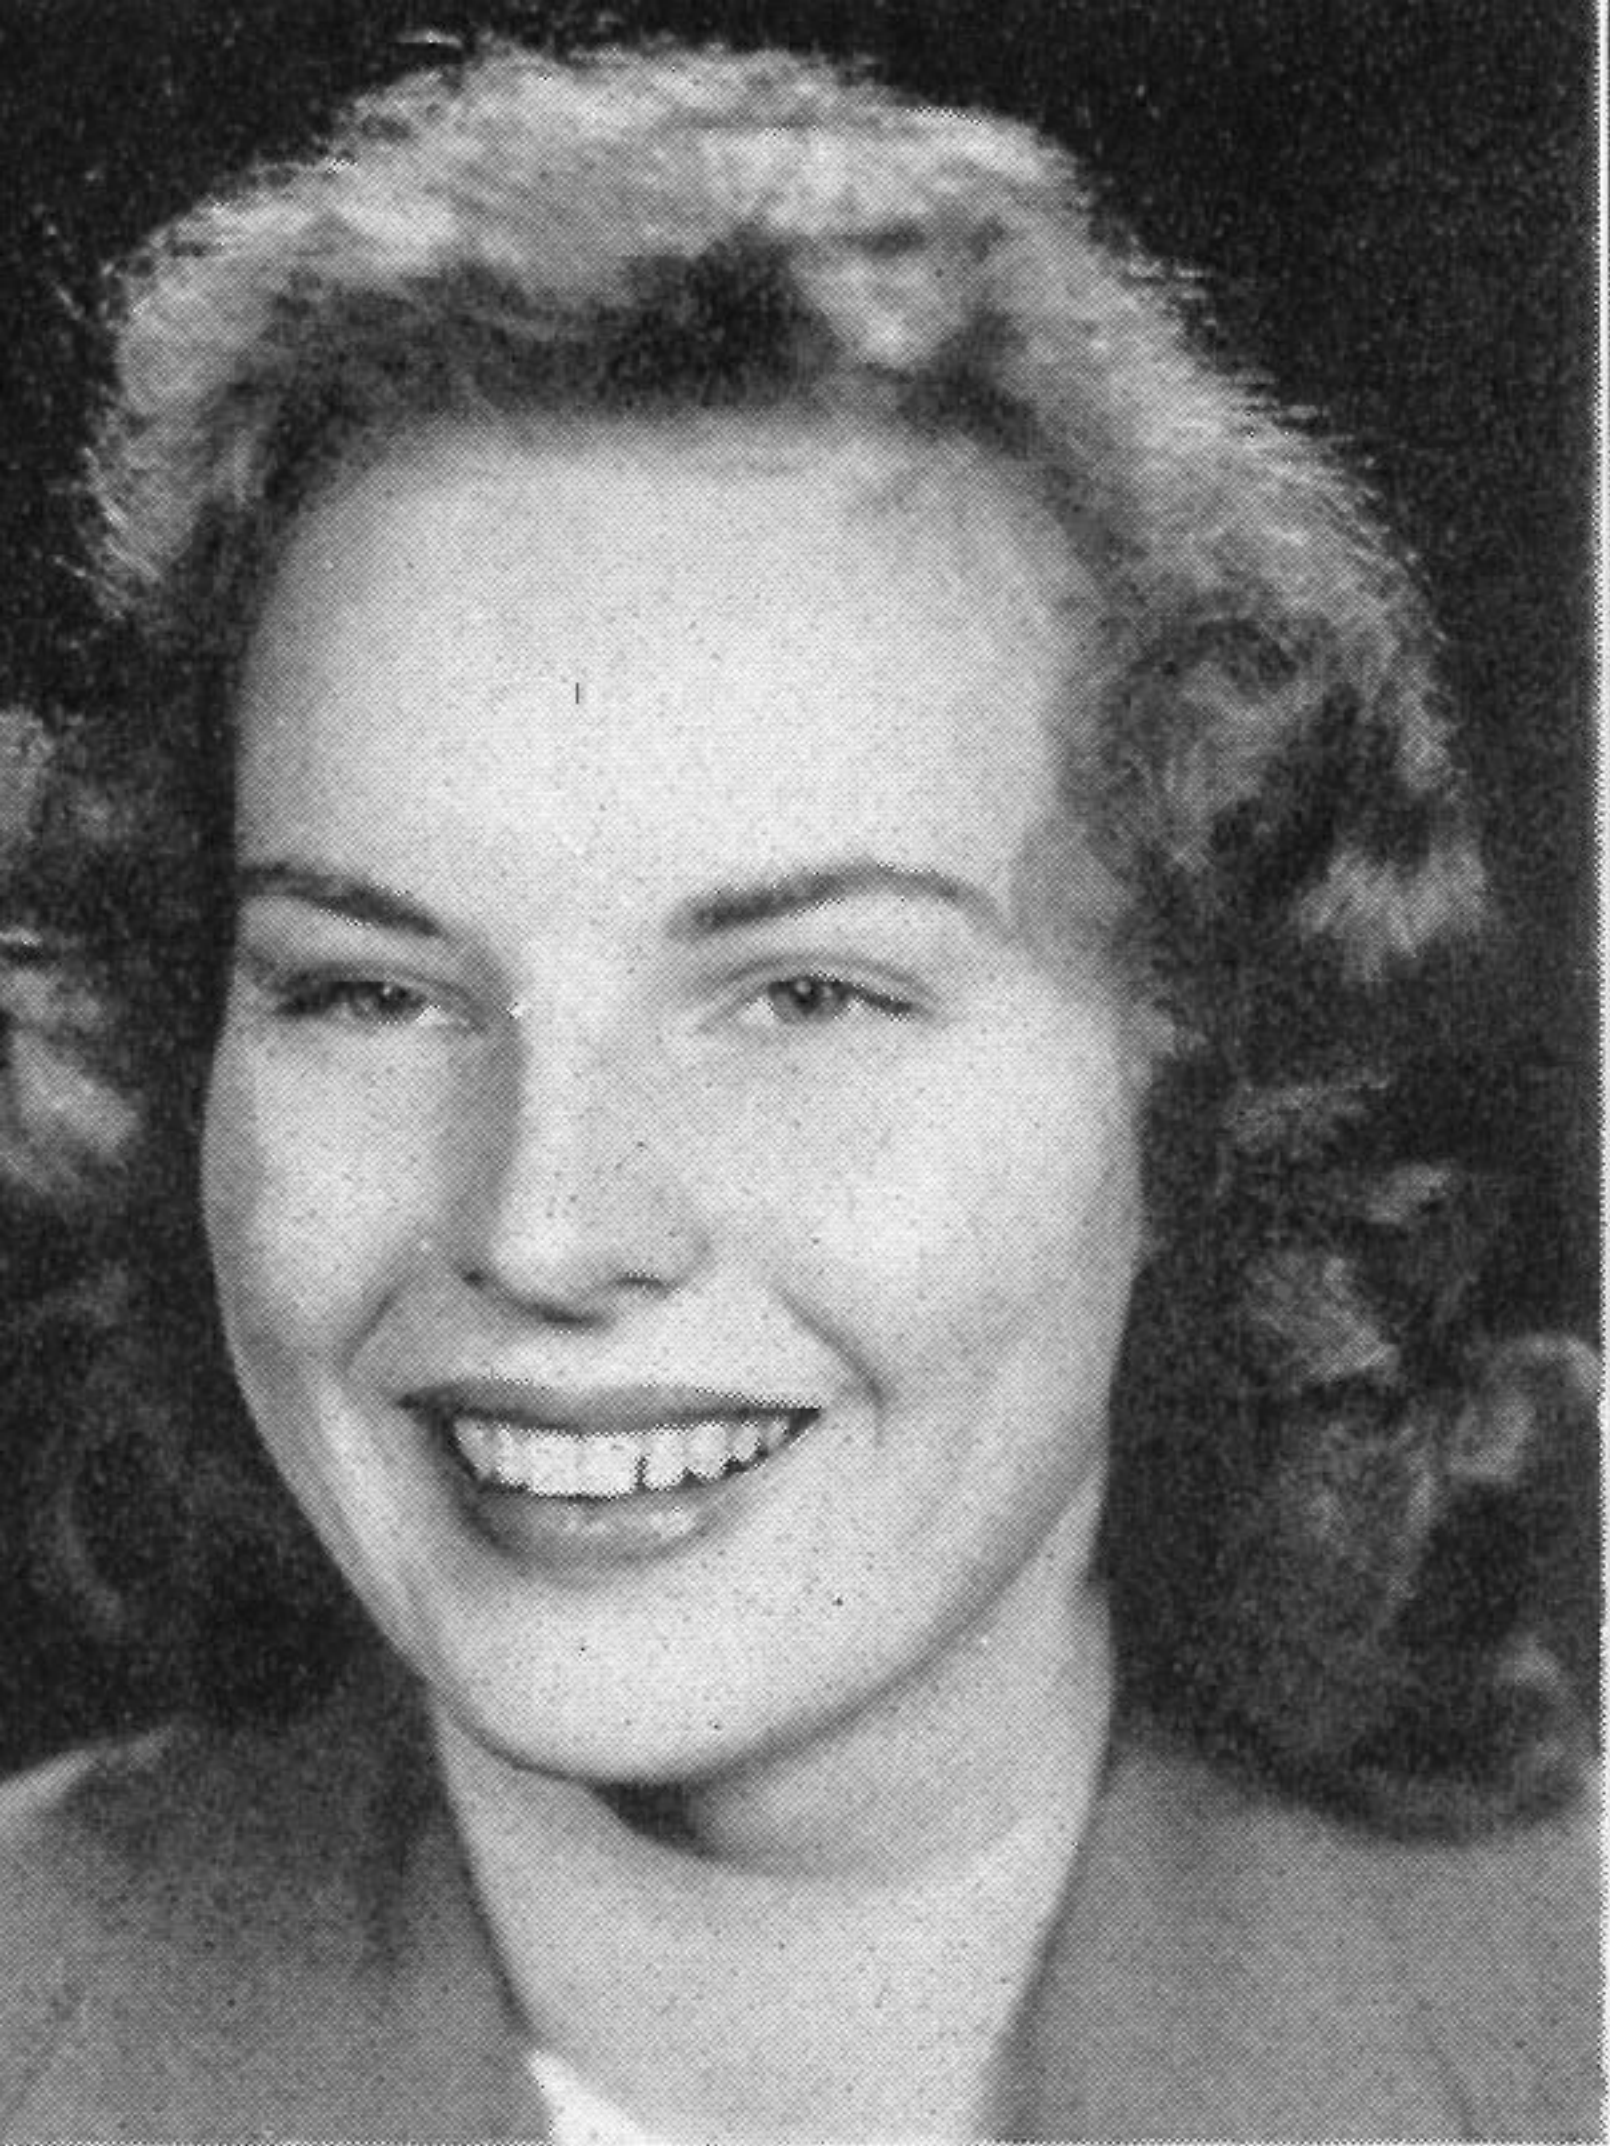

Sardonically-sarcastic Lloyd Stackhouse occupied the editor's desk fall quarter and part of the winter term before his dry wit gave out while helpfully criticizing his neophyte staff. Lloyd's policy on "what's news" stimulated wide discussions and aroused the writing of numerous "letters to the editor," but marked The Daily as an independent, though self-conscious newspaper. Tall, versatile Bill Bates deftly chopped copy from his desk as associate editor until the Pasco Herald beckoned him east.

Pipe-smoking Larry Anderson, dapper activity man, was editor for the second half year. While keeping much of the campus happy, easier-going Larry sparked a controversy over milk prices with a local dairy and the Bay villagers, besides stirring up feeling about "veterans' polls" and student conferences. Little Dotty Rosenthal's sharp "It's 5:30; stop the typewriters!" became a watchword when she took over the associate editor's position.

TURNING OUT each day's issue was the familiar, hectic operation it has always been. In spite of confusion and clatter amidst shouts of "more head writers," the JJ's wrote reams of informative and sometimes entertaining copy to fill the 14,000 papers—top circulation in Daily history.

Advisor George Astel's helping hand often pushed the last stories across the copy desk so they made the final deadline.

To the detriment of the Woman's Page and "Le Premiere Whispers," page two was devoted once a week to an editorial discussion on controversial topics—political cartoon included—as a revived feature to lend dignity to the paper.

International goodwill spread even to exchanging journalists between this campus and the University of British Columbia for one issue of each school's paper.

Betty Bruce, Manager

HITTING AN ALL-TIME HIGH in selling display advertising, the Daily ad staff also could boast of building up the largest classified advertising section of any school paper on the coast. The staff, which for the first time included junior journalism students, was ever on the go, canvassing shops and businesses, selling space and signing contracts.

Tyee

UNDER BROWN-EYED, energetic Judy Zimmerman, the '47 Tyee emerged from a maze of names, layouts, lists and pictures. Persevering and thorough. Judy coordinated the staff, used tact and finesse with printers, photographers and engravers. Her specialties . . . Phi Beta grades and home-cooked meals for husband, Hal.

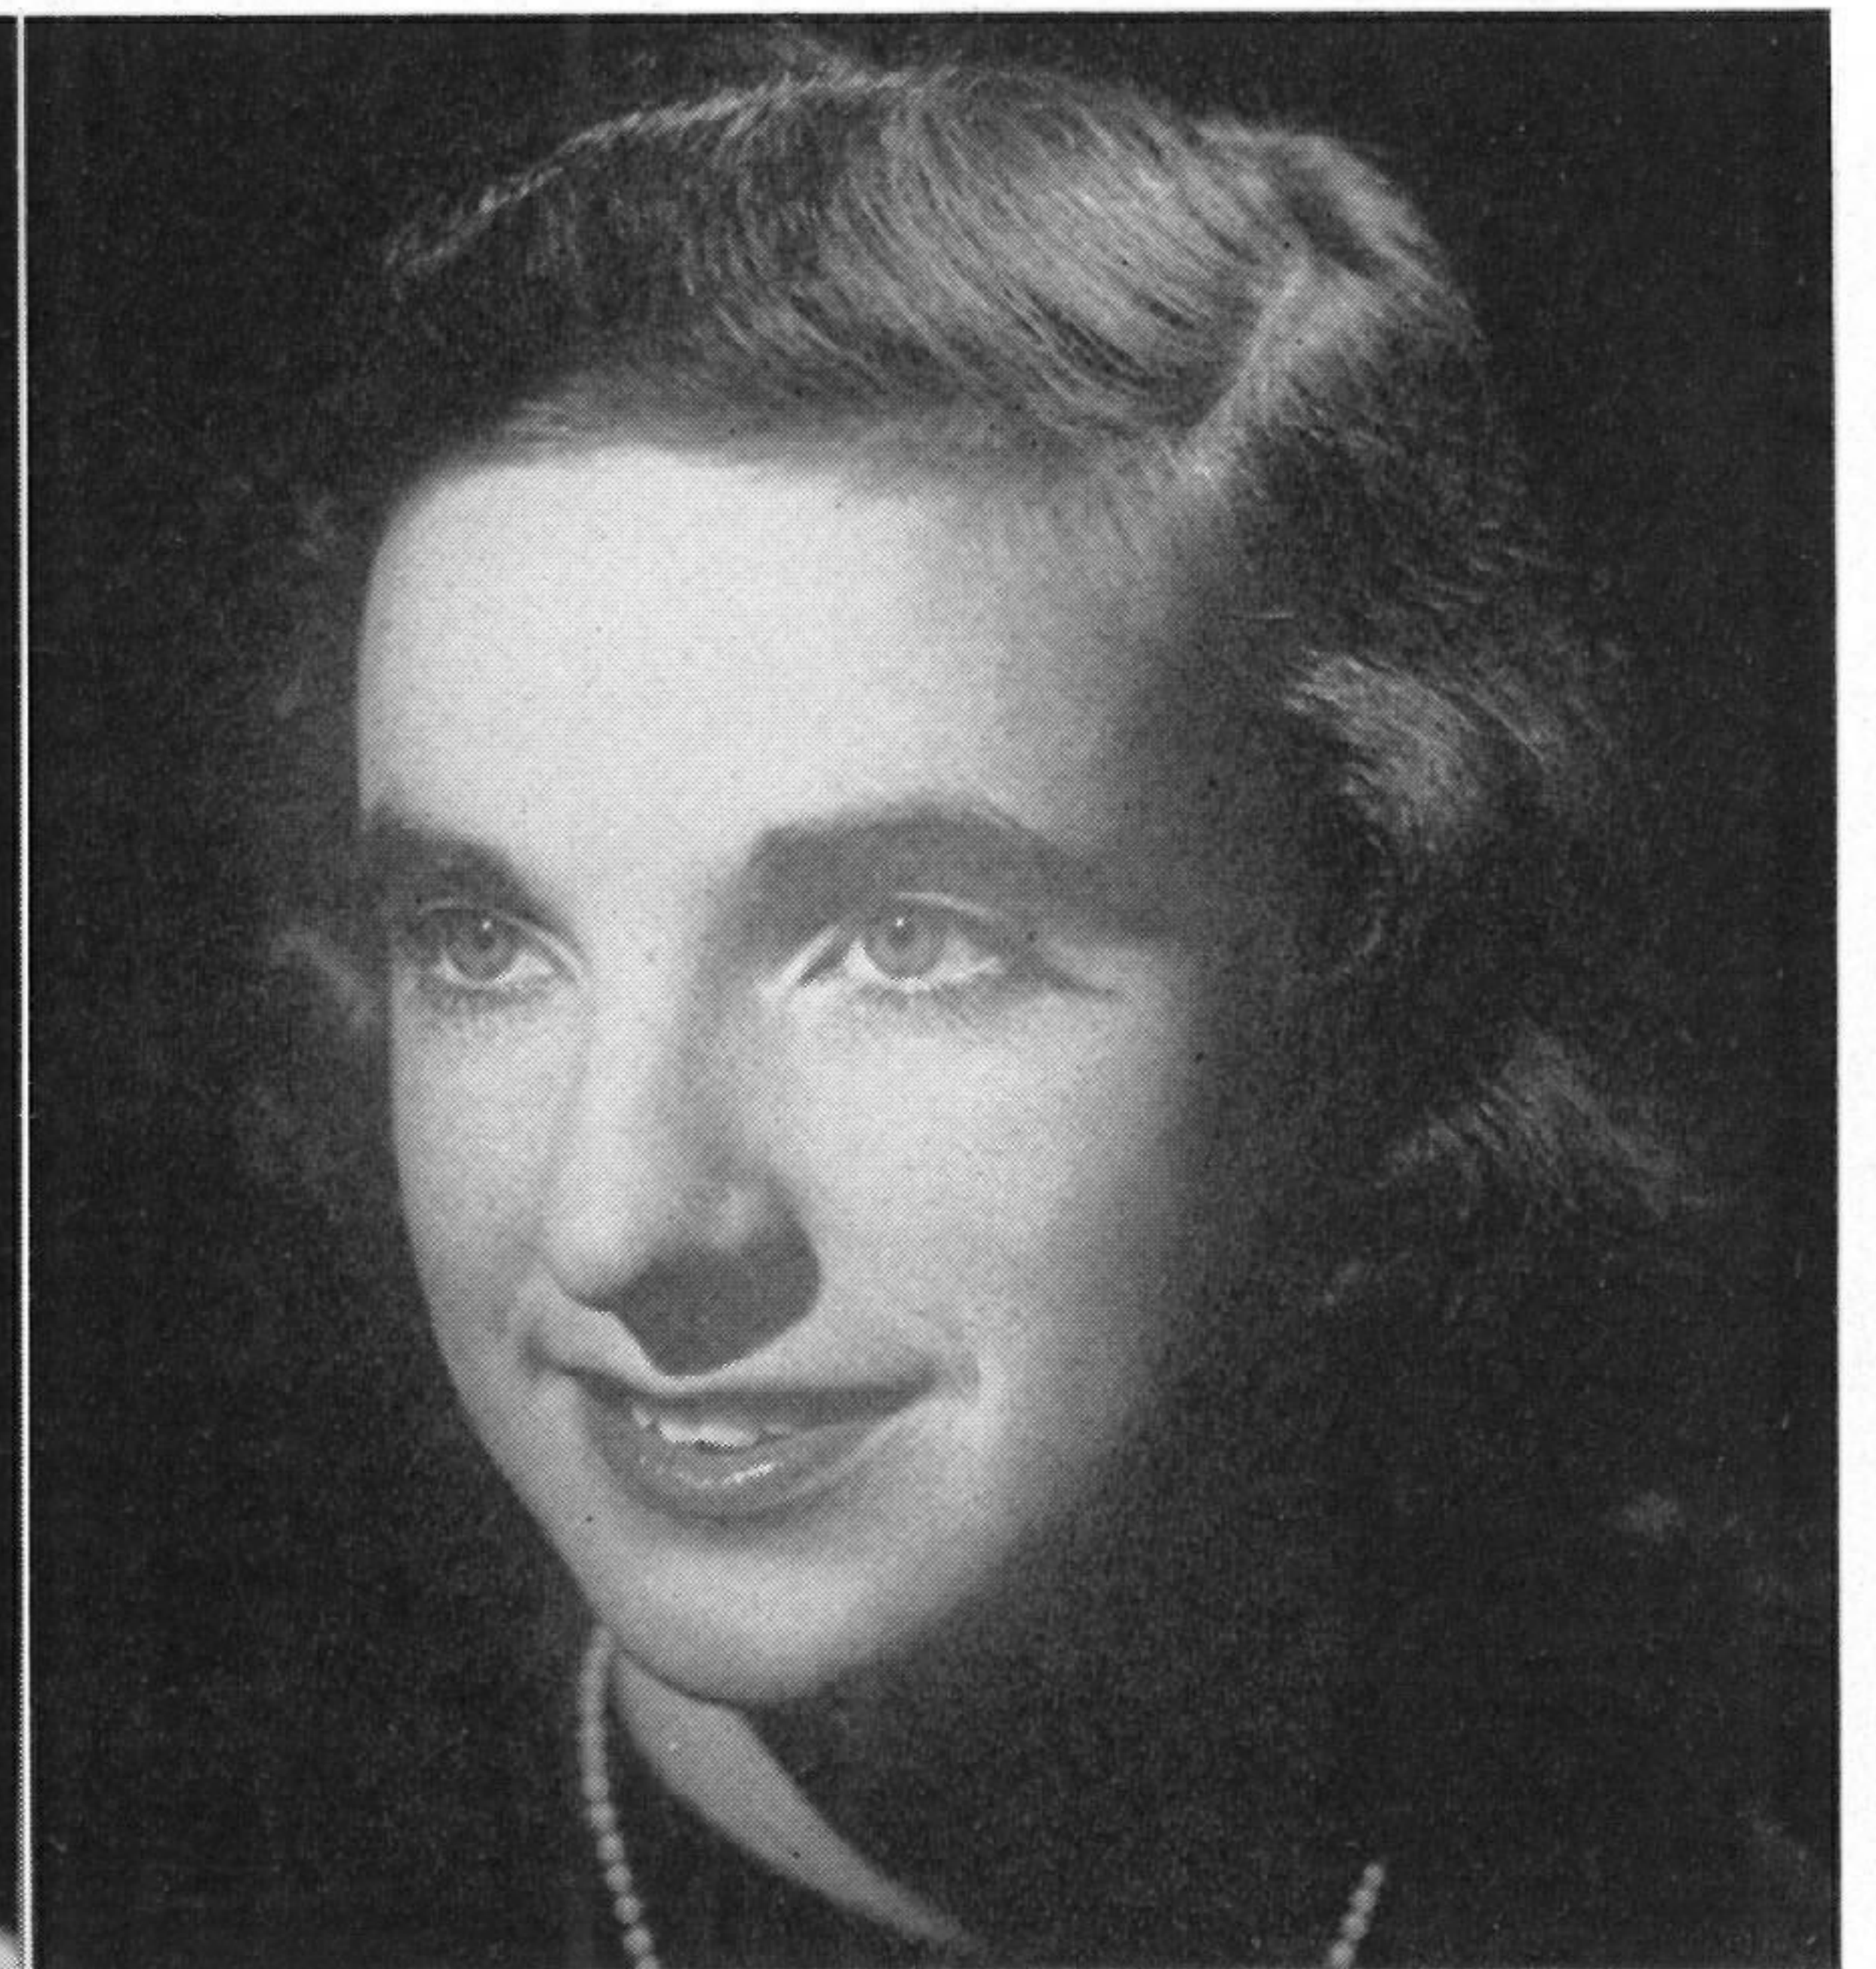

Versatile, original Janet Dowd gave "the book" novel layouts, clever cartoons and division pages as art editor. Her pint-sized radio boosted staff morale during late hours of the spring vacation rush.

As associate editor former JJ Lore Newkirk edited all copy, served as information bureau and glorified office girl. Her memories of Tyee will be of stacks of carbon copies ever increasing in her bulging folder.

BLONDE BETTY STEVENSON, assisted by Anne Adams, combined duties as AWS Lectures Committee chairman with handling the ASUW section. Dick Eilertsen and Pat Nicholson, assisted by Jay Hamilton, Dick Stone, Cecil Webb, Bill Joost, Jim Chase and Jack Linge, took over the sports section and kept photographers hopping to keep up with picture assignments. Dick also handled the AMS section.

Norma Stave, the staff's redhead, assisted by Marilyn Roth, spent hours on the phone making picture appointments with faculty members to get her administration section into shape.

Pat Lavell with her assistant, Carol Jean Allen, edited the classes section, worked late hours on the senior lists and helped choose prominents. Alice Jane Castlen, active in AWS work, was in charge of the AWS section and with the help of Doris Wells rounded up multifarious committees for picture appointments.

As organizations editor, Mary Thomas acted as liaison officer between organized groups and Kennell-Ellis.

HANDLING PUBLICATIONS section was Ann Dobbs, tracking down artists, authors and office help around Lewis Hall to gather pictures and copy. Shirley Scott was in charge of the drama section and used discrimination in picking top productions to be pictured. The music and debate section was handled by able Frances Blane.

Blonde, lanky Charlie Nelson is responsible for this year's social season's complete coverage. Vivacious Solveig Ivarsson worked with the women's physical education department to edit the women's sports section. The military section was under the supervision of tow-headed Vlad Ushakoff.

As office manager, Connie Halter organized and scheduled office workers for filing and typing. Tyee's peaches-and-cream girl, Helen Langer, wrestled with lists of scholarship winners and honoraries to fulfill her duties as scholarship editor.

John Murray, as skiing editor, gathered pictures of snow queens, skiing stars and snow bunnies to complete his section.

As indispensables on the art staff, Louella Kummer worked with layouts while Al Liddle designed the cover and end sheet and Joan Southwick claims credit for division page cartoons. Others in line for praise on art work include Pat Shively, Marilyn Strum, Curtis Cruber, Richard Miller, Viola Jones, Bart Edgers and Bill Stroud.

Johnny Murray, Skiing; Shirley Scott, Drama.

Around Table: Marilyn Roth, Doris Wells, Anne Adams, Jack Linge, Carol Jean Allen, Jay Hamilton, Bruce Blye, Jim Chase.

TYEE BUSINESS

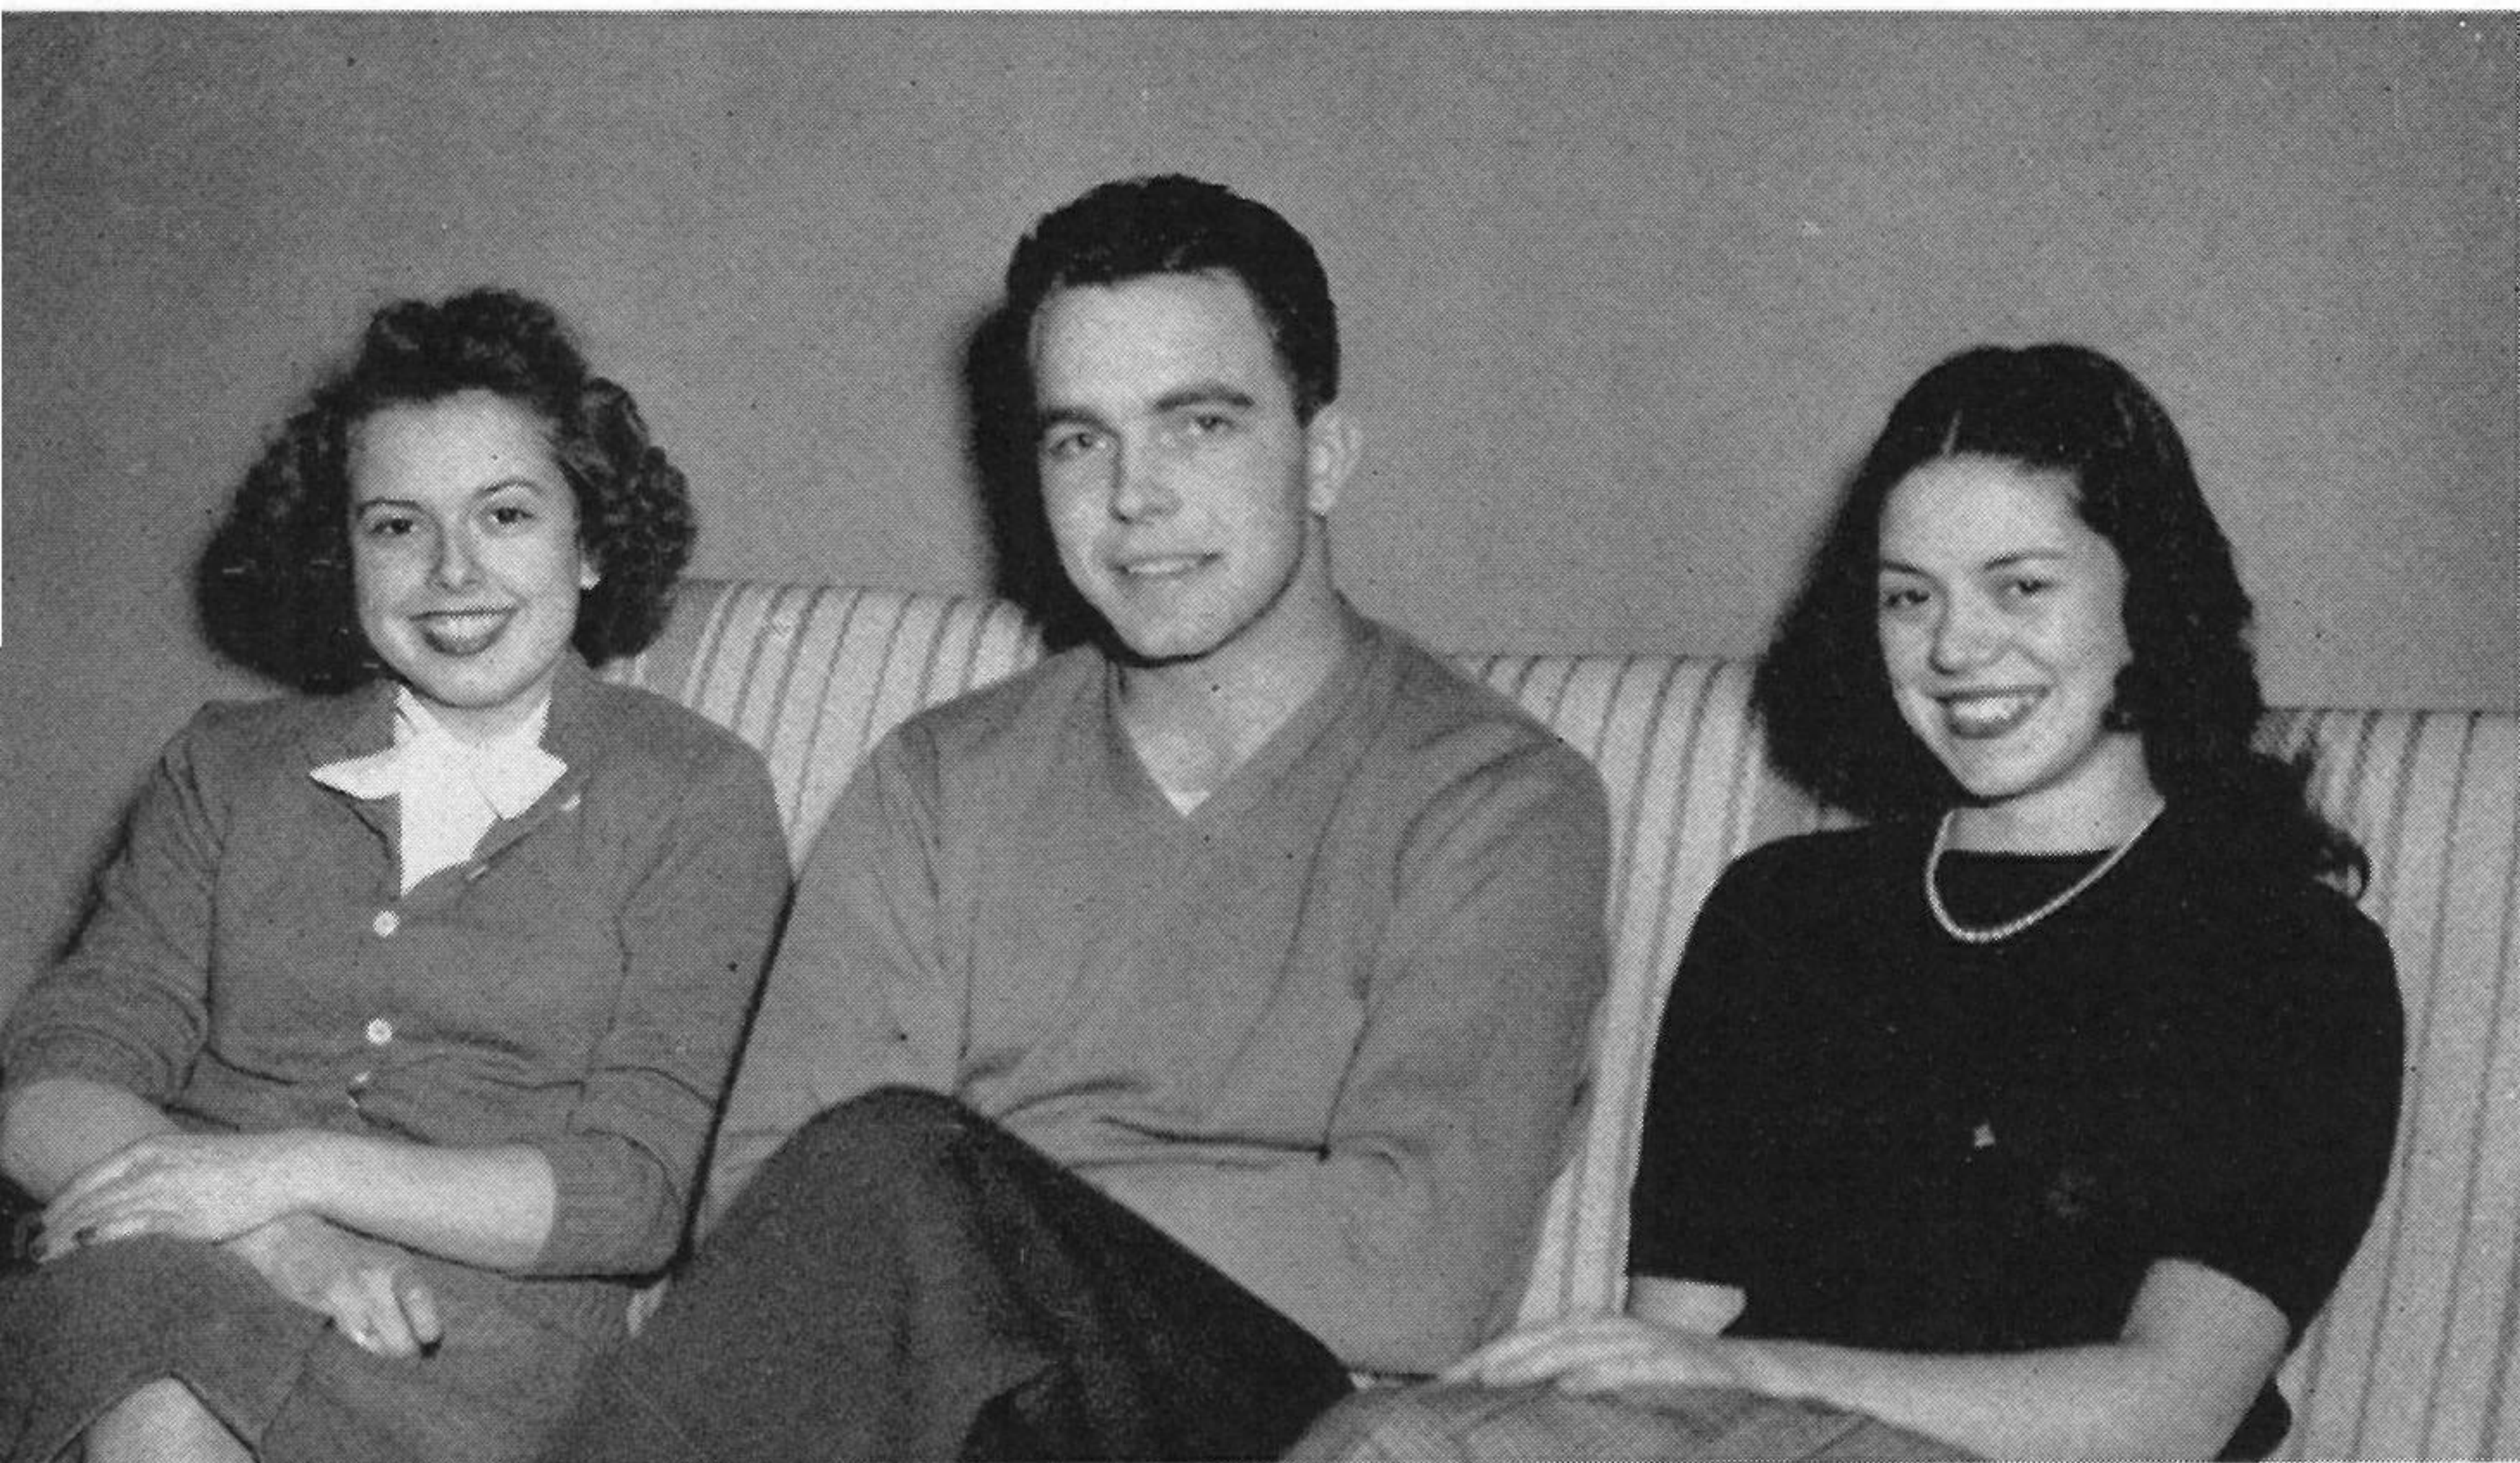

BEHIND THE BLACK LETTERING which says "Tyee Business Office," lies the center of administration and business which underlies the editorial side of Tyee. Here, tucked away in a corner of Lewis Hall, Shirley Simmons, business manager, and her assistants coordinate page contracts and subscription drives.

MEMBERS OF COLUMN'S BUSINESS OFFICE are divided into three sections. The Circulation Staff tracks down missing Columns issues, lends a sympathetic ear to complaints and handles publicity. The Advertising Staff combs the city for supporters. Office workers spend hours keeping records, managing finances, supervising salesgirls.

WALLIE
FUNK

Δ Δ Δ

Taking the reins of Columns after a year's stint on The Daily and a few years with Uncle Sam's Marines, Wallie Funk has ably steered the magazine through nine perilous months, with a conservative policy that has sought to reach all corners of the campus. A member of Sigma Nu and Sigma Delta Chi, Funk has gained a reputation for having many irons in campus activities and for applying the energy that makes for success.

Vicky Draham came to Columns this year after a year of editorial work on The Daily. With versatility, she wrote articles, copyread manuscripts, stole jokes and played the radio which was the pride and joy of the Columns office.

As coordinator of the year's art work, Kay O'Connor handled a talented paint brush and filled the Columns office with spicy witticisms. Her work included many fine illustrations and good covers for the magazine.

NOTE TO THE EDITOR:

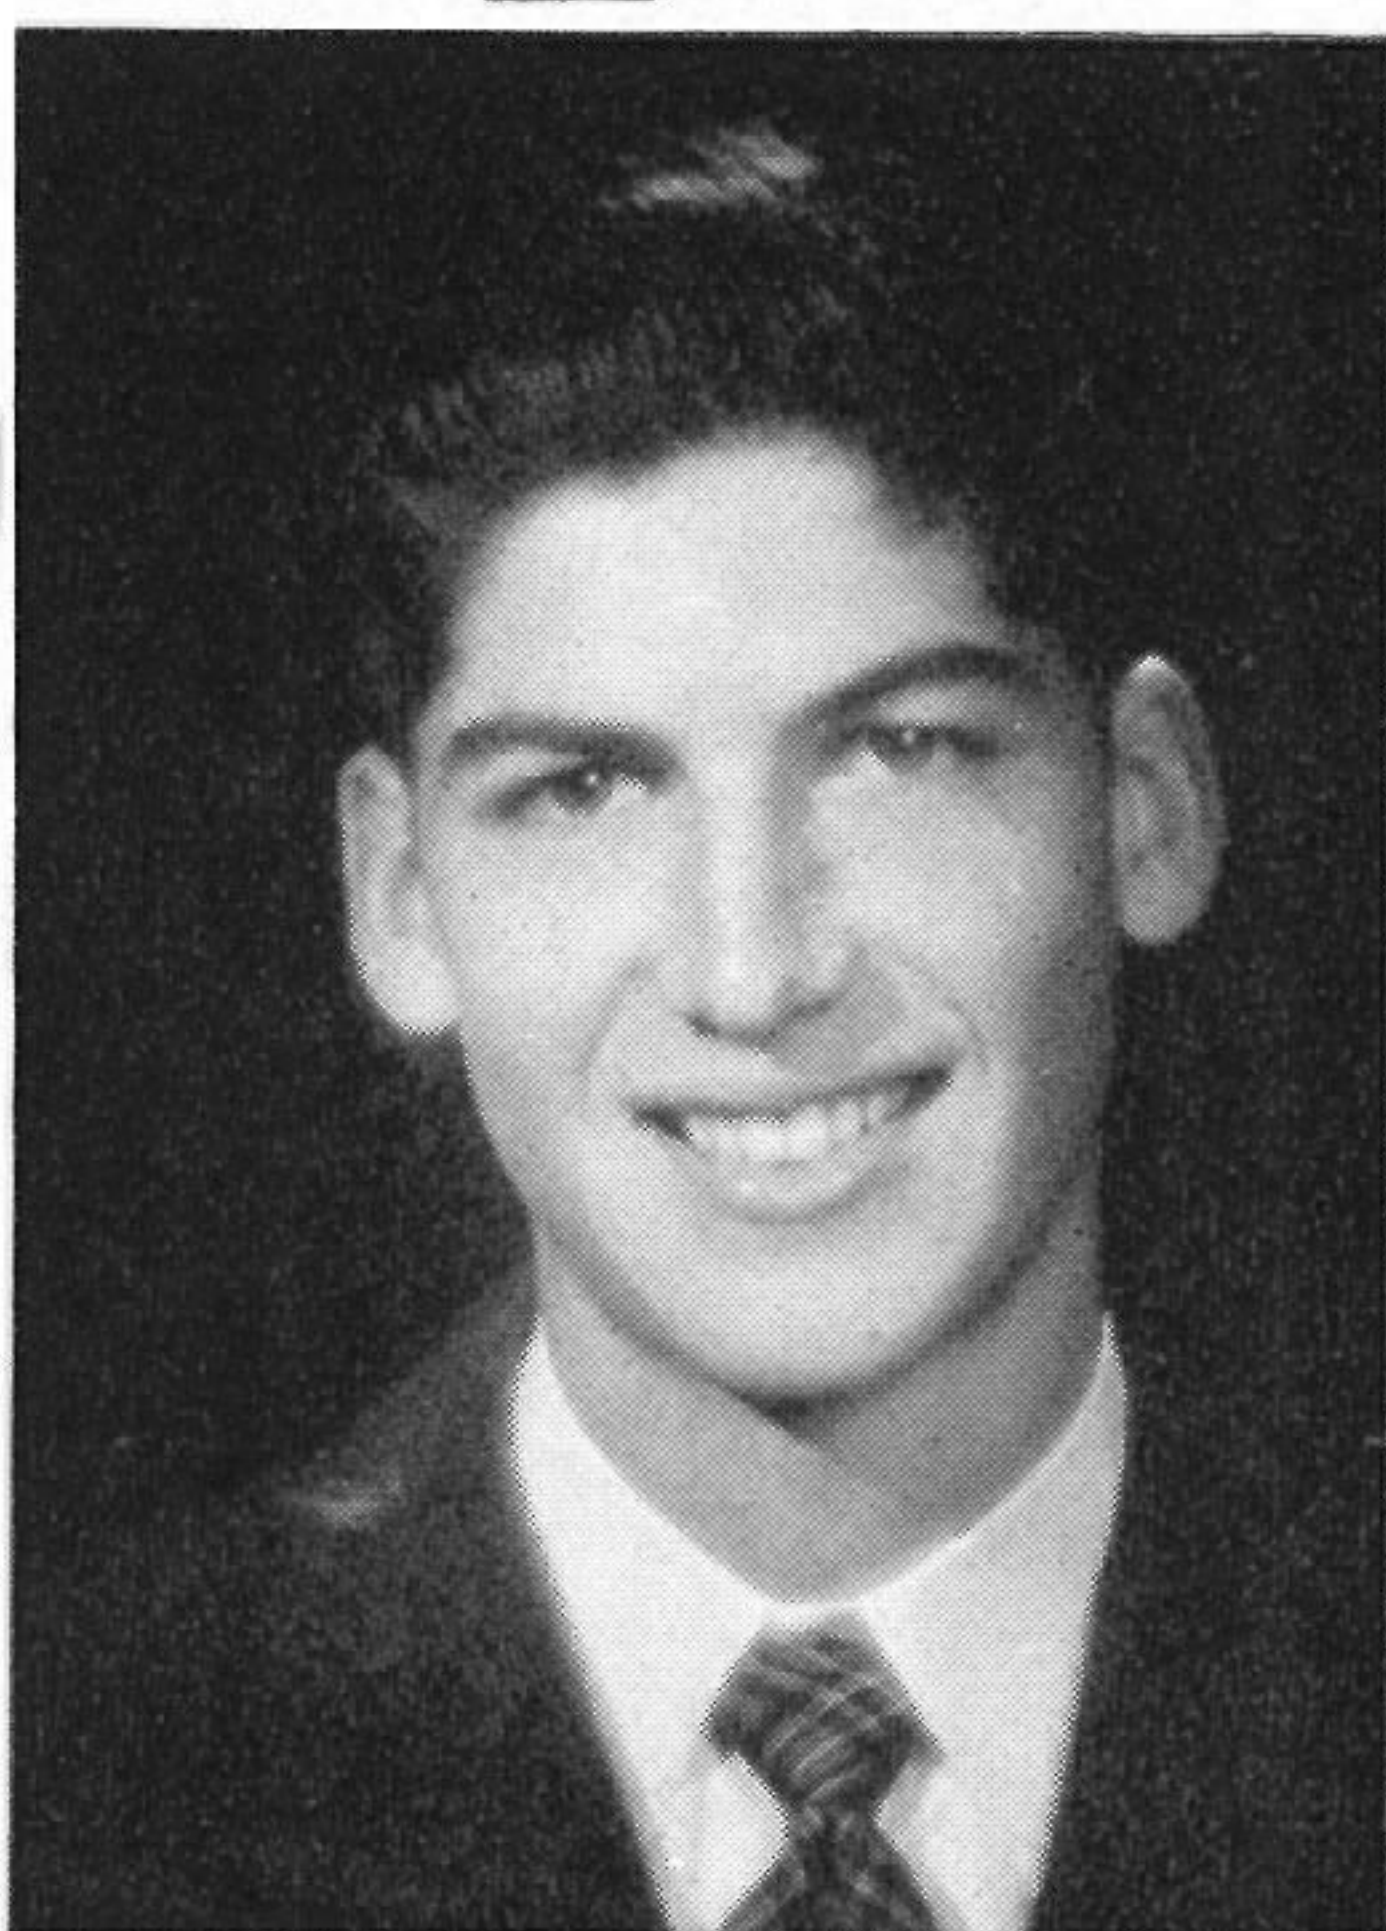

We are a supremely capable staff, and our stuff has pleased ourselves and our mothers. We have pleased you only now and then and the faculty almost never. As a result of our efforts, our clothes are spattered with hypo, ink and greasy paint and our eyes have forgotten the art of closing. We also have fascinating memories of the local pub. But we leave behind us the work which has made possible nine readable, laughable issues of Columns. What more do you want?

Yours truly,

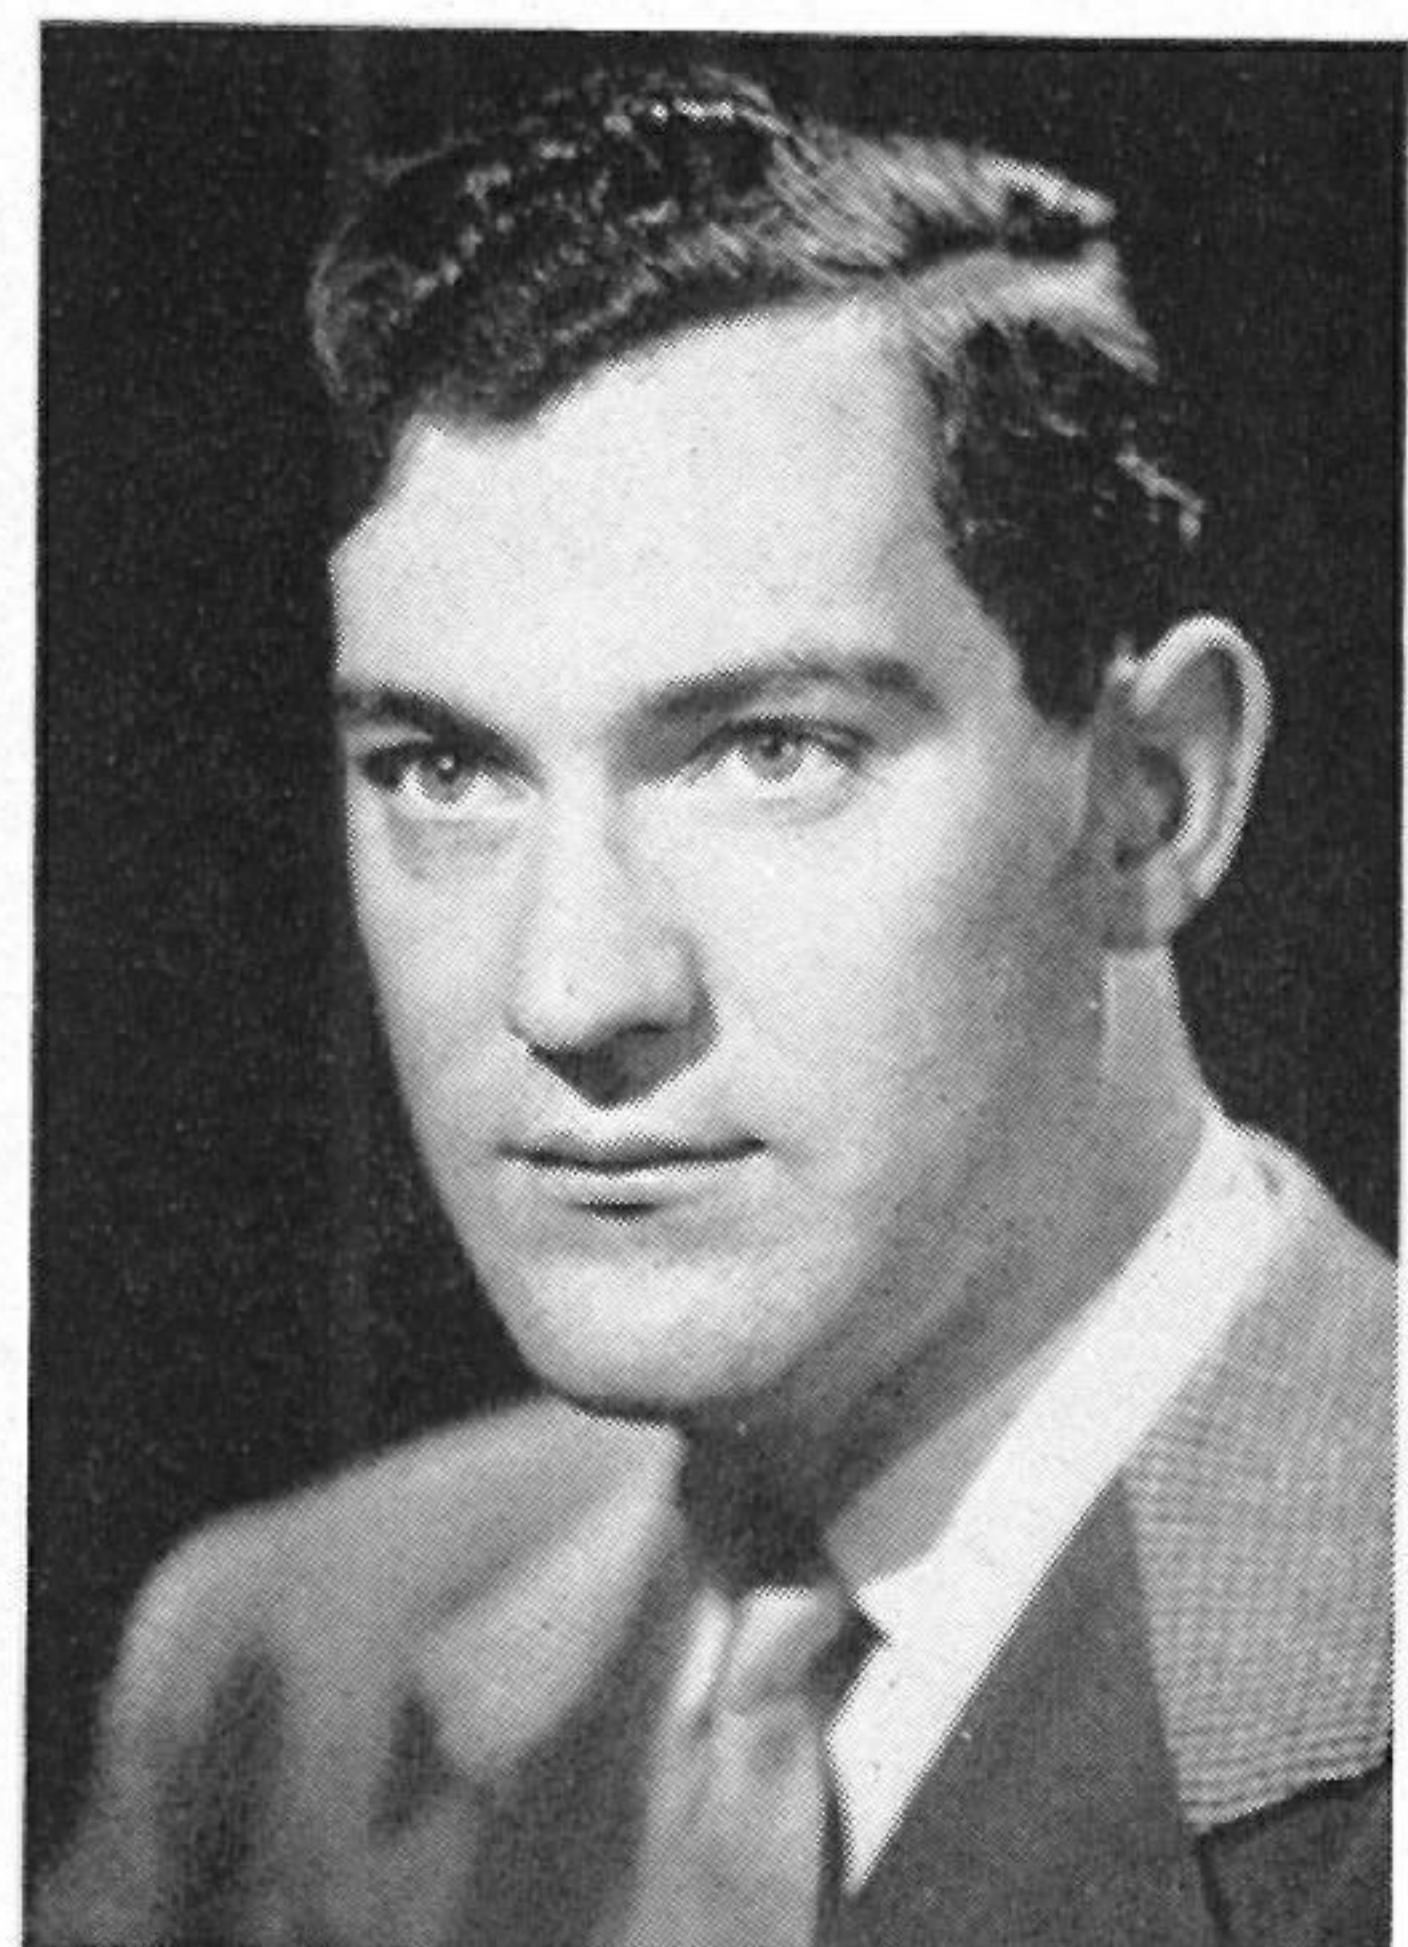

THE STAFF

DENNY MAC GOUGHAN

JOE GILBERT

ROSALIE REICHMUTH

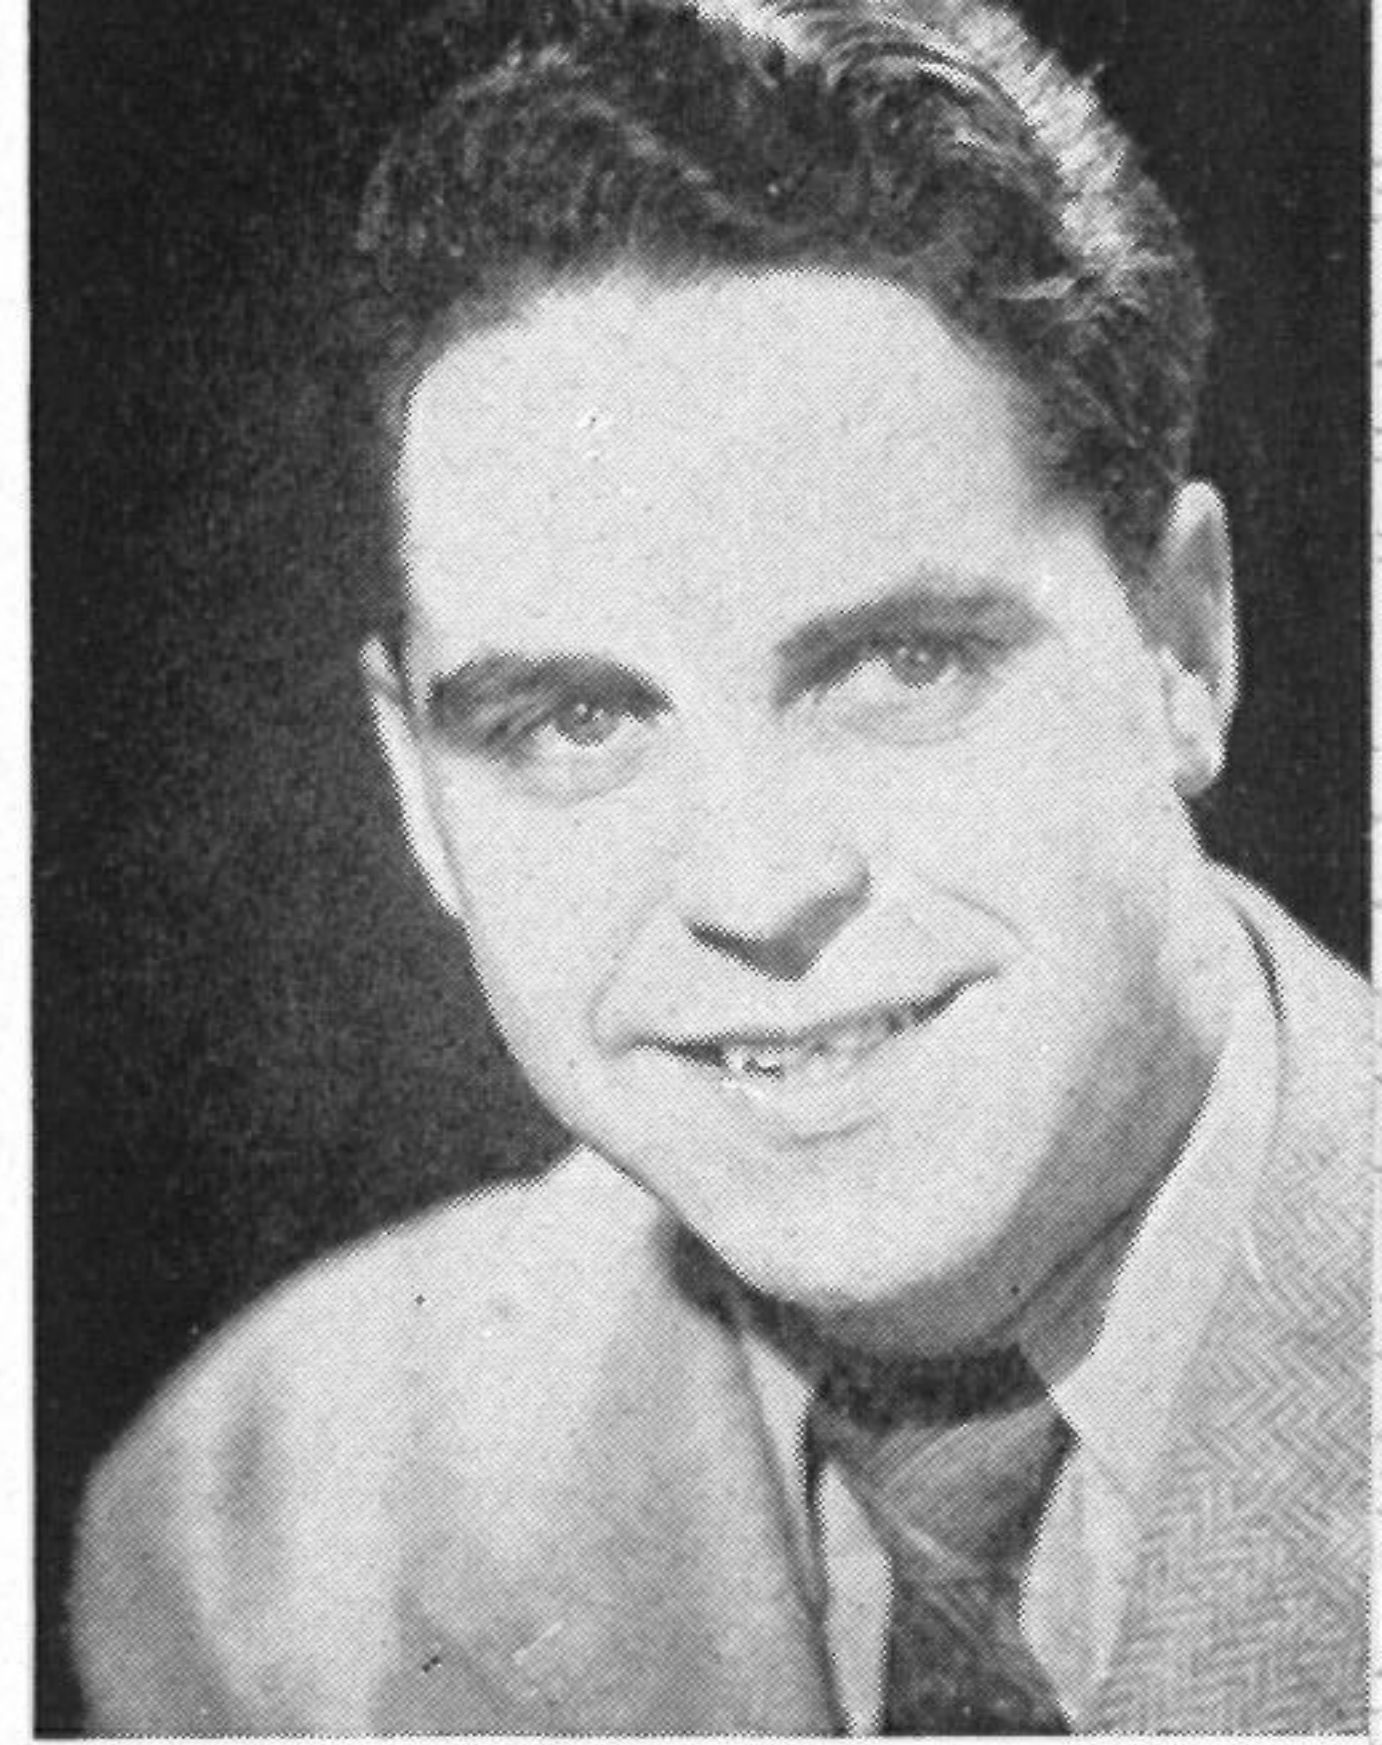

PHYLLIS LUVERA

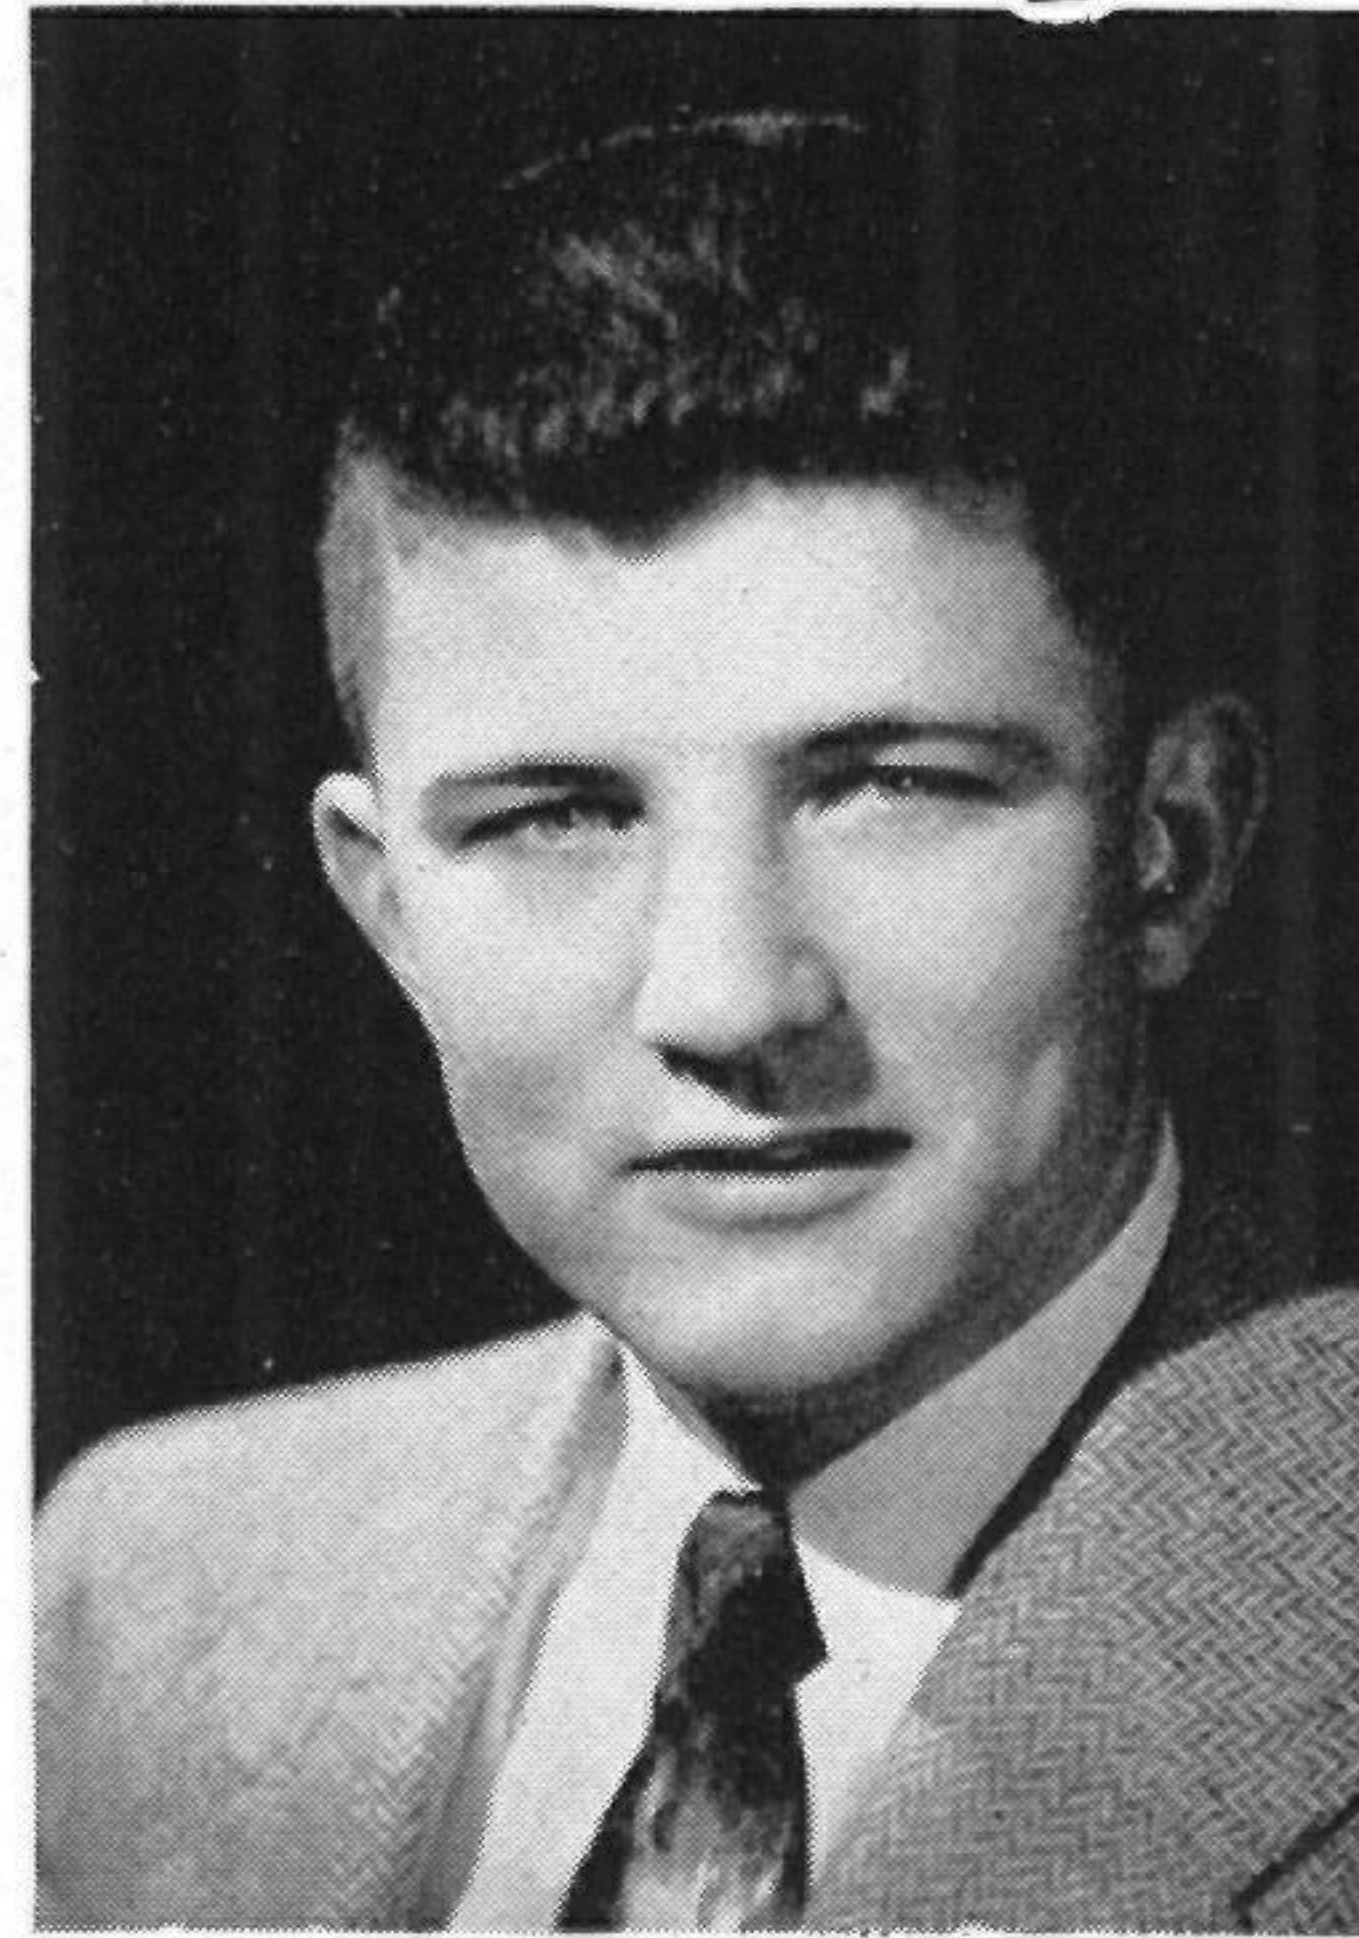

Of these top-notch writers, Boynton turned out fiction, Gilbert covered sports while Reichmuth prepared Columns' page of bouquets, The "A" Grade. MacGoughan also proved to be a worthy journalist. Writers not pictured, Henry S. Kariel and Ed Ekstedt, contributed fiction. Luvera did proofreading.

PALMER

Called upon at the eleventh hour and rushed to turn in their pictures, Bob Dupar and Dean Palmer came through with fine photography.

DUPAR

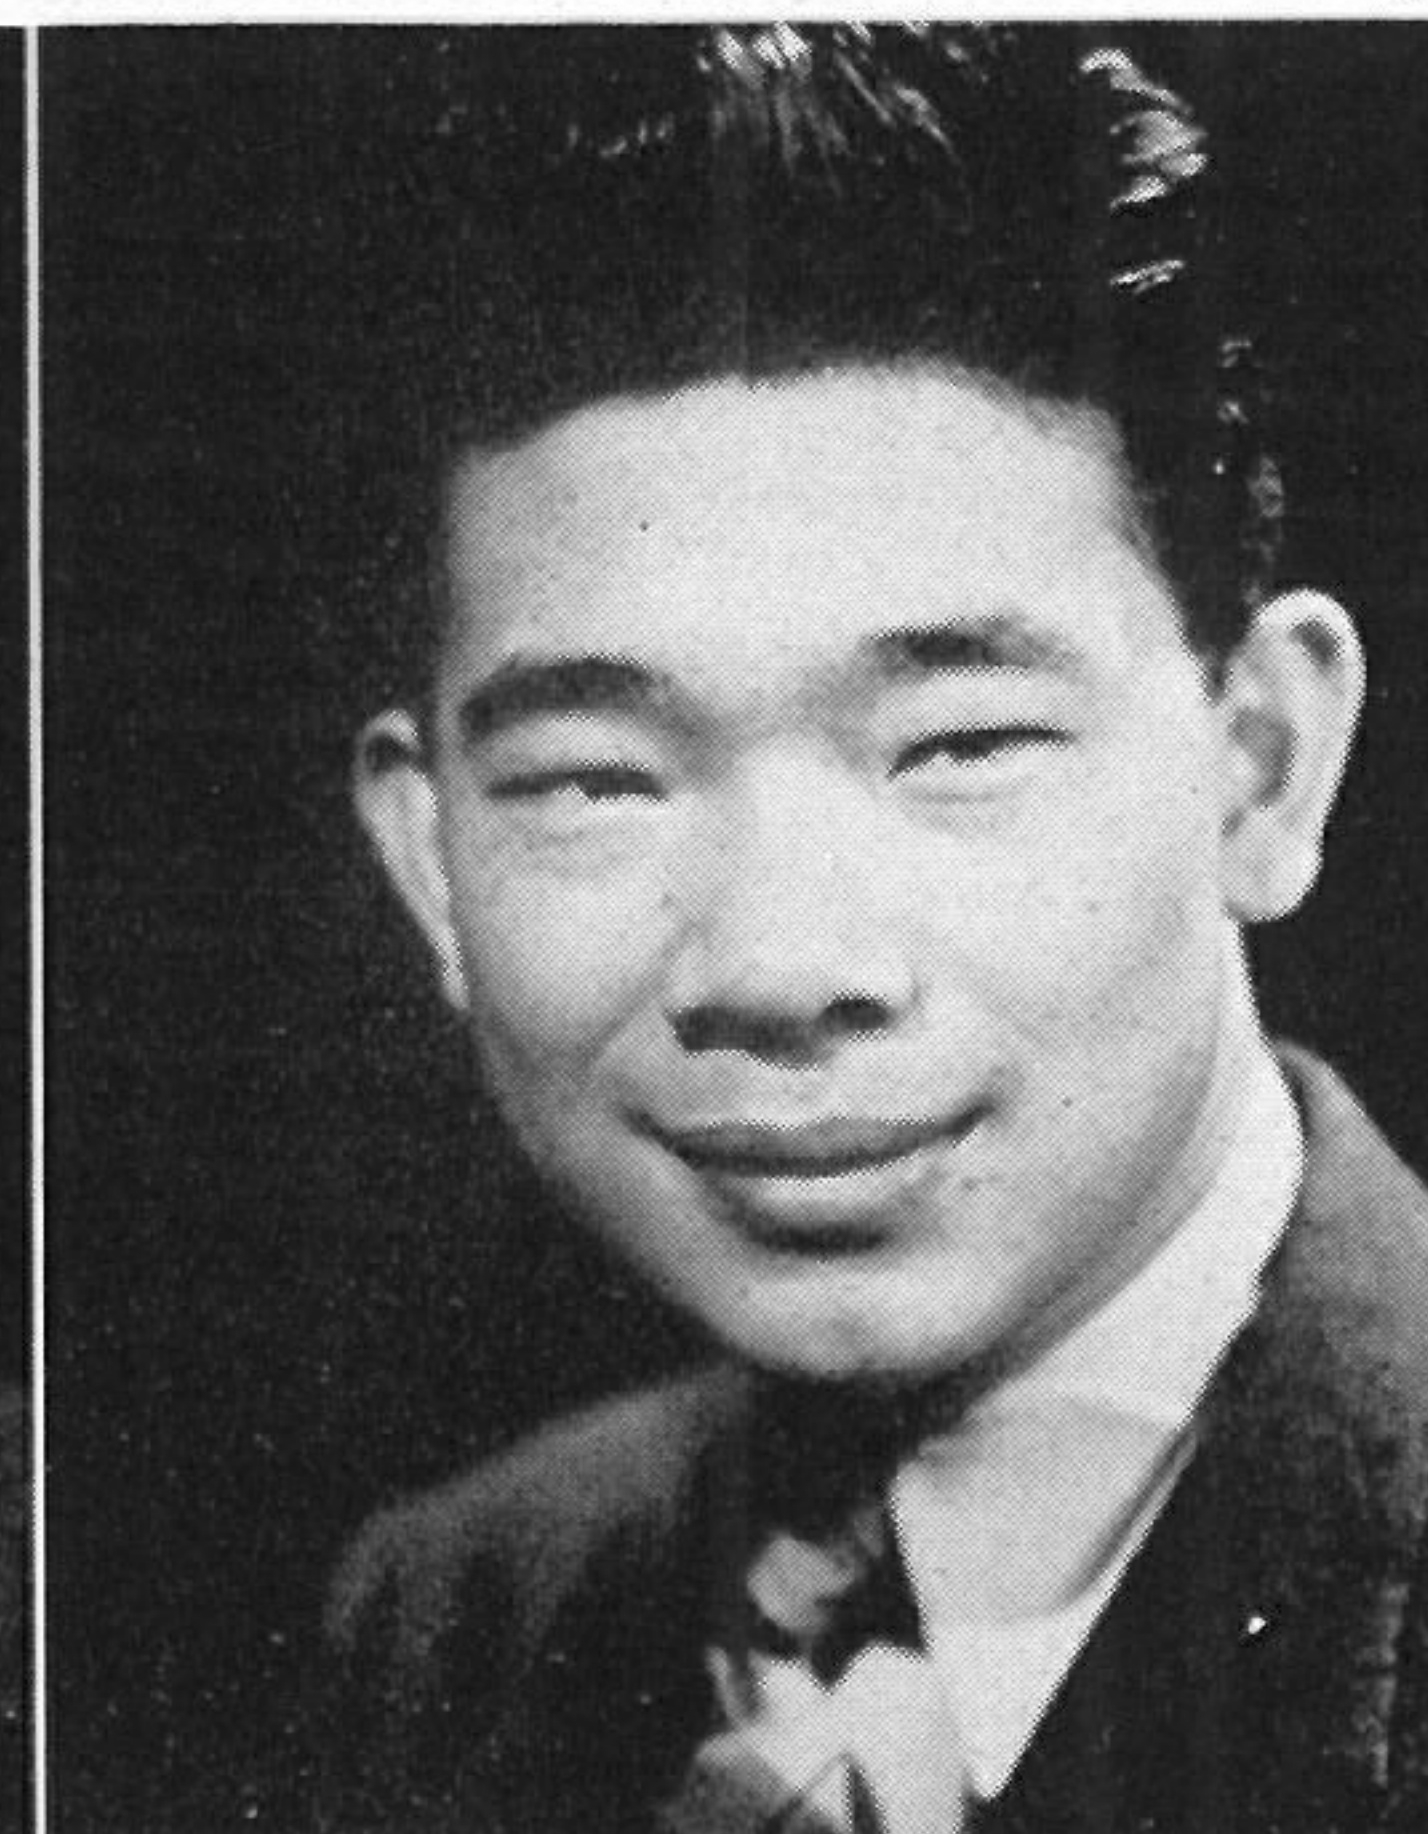

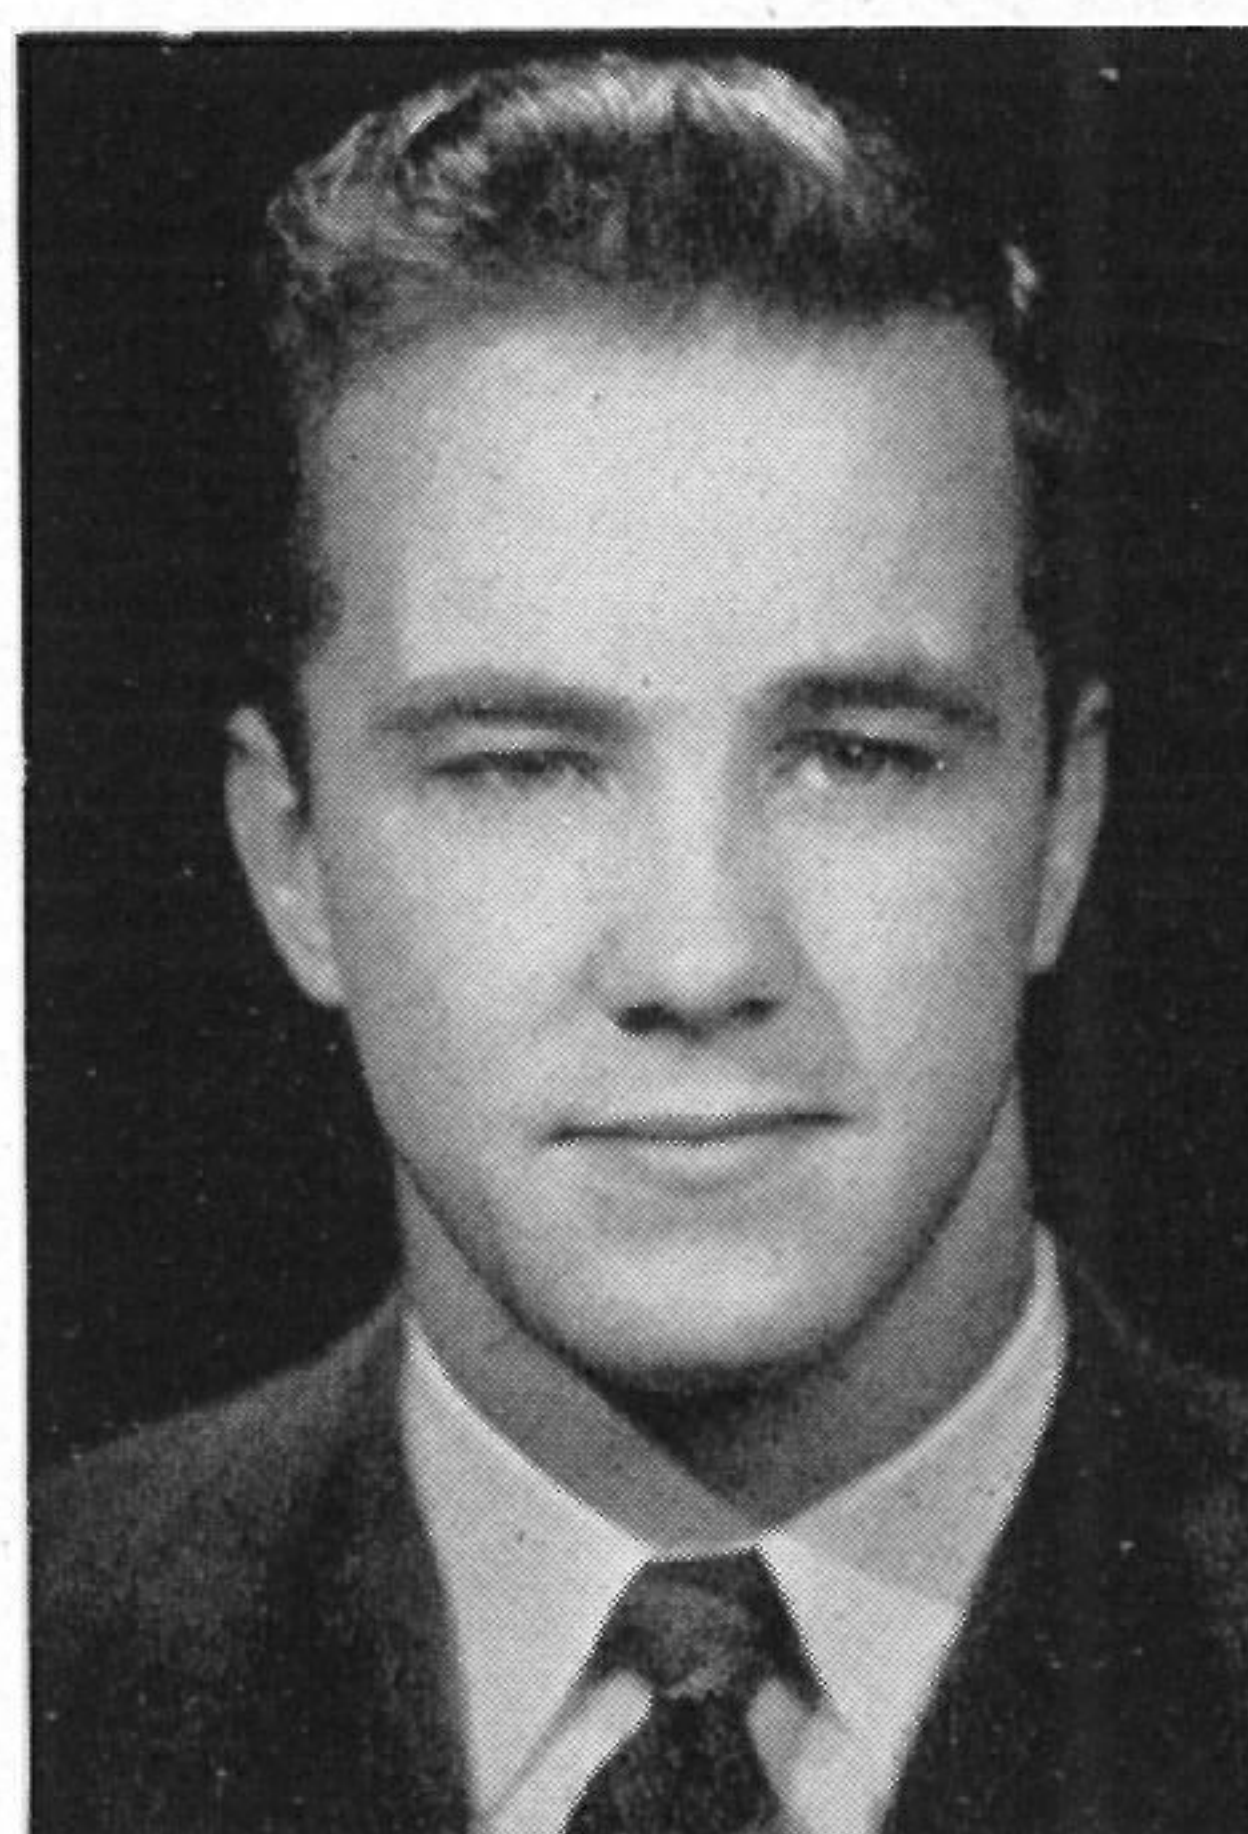

WES HOTCHKISS

For Columns, this has been a great year for art work. In addition to Art Editor Kay O'Connor, an able staff prepared a never-ending stream of cartoons, illustrations and covers. Wes Hotchkiss, wielding a deft brush, turned out many inviting covers. Bill Sill proved to be a jack-of-all-trades, with emphasis on story illustration. Among those turning out unique cartoon work were Wing Luke and Al Luster.

SCHOLARSHIP

HELEN LANGER, EDITOR

PRESIDENT'S AND FACULTY MEDALIST

James Melbourne Scott

AT COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES, June, 1946, James Melbourne Scott was awarded the President's Medal for being the graduating senior with the highest scholastic record in undergraduate work.

Four months later at Convocations, James received the Faculty Medal for being the junior student with the highest grade point. Having fulfilled the requirements for his degree in three years, James was able to receive these high scholarship awards almost simultaneously.

With a major in history and a minor in French and German, he accumulated a grade point of 4. His activities included Phi Beta Kappa, Delta Phi Alpha and Education Club. He also participated in the French Drama Club.

After receiving his teaching certificate in June, James plans to teach high school.

WITH AN ACCUMULATIVE grade point of 3.95, Marilyn Mathis was awarded the Faculty Medal as the highest ranking sophomore student at the Convocations assembly last fall.

Marilyn, a journalism major, is a member of Alpha Delta Pi, Gamma Alpha Chi, Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Epsilon Sigma. Her other activities and honors include holding the offices of sophomore secretary, AWS secretary, W-Key, Daily editorial staff and receiving the Mortar Board sophomore plaque.

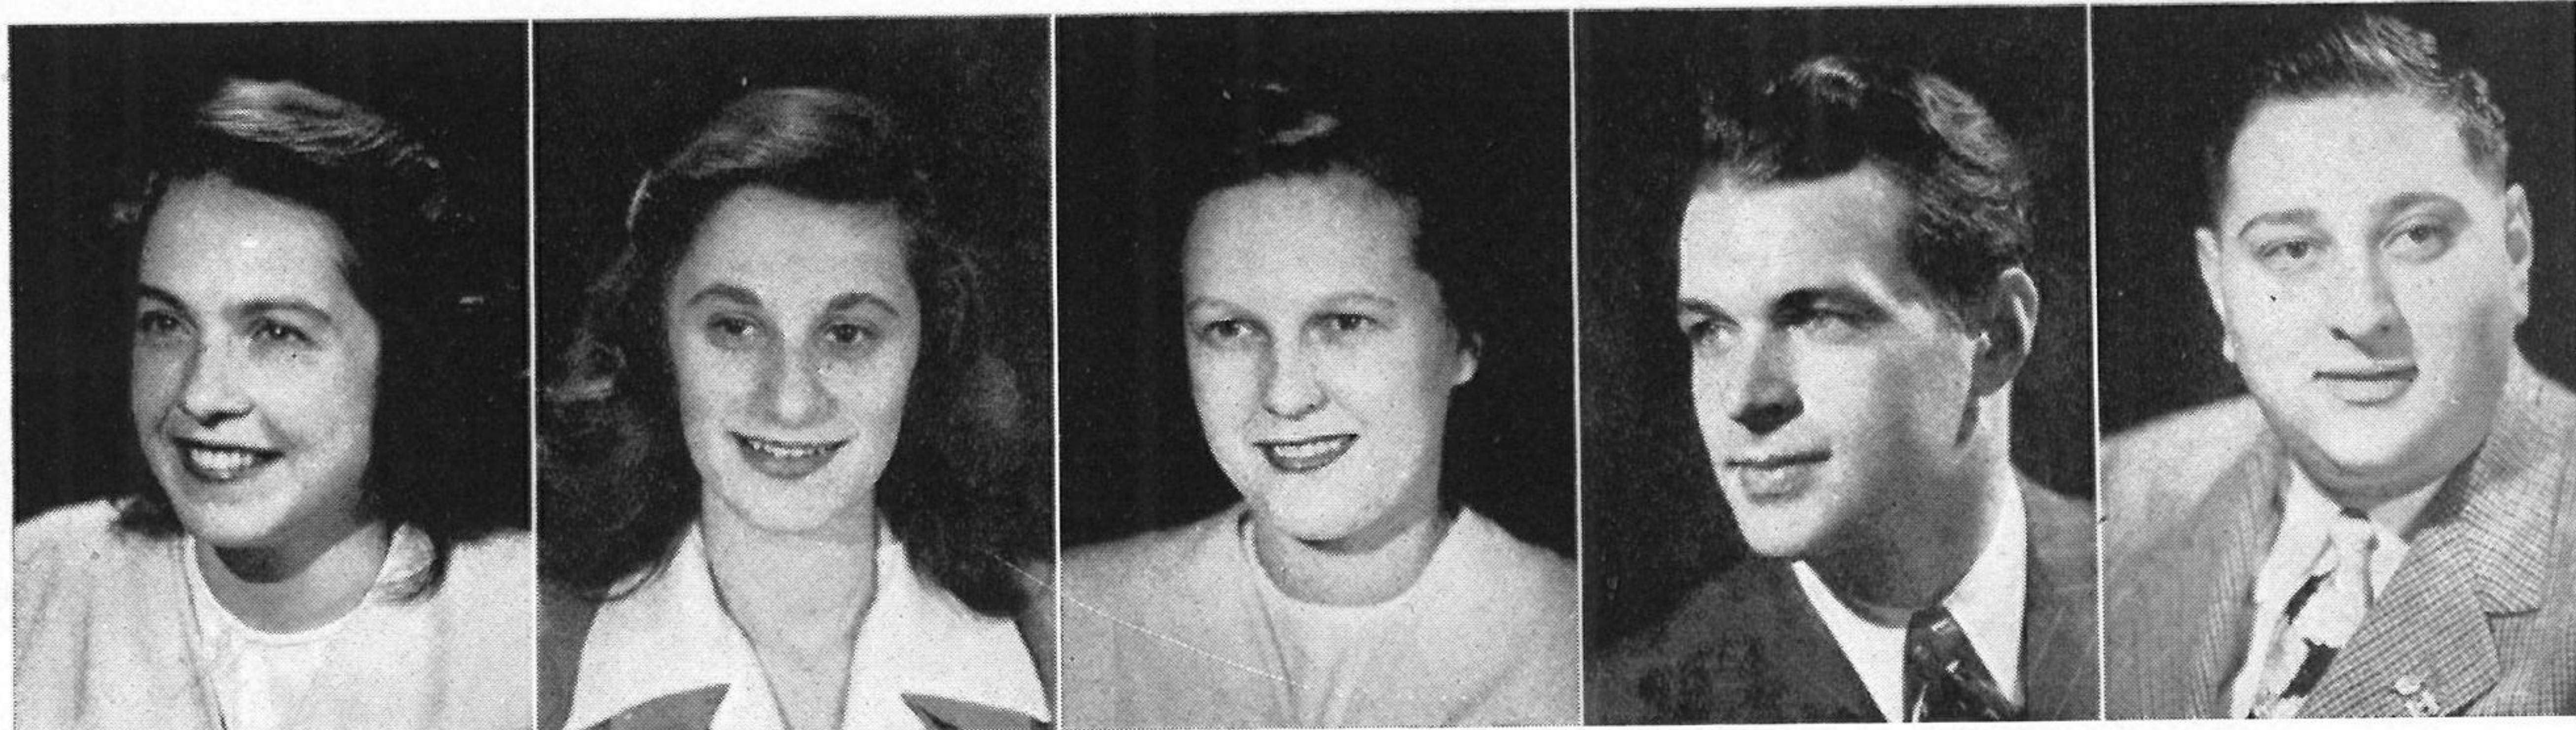

Hard-pressed for time, Marilyn includes junior journalism, black coffee and bridge as her hobbies.

PHI BETA KAPPA

THE HONOR OF BEING ELECTED into Phi Beta Kappa is extended to a limited number of students in the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Education and Economics and Business, who maintain at least a 3.5 accumulative grade average throughout their four years of college. Students in other colleges, who have adequate grade point averages, must take a comprehensive examination to prove breadth of scholarship. Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest Greek letter society, having been founded in 1776 at the College of William and Mary. Washington Alpha was founded in 1914.

"PERSONAL APPEARANCE" is a comedy based on the colorful eccentricities of a glamorous film actress who is unavoidably delayed in a small town. Carol Arden, the actress, was played by Ffolliott Chorlton. Her influence is felt by everyone in the town from the two young lovers, played by Kay Murphy and John McKannay, to stage-struck Gladys. Others who took part in this play include Joyce Hutsell, William Powell, Vivian Brown, Mardette Turner and Janet Walker.

PHILLIP BARRY'S pleasant touch is in evidence as he brings family and friends together for the second matrimonial venture for the lovely Tracy Lord, Philadelphia aristocrat. Joanna Stieglitz played the part of Tracy, and Joe Klaas, C. K. Dexter Haven, her ex-husband. Amusing complications arise when he comes to her second wedding.

THE STORY OF "CLAUDIA" concerns a child-wife who, because she still thinks of herself as her mother's child, cannot grow up either intellectually or emotionally until she realizes that her mother is dying. Claudia was played by Laurie Erwin; David by Leslie Green and Mrs. Brown by Shirley Scott.

HOBSON'S CHOICE

"HOBSON'S CHOICE" by Harold Brighouse, was directed by B. Iden Payne, well-known English dramatic director. It is a delightful comedy transcript of Lancashire life in 1880. Hobson was portrayed by Phillip Walker; Maggie was played by Beatrice Williams Heckendorn, and Jack Wright played Willie.

"THE LATE GEORGE APLEY," a satire on the upper crust Boston society, is set in the fall of 1912 and is chiefly the portrait of George Apley. He is the head of a distinguished family, untouched by the changing world. The play depicts the revolt of the son, John, and the daughter, Eleanor. It is a cross-section of a way of life that clings to its own set of values. George Apley is played by Phillip Walker; Mrs. Apley, Shirley Scott; John, Leslie Green; Eleanor, Joanna Stieglitz.

TAMING OF THE SHREW

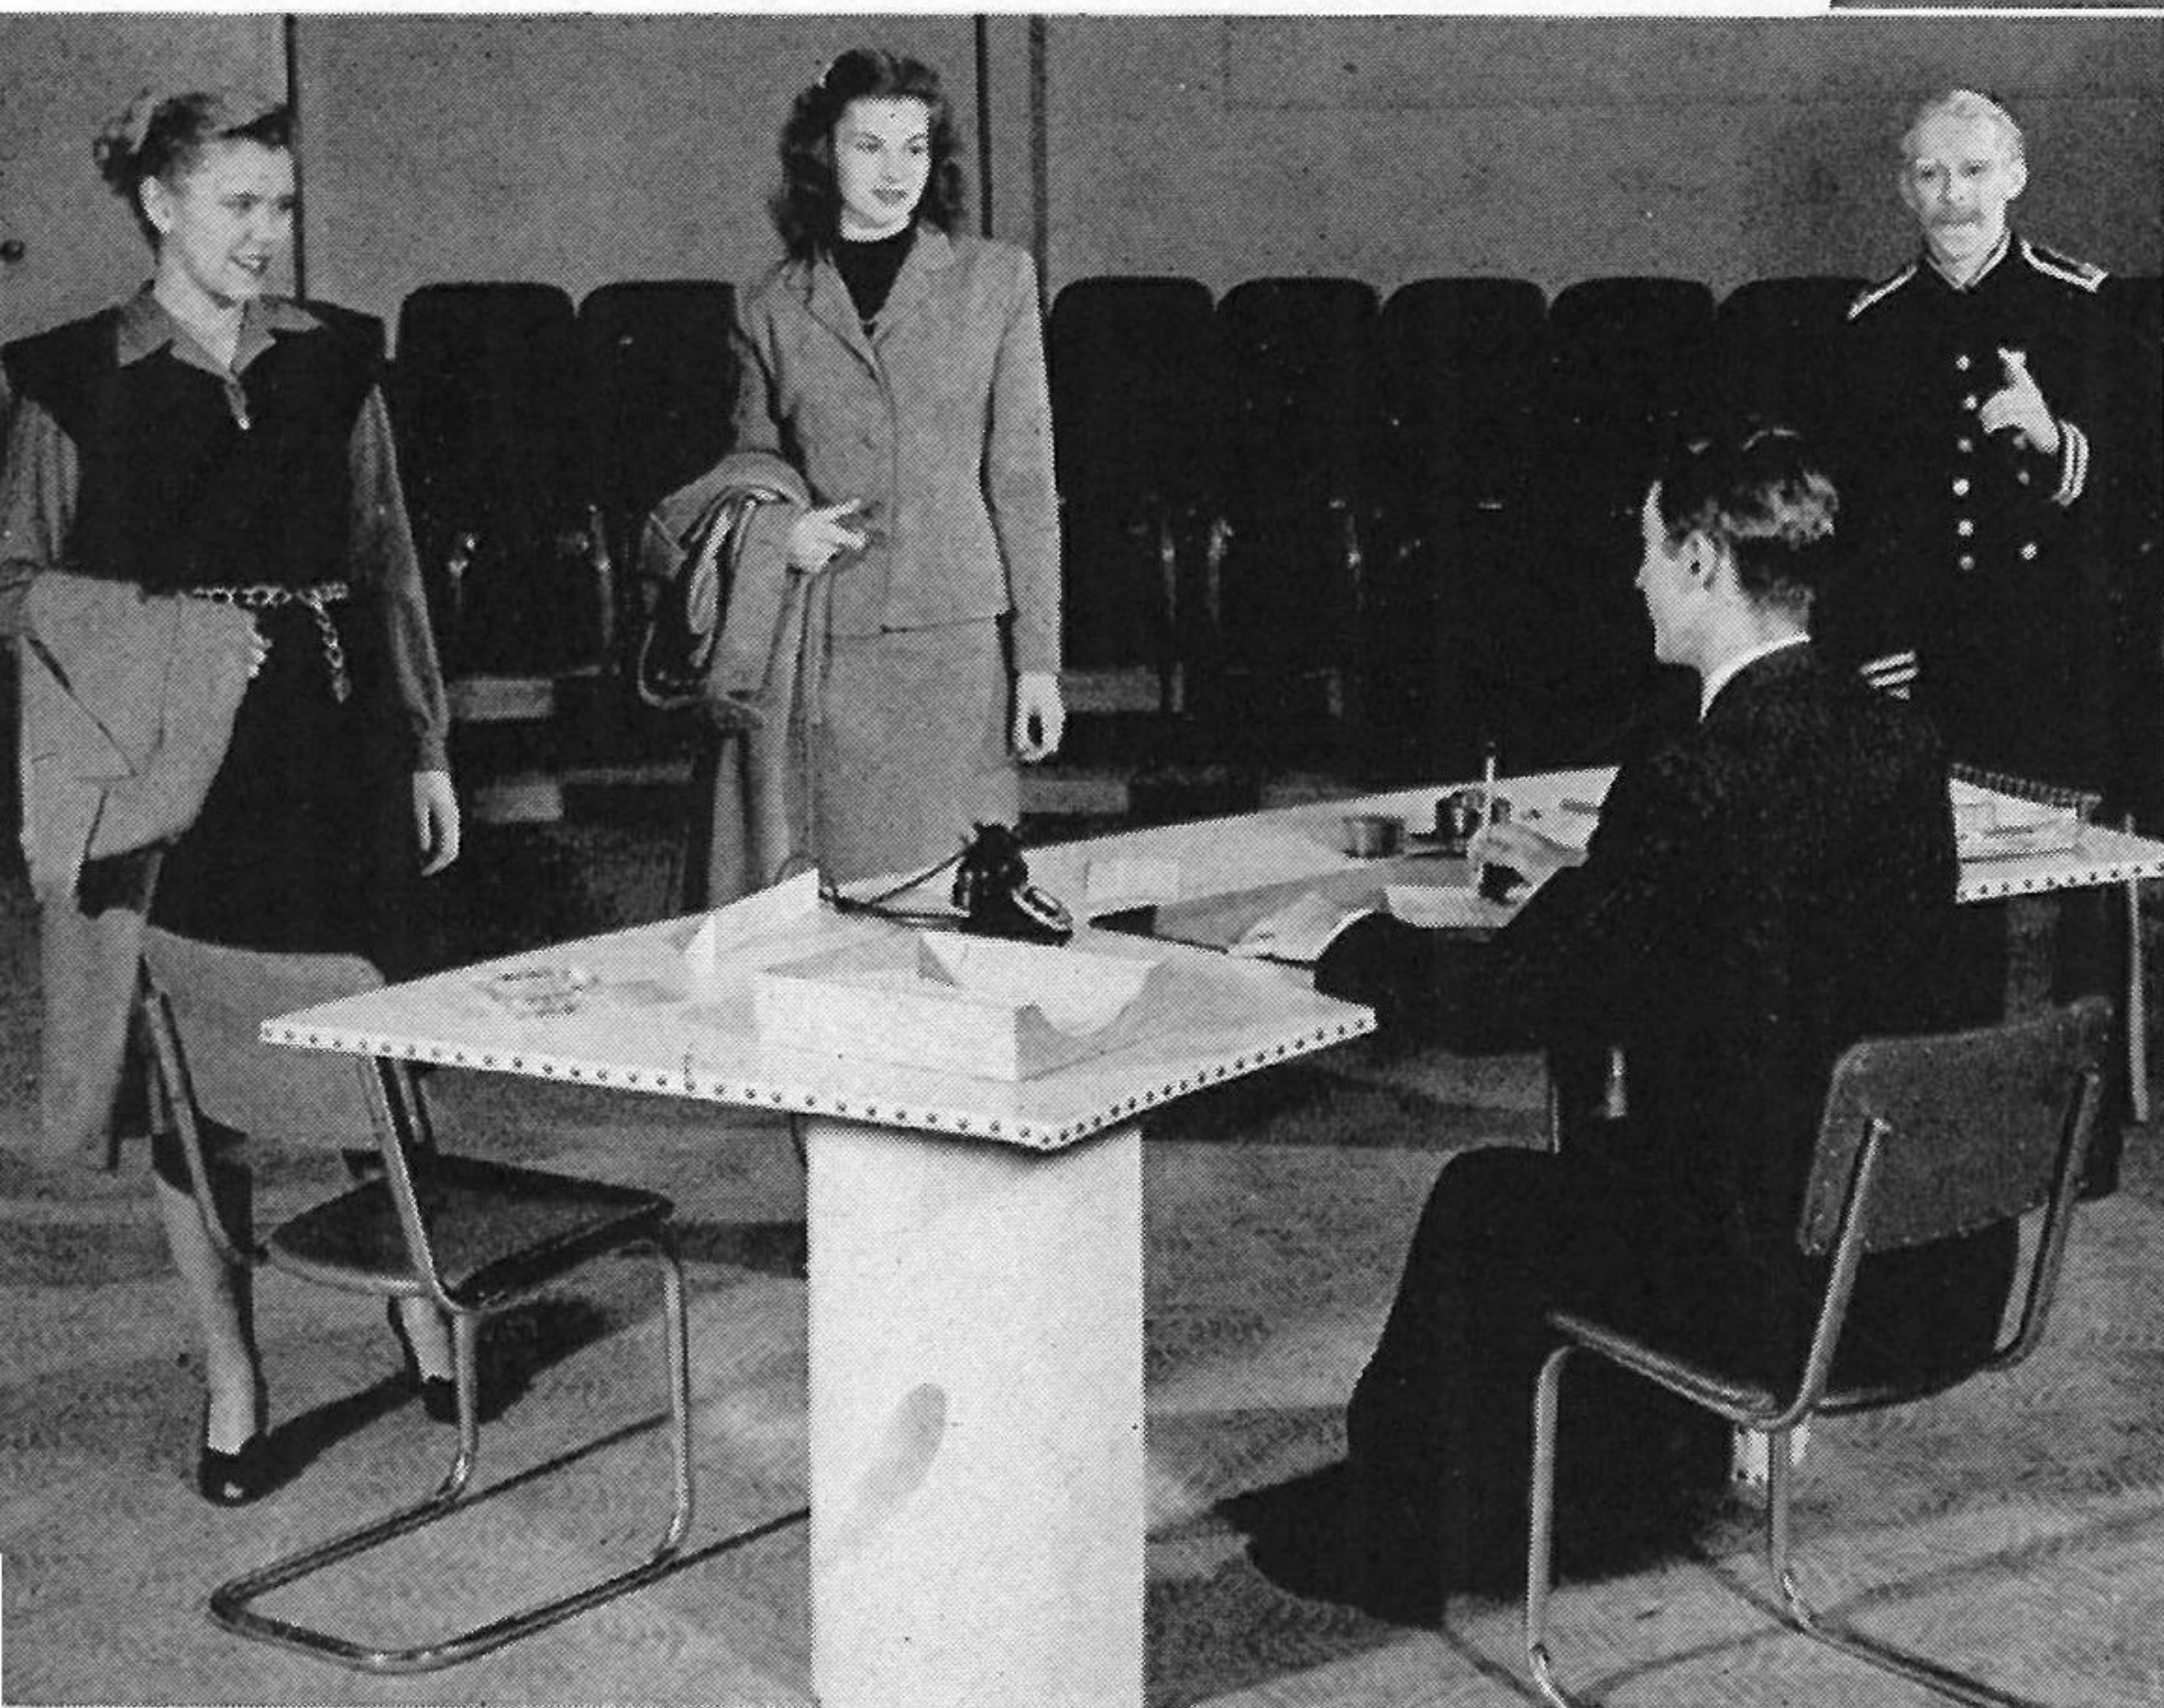

B. IDEN PAYNE, noted Shakesperian specialist widely acclaimed in London and Broadway theater circles for his work, directed this production. This comedy of love in the days of Italy's glories was produced in a modified Elizabethan style which gave continuity to the many scenes. Also it brought about use of the stage in a manner not often seen today.

Duryea Strobach, Phillip Walker, Vanick Galstaun, Ralph Rosinbum, Bob Jackson, Matt Pelto, Gerard Appy, Joanna Stieglitz, Douglas Ducklow, Dorothy Playford, Marlin Hudson.

"HELP YOURSELF" is a light comedy satire on bankers. The play is concerned with a happy-go-lucky college graduate who invents himself a job in a bank and then falls in love with the bank president's daughter. Wayne Carson played Stringer, the college graduate, and was contrasted by the traditional morning coats, striped trousers, and pompous boards of directors. Virginia Billow Hillack played the president's daughter.

SKIN OF OUR TEETH

AN ALLEGORICAL PLAY, it is the history of the human race, its triumphs, sins and tragedies presented through the family of Mr. and Mrs. Antrobus, of Excelsior, N. J. Its purpose seems to be to assure people that everything will turn out all right if only one keeps plugging along. Much of the philosophy is presented by the maid, Sabina, played by Daphne Nelson. A humorous play, it is unique because the actors speak directly to the audience at various times.

The fortune-teller at the carnival, Ogaenia Calkins, prophesies the end of the world.

PUPPETRY

ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING courses in the School of Drama is that of Puppetry. In this course the students are trained in the art of both hand and string puppets, and each student learns to design, construct, and manipulate the wooden actors. Marionette plays are written by student playwrights and complete productions are prepared in the laboratory.

"WHAT SHOULD BE Our Policy Toward Russia?" was the timely topic which the Women's Public Discussion group chose this year. Under the capable guidance of Wade Kniseley, Faculty Coach, Joan Campbell and Jo Garland, Student Managers, the squad, made up of about twenty-five women, met over 100 engagements during the year. The group speaks mainly to service and business clubs and high schools in the state, with special trips to Vancouver, Victoria and Los Angeles.

With but one veteran back from last year the Men's Public Discussion Group, of 18 students, went into full swing this year. Their topic was "Under What System of Enterprise May We Best Utilize the Nation's Power Resources?" Under the direction of Orville Pence, Faculty Coach, and Earl Dean, Student Manager, the group spoke to approximately 70,000 people throughout the state. They appeared before all main service and civic clubs of the city.

THE MAN WHO WORRIED his way through the 1946 football season Ralph Welch. "Pest" came to Washington in 1930 as assistant to his former Purdue mentor, Jimmy Phelan. IT WAS AN ON-AGAIN-OFF-AGAIN gridiron season for Washington. Losing a heartbreaker to St. Mary's and well shel-lacked by the UCLA coast kingpins, the keyed-up Welchmen came through to trounce WSC. Then it was humble defeat at the hands of Southern Cal. Surprising local rooters, the Huskies turned back California. Stanford, Oregon and Montana in rapid succession. Drubbed by Oregon State in their season's finale, the Huskies rested in fourth place as '46 football came to a close.

HUSKIES 20—GAELS 24

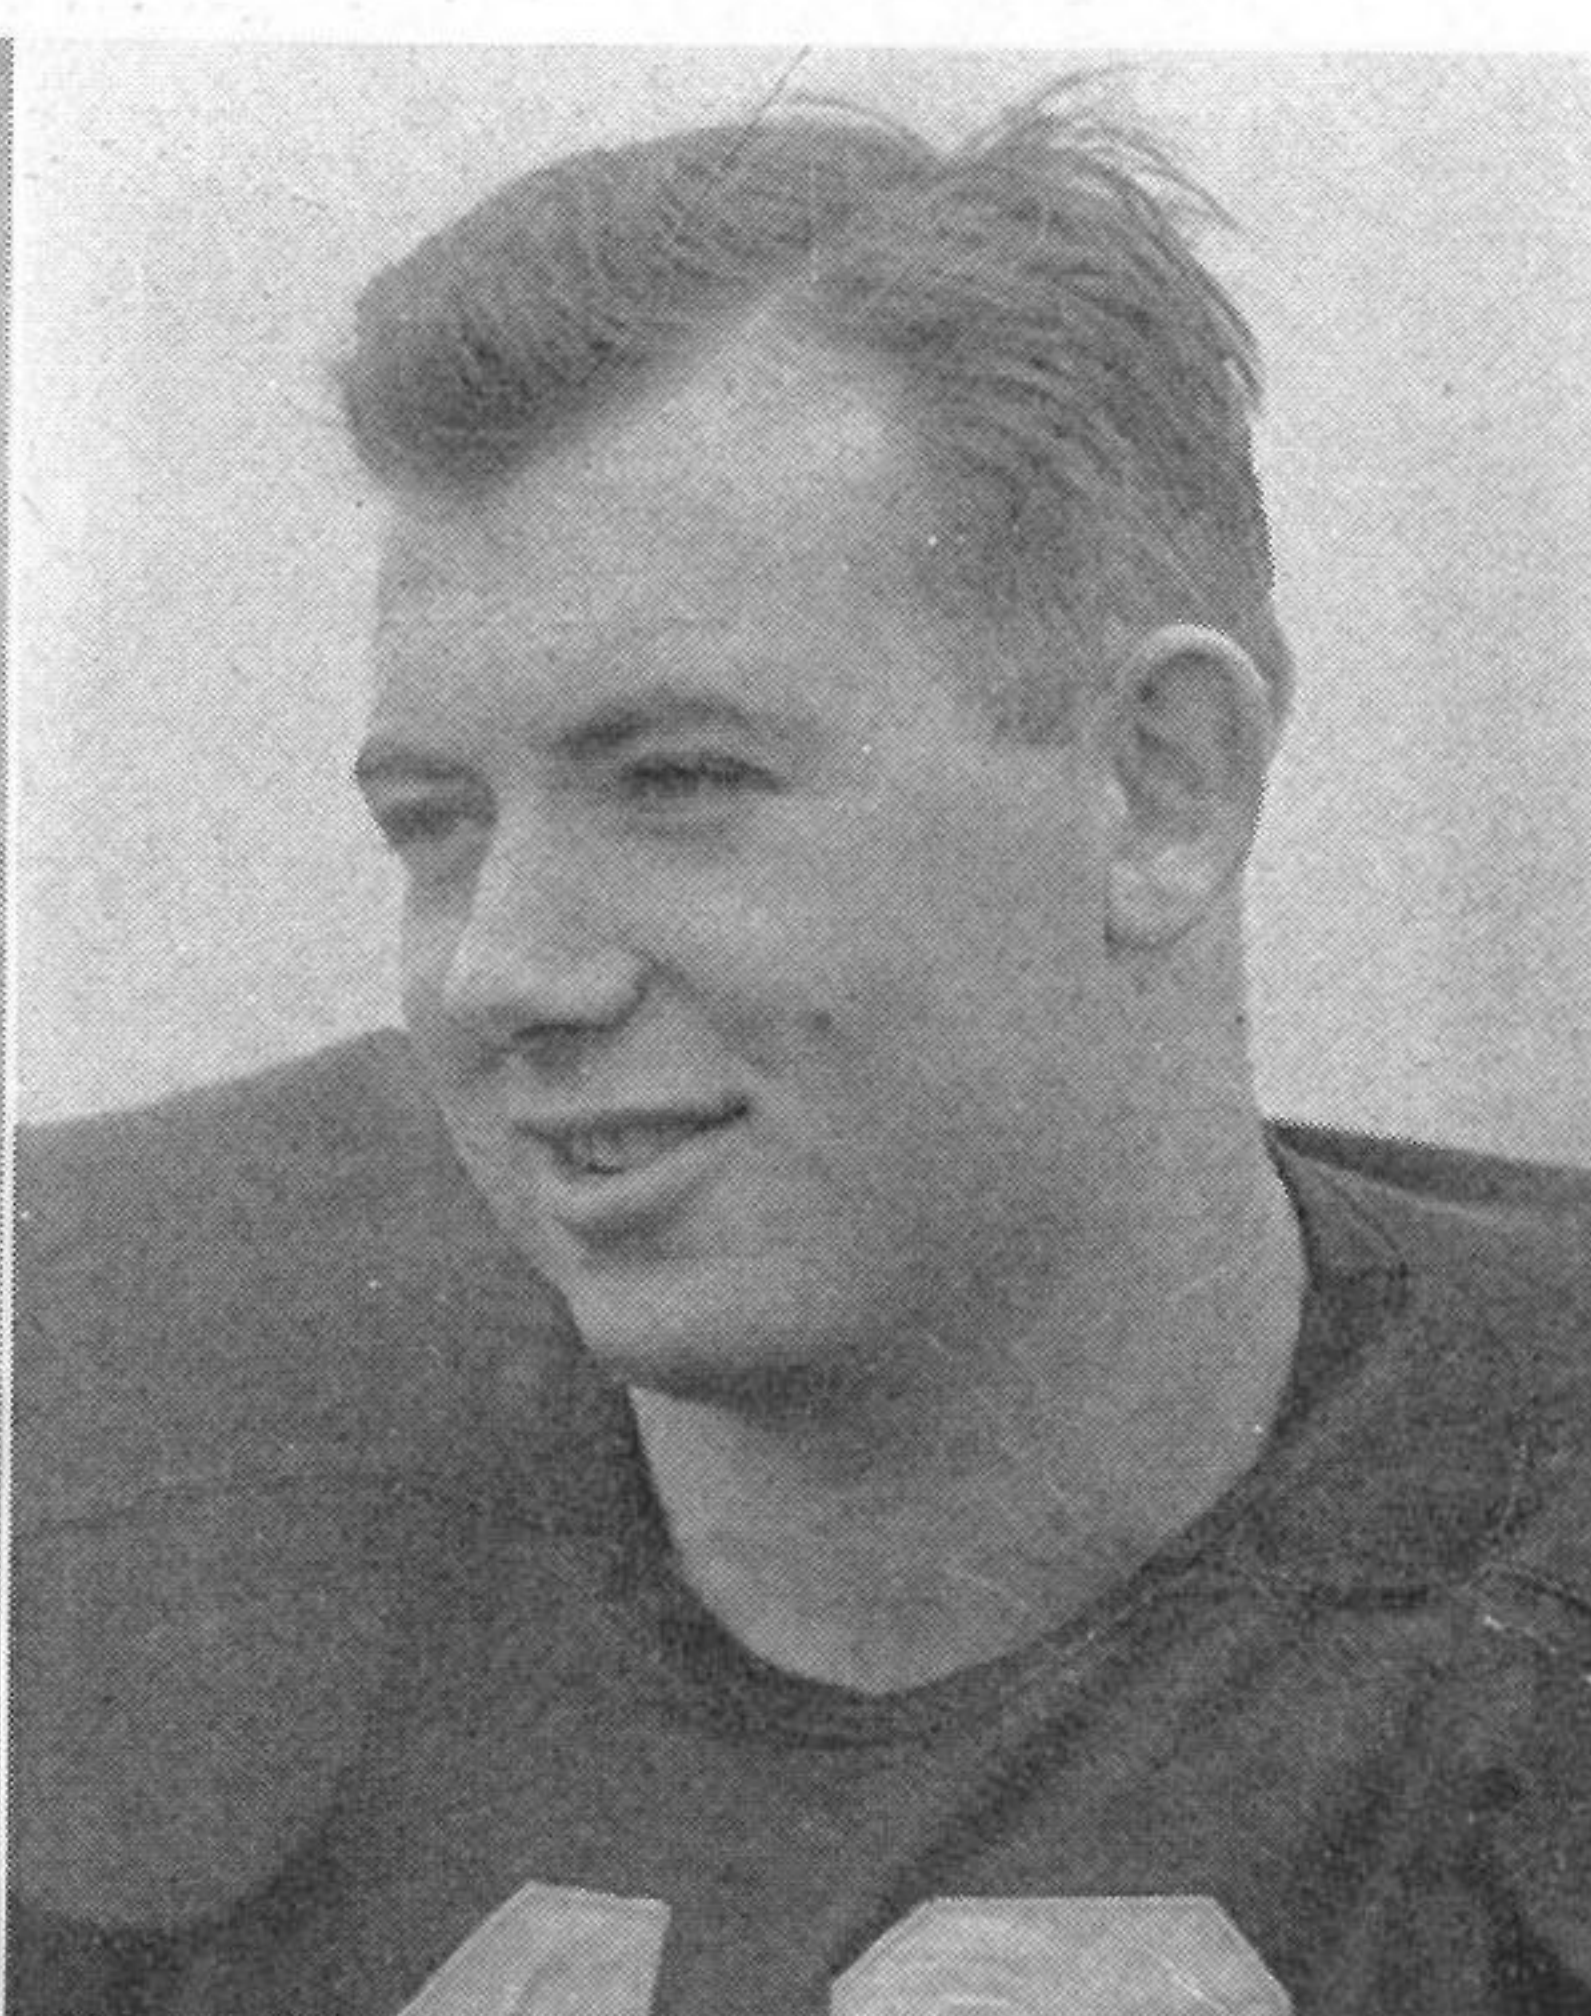

BUCKING AGAINST the highly-touted Gaels of St. Mary's in their first seasonal tilt, the Huskies were edged out of victory in one of the most talked-of exhibitions ever held on the stadium turf.

Forty-two thousand fans roared when Herman Wedemeyer, Jimmy Phelan's all-American halfback, skirted 53 yards for the initial score. Washington countered with a touchdown march as Dick Ottele sneaked for six points. Larry Hatch intercepted and ran back 63 yards to the one-yard line; from there Whitey King wedged through to the end zone. Arnold Weinmeister, in the second half, fumbled with his back to the goal, setting up the second Gael tally, but later raced 57 yards for Washington's final score. Gael Denis O'Connor caught a pair of touchdown passes spelling "finis" to a memorable battle.

HUSKIES 13 — BRUINS 39

UCLA'S BRUINS came to Seattle expecting rain, got a dry field and ran rampant over the almost helpless Huskies. Paced by Ernie Case and Cal Rossi, the Bruins turned what started out to be a tight game into a Purple and Gold rout.

After drawing first blood when Hatch skirted end for five and a touch-down, the Huskies bowed to the superb UCLAN passing attack. On the third play after the Washington score, Case wound up and flipped a 61-yard aerial to Rossi, and that started the Bruin juggernaut rolling. Scoring twice on passes and four times on the ground, Coach LaBrucherie's charges wound up the day with a 39 to 13 victory.

HUSKIES 21—COUGARS 7

HUSKY FANS were well rewarded for their trip to Pullman as the University of Washington eleven came out after a first-half slump to wallop the Cougars 21 to 7.

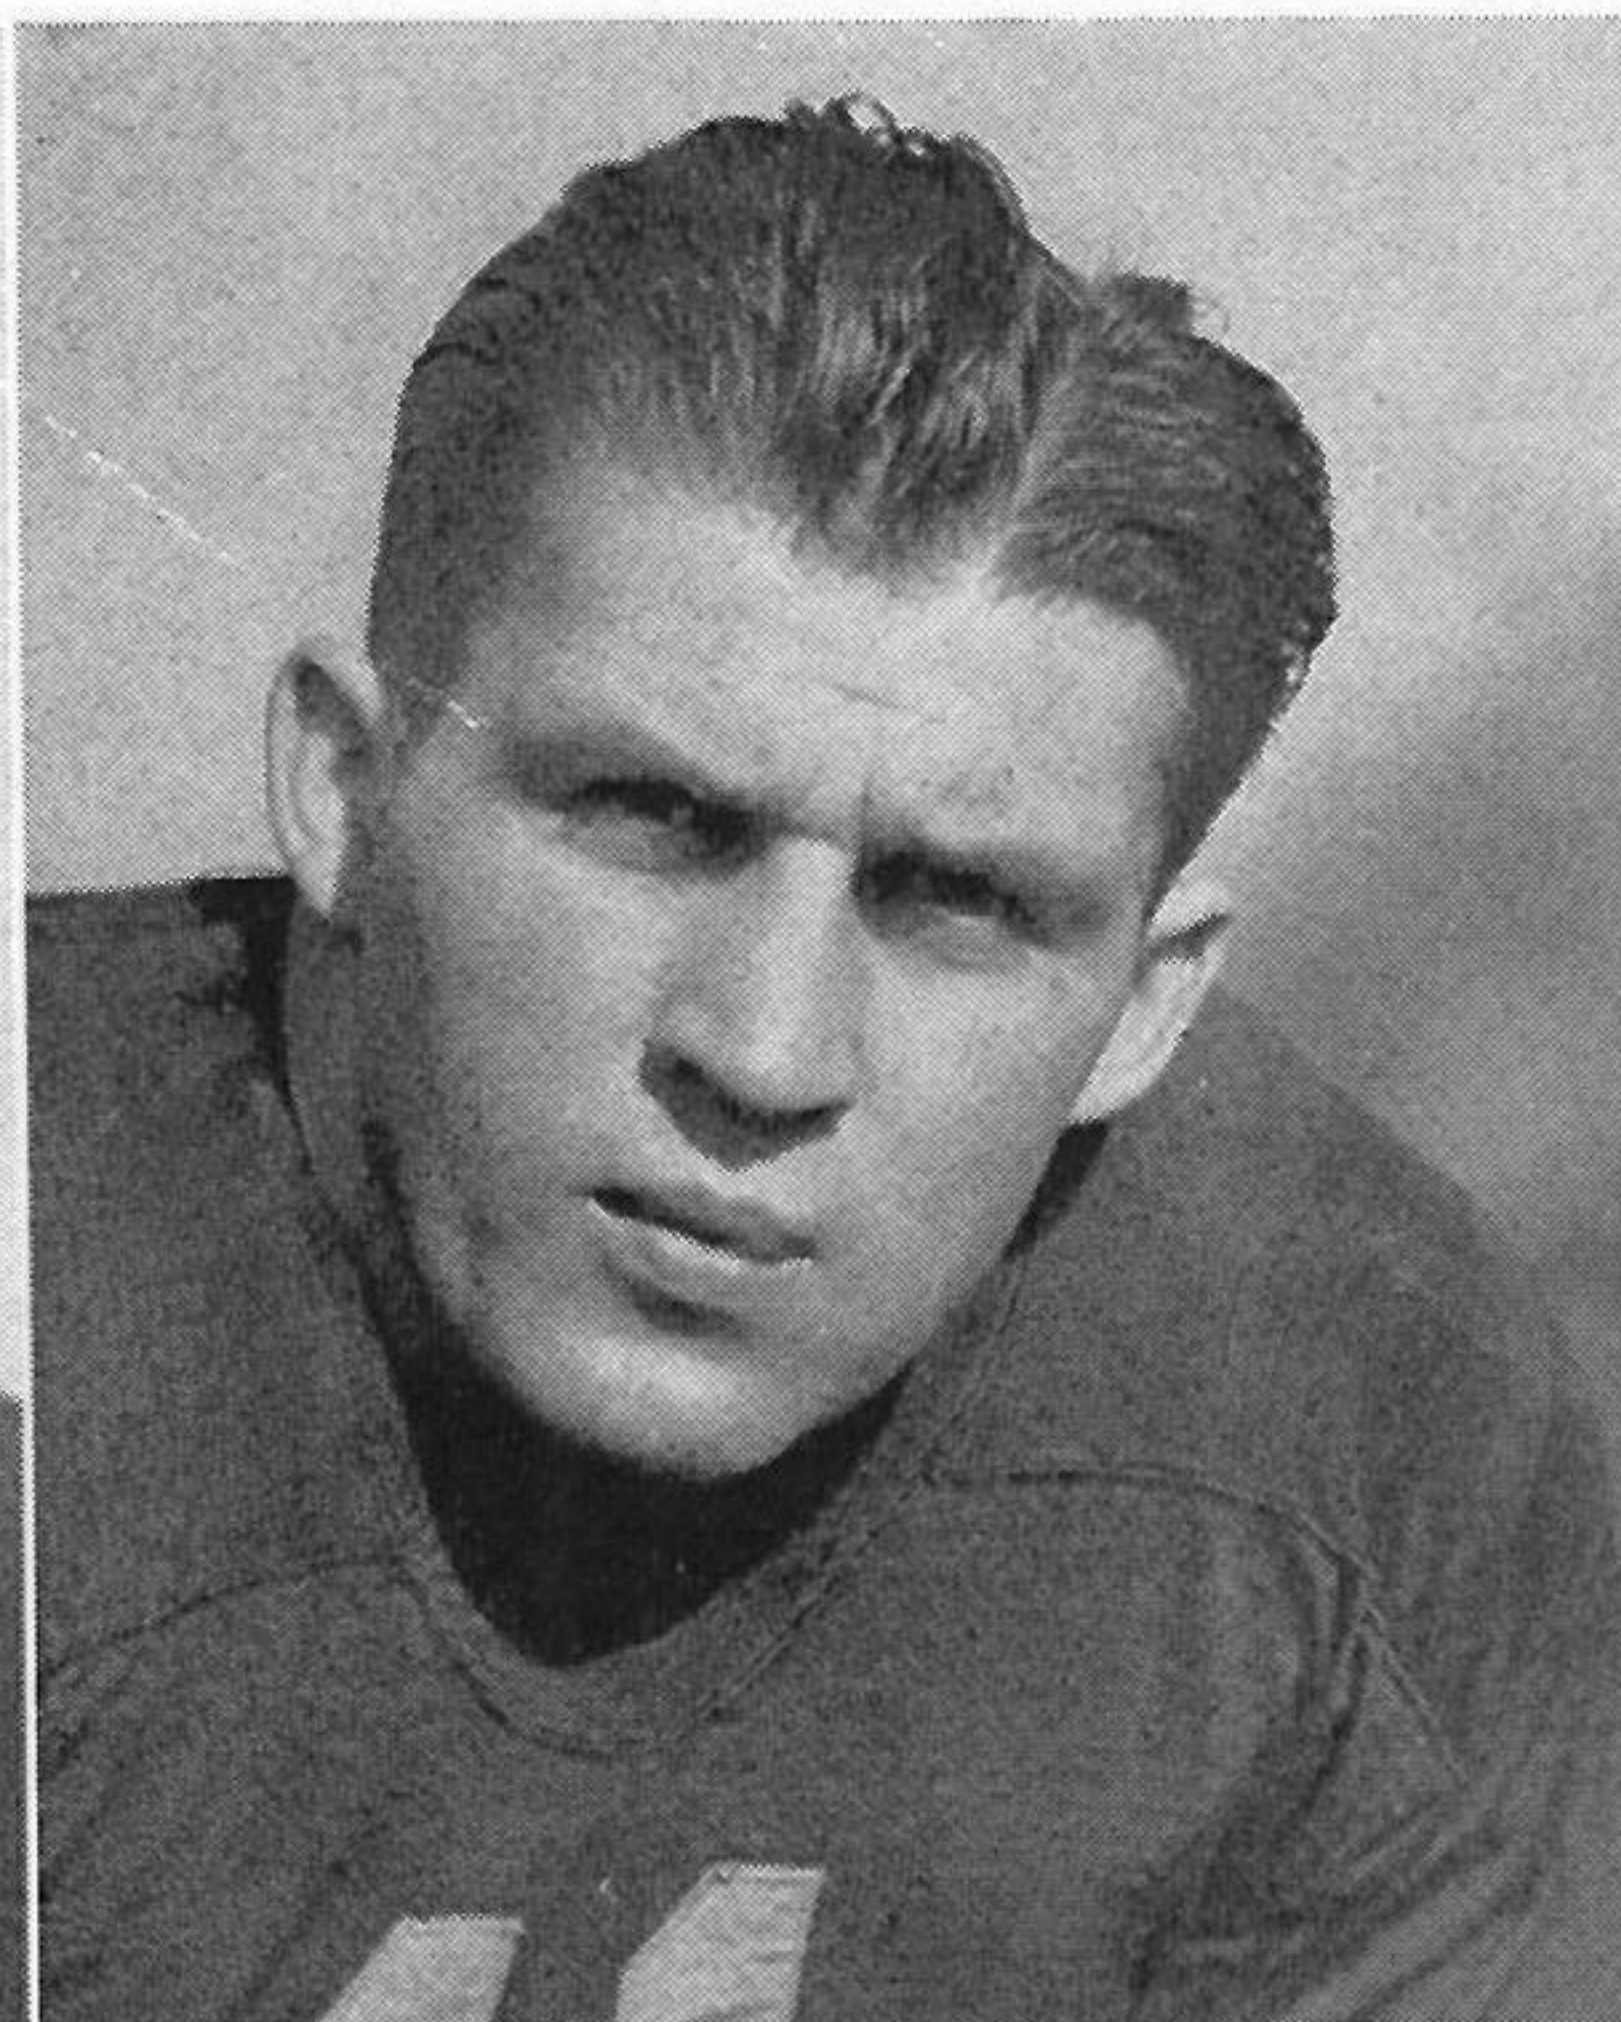

After a Cougar score for seven points in the second quarter, Husky operations opened in the third stanza as McGovern intercepted a Cougar pass on the Purple and Gold 38-yard line. Dallas went around left end for 27 yards and Hatch followed a few plays later, picking up 23 yards over right tackle. Hatch made the end-zone on the next play and Mikalson converted.

The fourth quarter saw plenty of action with Biddle making a 24-yard run and Provo traveling into the end-zone. The third touchdown was made by King after Ottele intercepted.

HUSKIES 0—TROJANS 28

PEST WELCH'S gridiron boys were trimmed by the Trojan reception committee 28 to 0 when they invaded the USC territory.

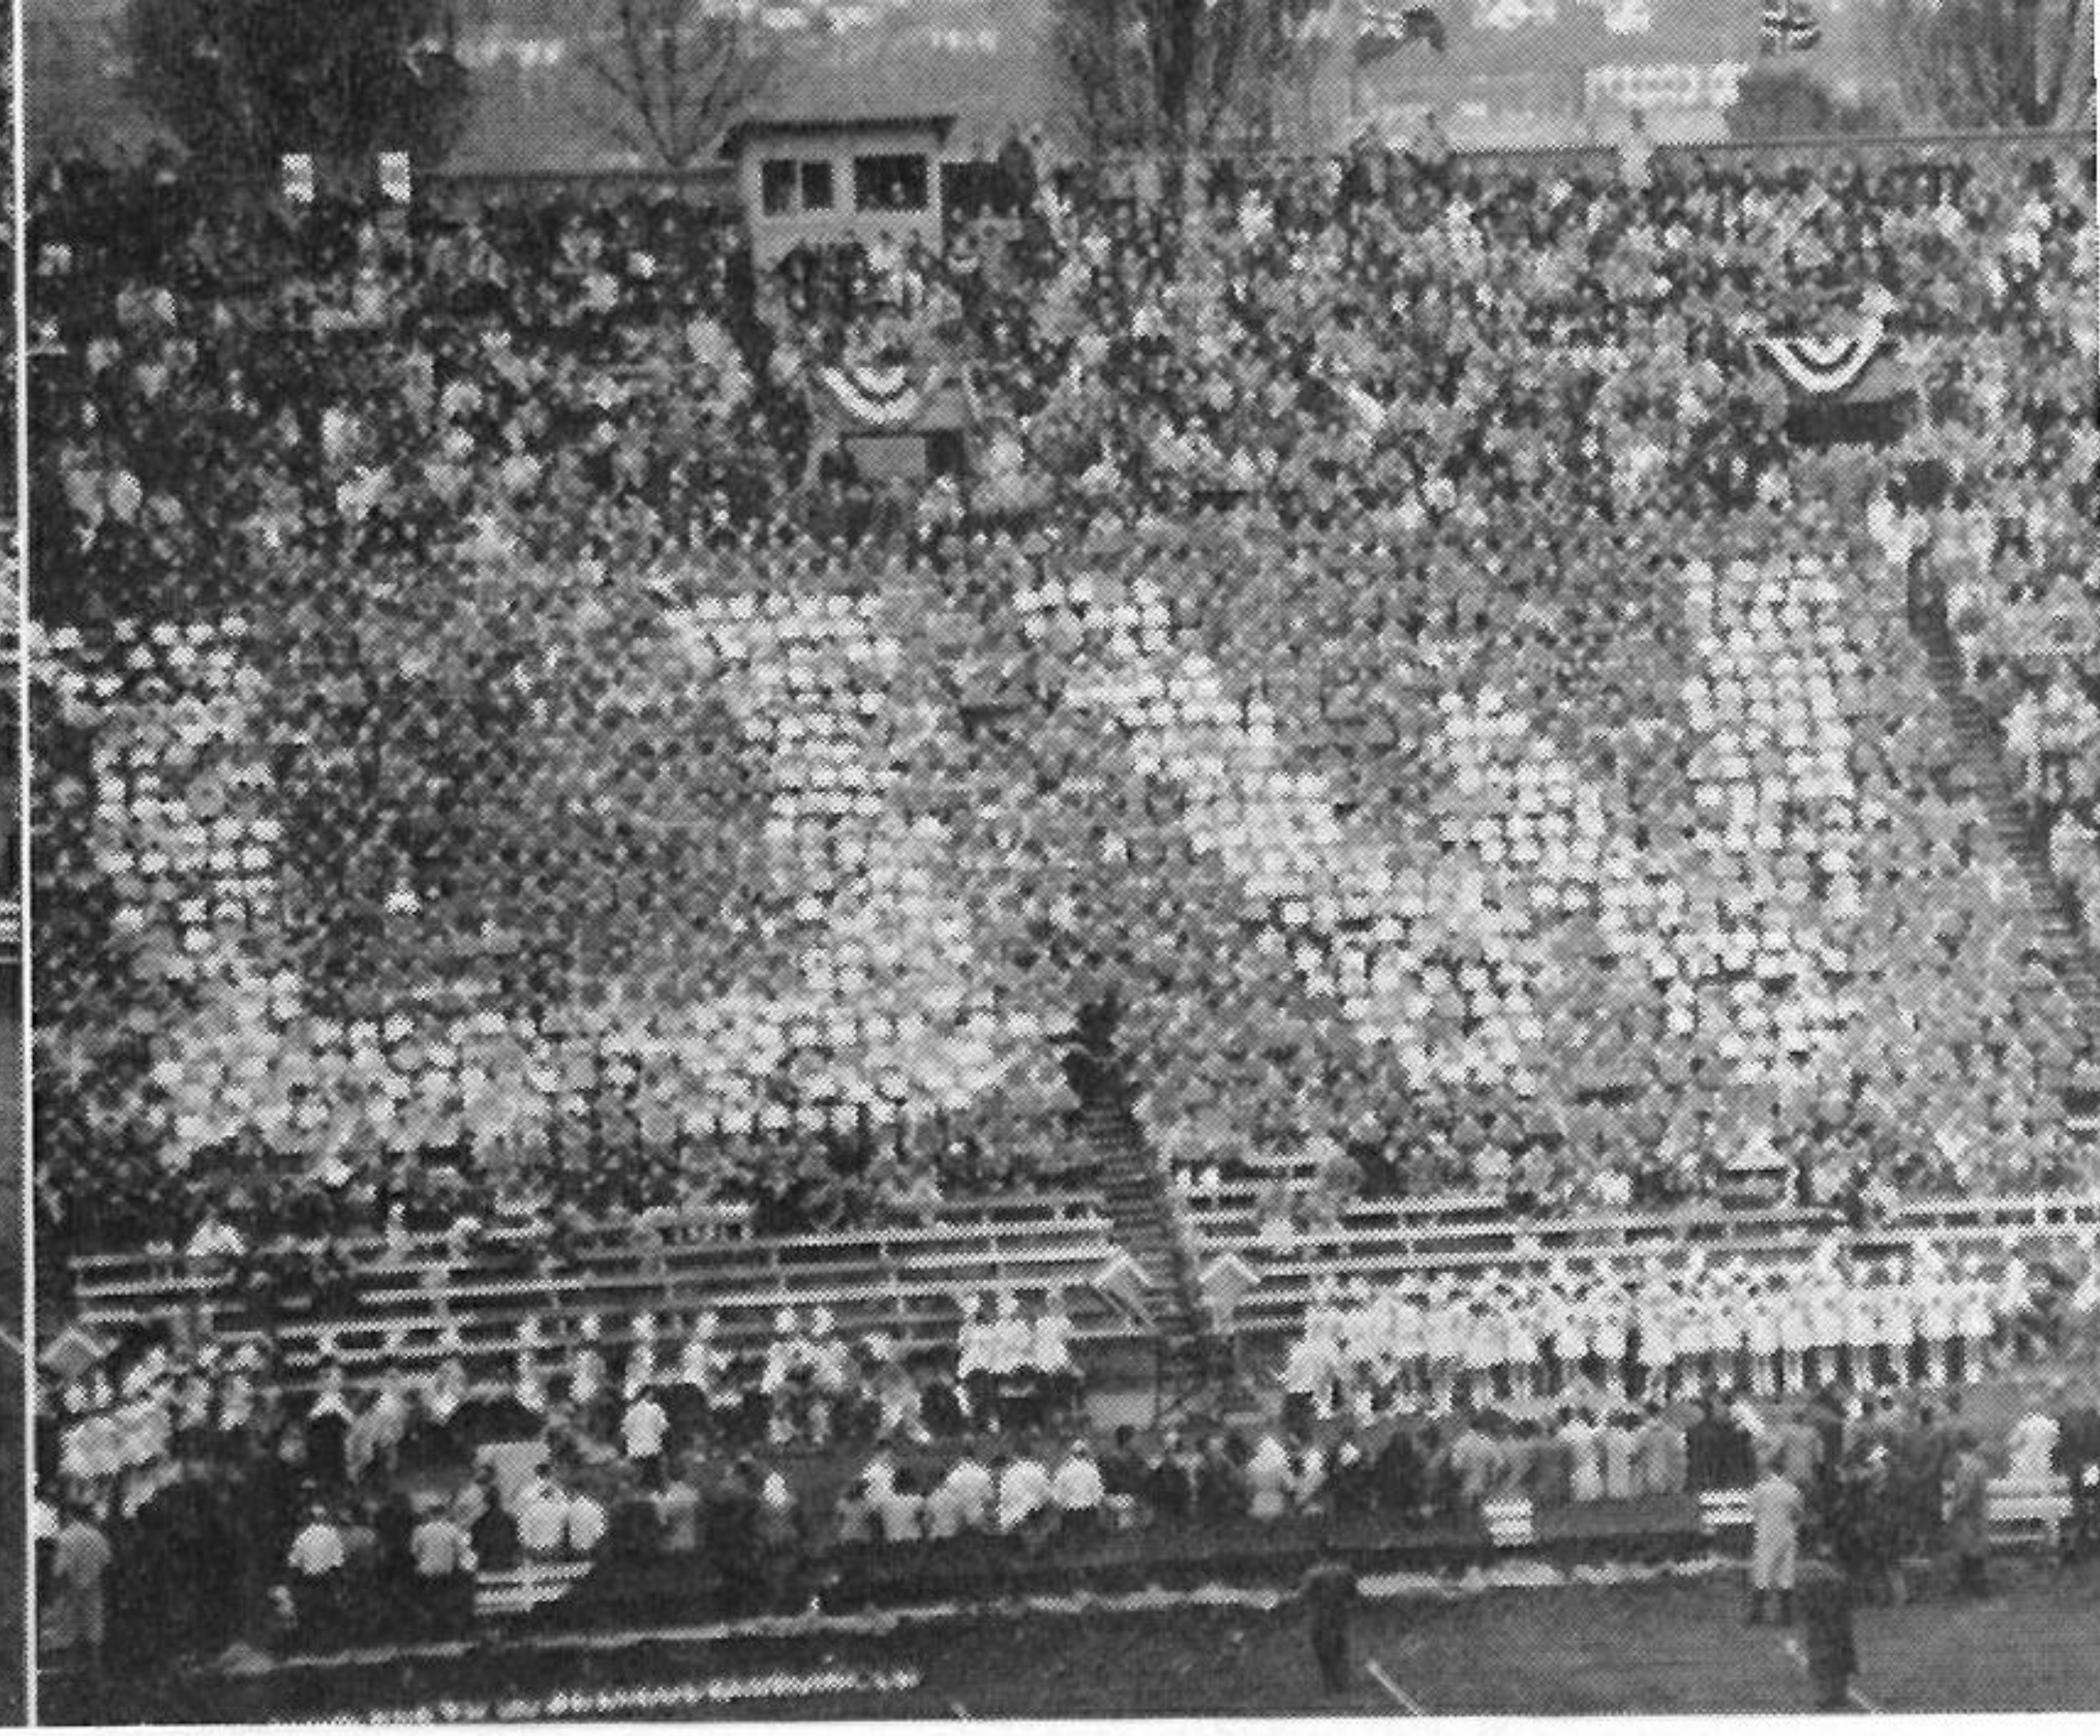

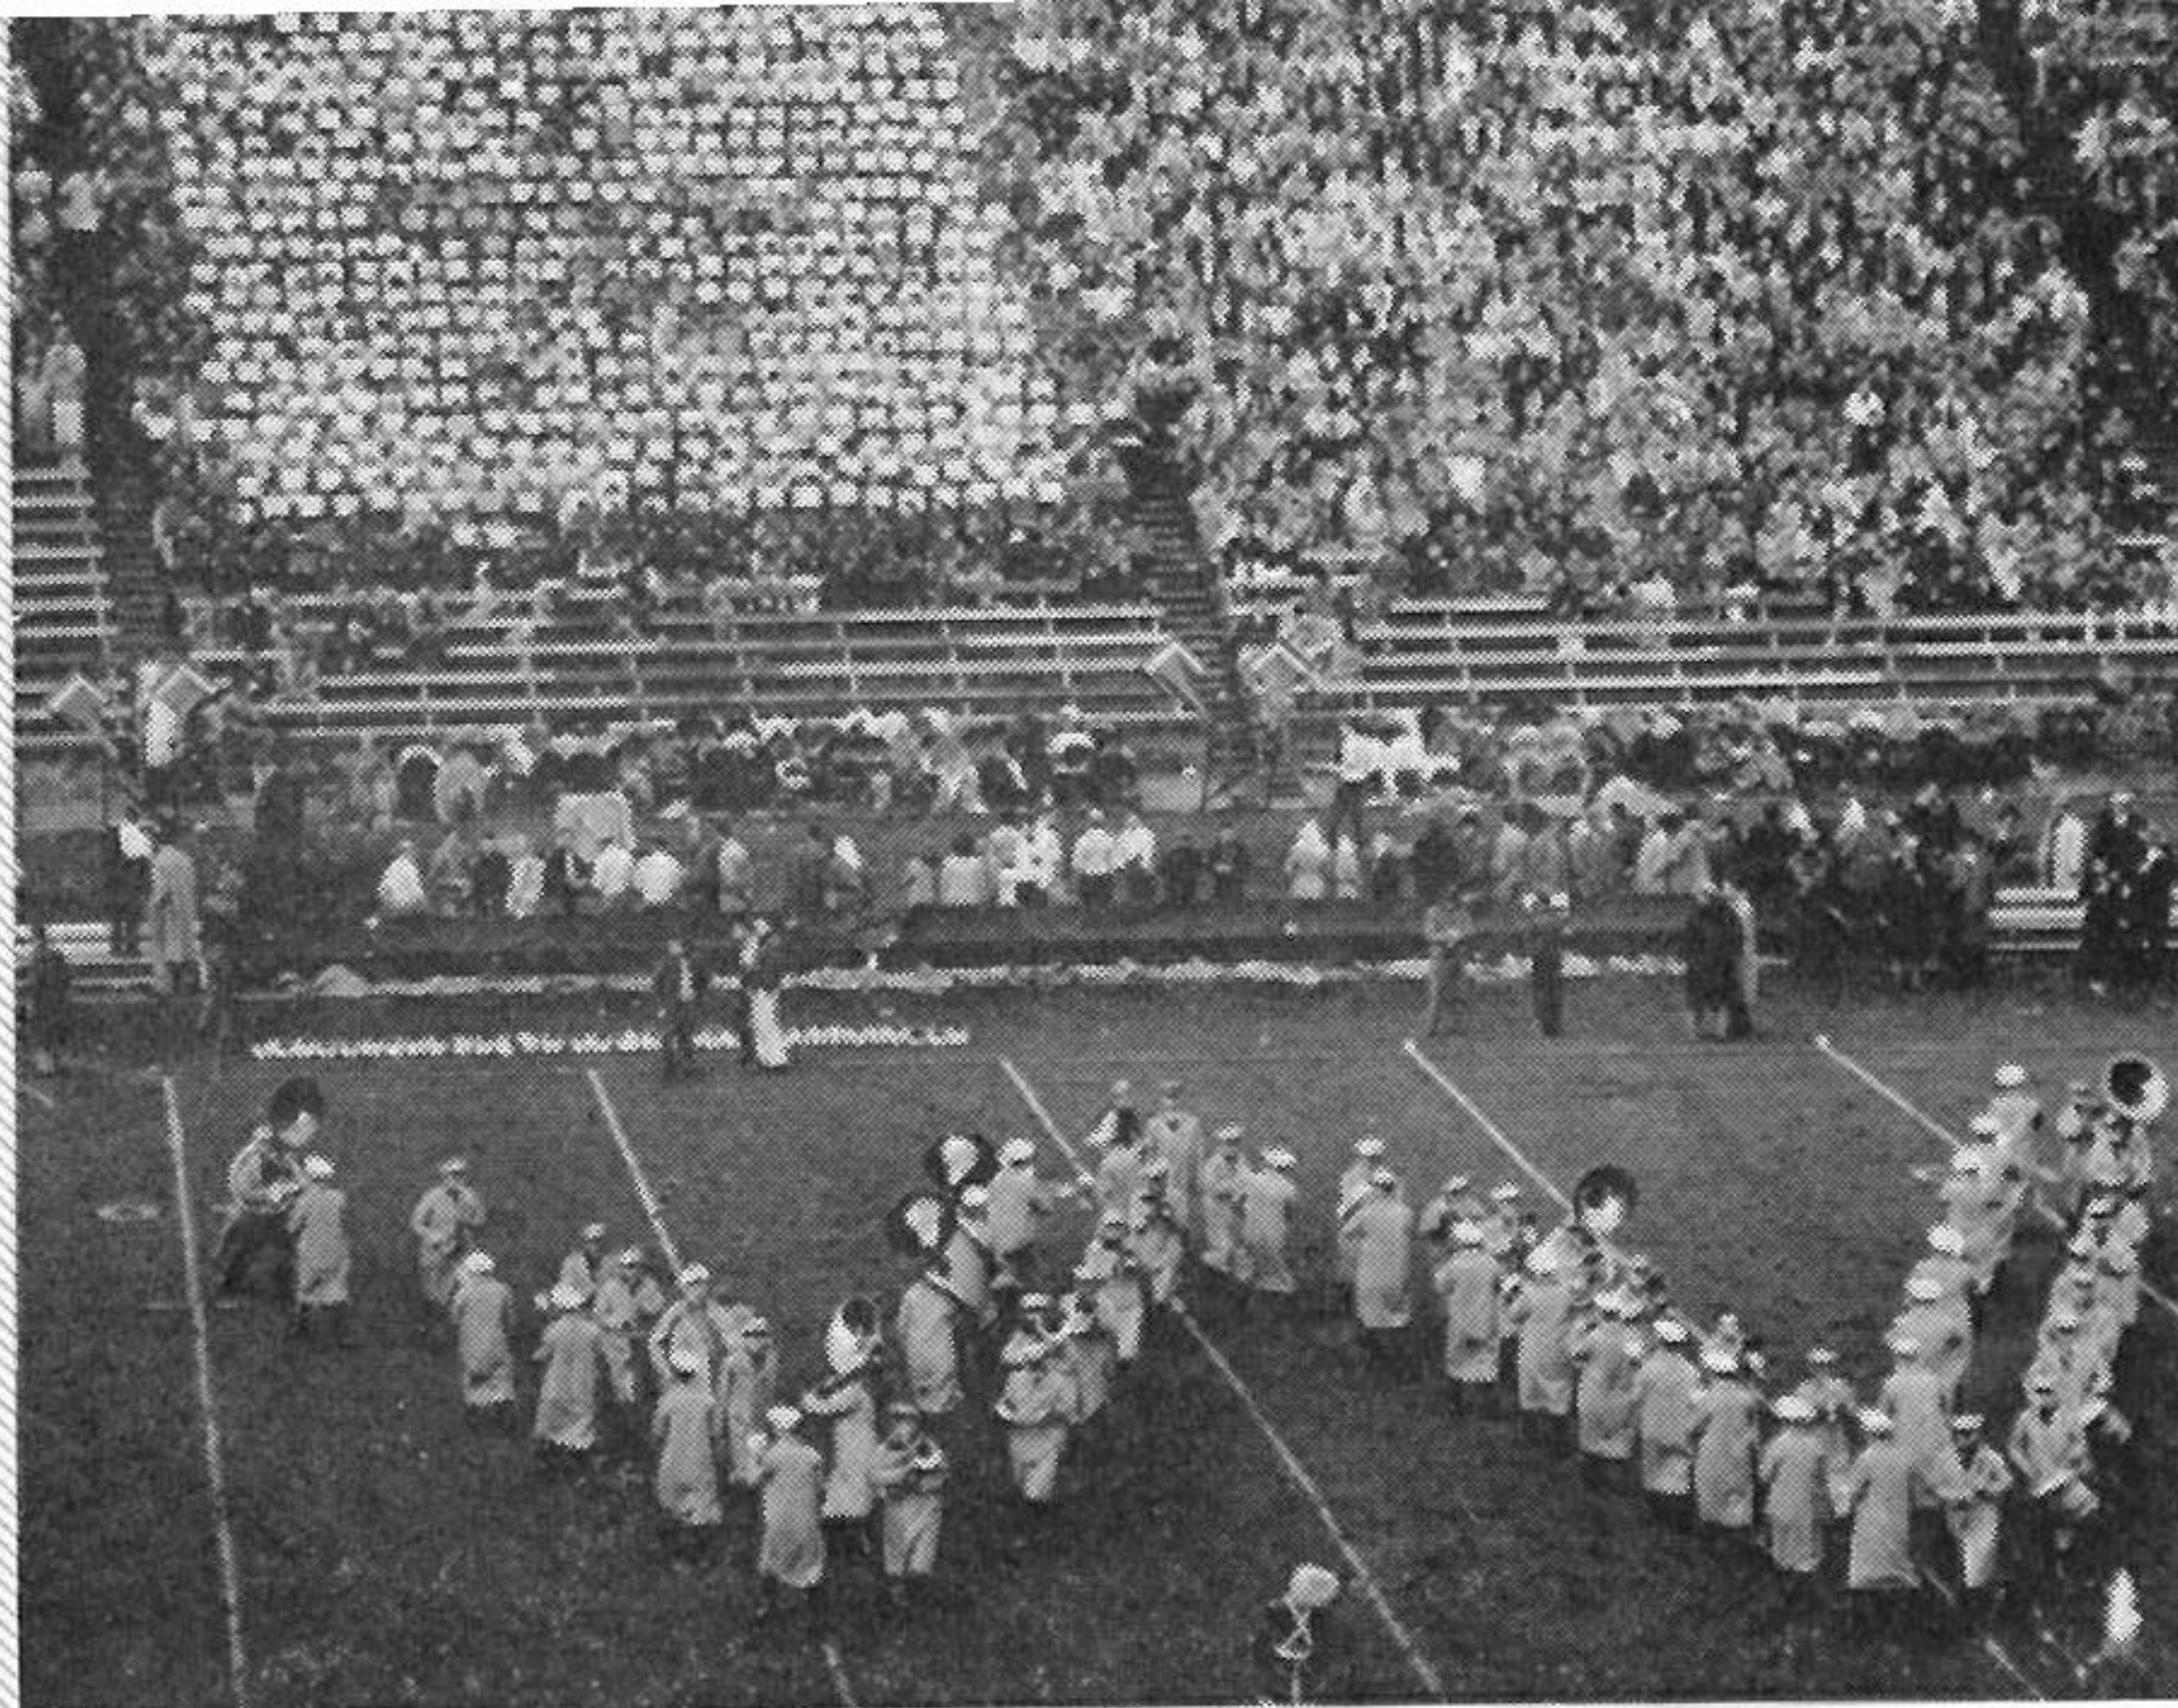

Dick Ottele made a valiant effort to score on the opening kickoff but was stopped on the Husky 49-yard line by the last foe between him and the paydirt. The Trojans then took over and held the pigskin in Washington territory for two touchdowns.

The "Thundering Herd" from the South broke loose in the second quarter and plowed down the field for a third touchdown. Southern Cal's final tally came in the third stanza, making the score 28 to 0.

The last quarter was a see-saw affair with the Huskies bravely battling to the final gun.

HUSKIES 20—BEARS 6

BOUNCING BACK after their unsuccessful Trojan episode, the unpredictable Huskies measured California 20 to 6, before a Homecoming throng of 38,000. Gerry Austin wound up a long Washington march early in the second stanza, plunging over the goal. Larry Hatch and Sam Robinson sparked a third period drive that led to Austin's second tally for the day. In the final quarter Hatch intercepted a pass, returning the ball 22 yards. Again Robinson hacked away at the California line and finally faked so perfectly that Brooks Biddle raced into the end zone unscathed.

Only once did the Golden Bears befuddle the wary Welchmen, scoring on a deadly screen pass.

HUSKIES 21 — INDIANS 15

GORDY BERLIN, Dick Ottele and Fred Provo led the onslaught as the Huskies invaded Palo Alto to upset the formidable Stanford Indians, 21 to 15. Sam Robinson culminated a long drive in the first period by bowling off left tackle for 33 yards and a TD.

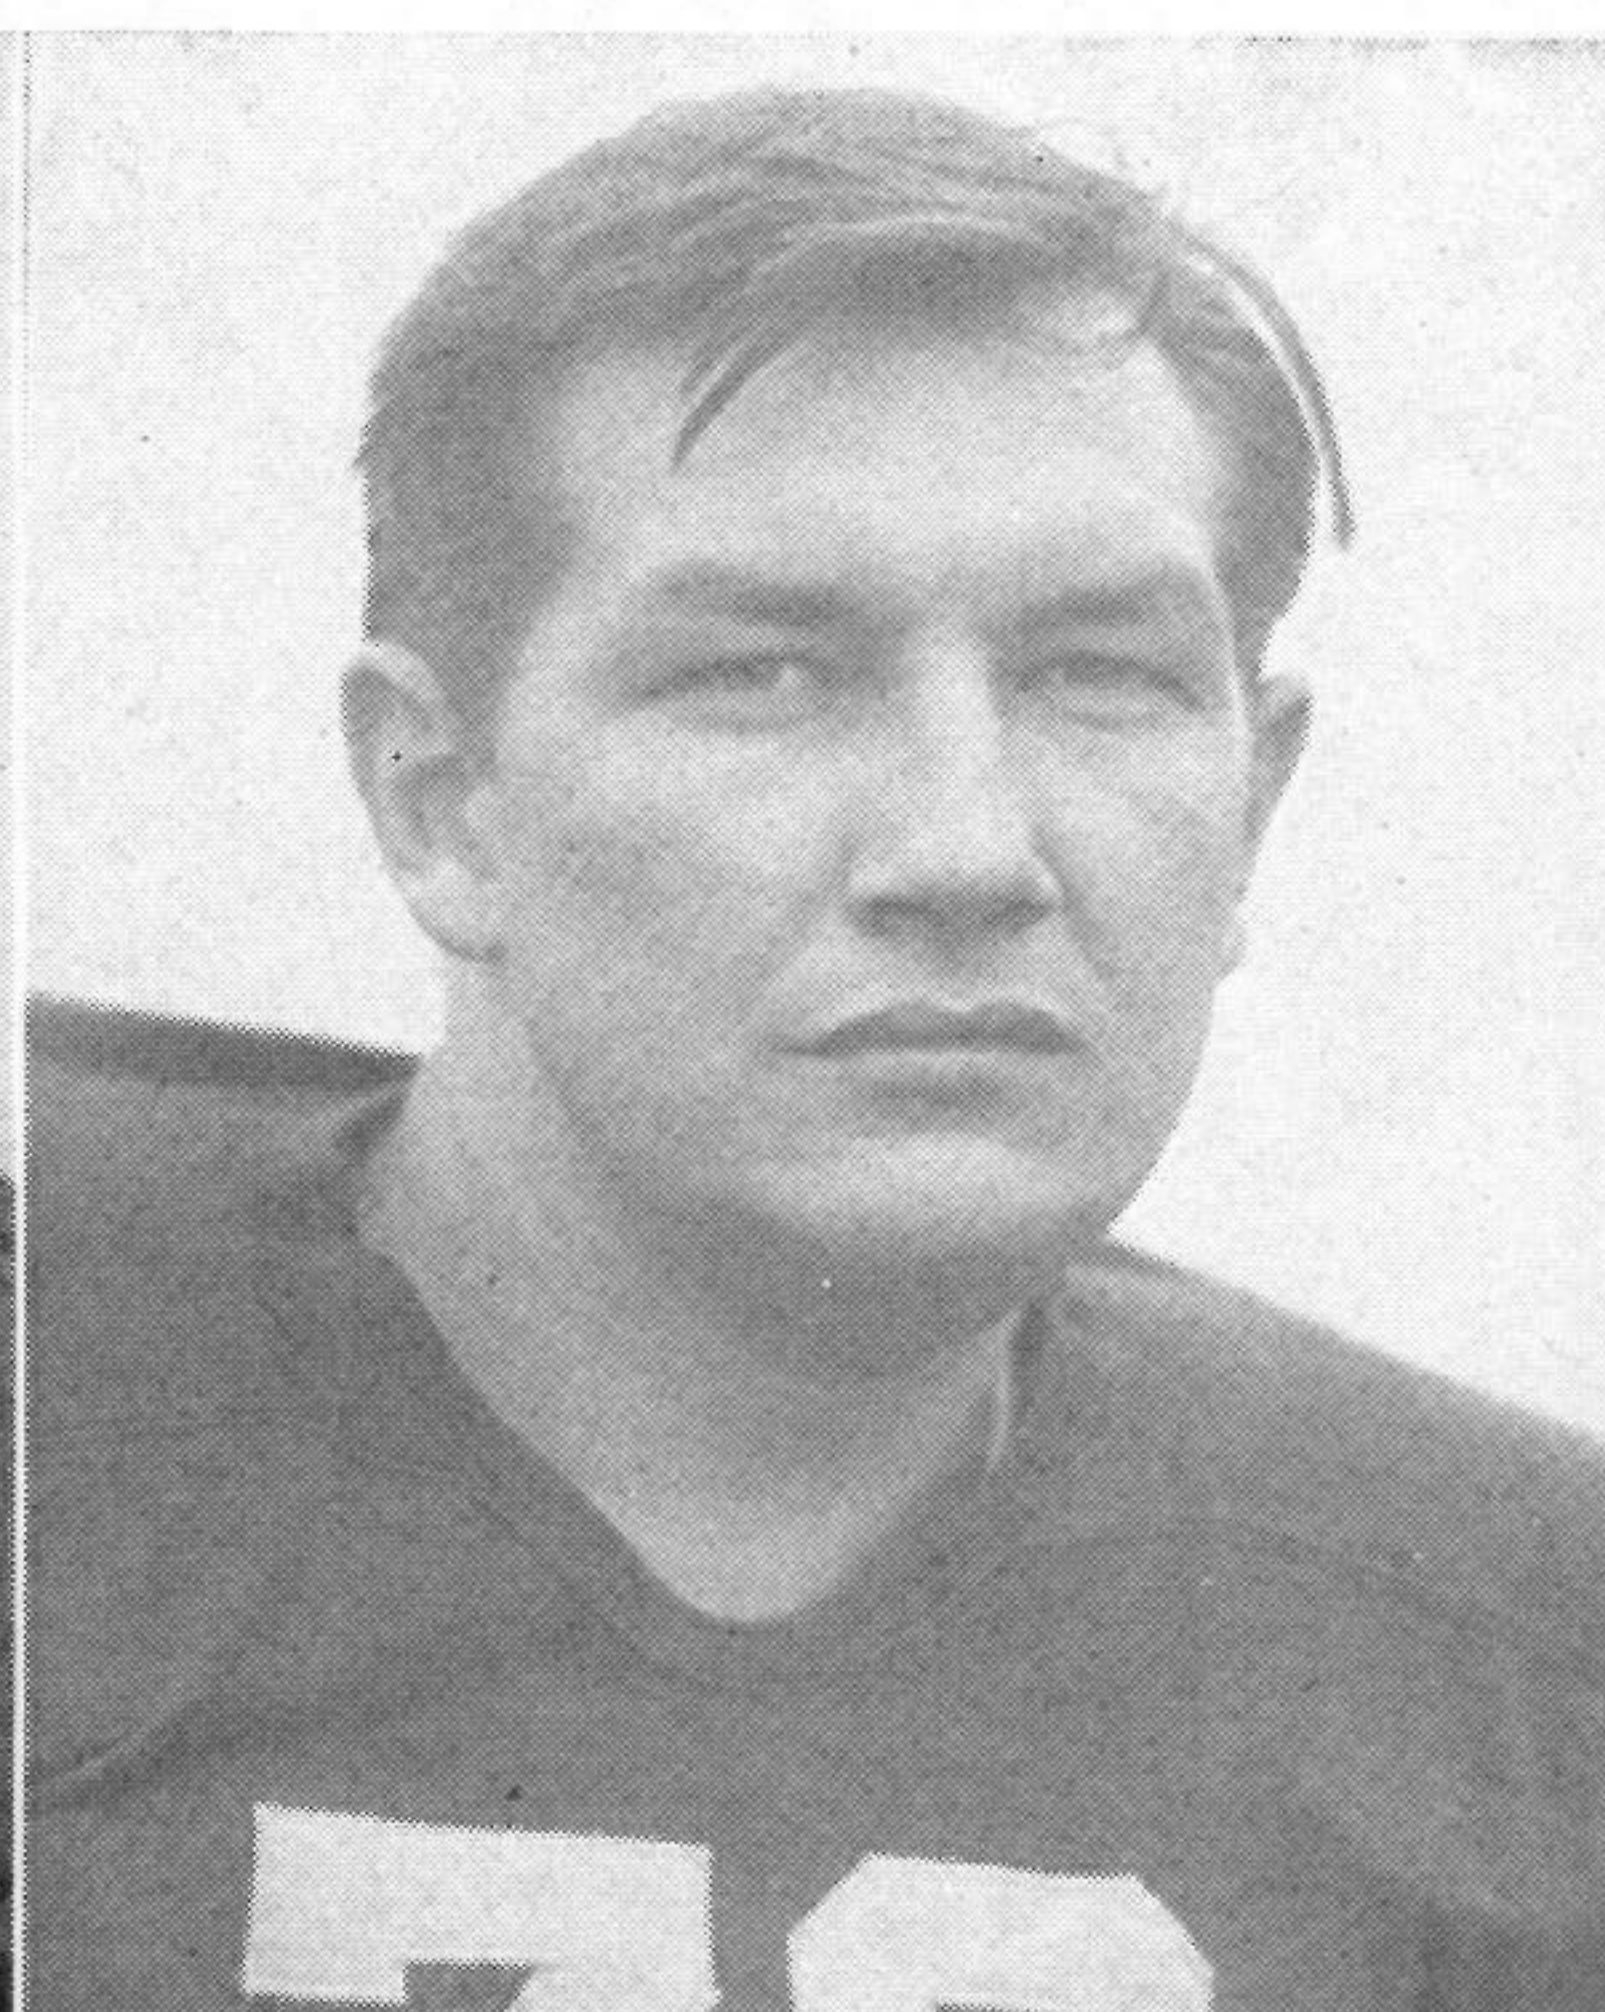

Just before half time, Larry Hatch intercepted a pass and on the next play Fred Provo shot the pigskin to Dev Gossett who scampered 35 yards to score unmolested.

Harry Rice recovered a Stanford fumble on the enemy 37, thereby setting up the final Husky tally. Ottele connected with Hagen, and Biddle drove through the end zone from three yards out. Bob Mikalson obliged with all three extra kicks.

HUSKIES 16—DUCKS 0

"GRAB AN EARLY LEAD and hold it," proved a timely stratagem for Pest Welch's aggregation as they piled up sixteen points in the first half and coasted to an easy triumph over the University of Oregon.

On Washington's first play Fred Provo rocketed an aerial from midfield to Brooks Biddle and before three minutes of game time had elapsed, the bewildered visitors were trailing 7 to 0. Later in the first period Biddle swept end for 42 yards to set the stage for a 23-yard field goal by Bob Mikalson.

Two long runs by Provo and Biddle set up Washington's final score by Marshall Dallas in the second stanza. Three times during the contest the Ducks were deep in Husky territory . . . but fizzled.

PERFORMING ON A WET TURF with Seattle snow piled around the gridiron's edge, the Huskies wound up their home schedule by dumping Montana 21-0. The Welchmen uncorked a 56-yard push late in the first period. Dick Ottele pitched the pigskin to Gail Bruce for twelve yards. The Grizzlies were penalized 15 yards and a few moments later Brooks Biddle sped over the goal.

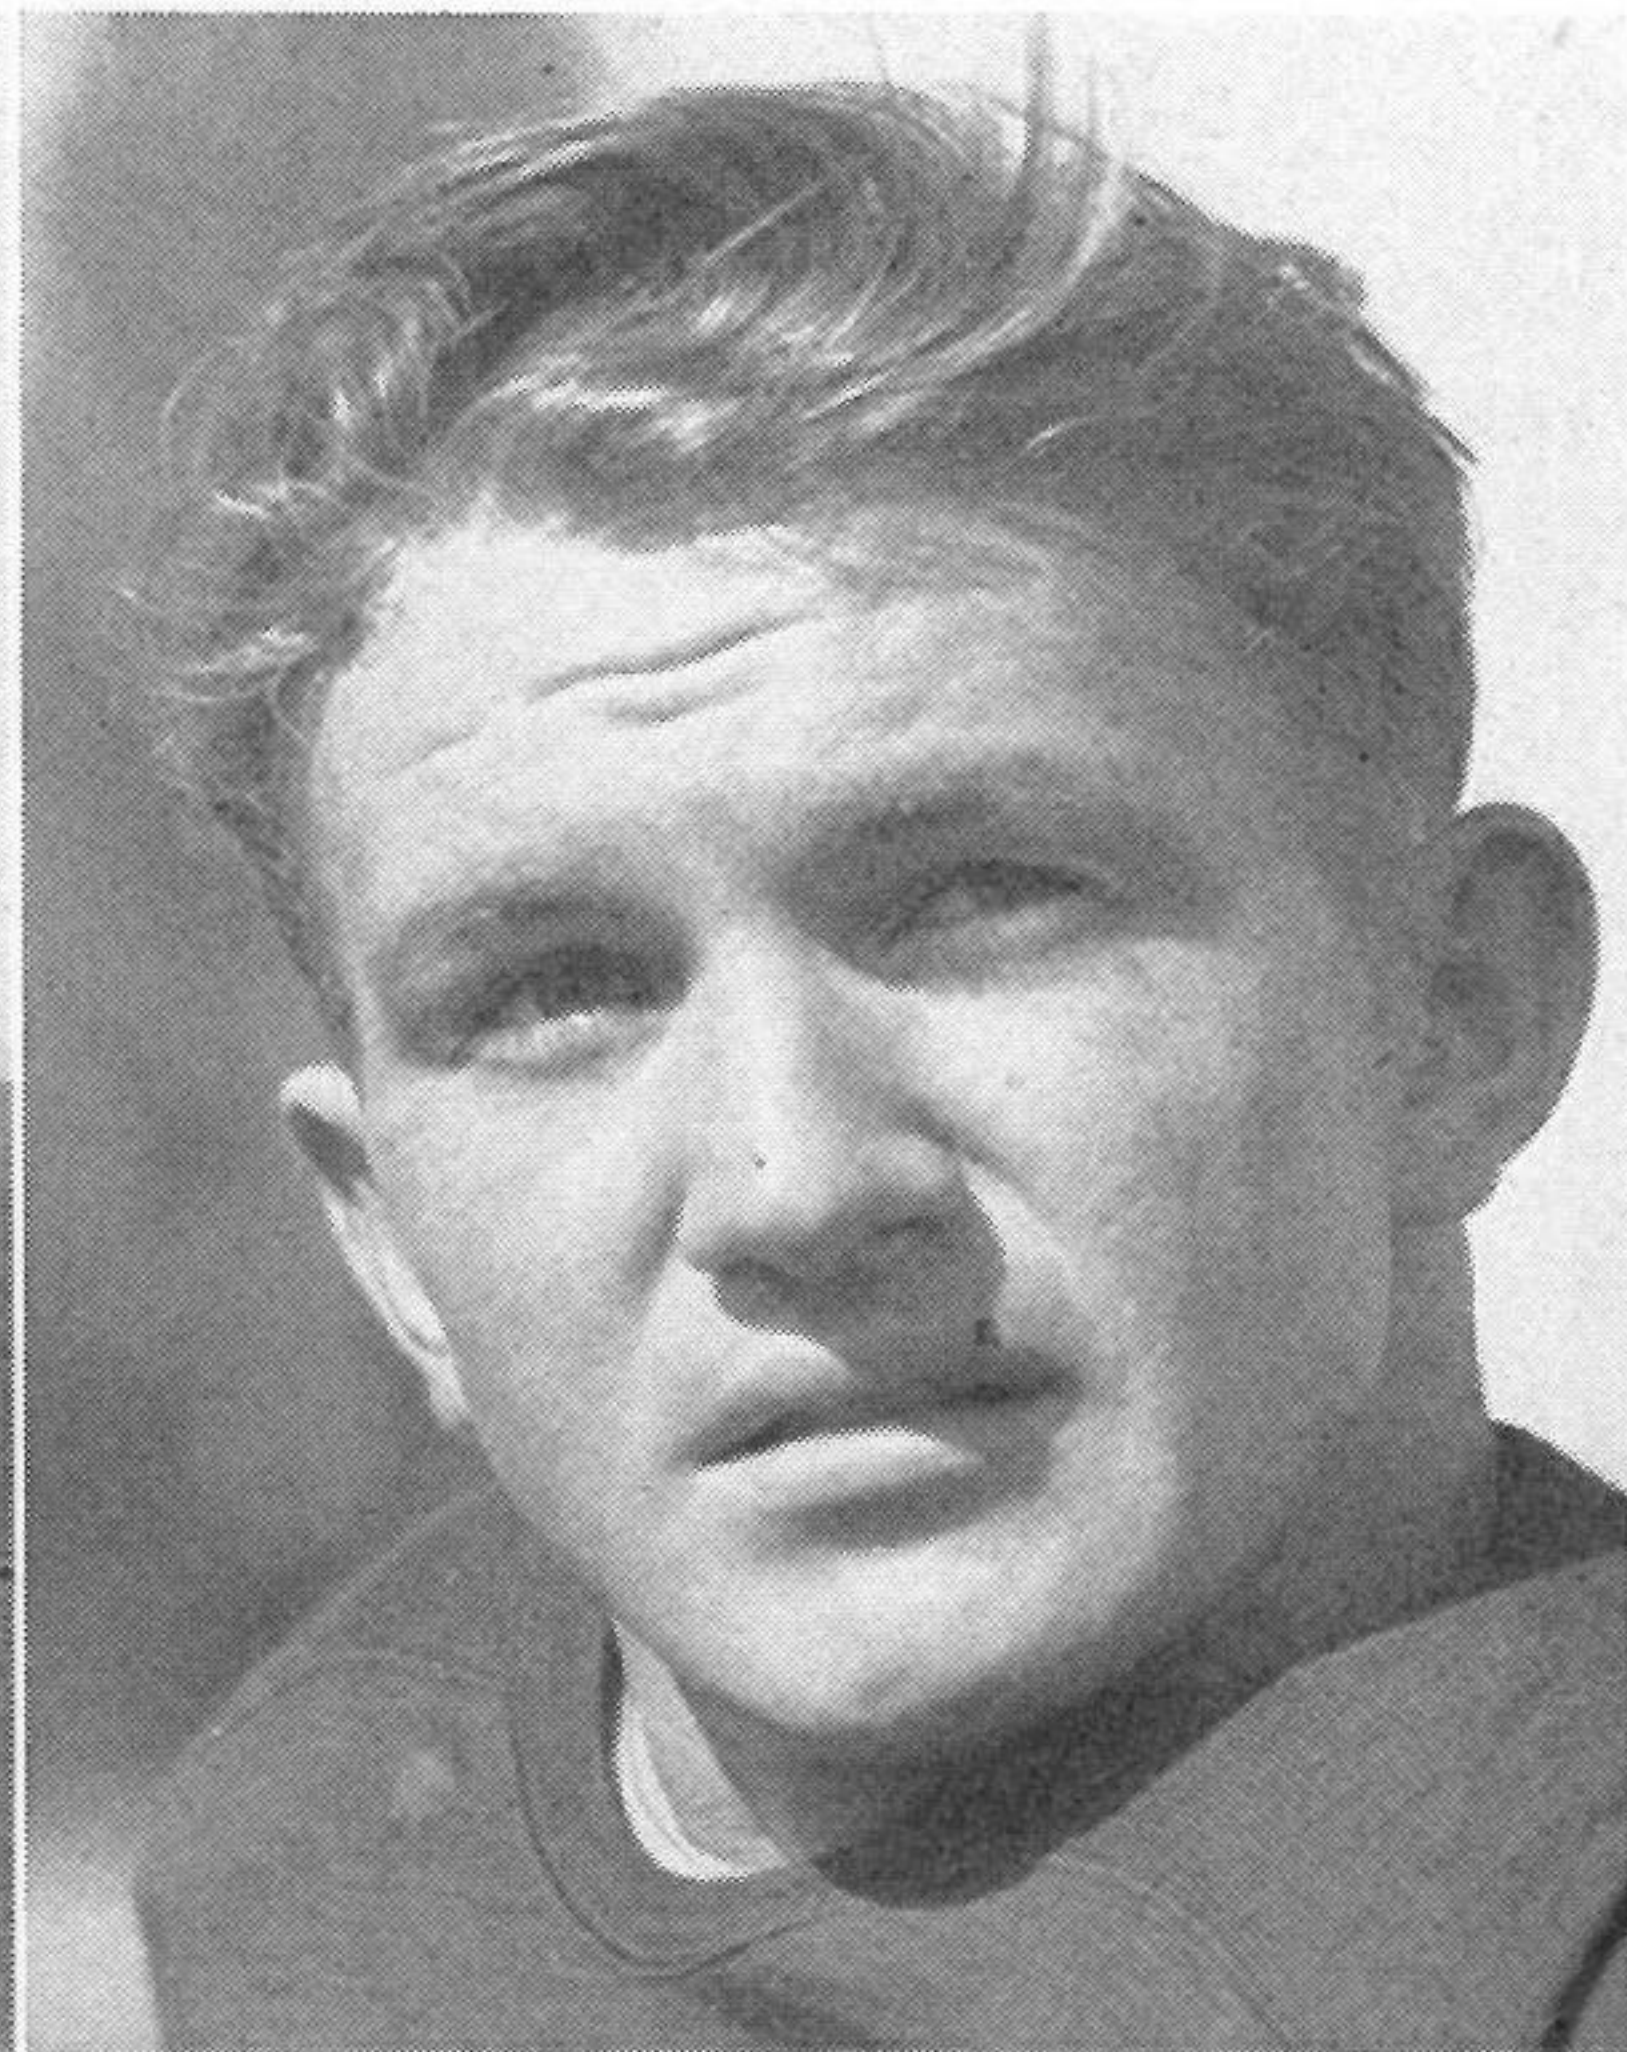

Fred Provo set up the second tally when he took the ball on the Husky 27-yard line and lateraled to Herb Harlow as he was nailed on the 35. Harlow breezed to a touchdown.

In the final stanza, Carl Fennema intercepted a pass on the visitors' 28-yard stripe. Dallas hit the end zone six plays later. Mikalson converted for all three extra points.

Ken Carpenter and Dick Twenge, OSC powerhouses, each registered once, and between their scores Bob Proctor intercepted a Husky pass and romped 42 yards to touchdownland.

Ernie Stein, a potential Washington great, snagged a 12-yard throw from Fred Provo for the locals' first tally. In the fourth stanza Provo pitched another one to Bob Nelson which netted 31 yards and led to Sam Robinson's plunge to pay dirt.

B TEAM

WASHINGTON'S "B" FOOTBALL PLAYERS convinced Coach Roy "Sandy" Sandberg of their pigskin abilities by winning all five of their scheduled games last fall. With assistant coaches Roy Carlson, Art McLarney and Dave Currie, the Husky Pups developed into a smooth fighting team.

Pacific Lutheran College of Tacoma proved to be the first victim of the season, losing to the Pups 13 to 7. Lyle Stotts highlighted the game with two touchdown passes.

The Ellensburg Wildcats bowed to the local eleven 20 to 7 the following Saturday. Mel Davis and Bill McIntyre sparked the touchdown plays with Arnie Swanson and Nick Zandies giving top assistance.

The Pups gained their third victory by thrashing Everett Junior College 34 to 0. Neal Patton, Al Goot and Don Coryell interfered with any plans Oregon State's "Jayvees" might have had by scoring a 16 to 6 win. Goot made the outstanding play by kicking a tricky field goal.

Washington State College outscored the Pups until the closing minutes but the Huskies broke loose with five successful passes followed by a 17-yard run by McIntyre, to give the undefeated Pups a 16 to 12 victory to end the season.

"B" team players included John Boitano, Ken Davis, Burnie Frederickson, Charles Judd, Ted Adolphson, Neil Patton, William Watts, Irv Wehde, Leo Weott, Bruce Rehm, Ronald Reed, Al Goot, Lawrence Hurlbut, Al Kean, Lyle Stotts, Dick Sprinkle, Ed Daley, Paul Jacobson, Mel Davis, Bill McIntyre, Nick Zandies, Don Coryell, Gordon Robberson and Arnie Swanson.

John Zeger

Fred Provo
Inspirational Player

RETURNING AFTER A STRETCH with the famous Fourth Air Force eleven, John "Pappy" Zeger completed his senior year by carving his niche in Washington football-dom. The 26-year-old veteran culminated his collegiate football career with such superb work in the guard slot that he was pointed to as sparkplug of the club, elected to the honor of captaincy by his fellow players, and received all-coast recognition. Zeger's inspired play dates back to 1940 and 1941, the pre-war years when he won two of his three stripes.

The sterling play of Fred Provo gained him the respect of his teammates and their selection of Inspirational Player of 1946. Before the record books were shelved for the '46 season, Provo had gained more yardage for his team than any other man. Husky followers know him as a hard driver who performs with the speed of a gazelle. But few know that Provo sustained injury in the Battle of the Bulge and was told that he would never play football again.

CREW

THE 1945-46 SCHOOL YEAR was climaxed on June 21, 1946, when the International Maritime Regatta was held. The feature event of the aquatic afternoon was the eight-boat 2,000-meter Olympic distance race. All crews participating drew lots for their respective lanes and shells. The shells were provided by the University of Washington. The Washington crew with Bob Payne at the tiller ropes consisted of Stroke Grant Bishop, 7-Jim Tupper, 6-Jim Horsley, 5-John Anderson, 4-Bill Works, 3 and Captain Dave Thompson, 2-Ted Gibson and Bob McFarlane in the bow.

The Huskies took an early lead and held it for three-quarters of the distance. The finish, however, saw Cornell in first place and MIT second, just inches ahead of the Washington boat.

October of 1946 saw the return of crew to its prewar status at Washington. With Al Ulbrickson relieved from his wartime athletic managership and Bud Raney discharged from the Navy, the coaching staff returned to its normal set-up.

Although there have been no races in the current season as Tyee goes to press, this year's activity is pointed to the Pacific Coast Regatta and the Poughkeepsie Regatta.

STRIVING TO REGAIN the saddle of Pacific Coast and national rowing supremacy this year, the University saw the largest freshman crew turnout in history. This group will form the reservoir of varsity men of the future. The return of many of last year's lettermen in addition to several pre-war oarsmen has spurred hopes for a successful rowing year.

"Nero," the training barge, is the first step in becoming an oarsman.

HOPE WAS HIGH at the start of the University casaba season, for Hec Edmondson seemed to have makings of a championship squad in his starting five of Nichols, White, Gilbertson, Taylor and Jorgenson. Enthusiasm mounted as the hoopsters swept their series with midwestern foes, and were one of the nine unbeaten teams in the nation. The Purple and Gold, however, ran into trouble, and soon became known as the hot and cold boys of the league. One night they would look like novices and the next night they would be unbeatable. The season ended with Washington in third place with eight wins and eight losses. Nichols placed second in conference scoring with 204 points, a new record at Washington.

IN A PRE-SEASON TEST of strength with the experienced Ohio State Cagers, the Huskies took both ends of a two-game series, 49 to 45 and 52 to 46. Superior passing in both games proved to be the deciding margin of victory for the Purple and Gold.

The Edmondson Fire Engine ran at peak efficiency as it swept a two-game series from Minnesota, champions of the Big Nine in '46. The Huskies showed surprising strength in their double win, 61 to 47, and in a close high-scoring contest, 72 to 68.

Letter Winners: Boody Gilbertson, forward; Jack Nichols, center; Bob Jorgenson, guard; Sam White, forward; Bill Taylor, guard.

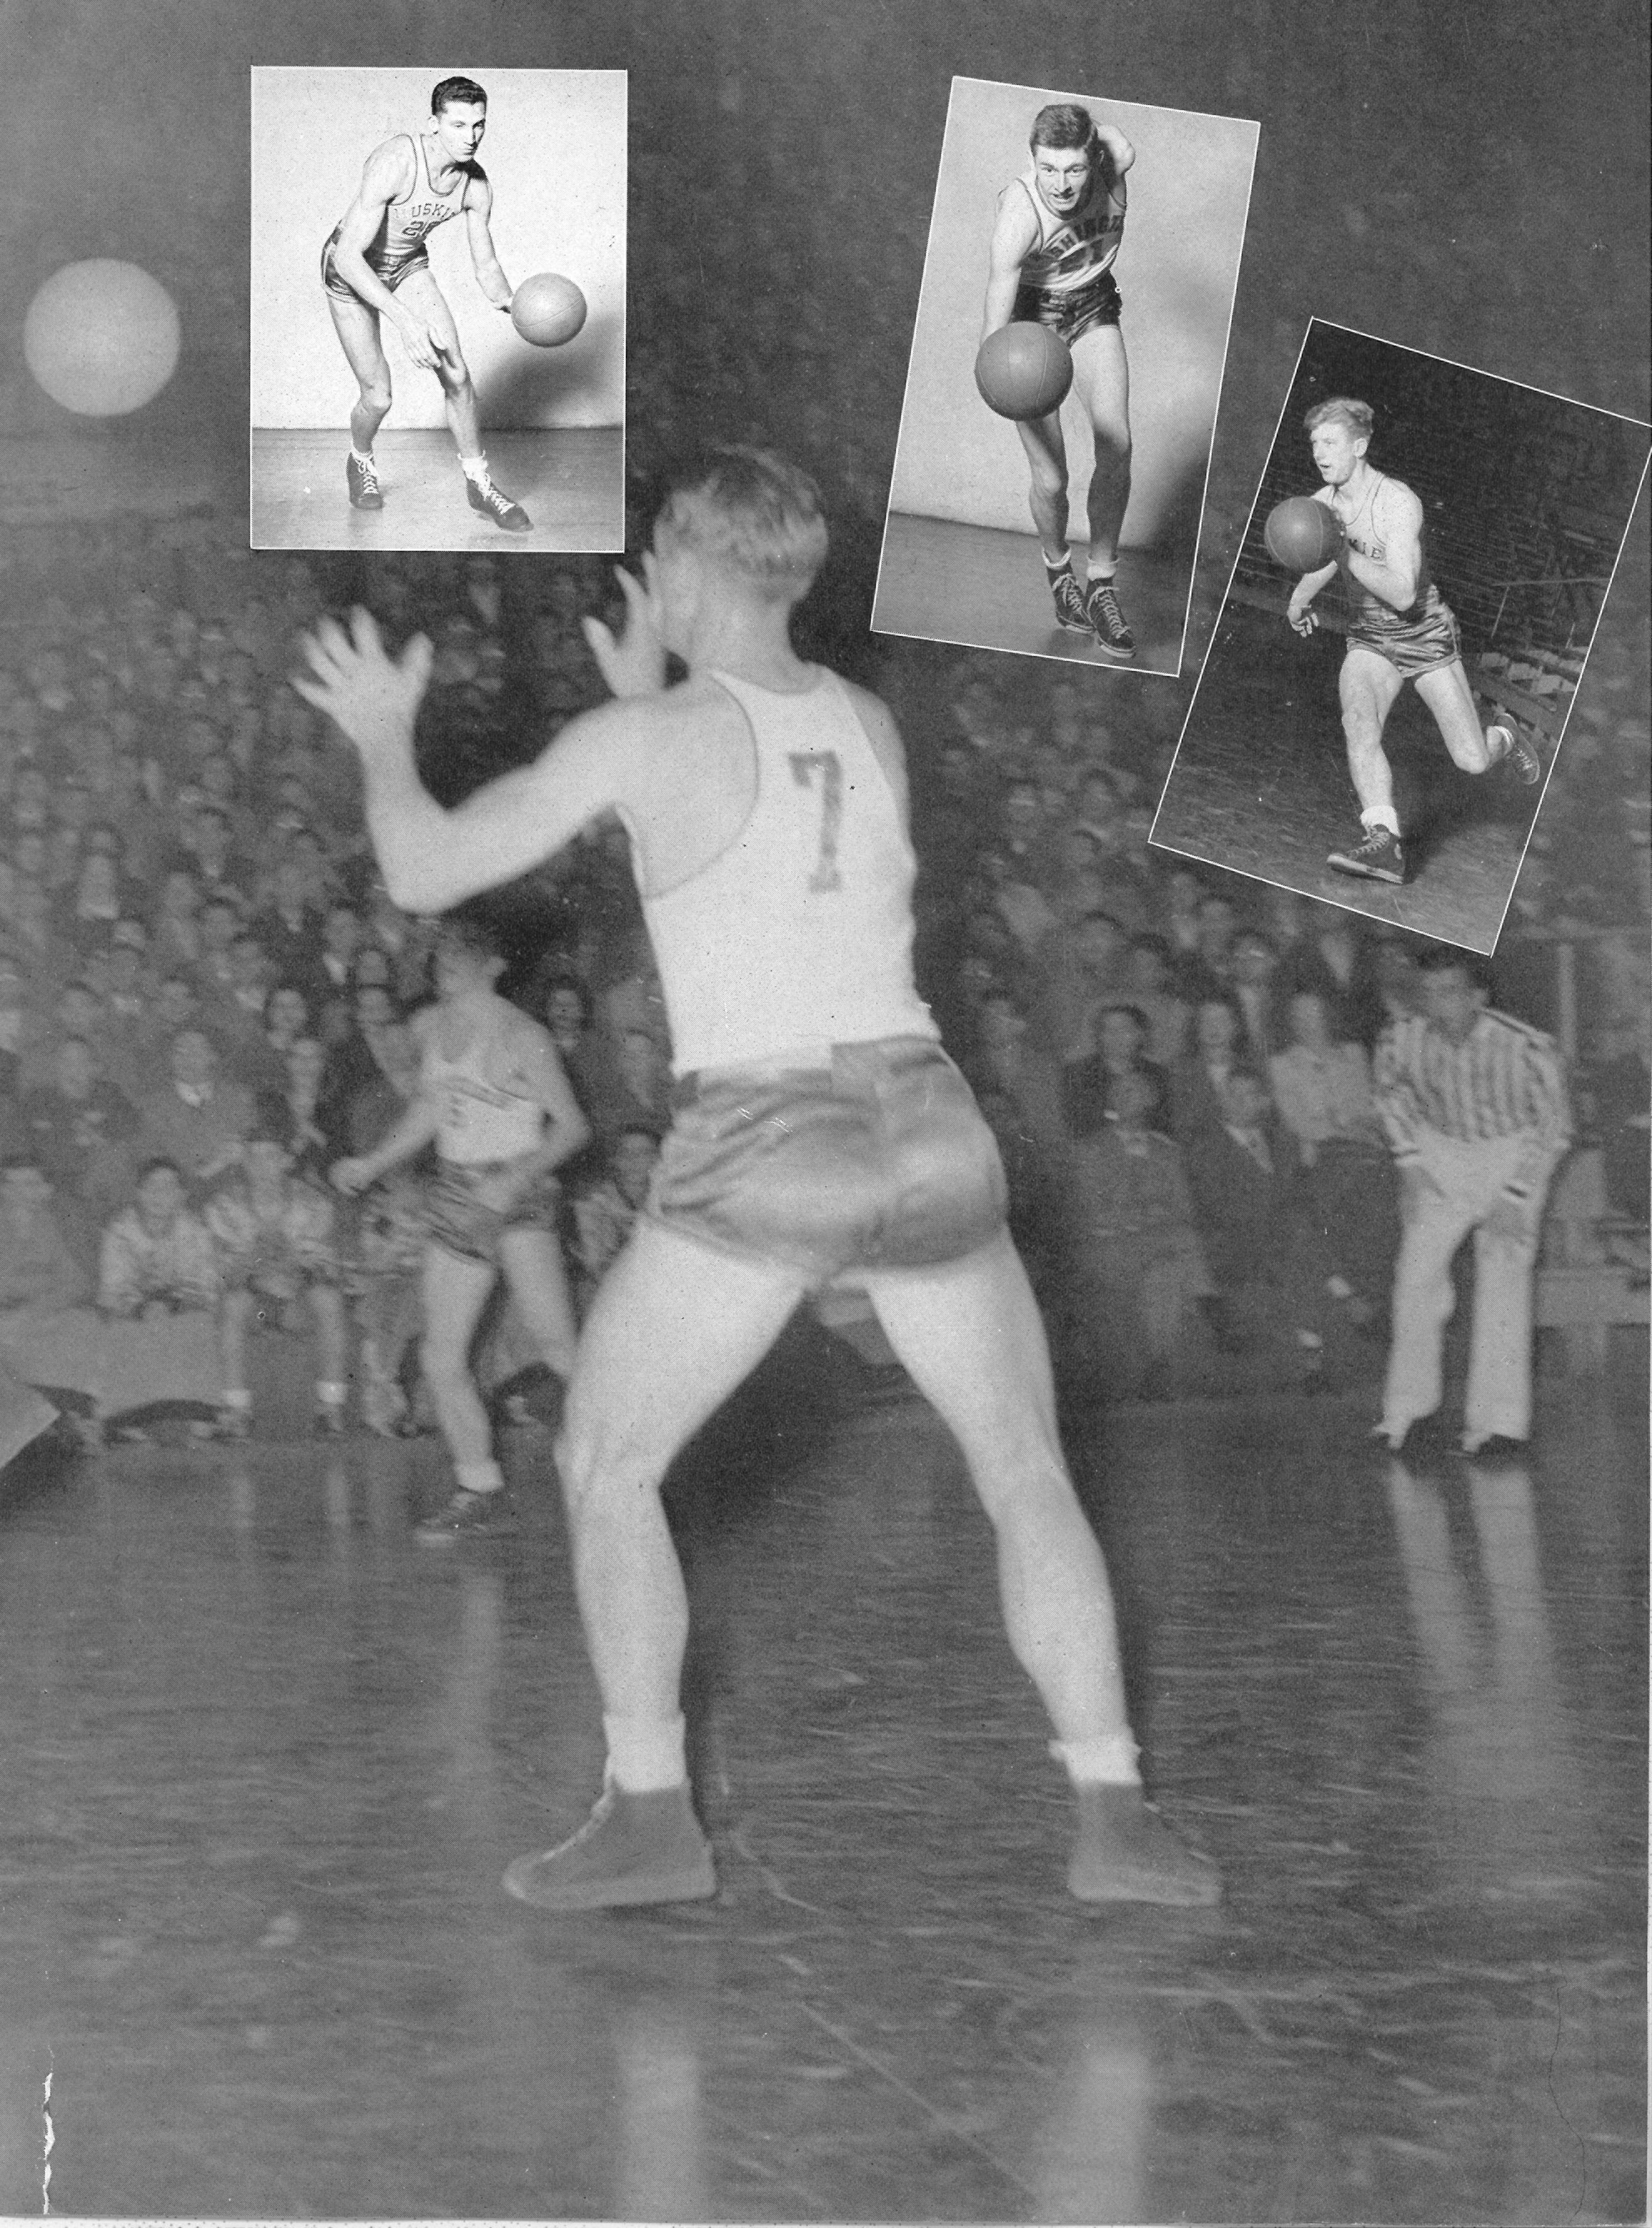

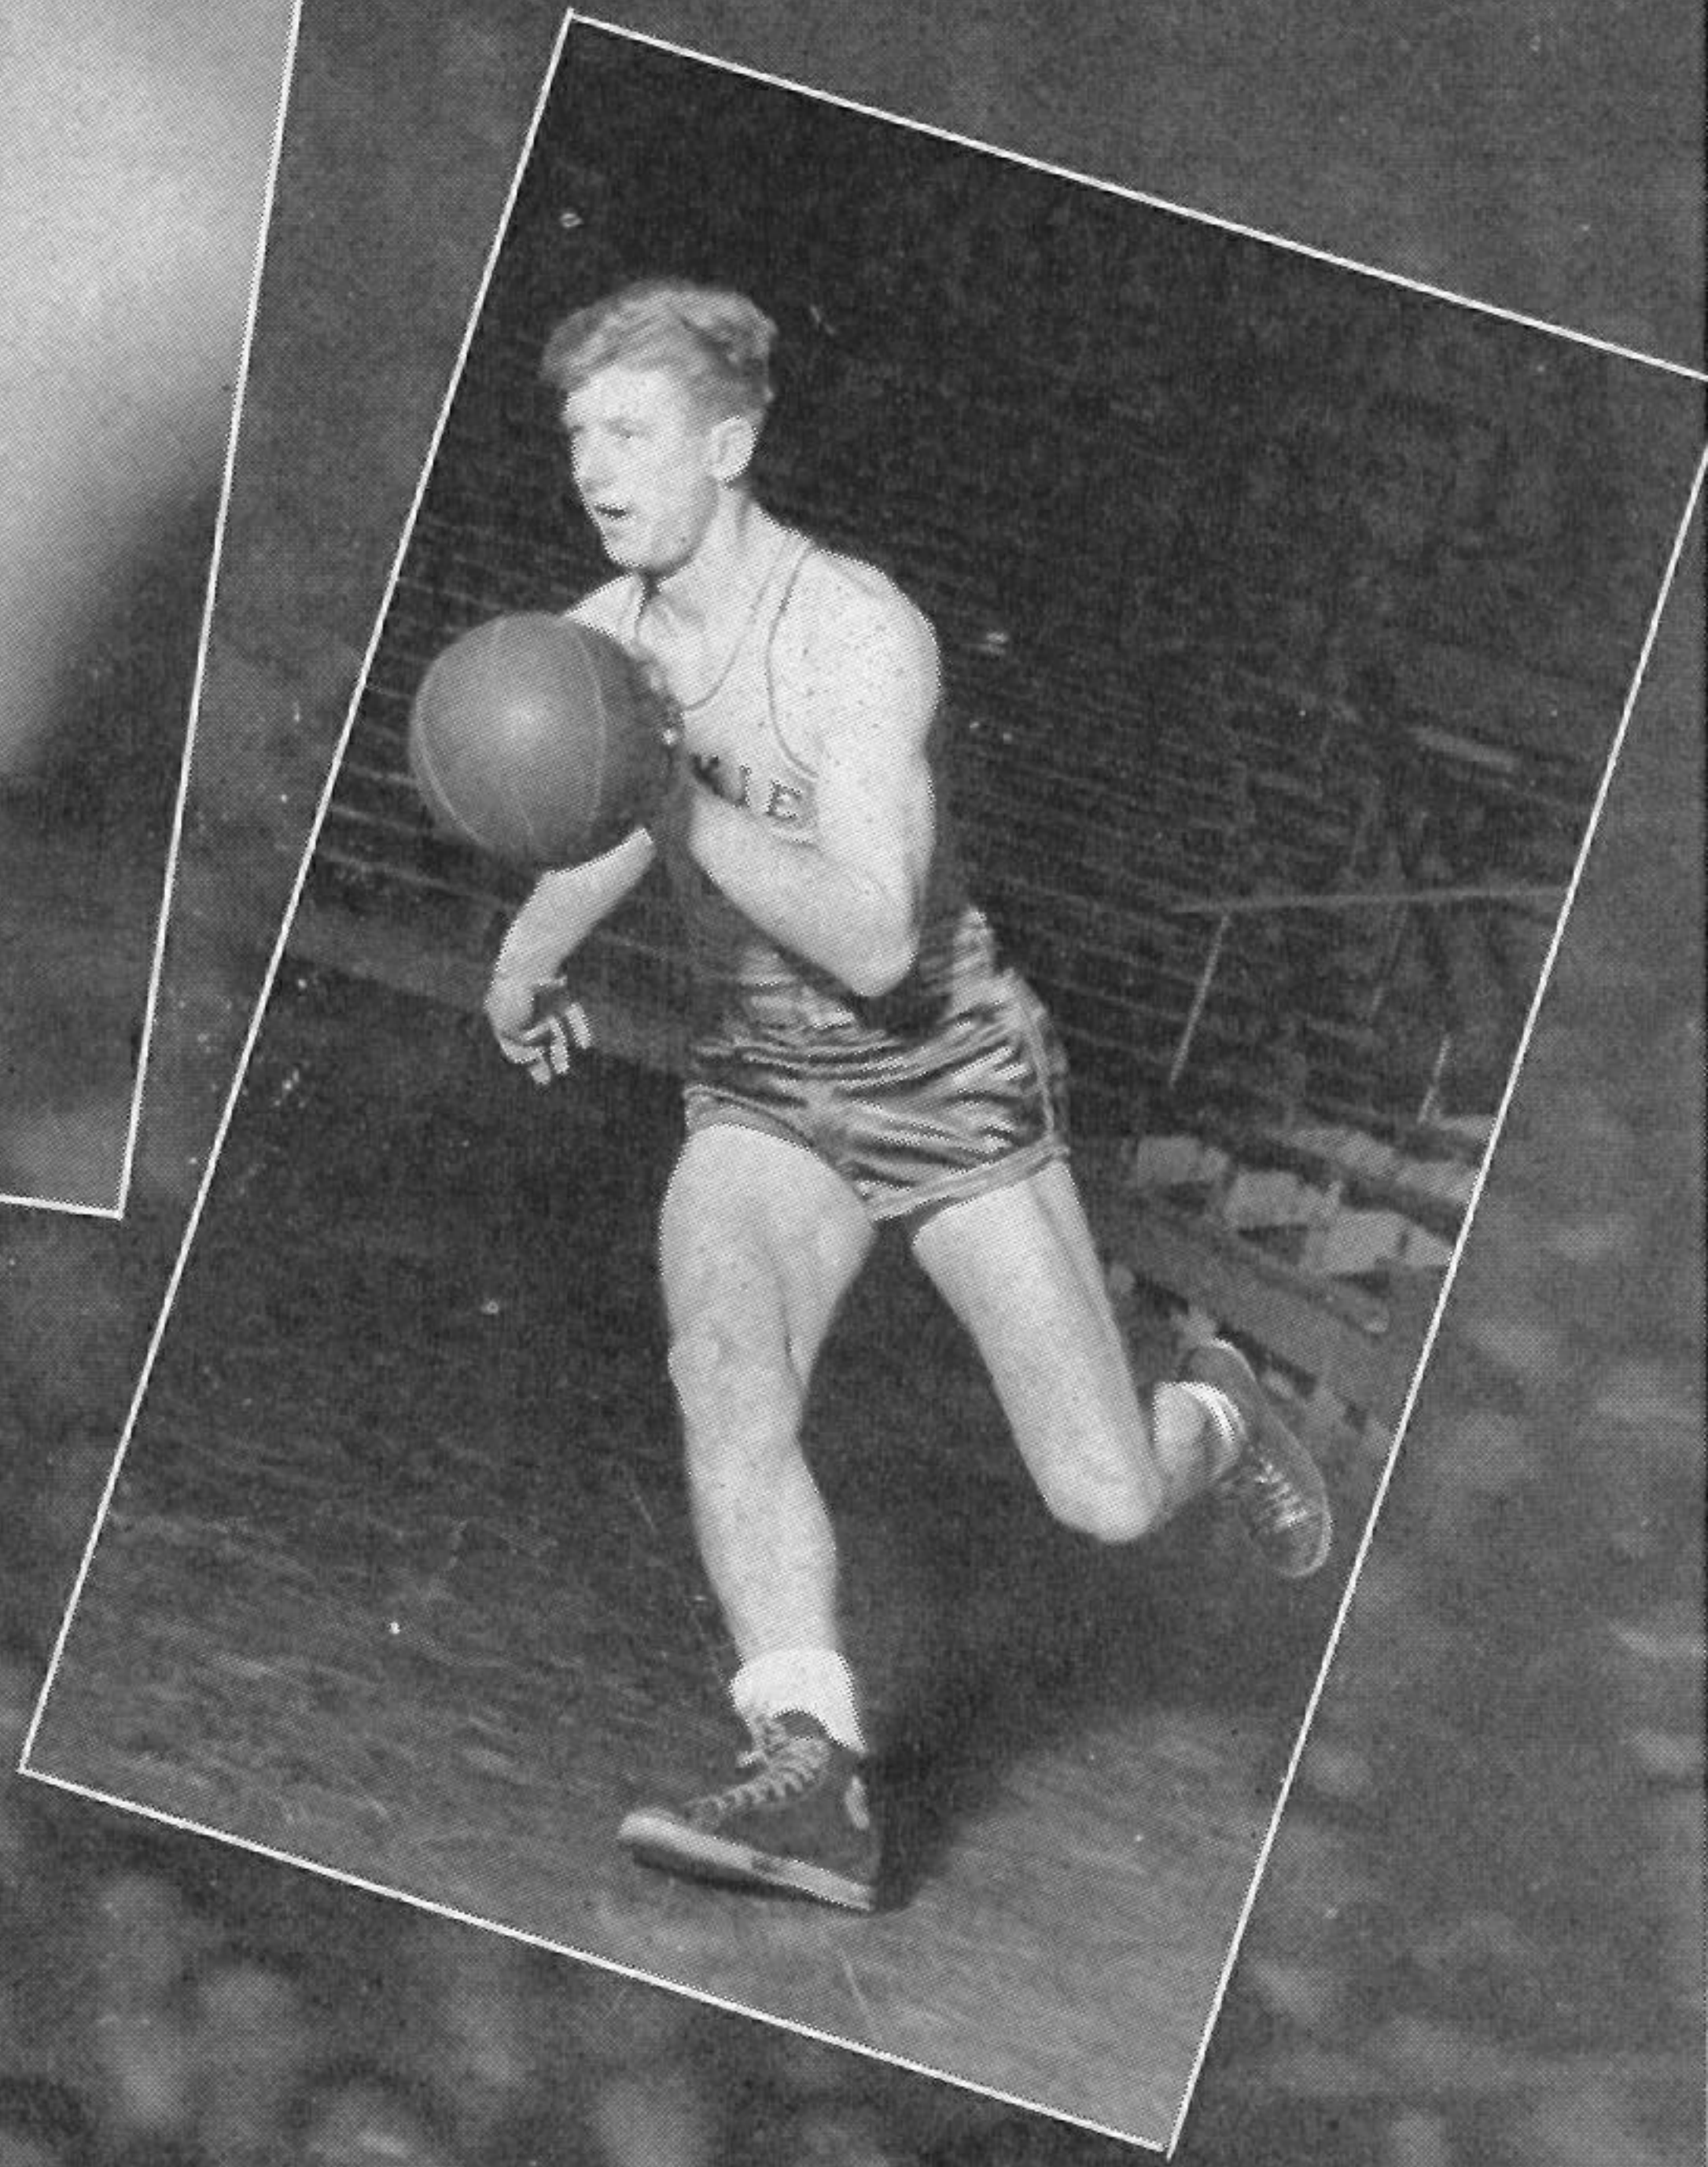

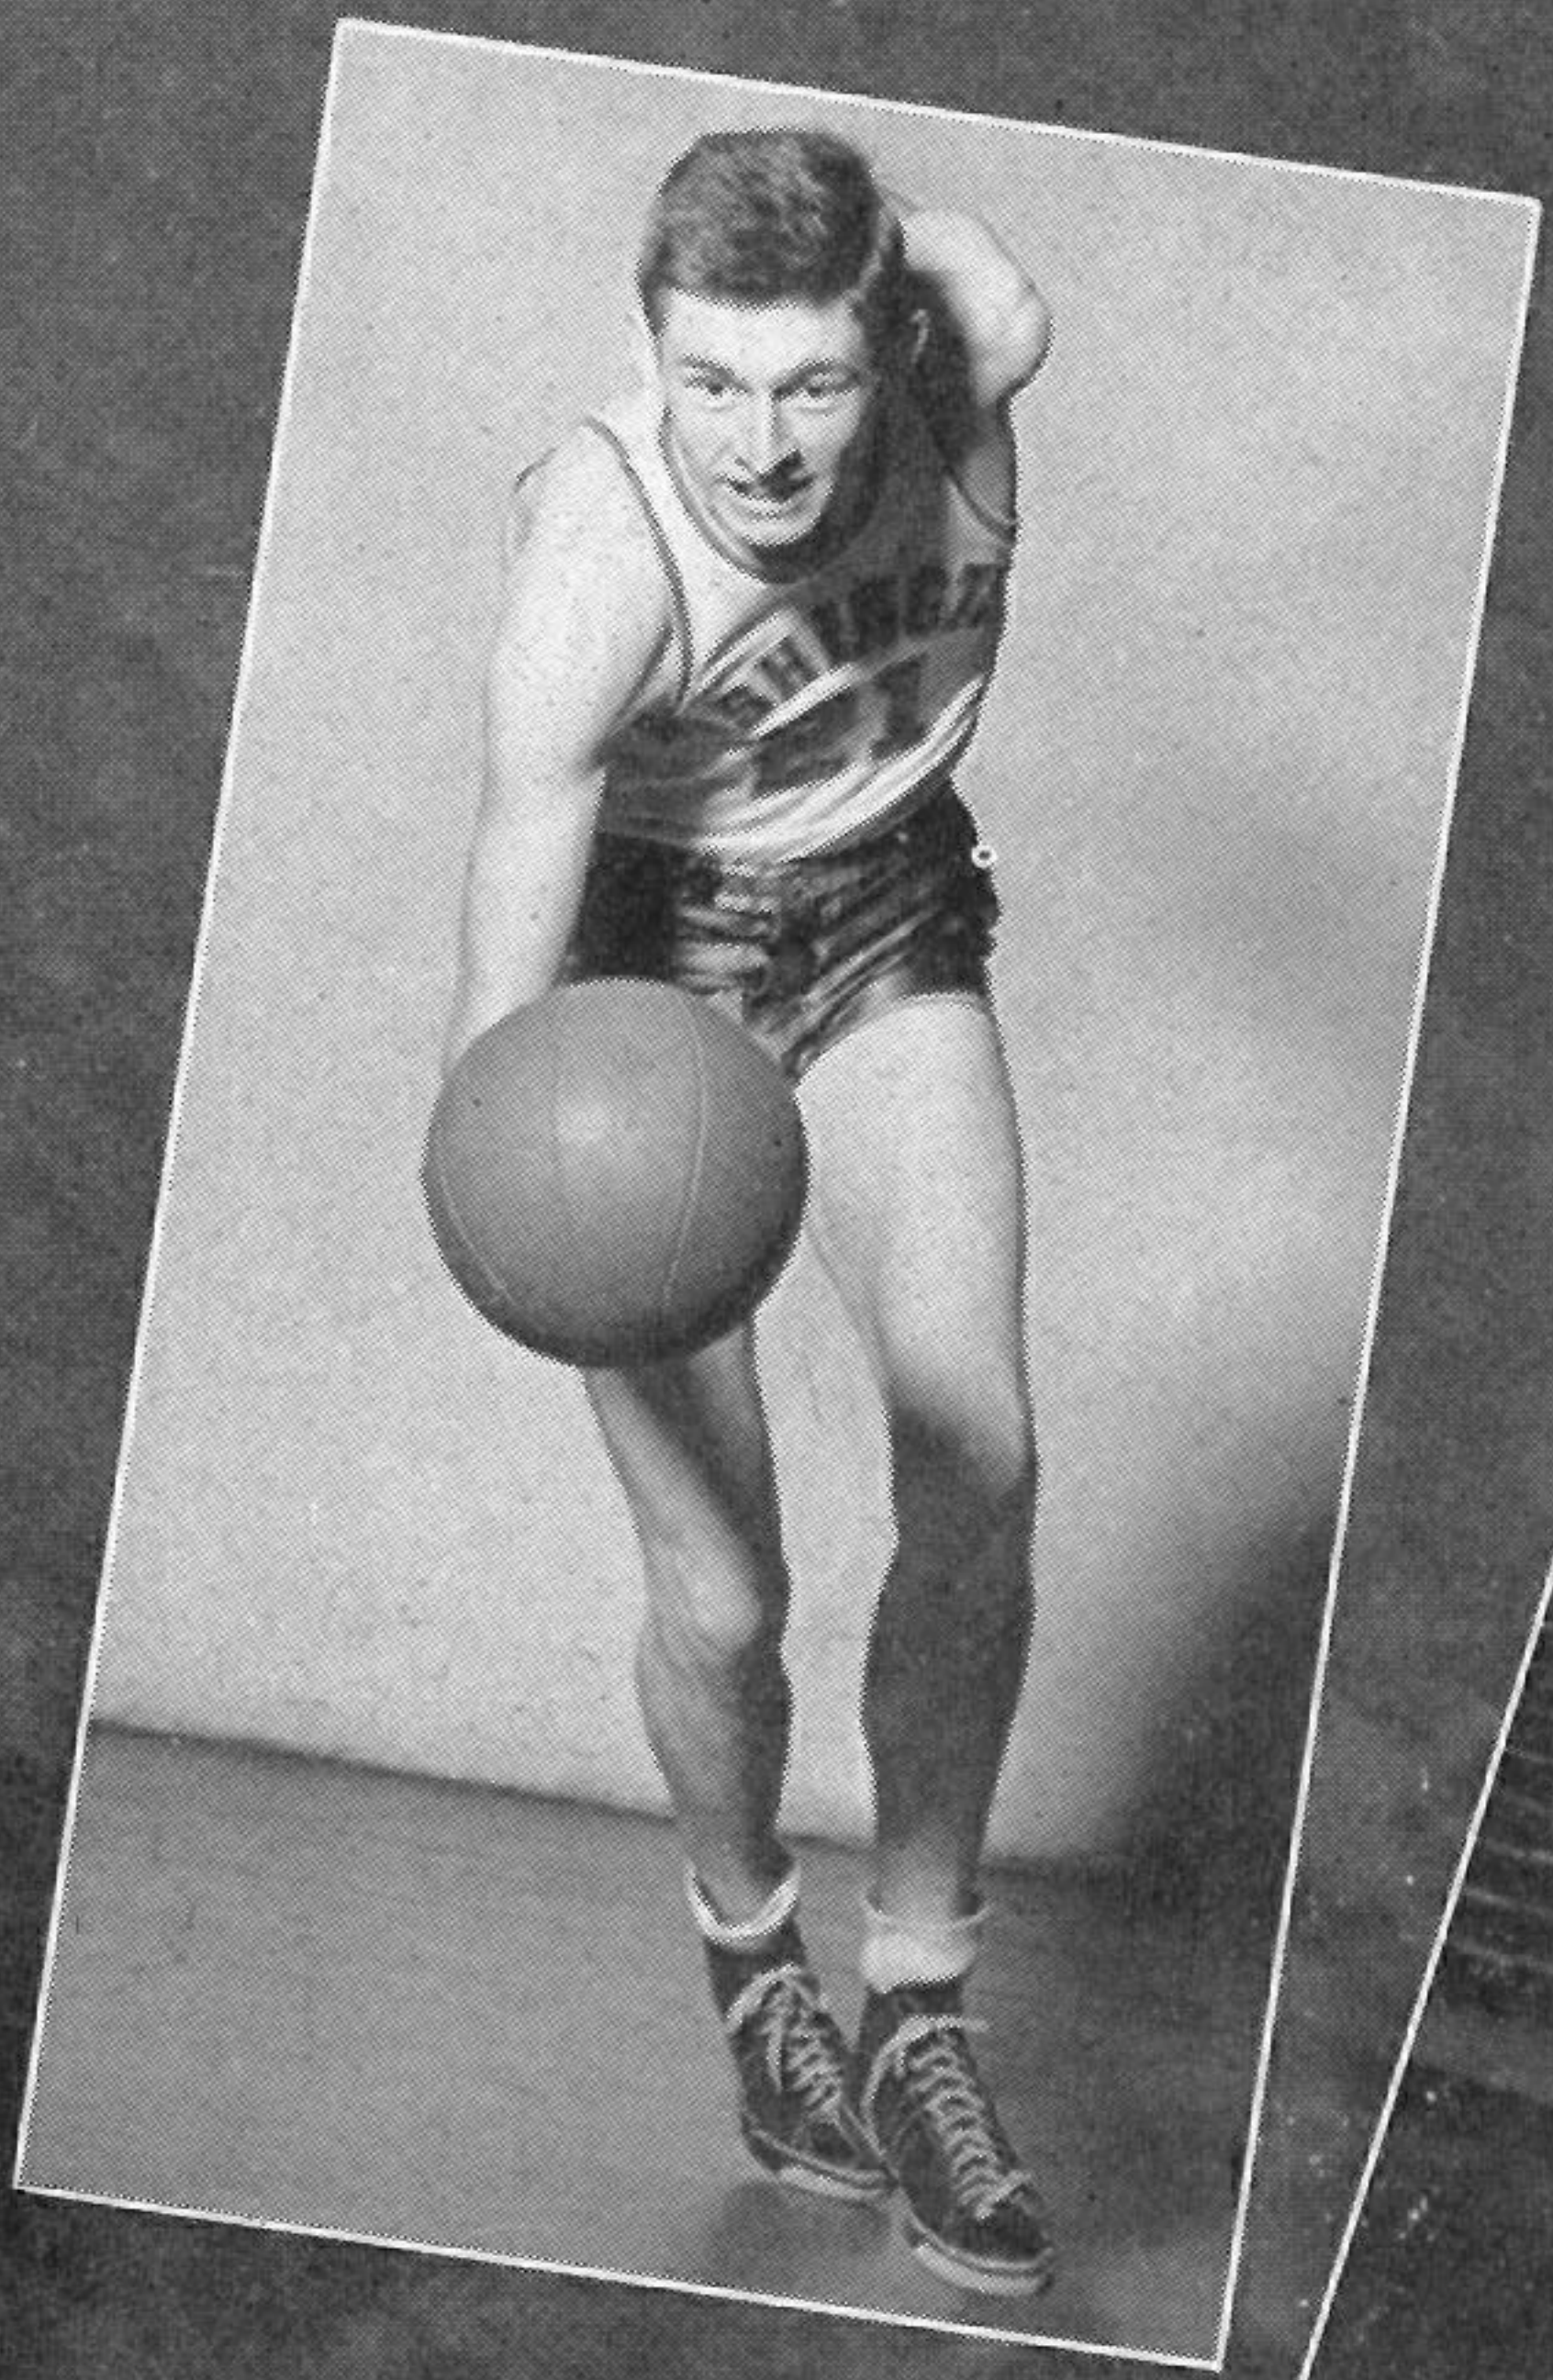

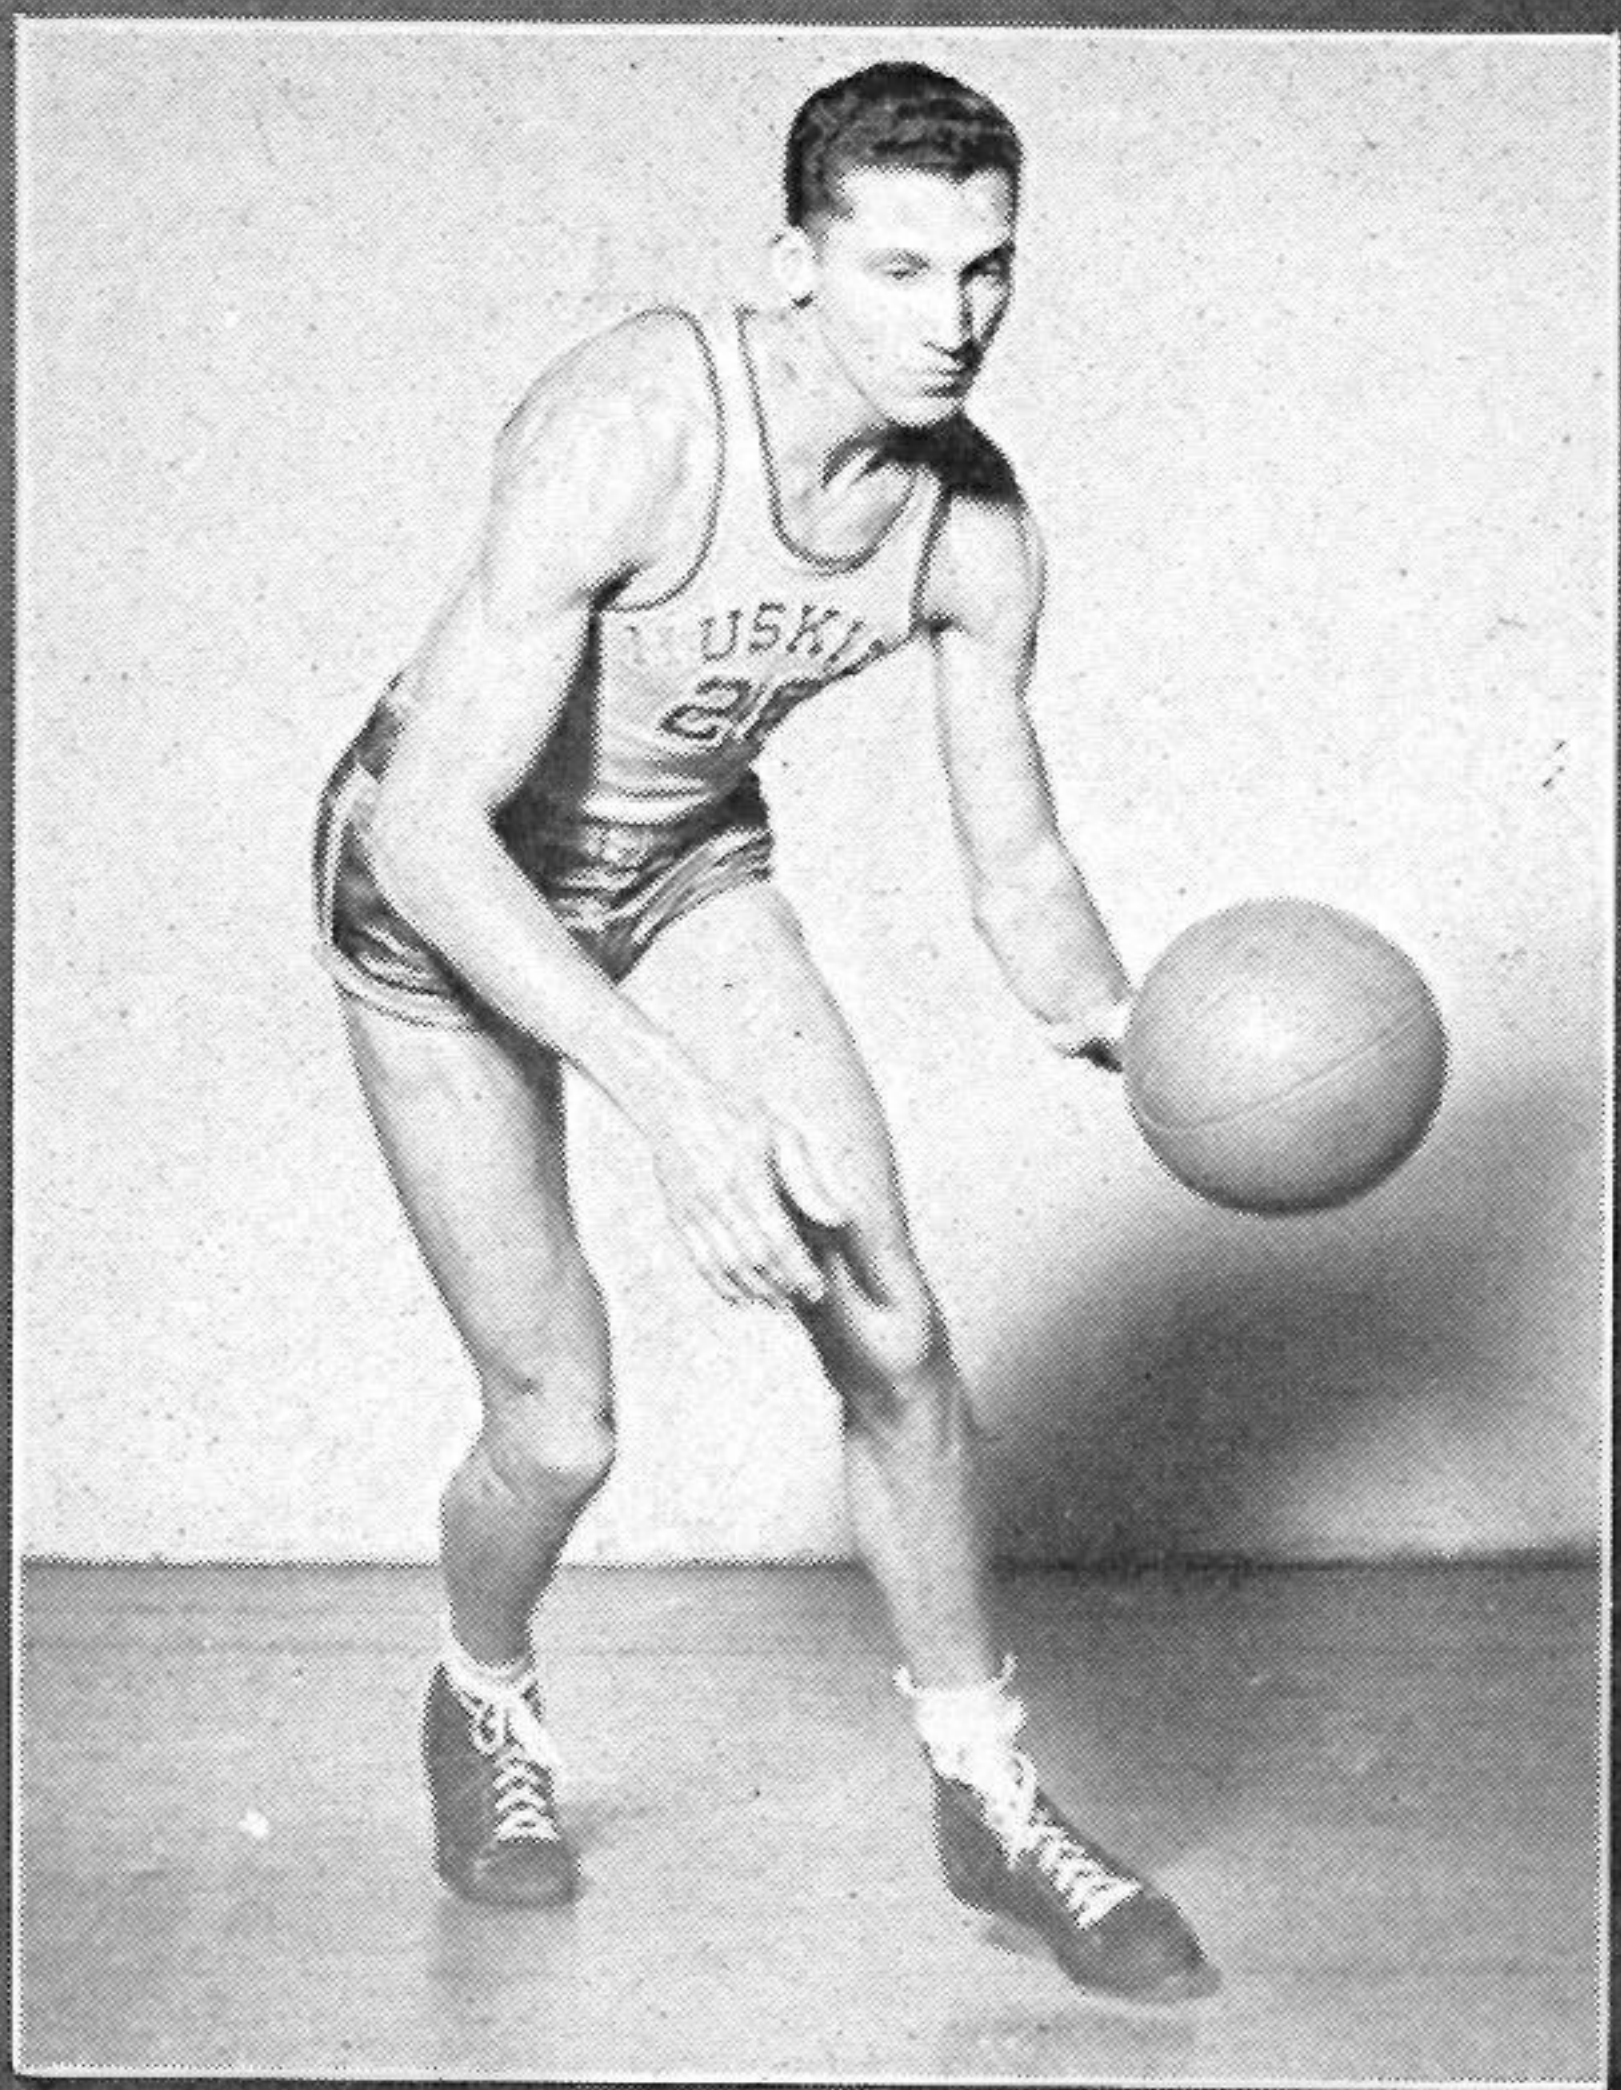

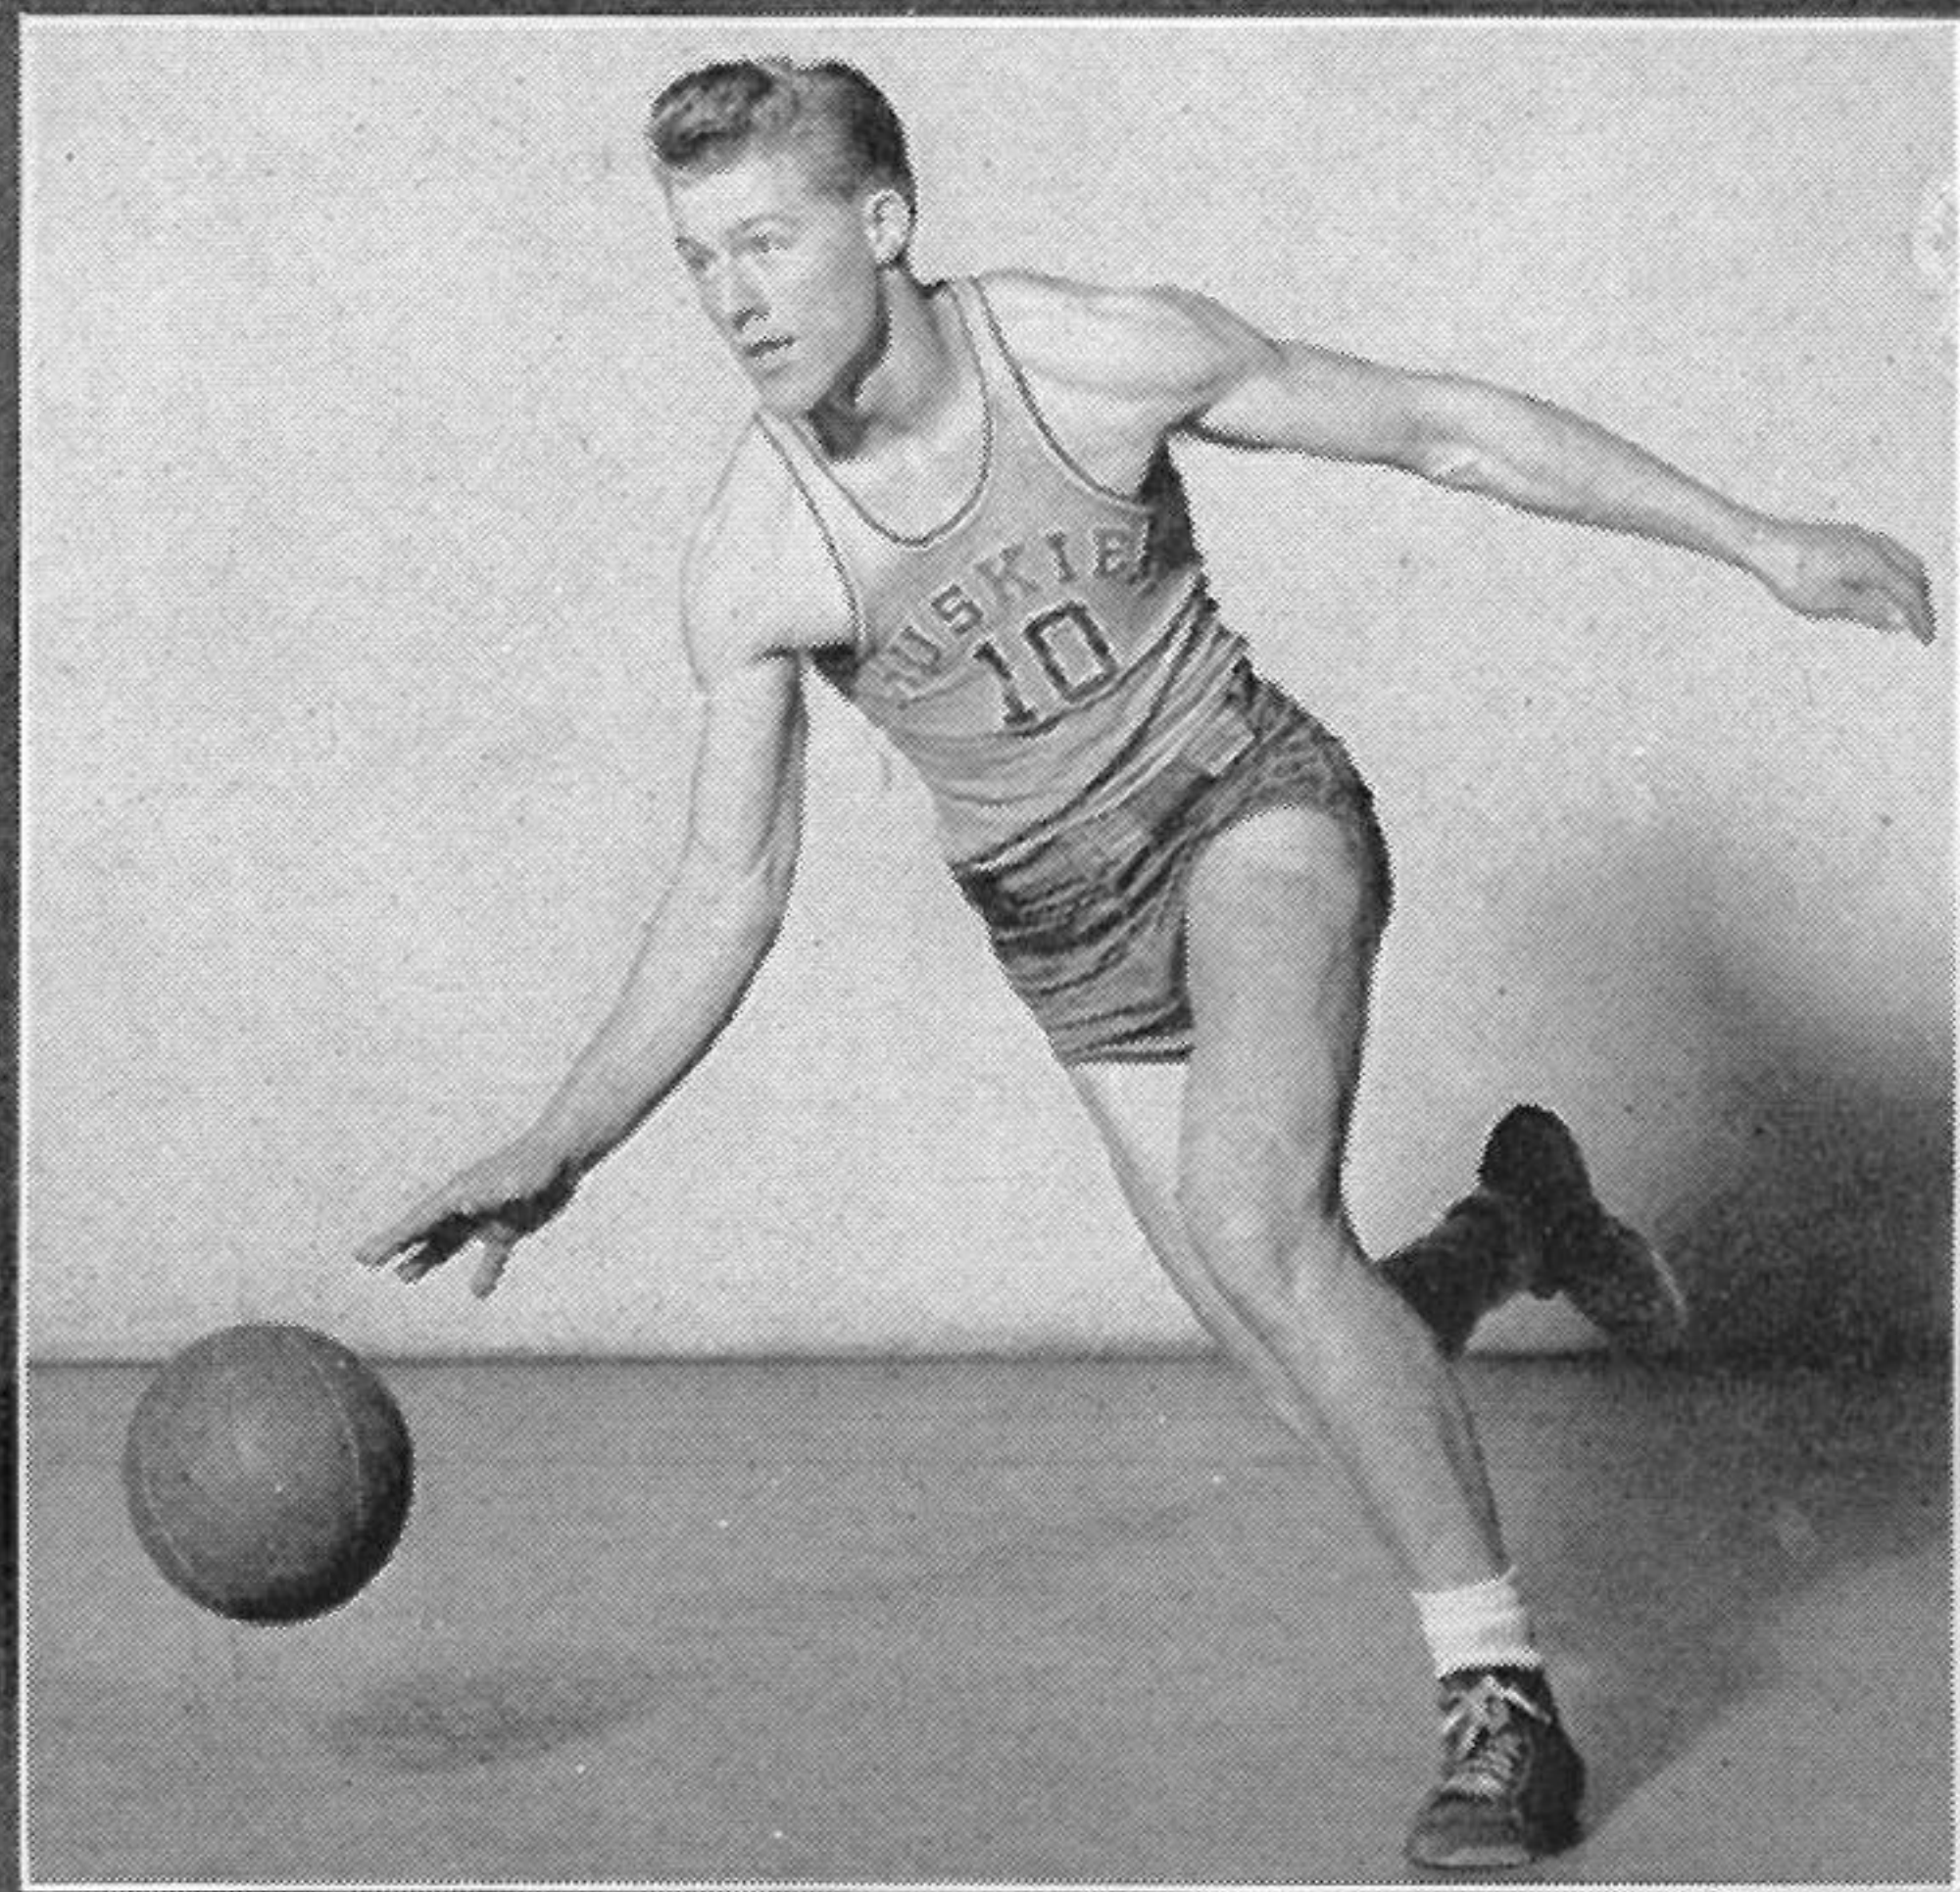

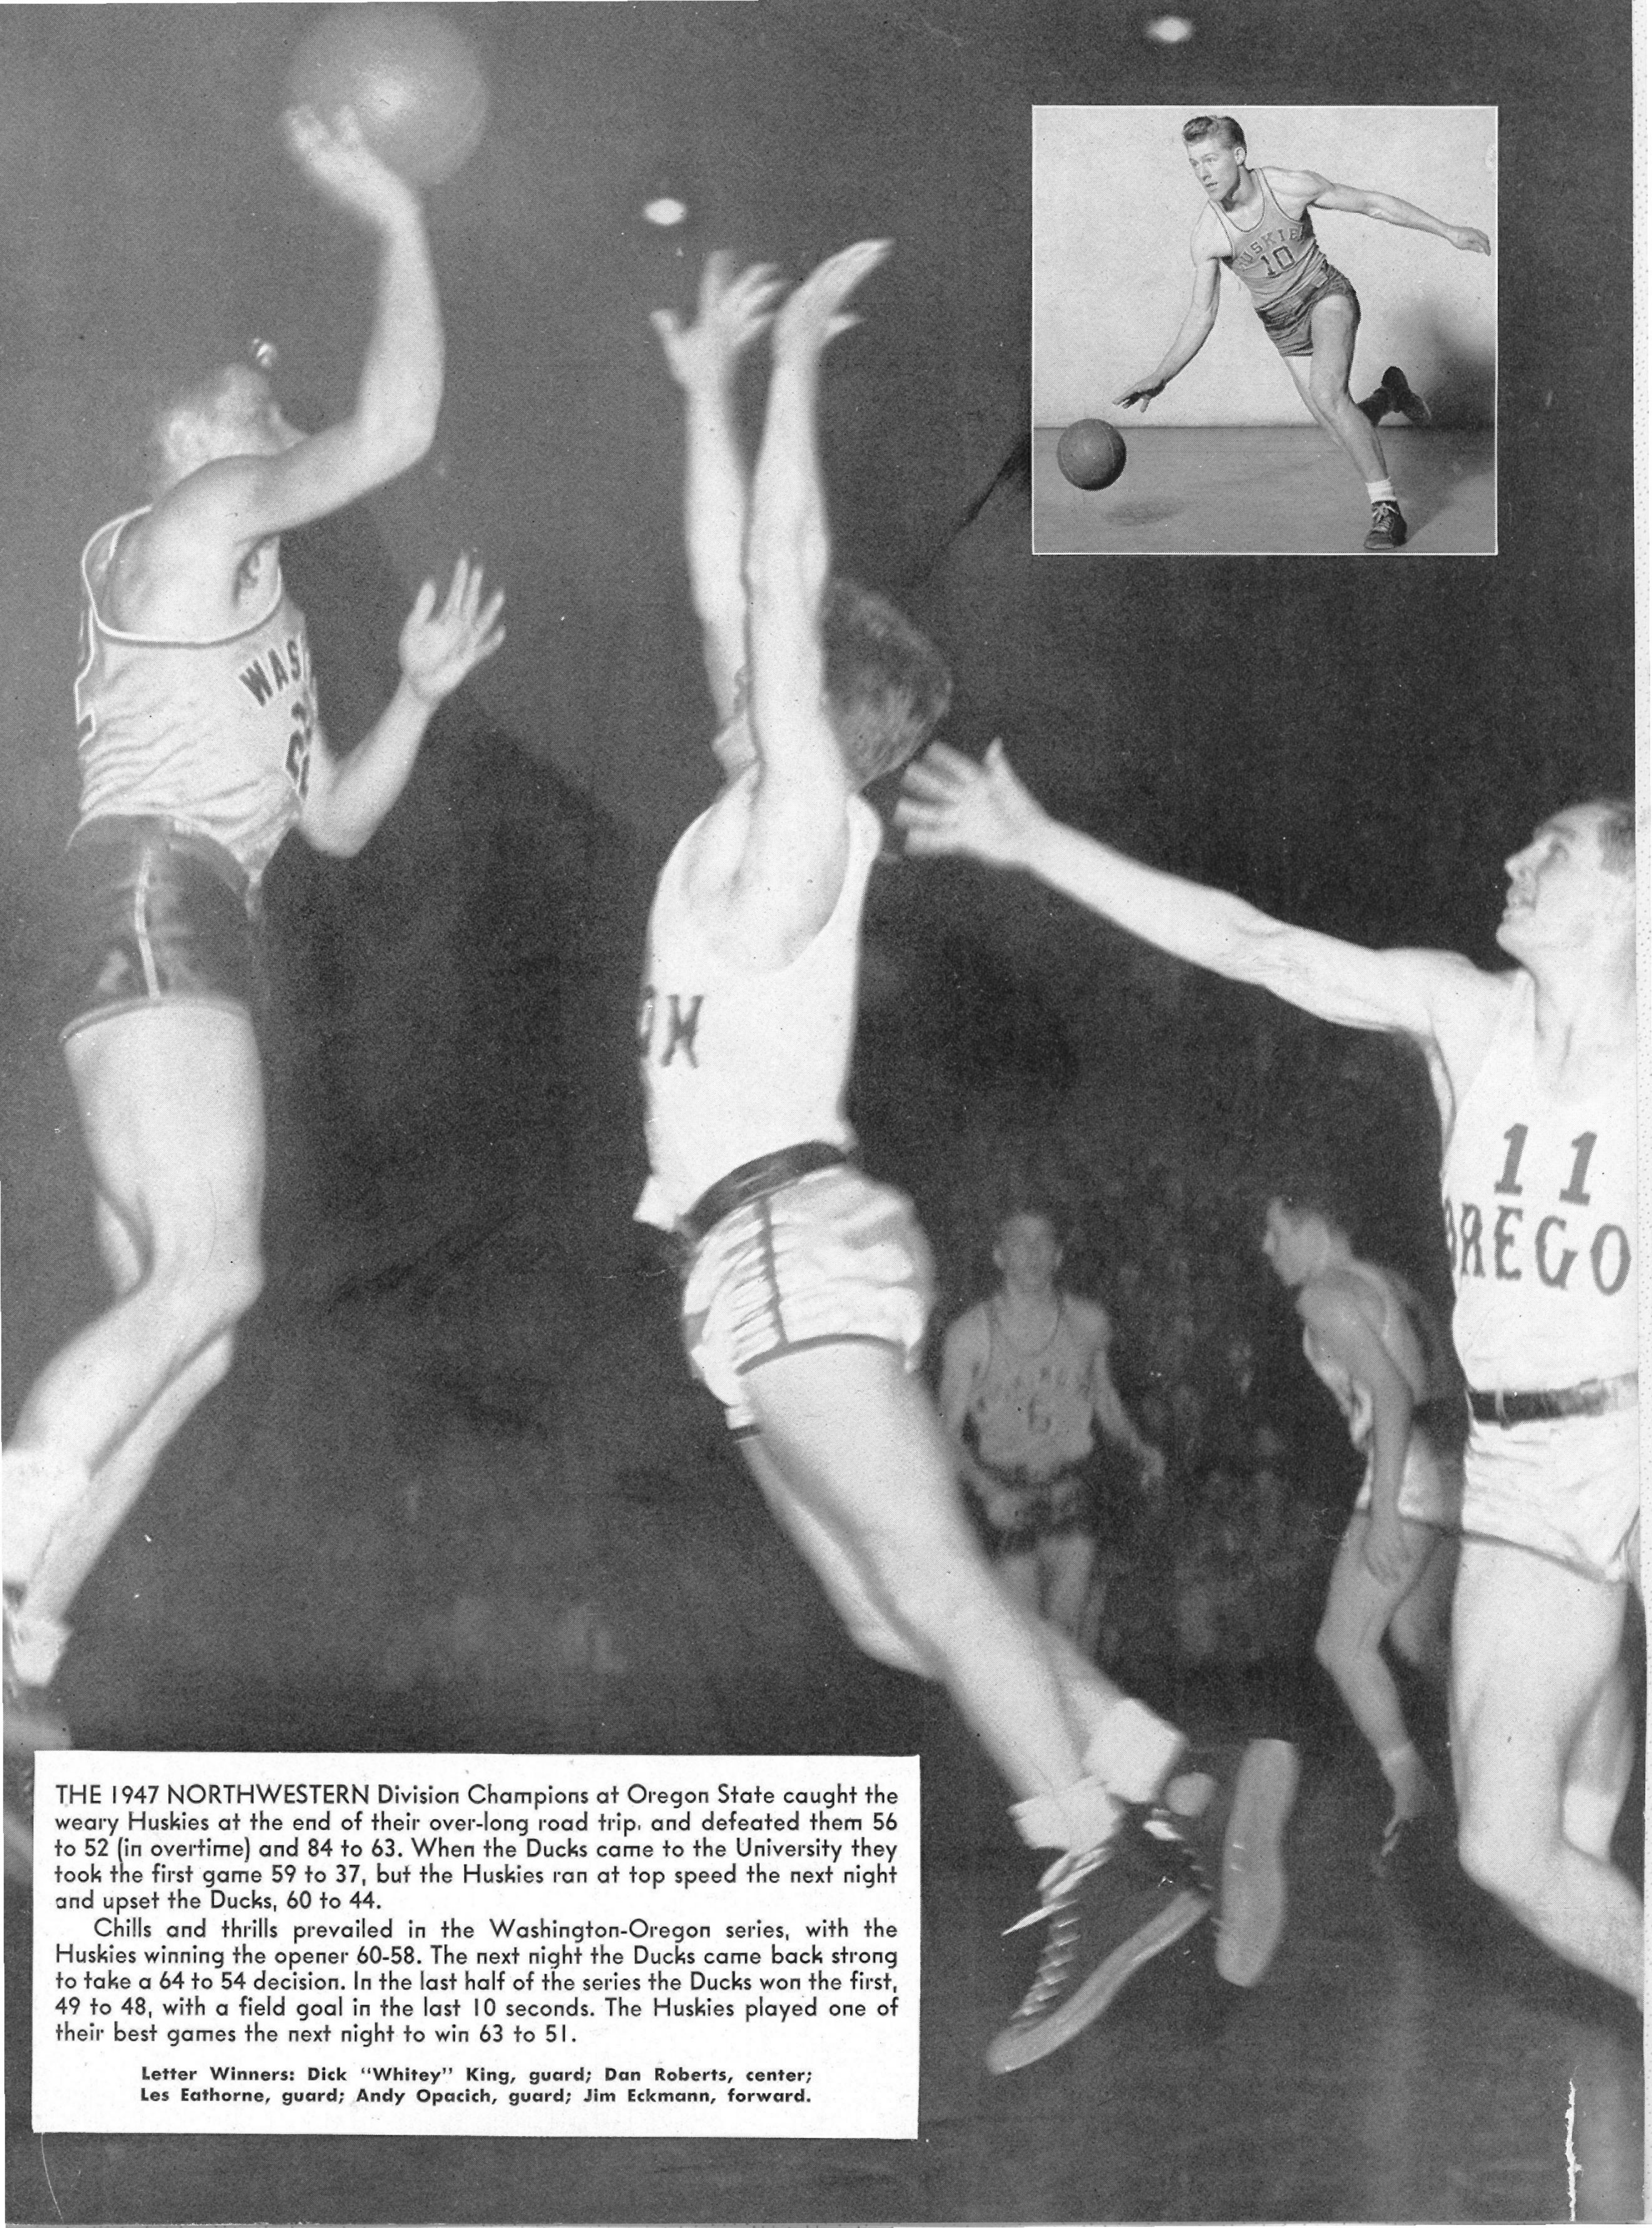

OPENING THEIR REGULAR SEASON against the Idaho Vandals, the Huskies made a clean sweep, winning 51 to 41 and 62 to 41. At Moscow they won 56 to 46 and 69 to 49.

Husky jinx this season were the WSC Cougars. At Pullman the Huskies lost 48 to 51 and 54 to 58, when they hit but 21 per cent of their shots from the floor. The Cougars took the third, 54 to 38, but lost the final, 59 to 40.

Letter Winners: Norm Carnovale, guard; Bill Vandenberg, forward; Charlie Schaeffer, forward; Jim Mallory, center; Bob Eckmann, forward.

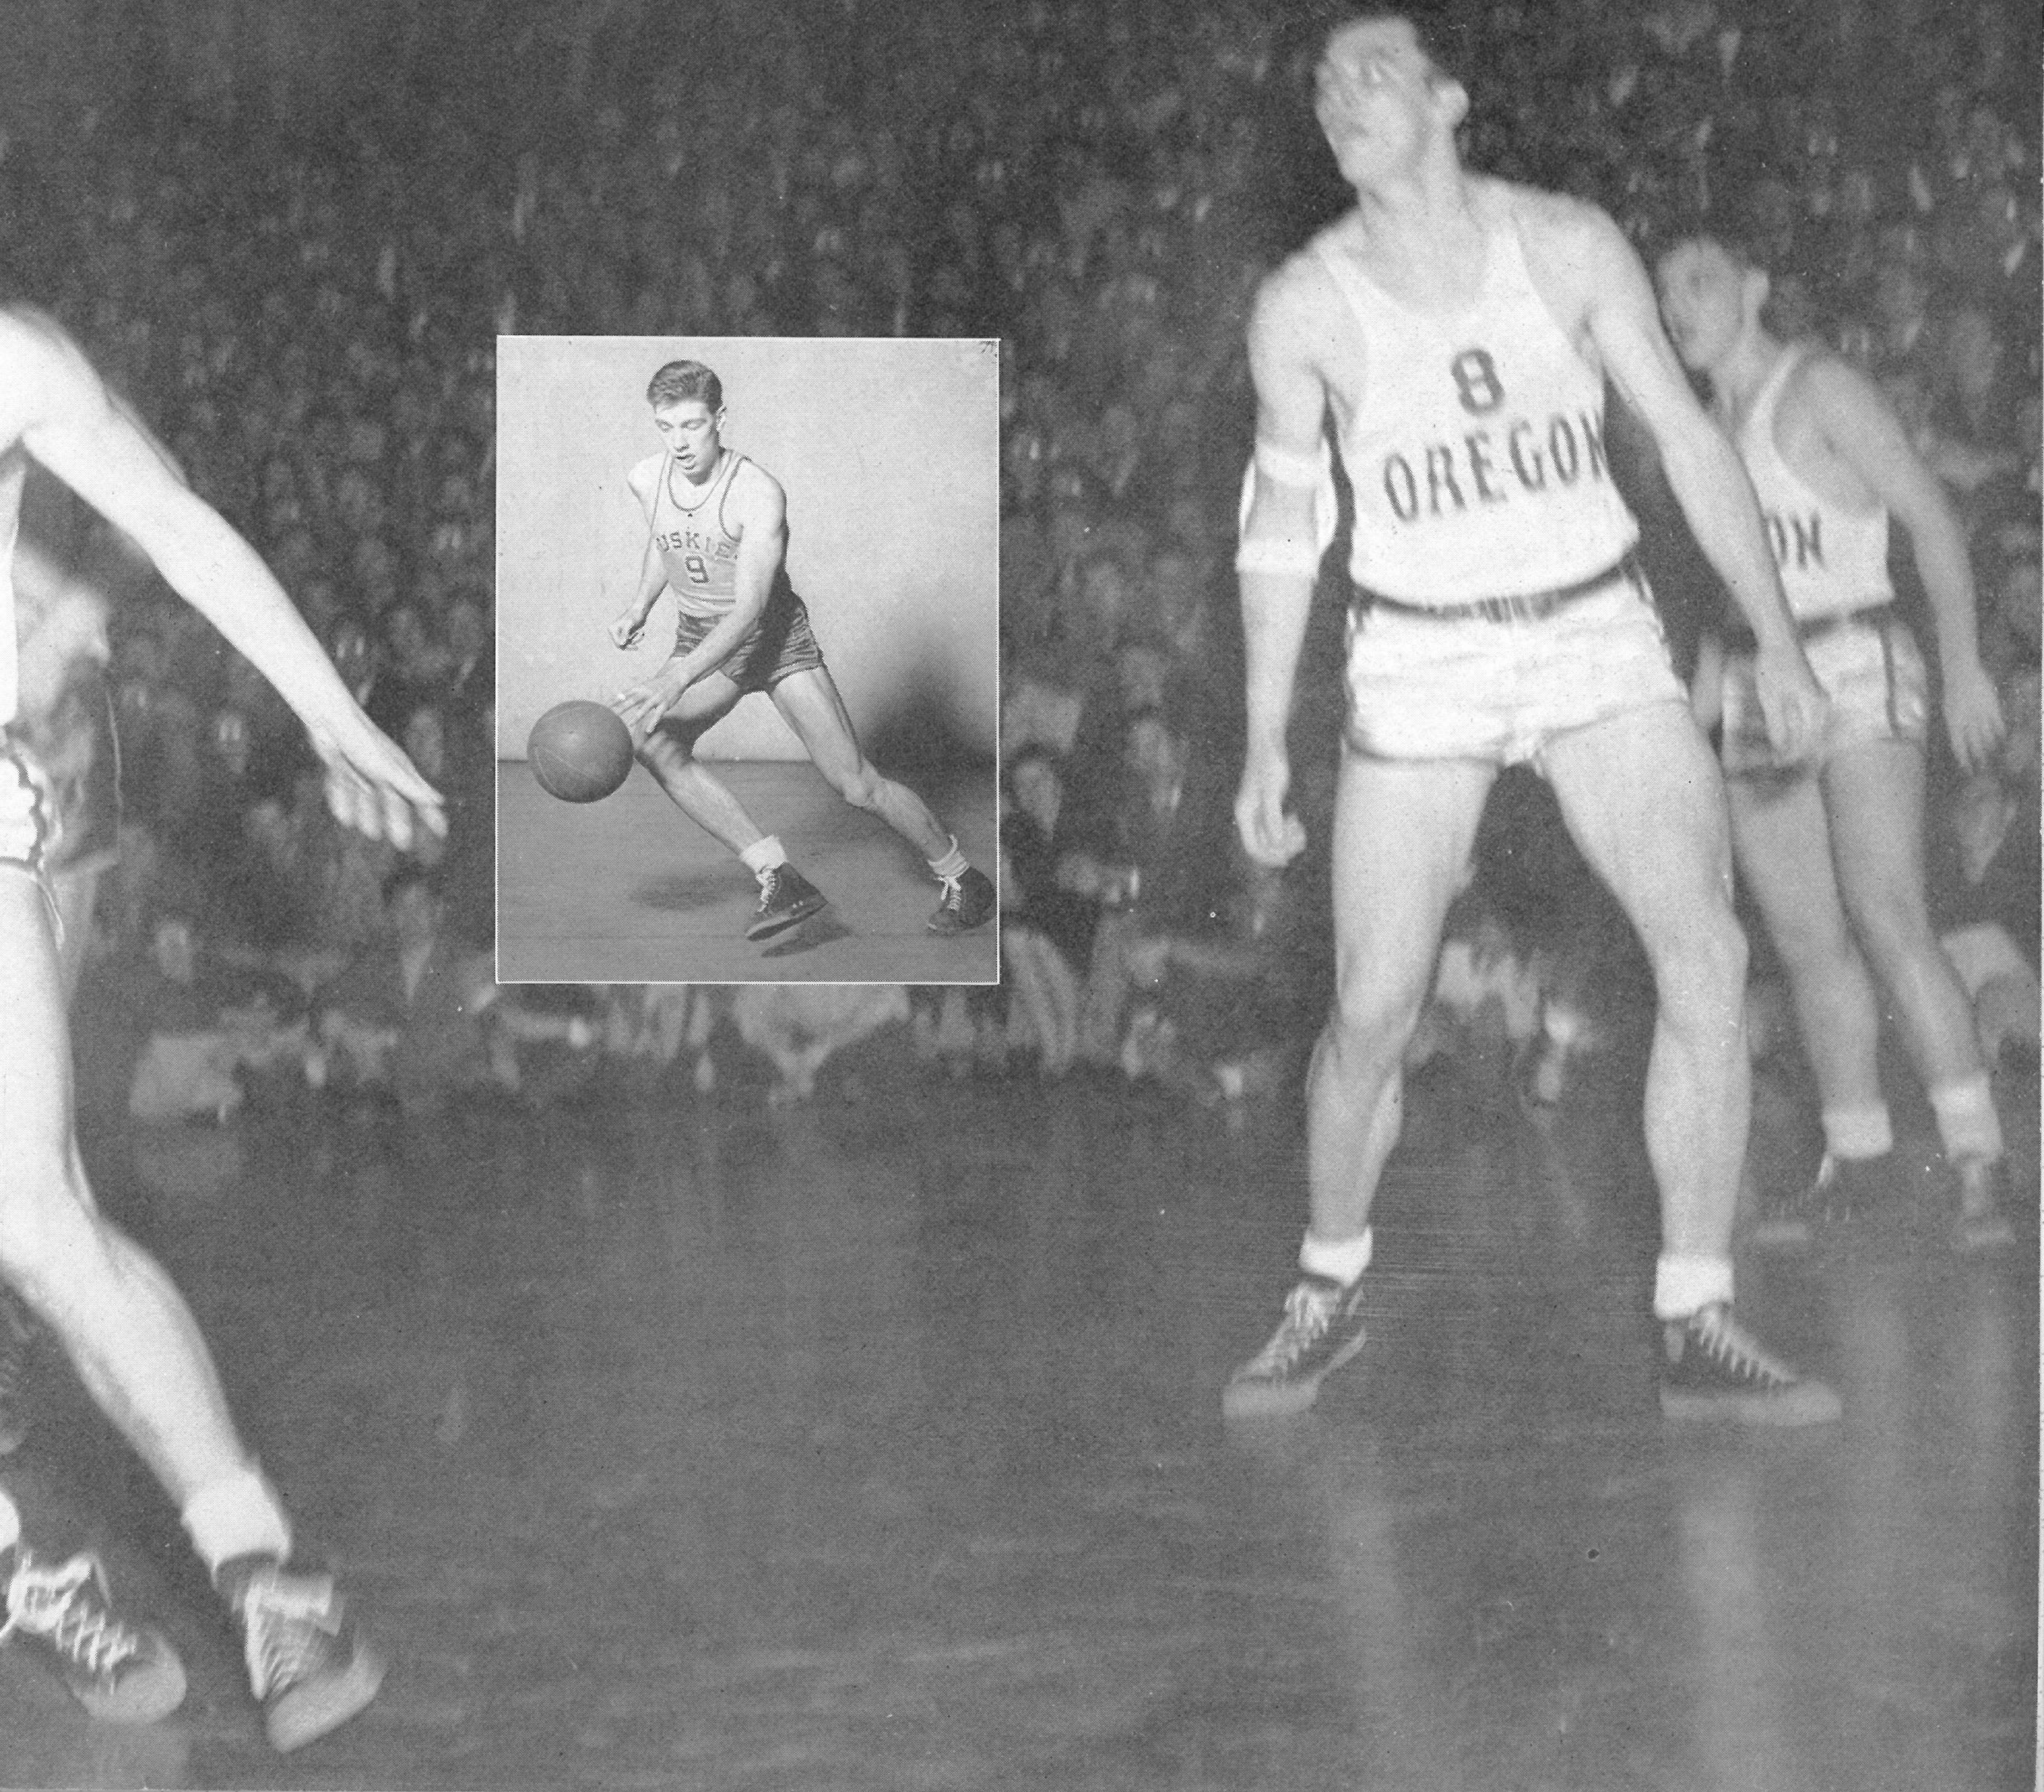

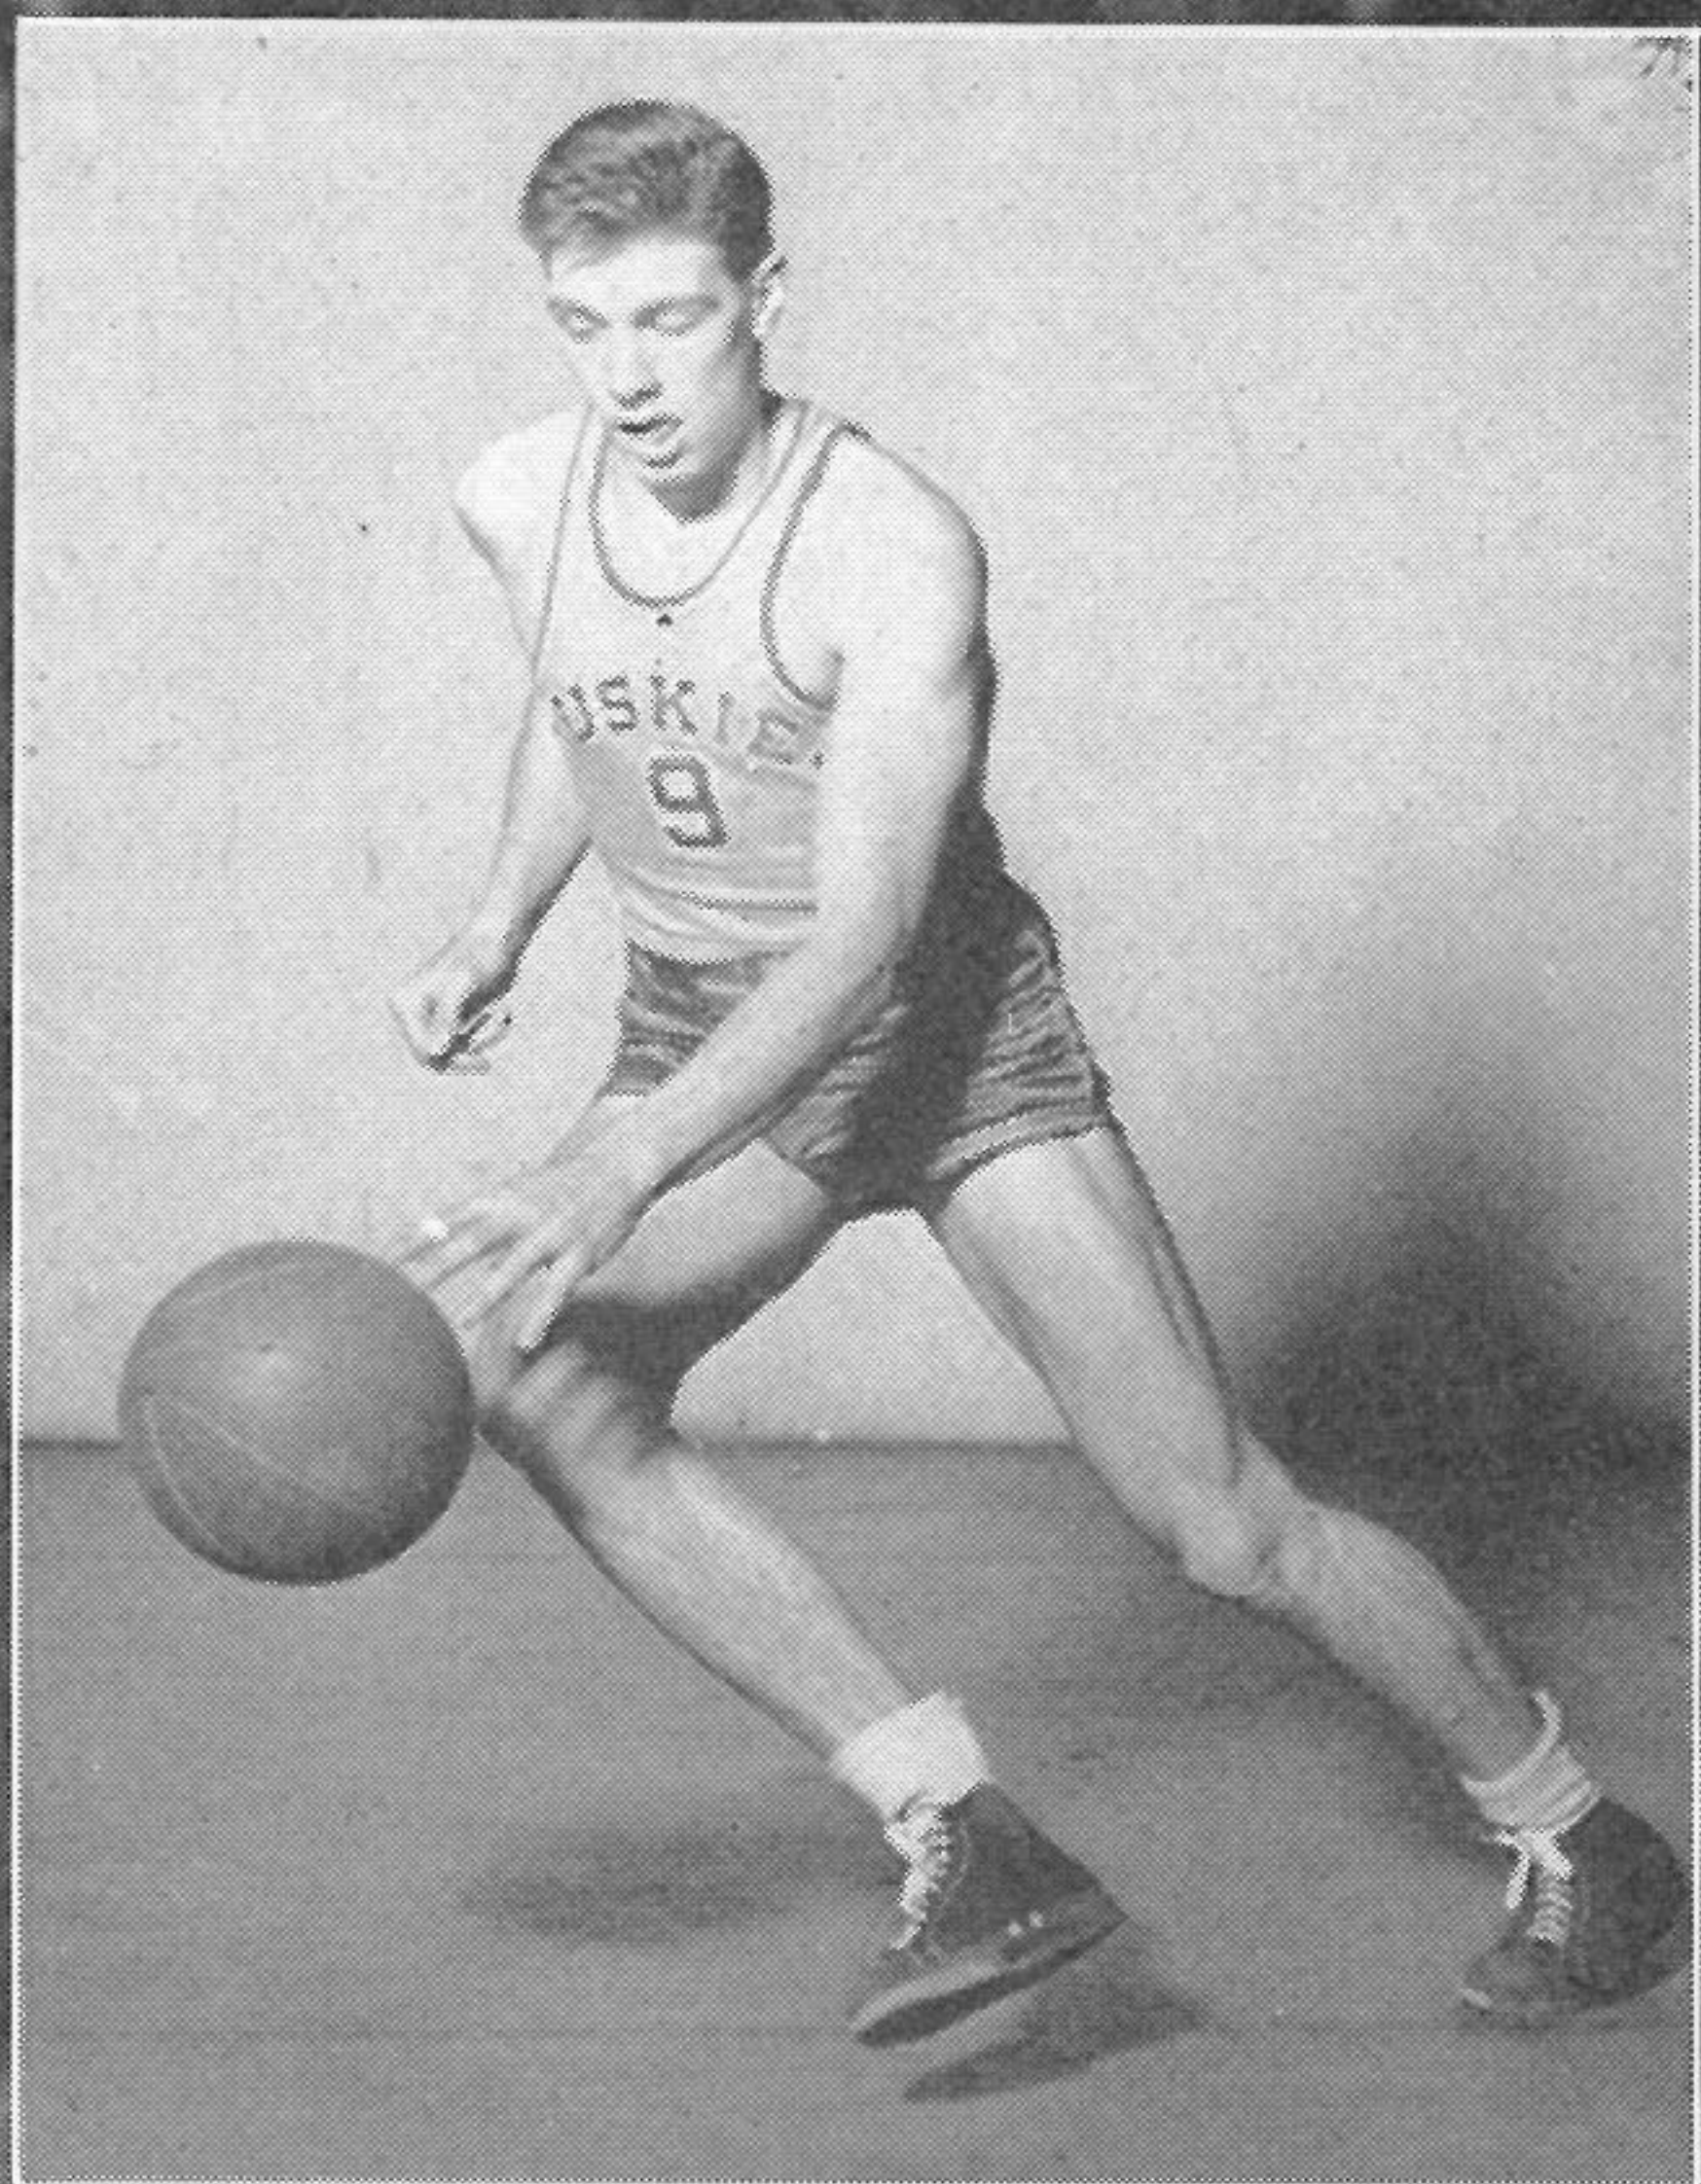

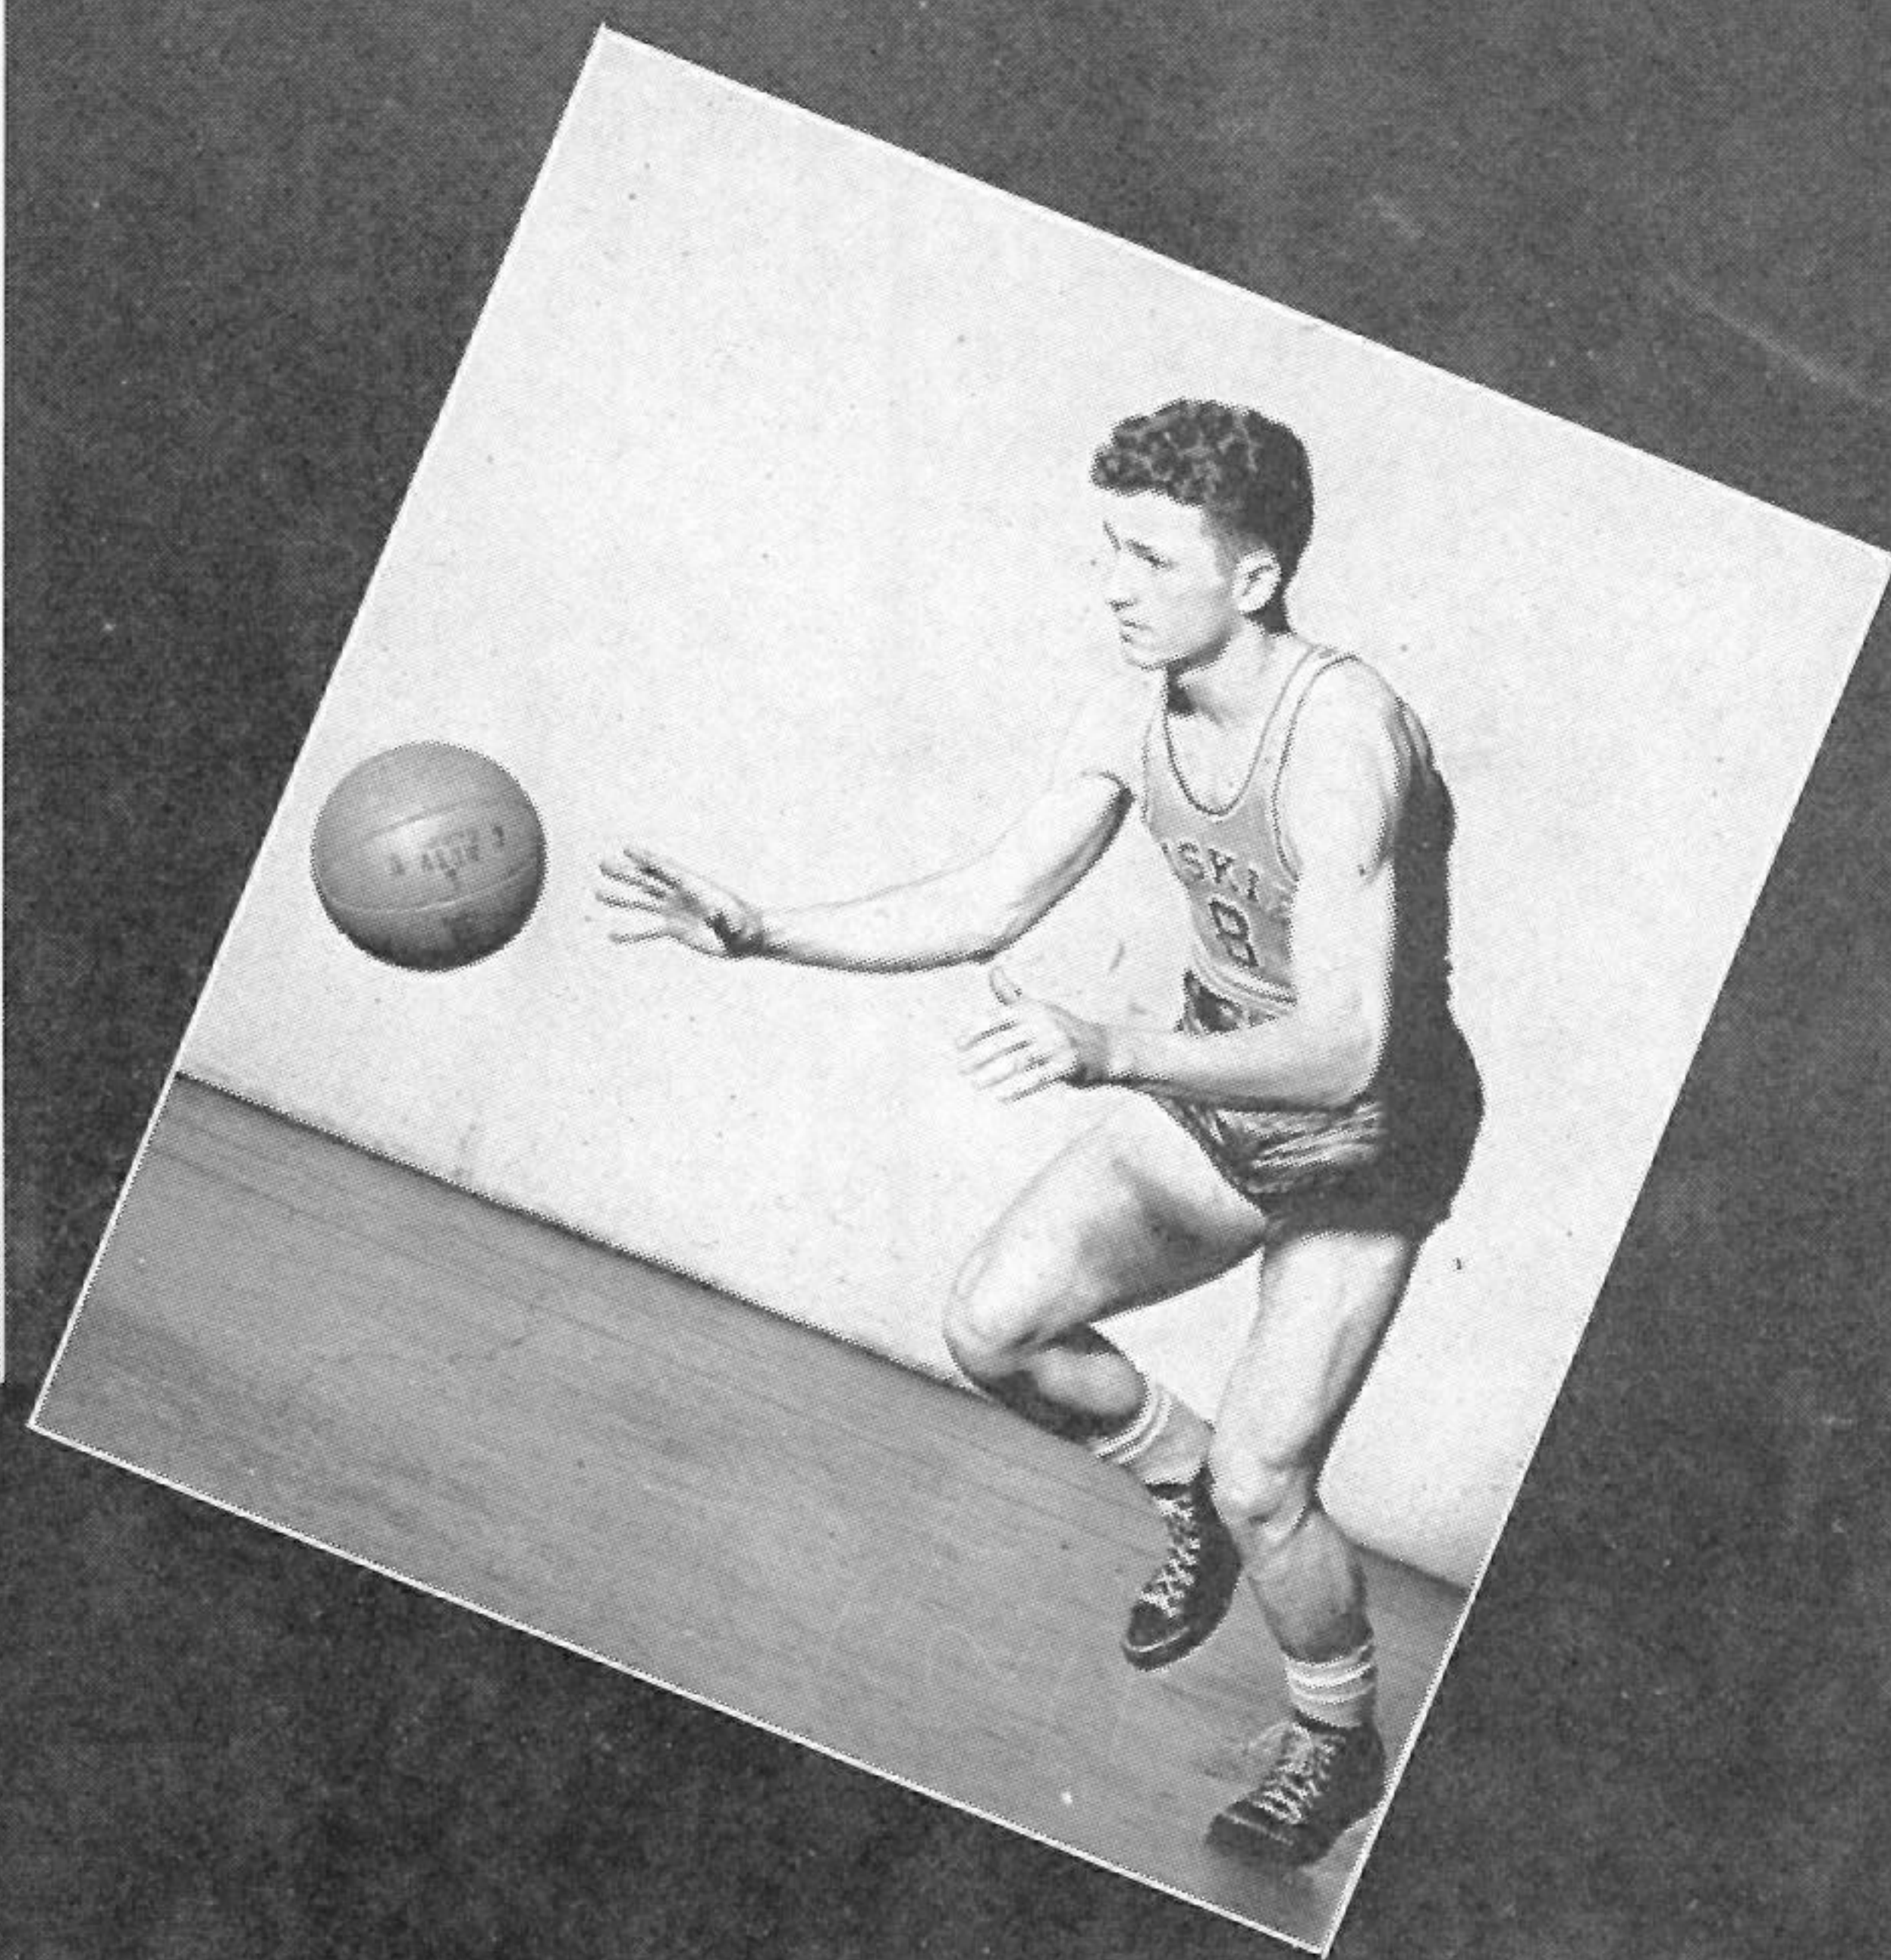

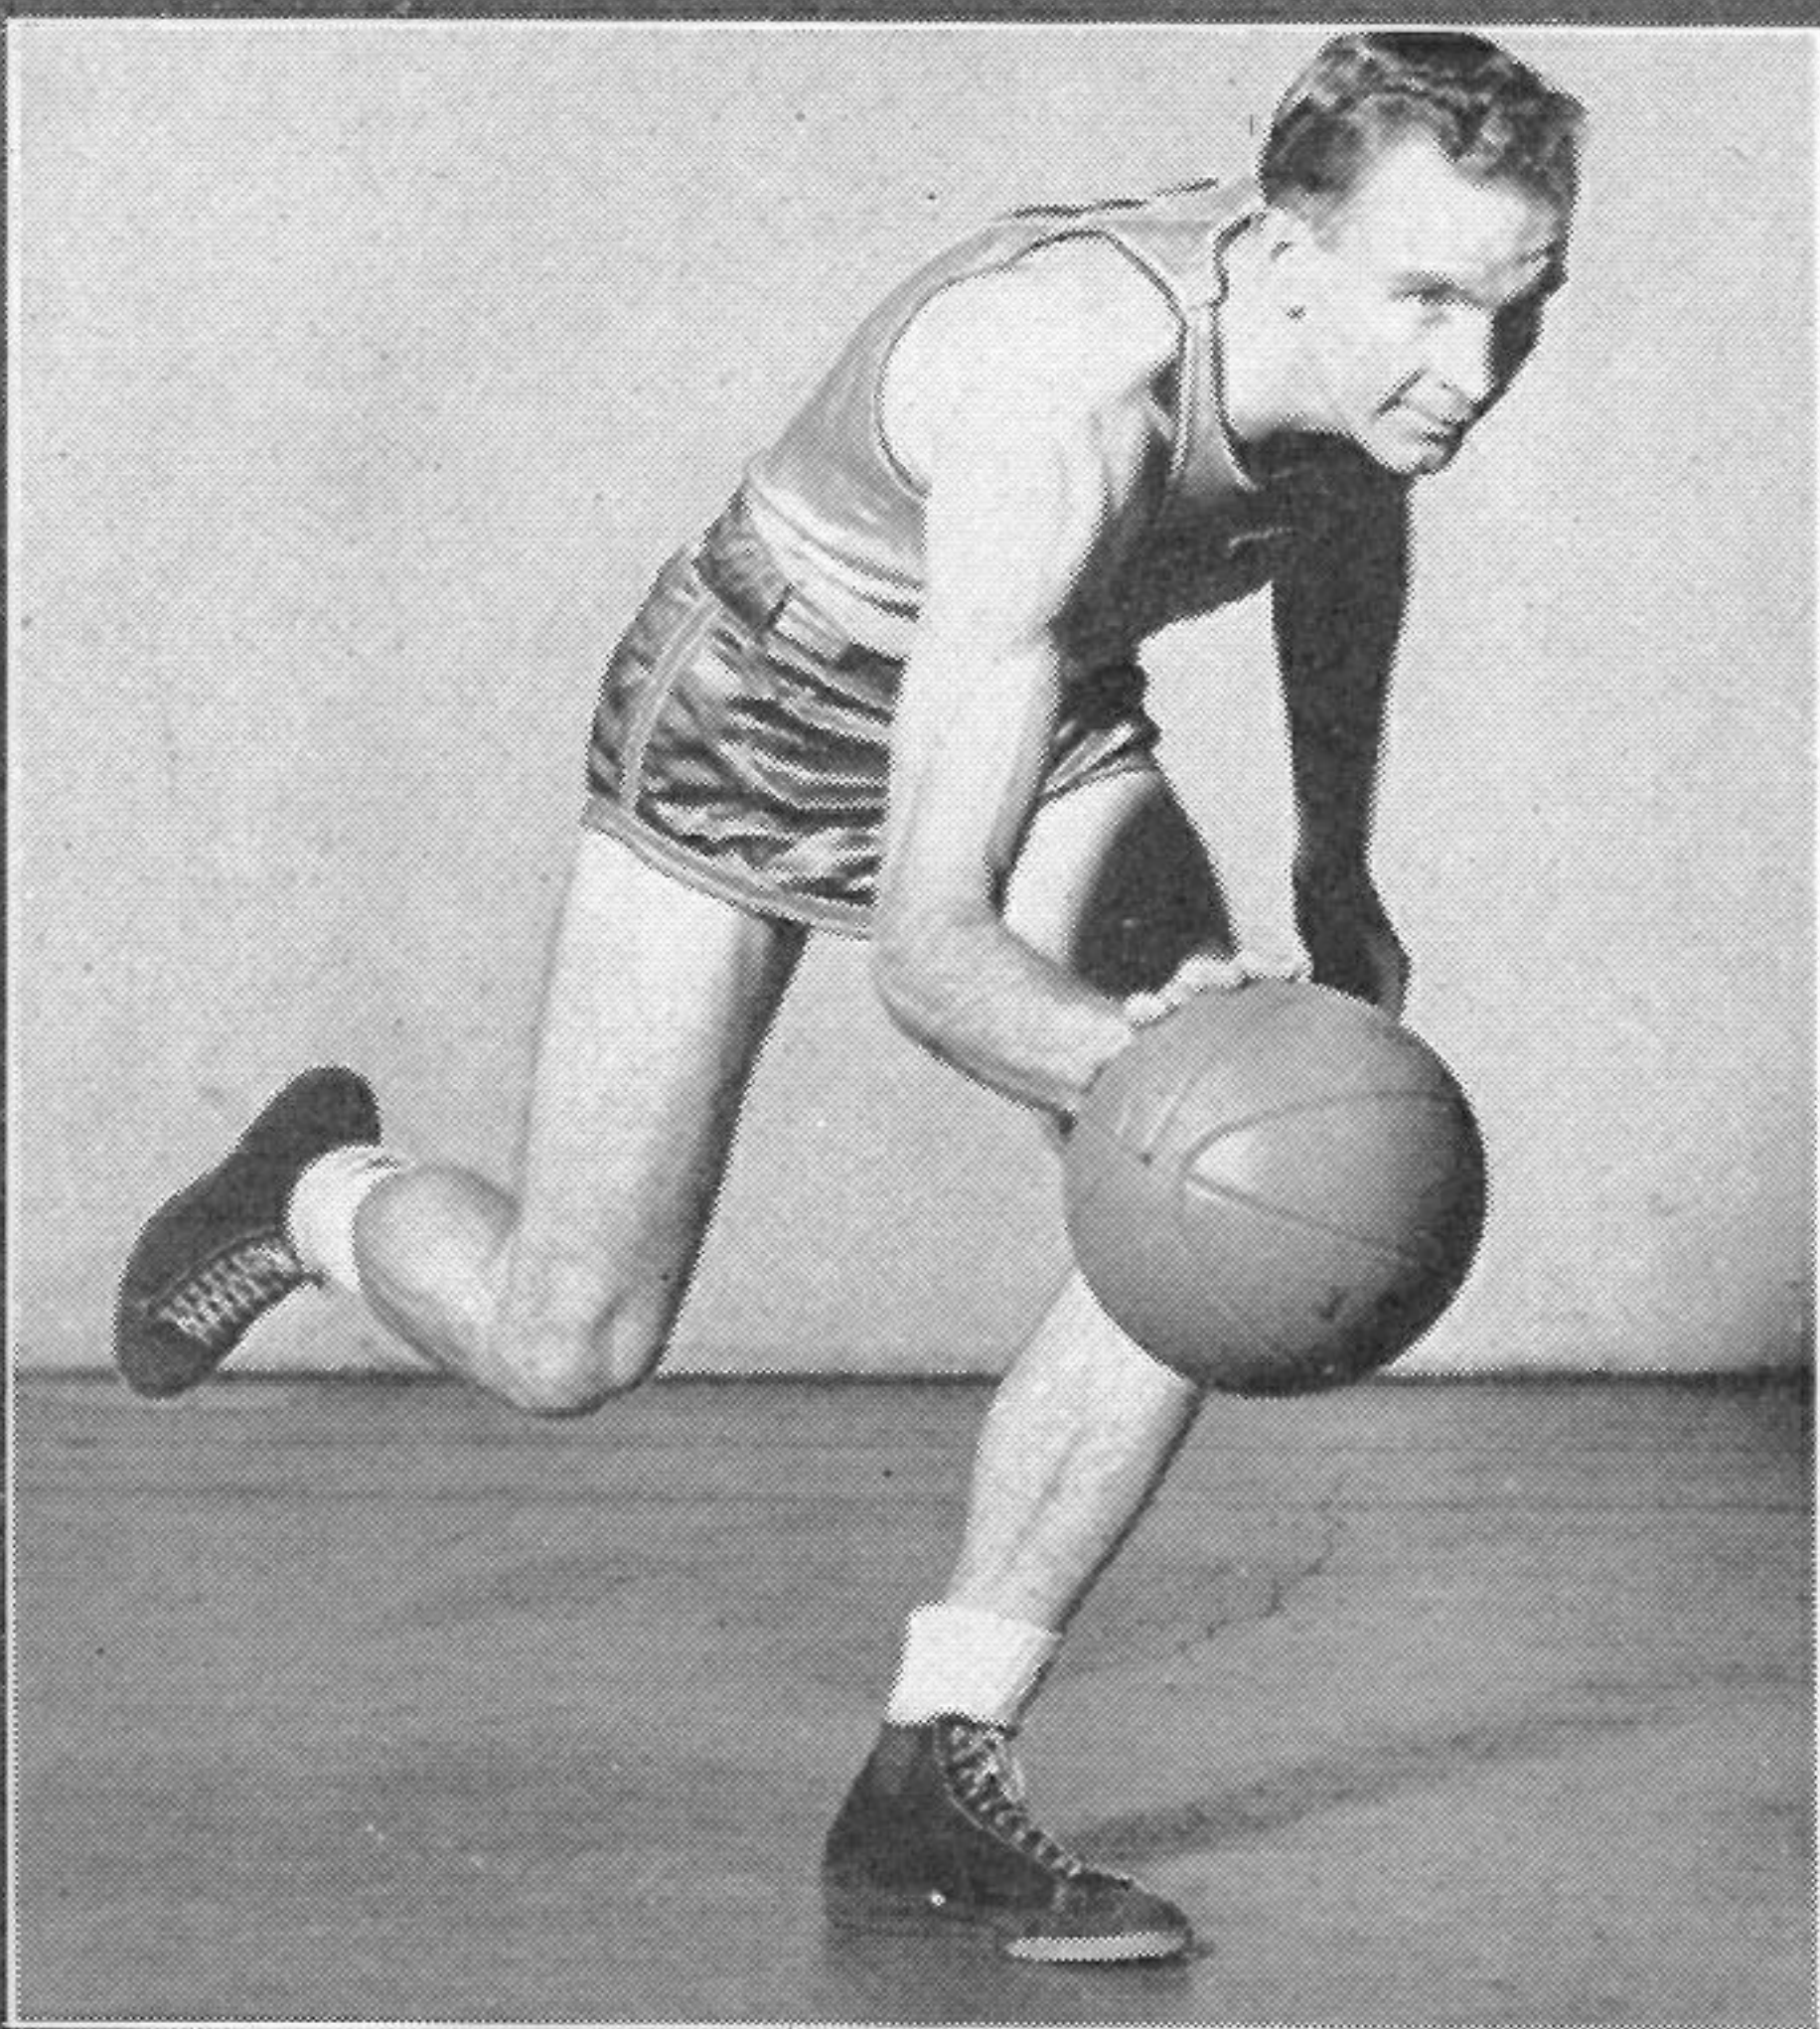

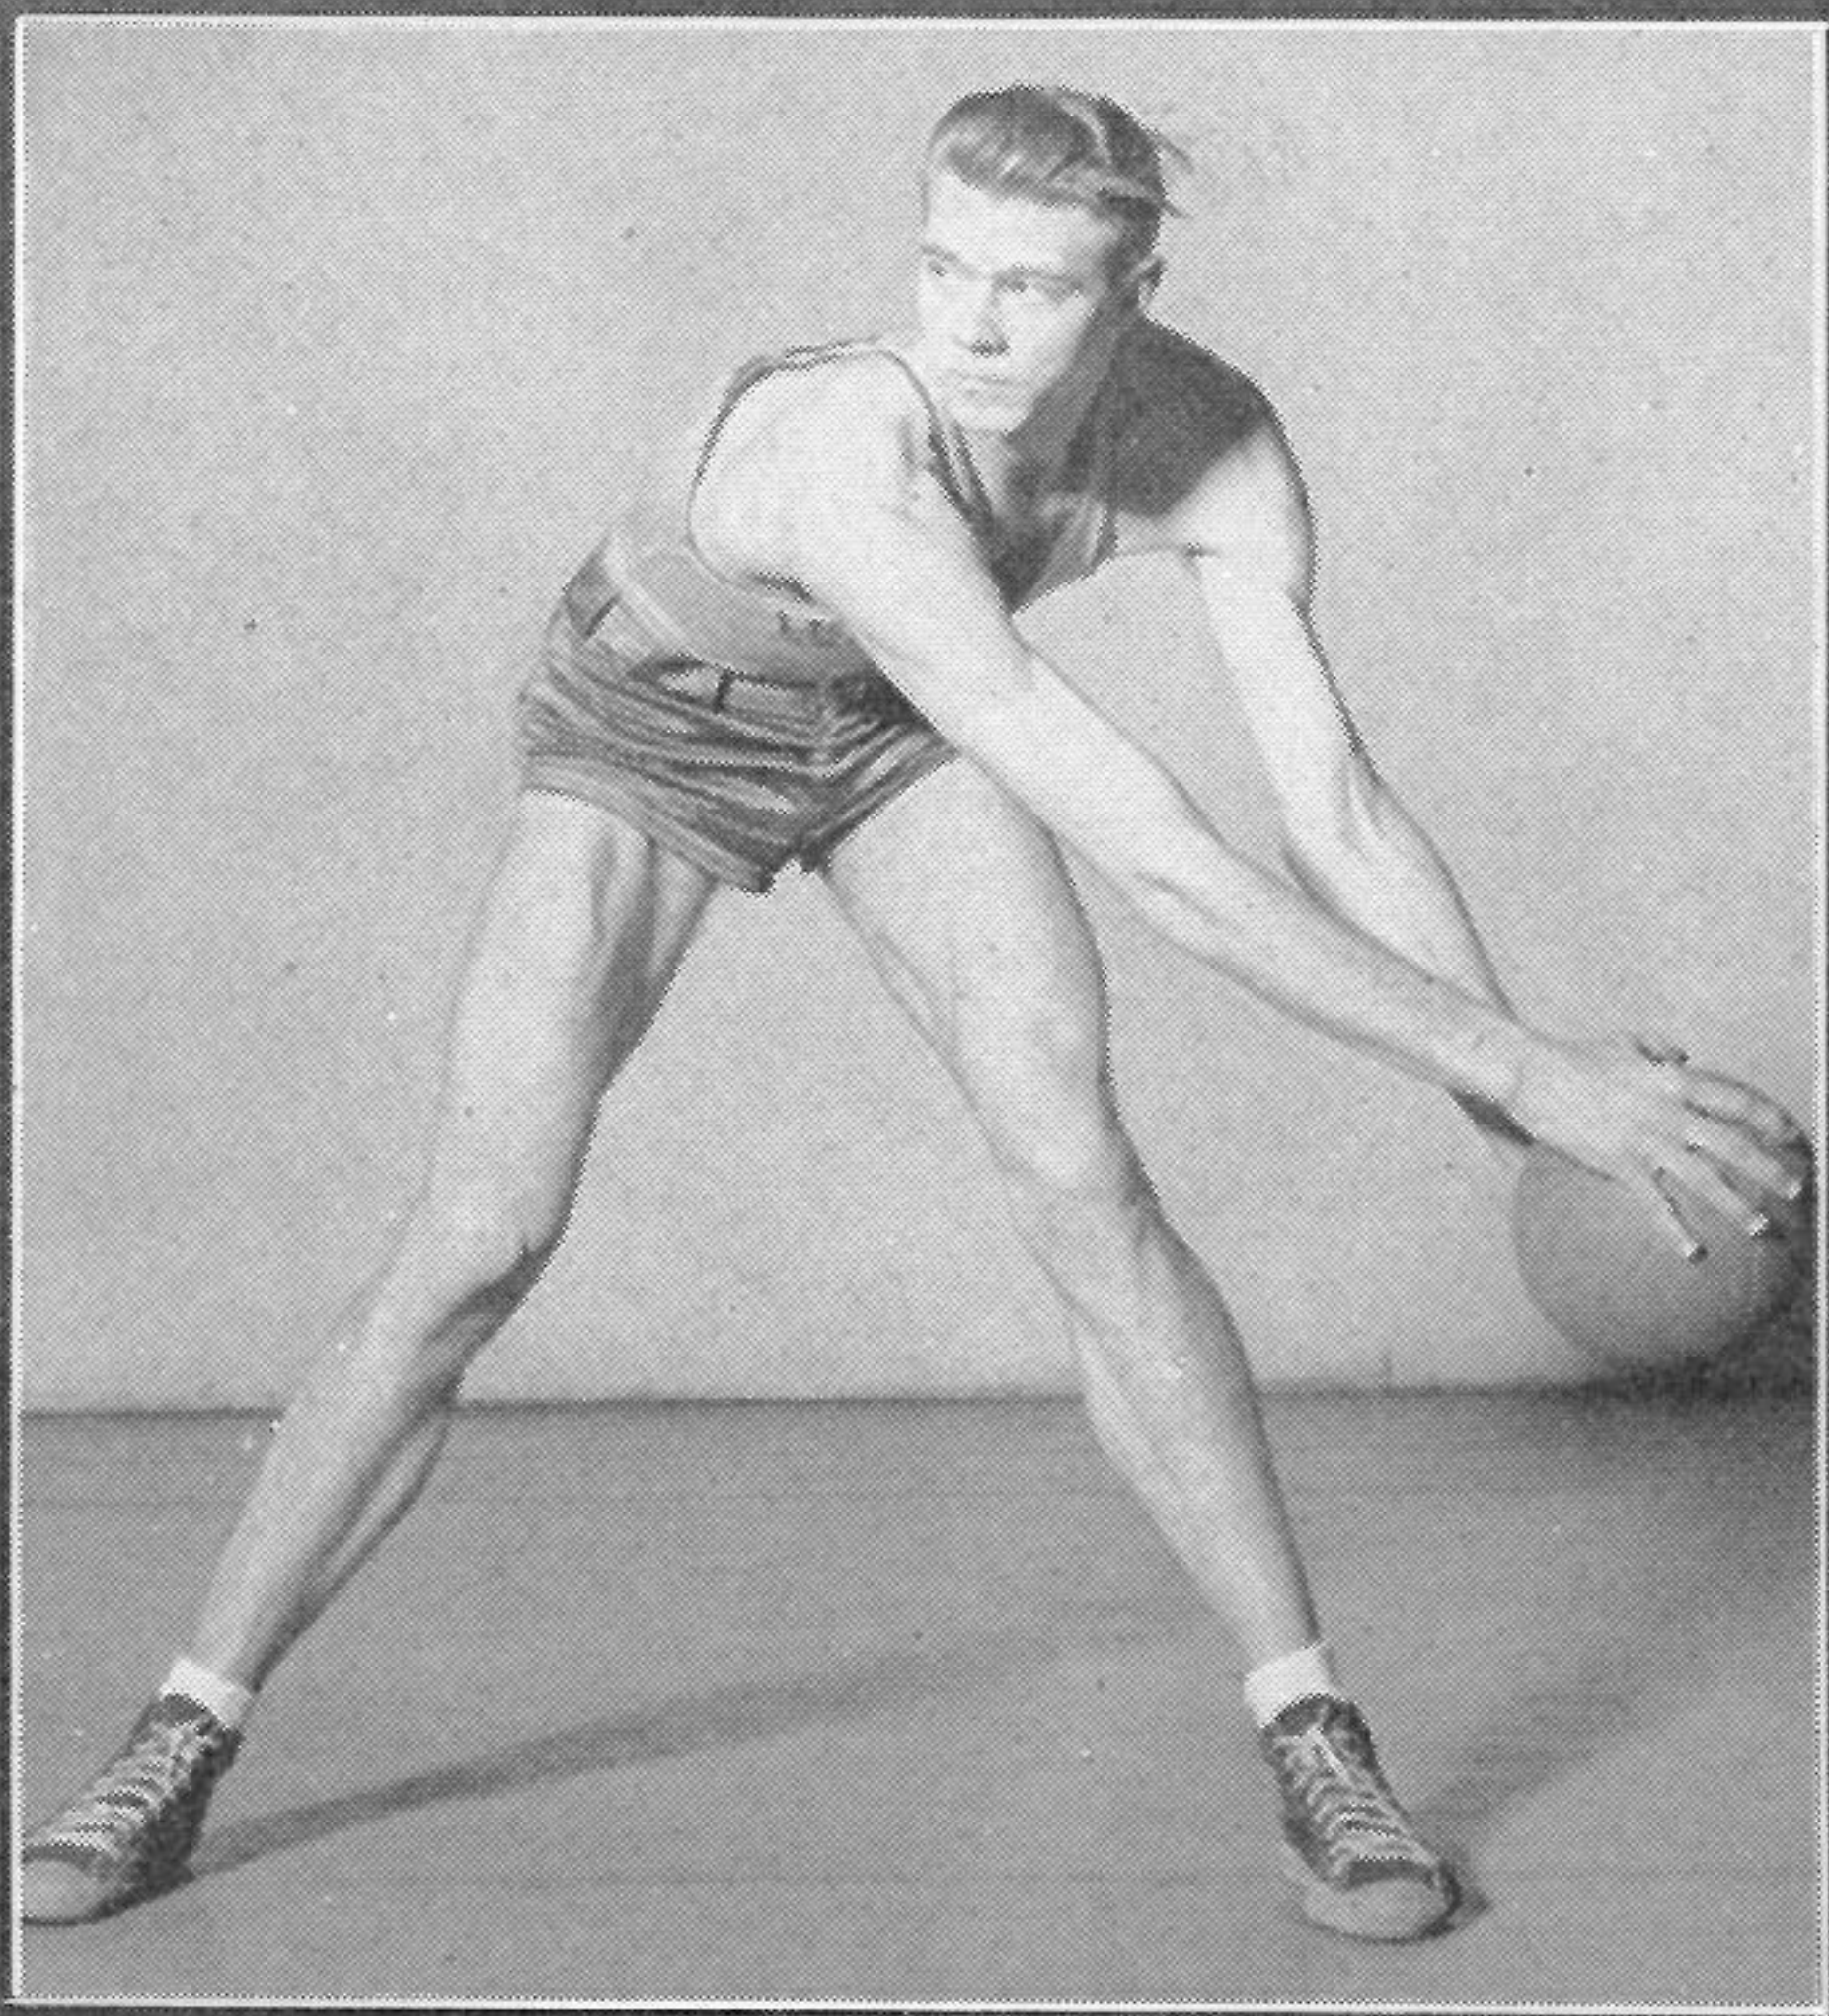

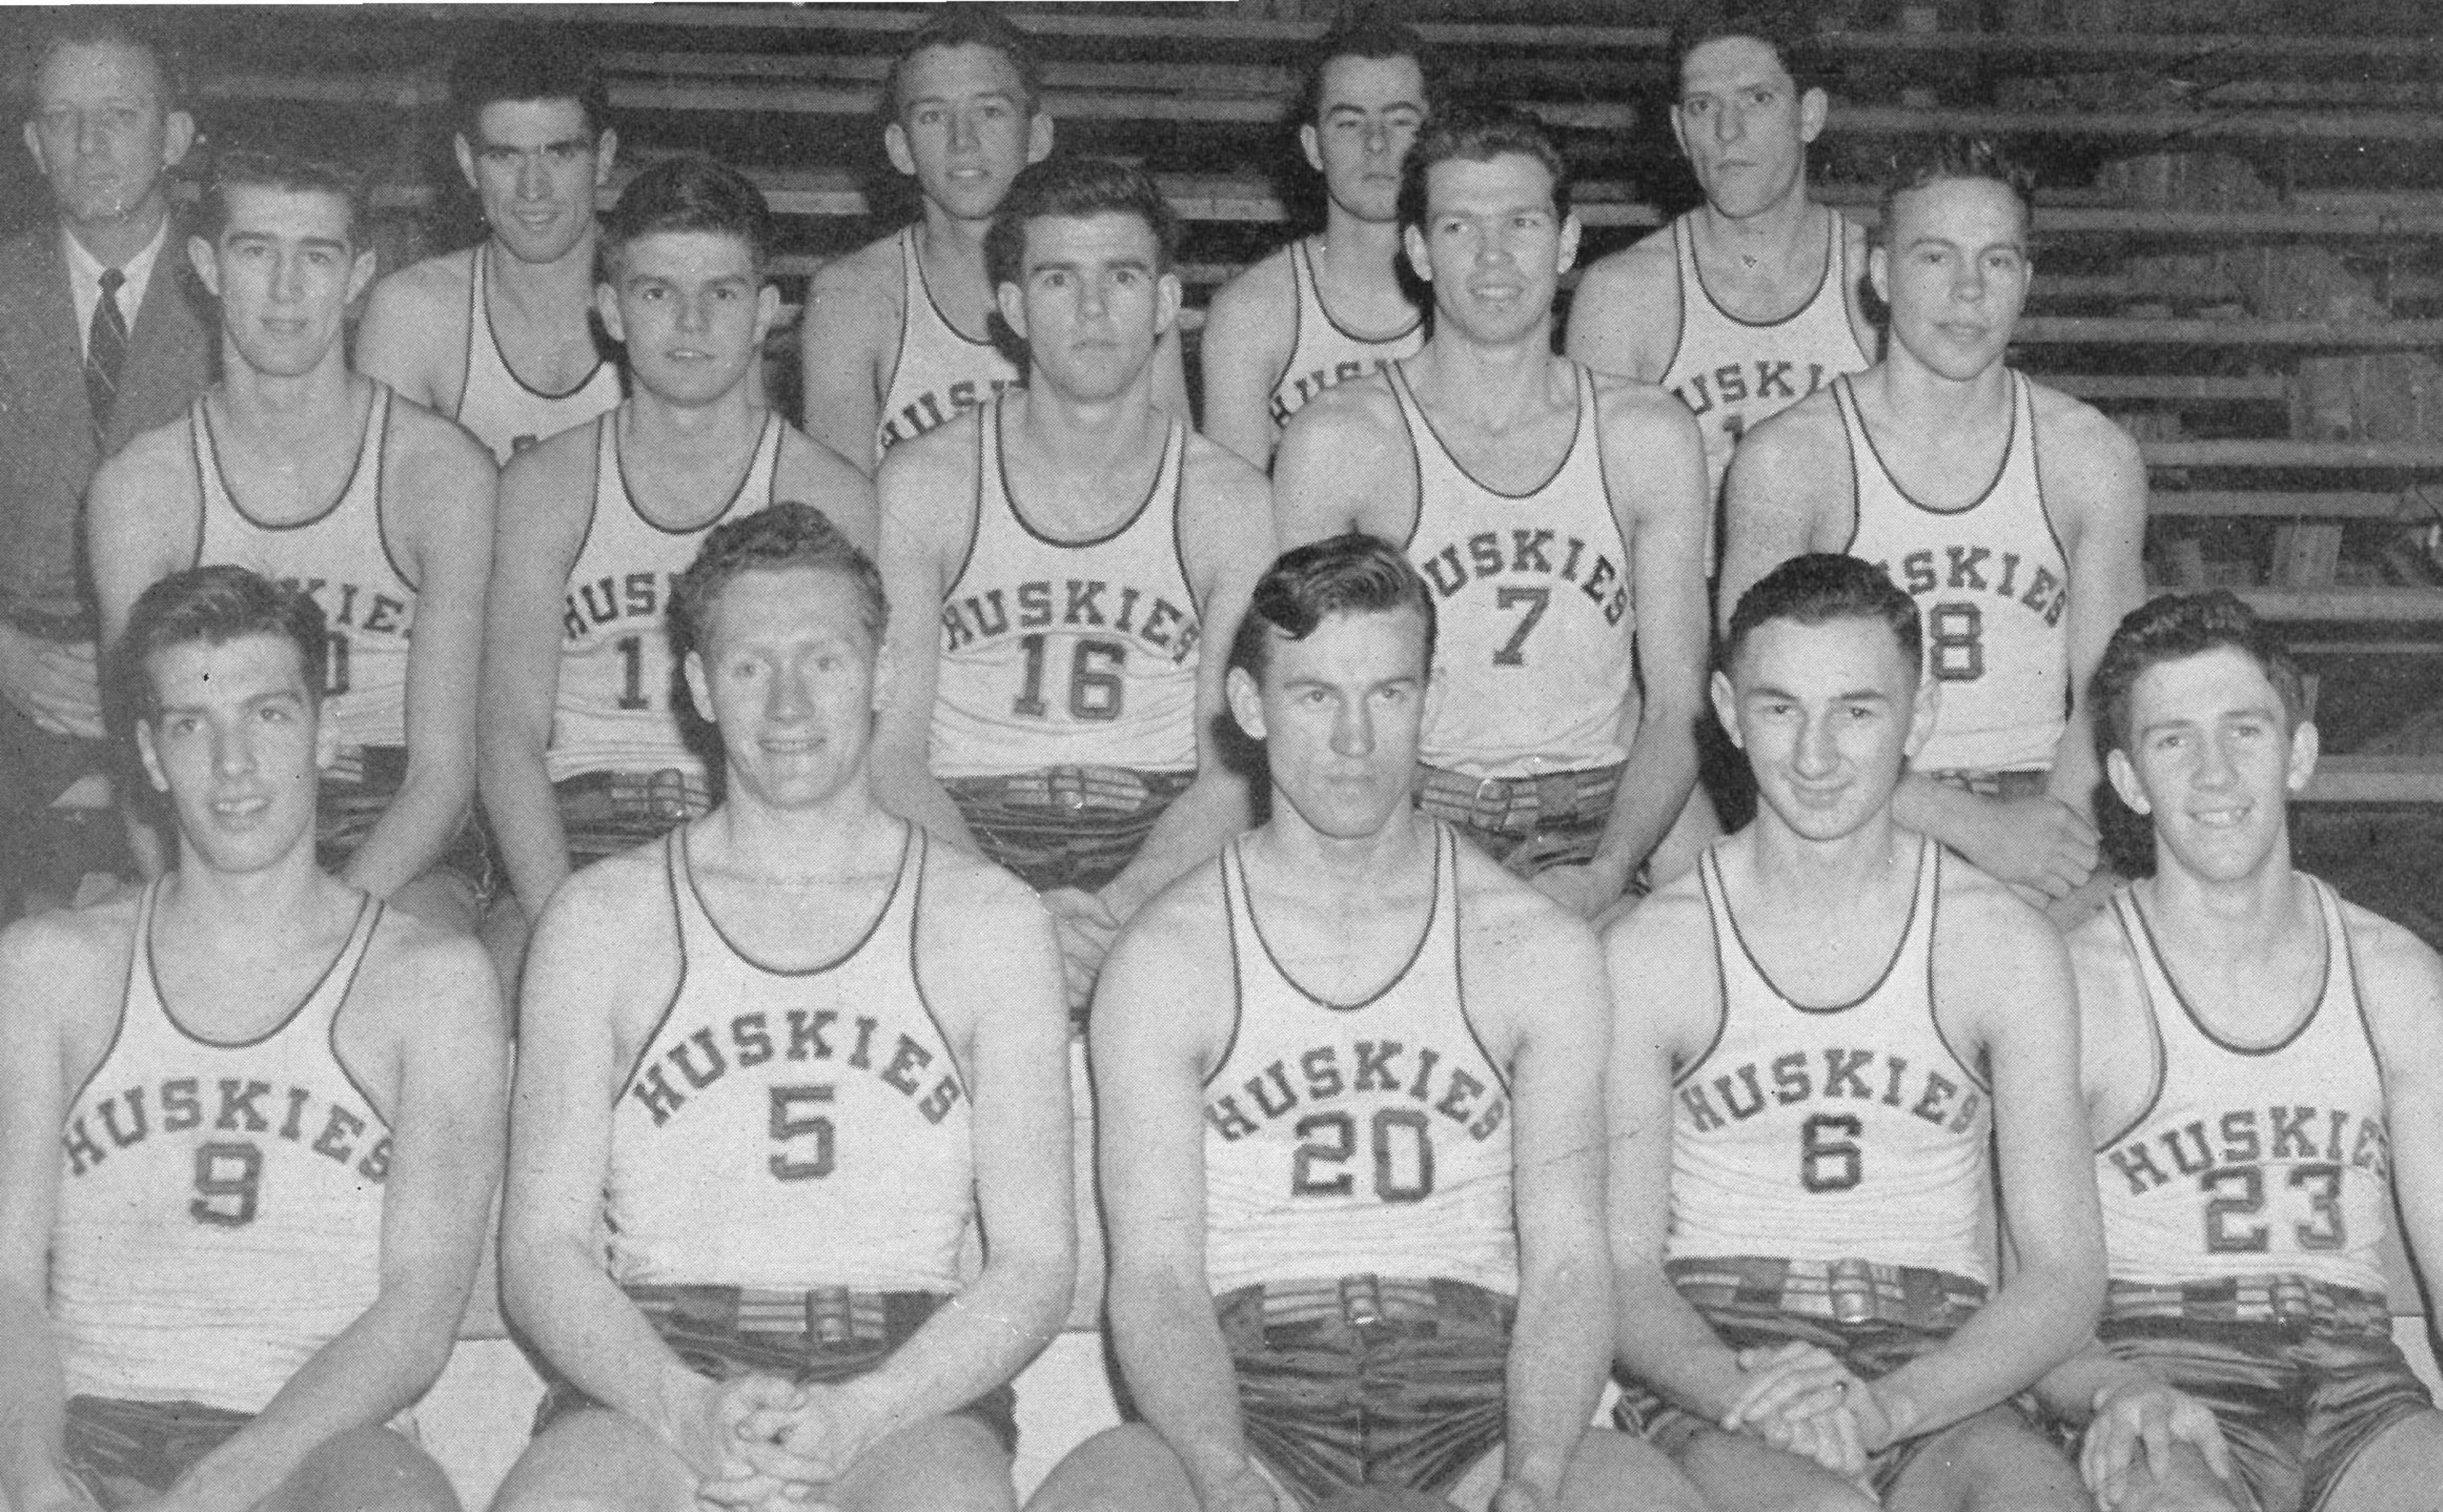

THE 1947 NORTHWESTERN Division Champions at Oregon State caught the weary Huskies at the end of their over-long road trip, and defeated them 56 to 52 (in overtime) and 84 to 63. When the Ducks came to the University they took the first game 59 to 37, but the Huskies ran at top speed the next night and upset the Ducks, 60 to 44.

Chills and thrills prevailed in the Washington-Oregon series, with the Huskies winning the opener 60-58. The next night the Ducks came back strong to take a 64 to 54 decision. In the last half of the series the Ducks won the first, 49 to 48, with a field goal in the last 10 seconds. The Huskies played one of their best games the next night to win 63 to 51.

Letter Winners: Dick "Whitey" King, guard; Dan Roberts, center; Les Eathorne, guard; Andy Opacich, guard; Jim Eckmann, forward.

COMBINE A SERIES of victories over such top flight quintets as Olympic Junior College, Everett Junior College, Victoria Dominoes and the Marine Recruiting aggregation with a final 41-40 decision over the Collins Field house team and you have a description of the performance of the University of Washington's squad.

With a line-up consisting of Jelly Anderson and Tom "Tiger" Ward at the forward positions; Al Kean and Norm Carnovale at the guard slots; and Al Blindheim at center, the Jayvees opened their season with decisive triumphs over Seattle Pacific College, Marine Recruiting and Matheny and Bacon. Then followed a setback in a return game with the Recruiting quintet. The loss was followed by wins over the Adhesive Products team and Fort Lawton.

Then began a series of slaughters, with the Everett Junior College falling 60-33, and the Victoria Dominoes 49-40. The Fort Lewis Warriors, Everett Junior College, Port Townsend All-Stars and Port Angeles Locals were next to be overpowered. But Central Washington College of Education trounced the Pups 74-58 at Ellensburg.

McLarney's men closed their season with two straight wins over Grays Harbor, another decision over Matheny and Bacon, and their final 41-40 verdict over the Collins Fieldhouse team.

THE HUSKIES went through seven straight meets without a single setback, easily taking the Northern Division crown at the end of the season. The first two meets, non-conference bouts, revealed champion power in the making, with the Huskies trimming CPS 46-29 and Victoria YMCA 38-31. Four dual meets were walkaways, with the Washington squad walloping OSC, Oregon, Idaho and WSC, 65-10, 57-18, 59-16 and 45-29 respectively. The championship meet proved to be all-Washington, the Huskies taking eight of nine first places.

RECORD SMASHERS

THIS YEAR'S TEAM has broken and now holds four of eight possible Pacific Coast Conference swimming records. George Heaney, Bud Hill and Pete Powlison swam the 300-yard medley relay against Idaho in 2:59.3, breaking a seven-year-old mark set by USC. Powlison and Heaney each boast a record. Powlison holds the 100-yard free style record, swimming it in 51.8 in the title meet; Heaney, the 150-yard backstroke, completed in 1:30.1 in the preliminaries for the title round. Powlison teamed with Jay Follrich, Pete Lee and Bob Trager for the fourth mark, a 3:36.0 swimming of the 400-yard free style relay, broken while meeting with Idaho. Powlison again holds the Northern Division record for the 50-yard free style, going this distance in 23.3. Of the other three Conference events, Washington, in the person of Champion Jack Medica, lays claim to two more Division marks. Medica holds the 220 and 440-yard free style marks which he set in 1934.

AT THE CLOSE of the first post-war track season, Washington's Huskies found themselves barely edged out of the Northern Division championship. Handicapped by the injuries of two sure-point winners, Lyle Clark and Lee Schlosser, the Purple and Gold were topped by Oregon State College's 32 points, compared to Washington's $31\frac{1}{2}$ and Oregon's $31\frac{1}{10}$ tallies.

In the other meets of the year, the Huskies were victorious over Oregon State College, $70\frac{2}{3}$ to $59\frac{1}{3}$. Once again the home town men came out on the long end of the score, this time over the Oregon Ducks, 75 to 55. "Hec" Edmundson's men took one on the chin from Washington State's Cougars to the tune of $69\frac{1}{2}$ to $61\frac{1}{2}$.

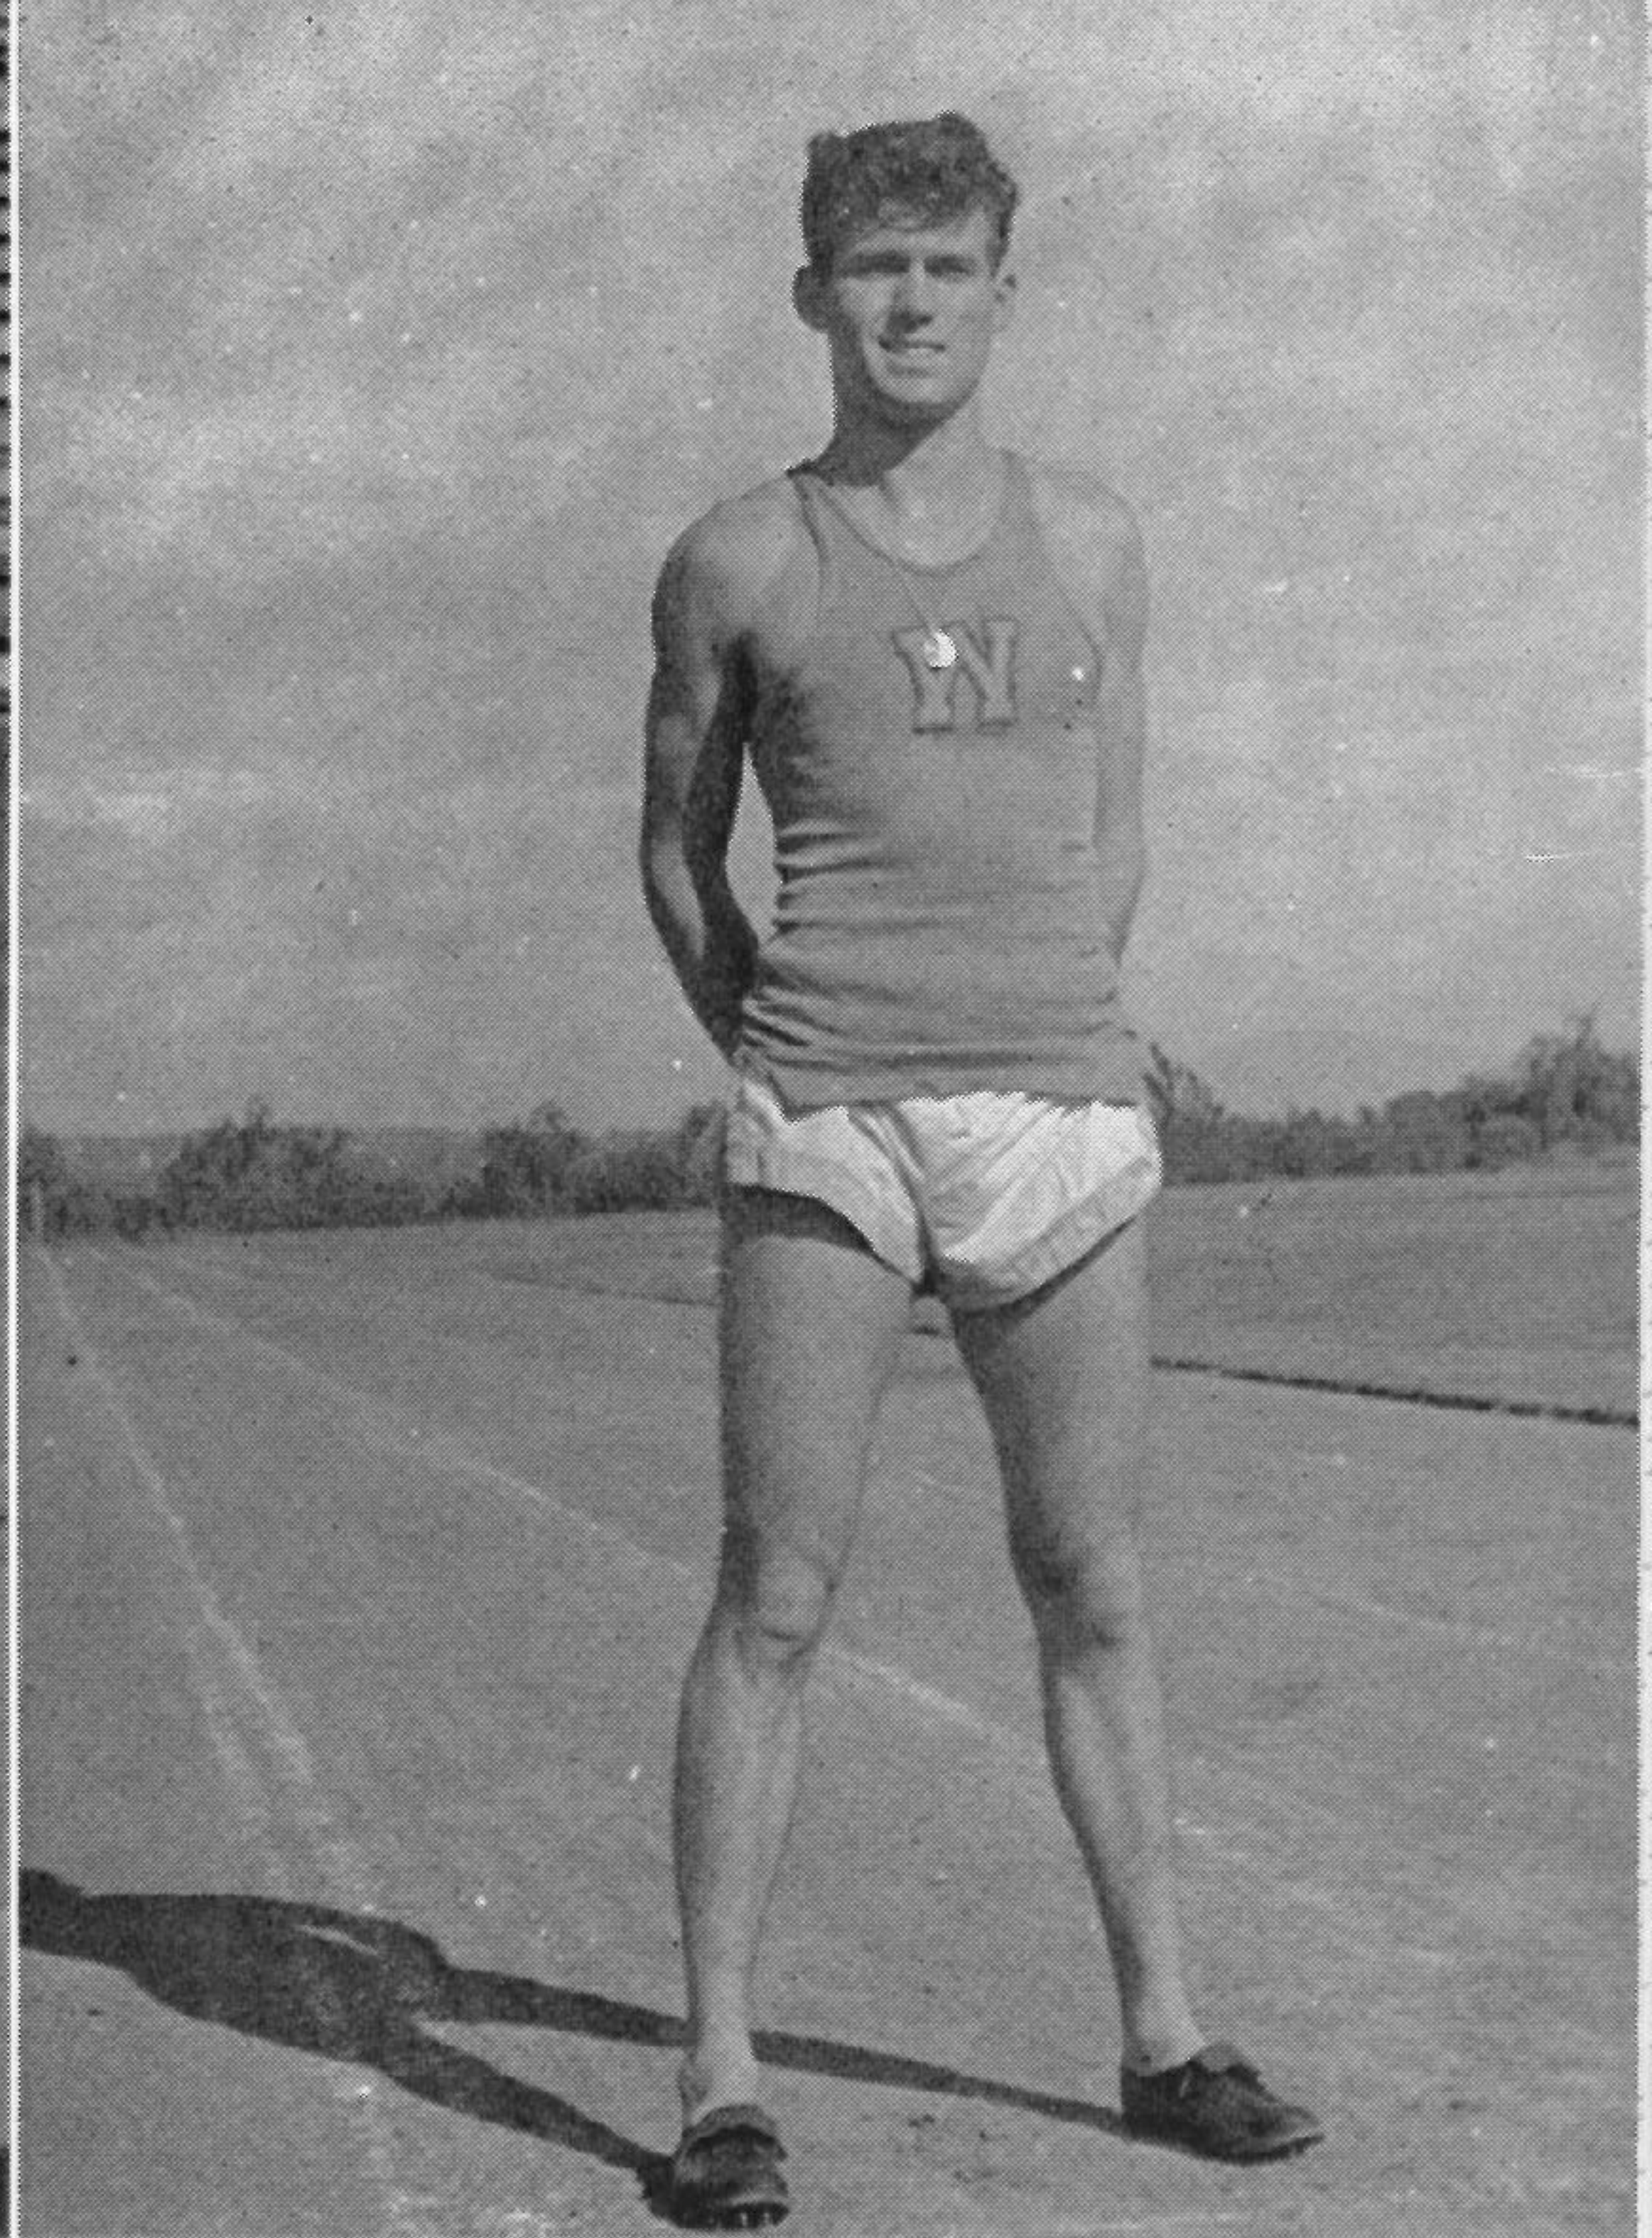

Several of the Huskies came through with some fine performances during the course of the season. Lyle Clark won the high hurdles in the WSC meet. Don Wold took a second in the mile run in the National Collegiate Meet at Minneapolis, Minnesota. Clark took sixth at San Antonio.

BY COPPING nine first places plus a sweep of the 120-yard high hurdles, the Huskies dammed the Oregon Beavers by 11-1/3 points with the final score standing at 70-2/3 to 59-1/3.

Washington made a clean sweep of the Oregon country by out-running the Oregon Ducks, 75 to 55, with Lyle Clark winning both high and low hurdle events. His high hurdle time of 14.8 seconds set a new dual meet record.

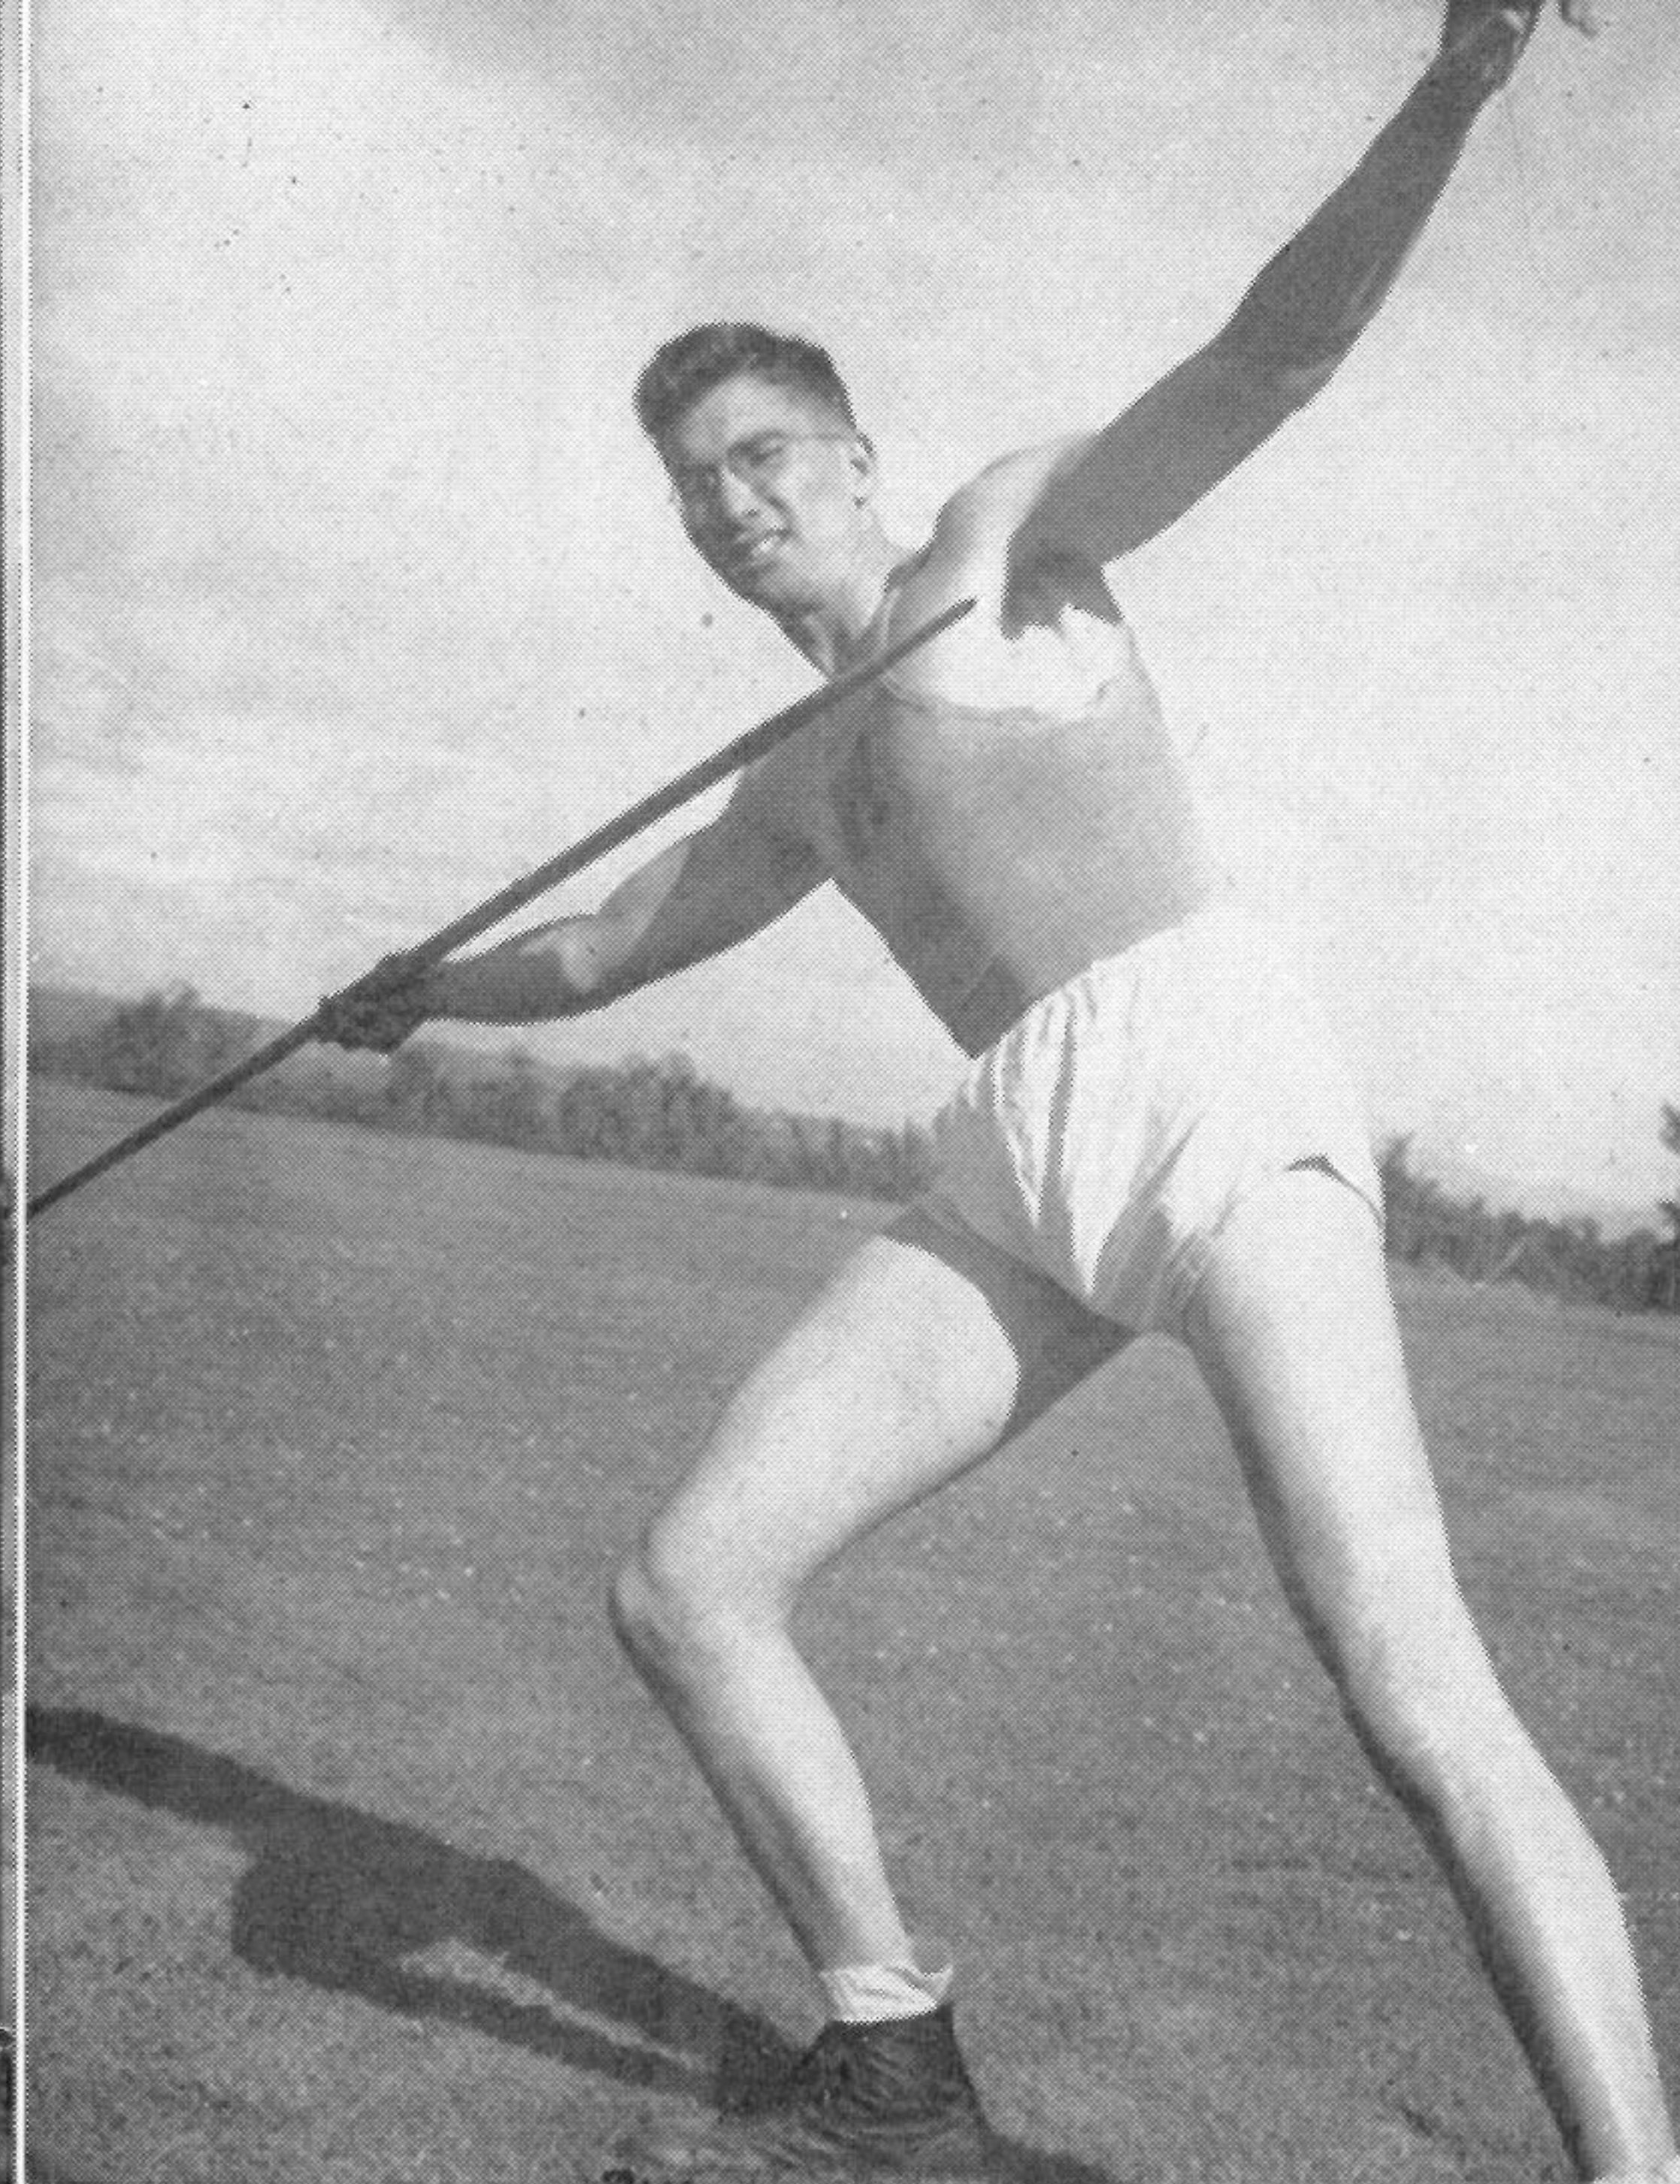

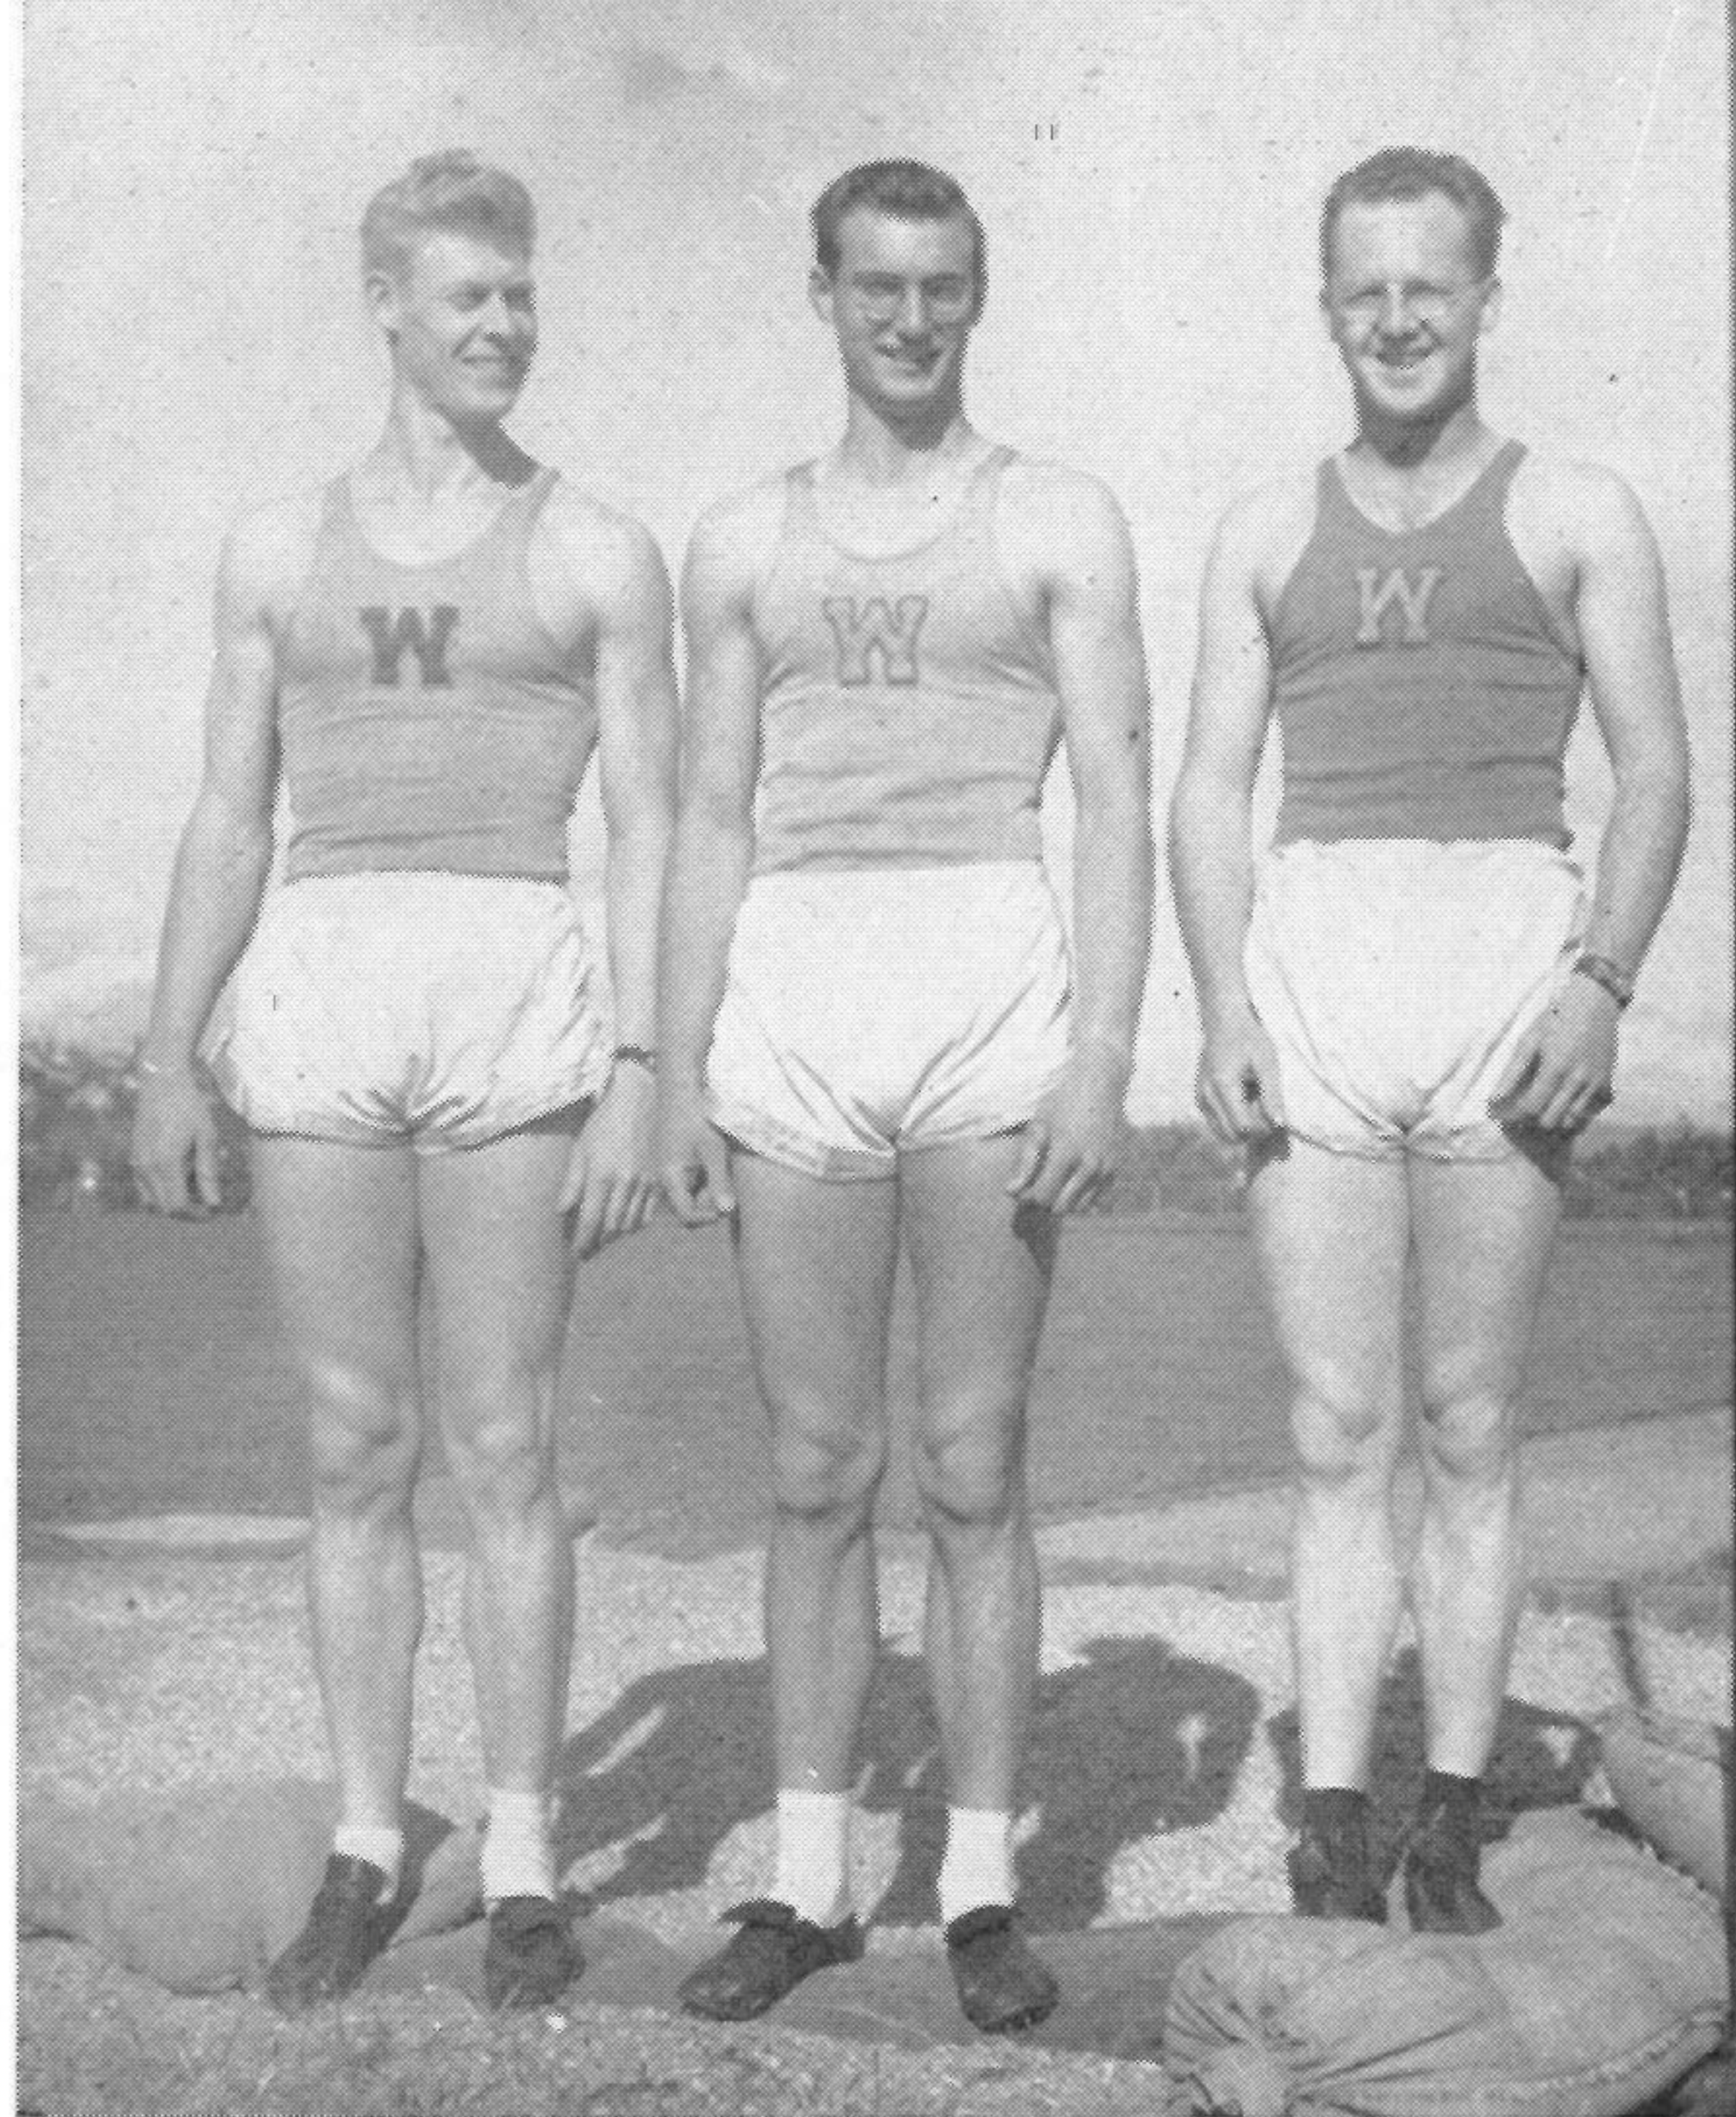

On the Cougar track, the Huskies were set down in their efforts to make it three straight meets when the State College tracksters out-scored Washington, 69 1/2 to 61 1/2. Stars of the season were Lyle Clark, Don Wold, Bill Steed and Bob McLaughlin.

VARSITY 1946

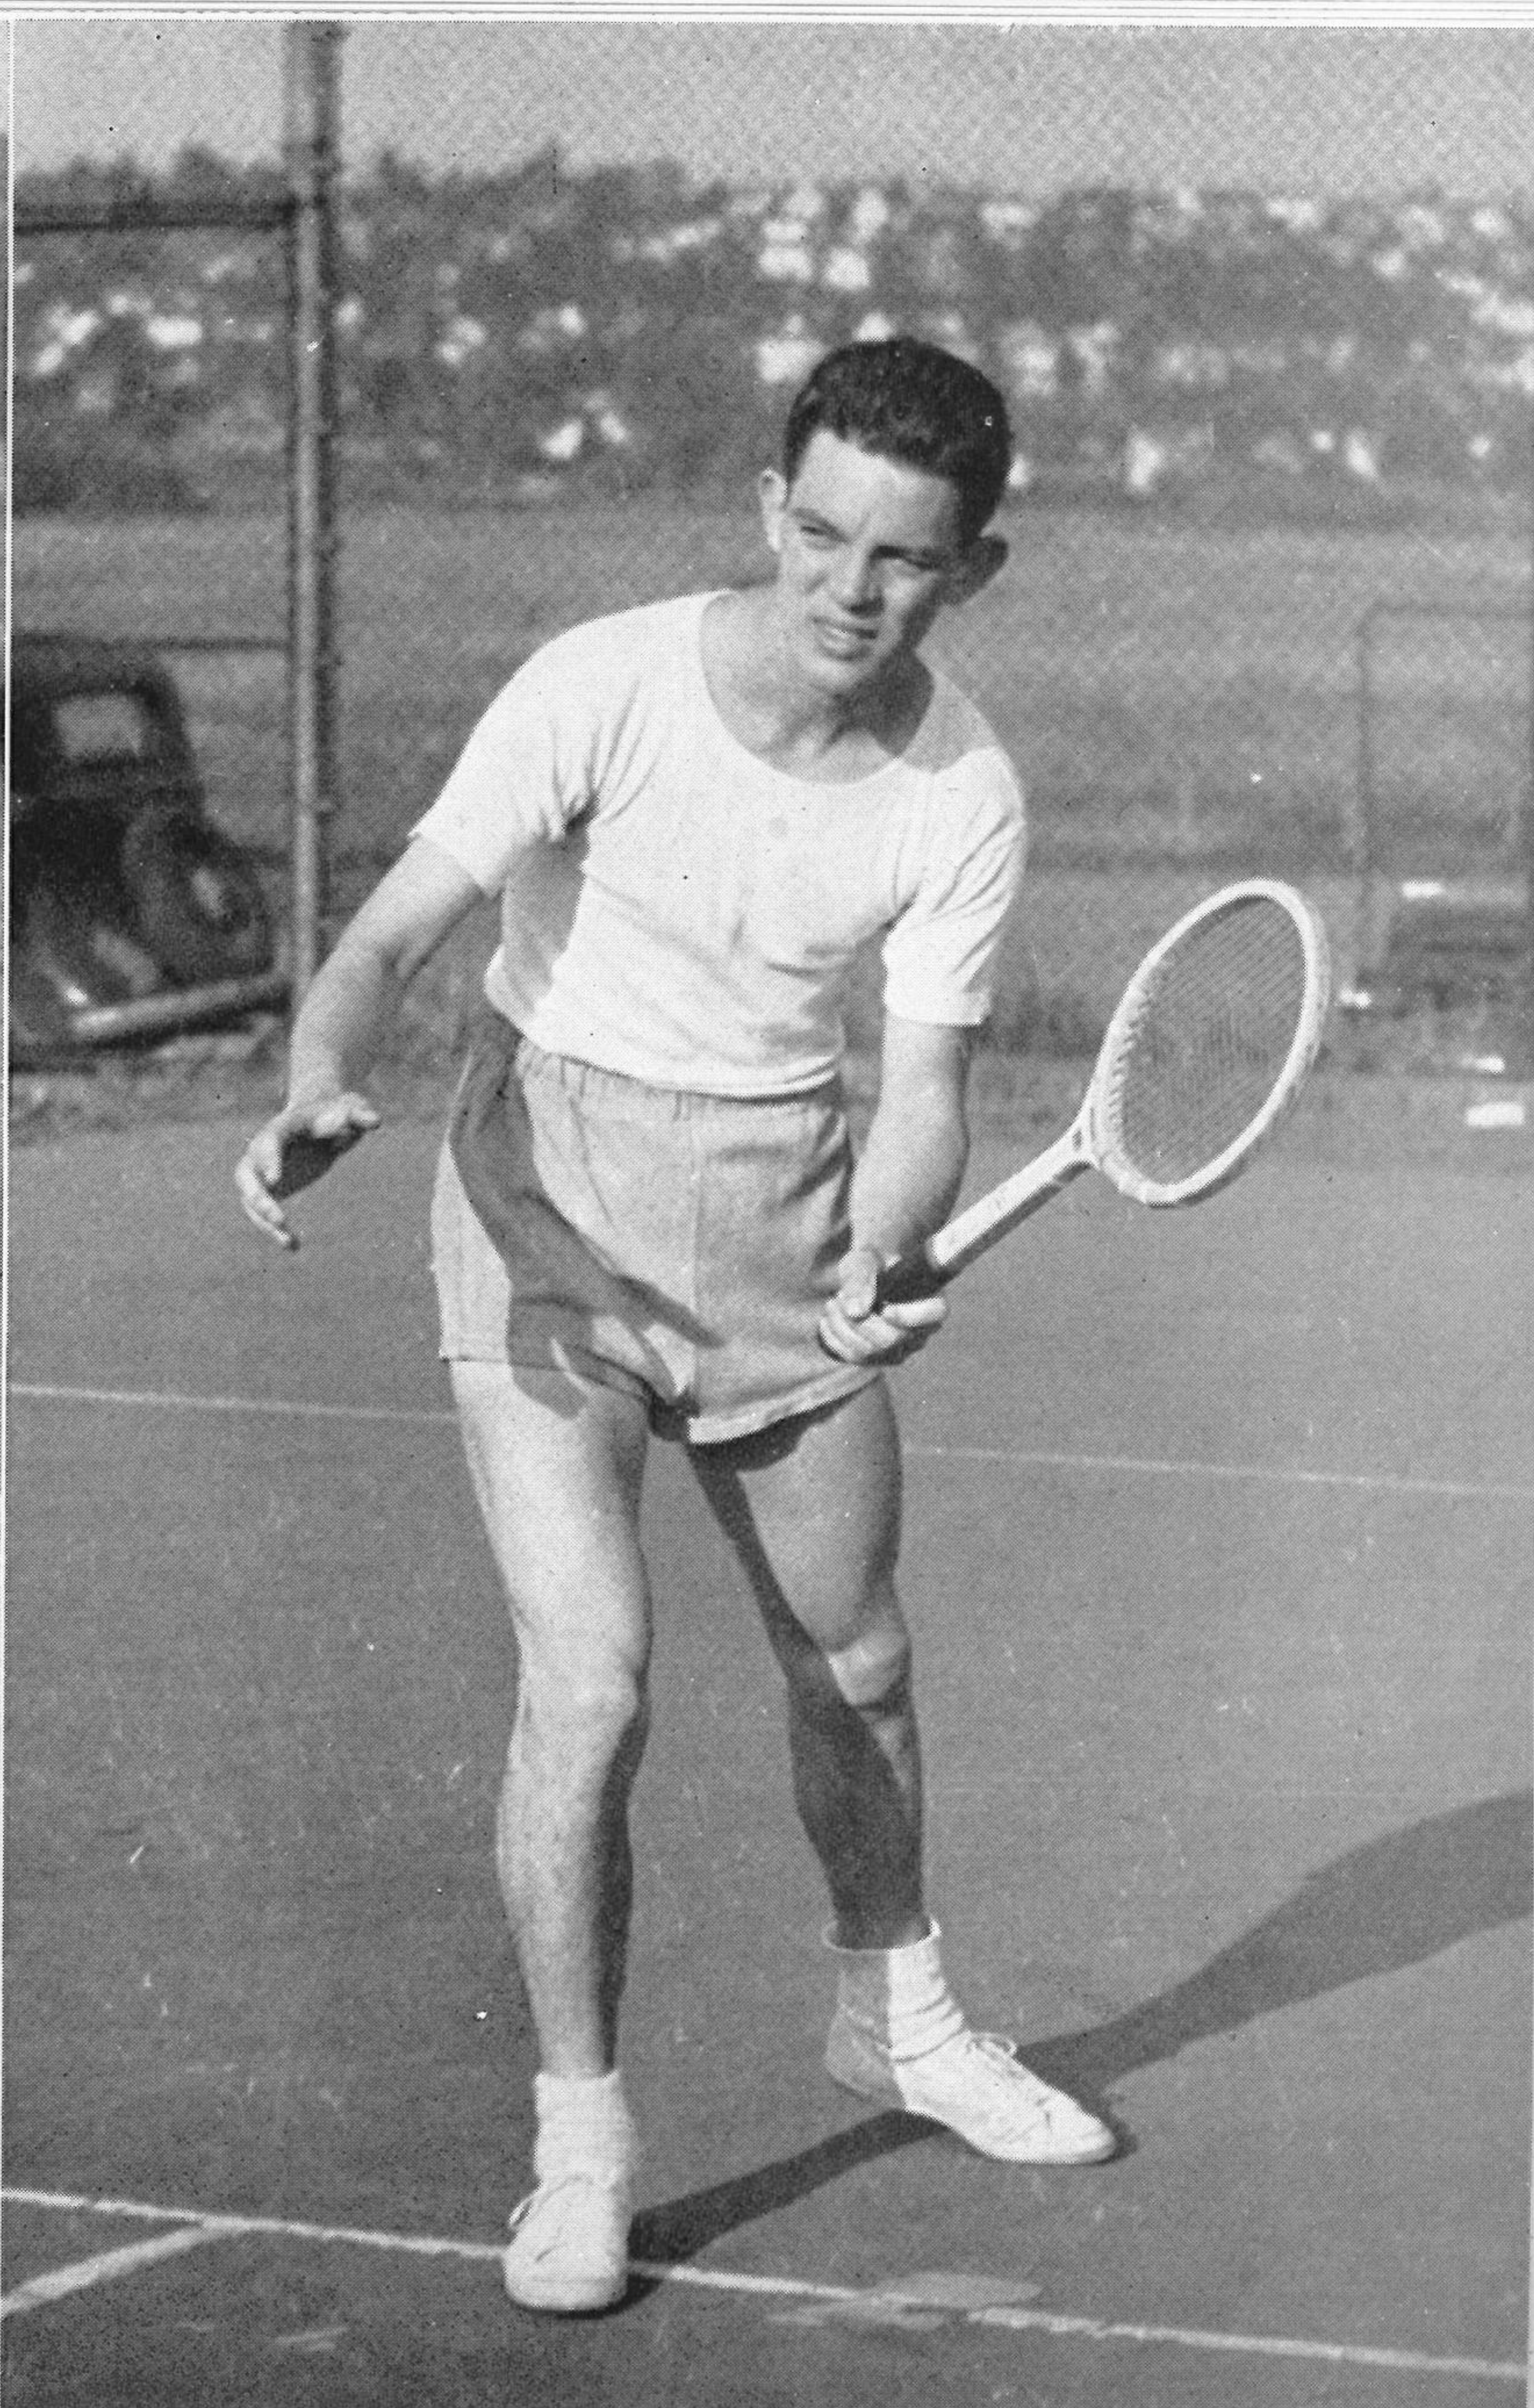

WASHINGTON'S NETMEN displayed championship skill as they won 26 out of a possible 28 individual tennis matches during intercollegiate competition last spring.

Members of the "Mighty Seven," coached by Jack Torney, included "Righty" Darrell Eden, number one man, followed by Jack Lowe, Haller Peterson, Walt Olson, "Lefty" Donald Eden, Dick Oswald, and Kenney Burrows. During the season the Huskies took on Washington State college, University of Idaho, University of Oregon and Oregon State, finishing the regular season with four straight victories.

HUSKY SUPERIORITY was displayed in the first meet of the season against Washington State as the locals shut out the Cougars, 7 to 0. The University of Idaho was second to succumb, being easily defeated 6 to 1. Another onslaught was directed at the University of Oregon, which also bowed 6 to 1 to the Huskies. Washington finished the regular season when they took Oregon State by a score of 7 to 0.

Another University of Washington victory was gained at the Northern Division play-off, which was held last spring at Washington State. The Husky victors, including Darrell Eden, Jack Lowe, Haller Peterson and Walt Olson, tied the all-time record by taking 17 out of a possible 20 points during the tourney. Washington established the original record several years ago.

In the singles, Eden took the title by defeating Lowe. The doubles crown was won by Eden-Peterson (U. of W.) over Anderson-Zeger (U. of Oregon). Lowe and Olson played in the doubles tourney until defeated in the semi-finals.

BASEBALL

MODERATELY SUCCESSFUL in their 1946 season, the Huskies finished third place in the Northern Division of the Pacific Coast Conference. Washington won her opening game, April 19, from Idaho, 3-0. The next day she lost in ten innings, 4-3. The Huskies then won a pair from Washington State; Soriano chalked up a 4-3 win on April 22 and Cole pitched a 4-1 victory on April 23.

In Eugene on April 26, the game with Oregon was a pitching duel until the eighth inning when Washington made five runs, but Oregon rallied in the ninth to win 6-5. Despite Cole's six-hit pitching, Washington lost the next day, 4-0. The team had better luck at Corvallis, taking both games from Oregon State, 9-7 on April 29 and 6-2 on April 30.

When Oregon met Washington on Graves Field, May 8 and 9, the Ducks won both games, 8-3 and 9-6. Oregon State shut out Washington 5-0 on May 13; the Huskies came back the next day to win 5-1.

Although the Cougars made only two hits on May 17, they won 3-1. In ten innings at Pullman the next day, Washington won 9-3. The Huskies split their final series with Idaho in Moscow. They won the first game, May 20, 11-6 and lost the finale, May 21, 6-12.

MILROY WAS SELECTED by his team-mates as the winner of the Torrance Inspirational Award for 1946. This award is given each year the Huskies play intercollegiate baseball to the member of the team who is most inspiring to his fellow players. Milroy was described as a "heads up, always hustling type" of ball player by Torchy Torrance, for whom the award was named. A veteran of three years of varsity ball, Milroy has returned this year as coach in charge of the "B" squad.

WHEN THE LAST PUTT was down and the final score card tallied, the Husky golf team had completed an outstanding record. Swinging through Northern Division competition unbeaten and untied, the Purple and Gold golfers walked off with the medal play crown May 25 in Eugene, Oregon, accumulating a 602 total, 14 strokes ahead of the second-place Oregon State Beavers.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in Washington history the University sent a four-man team to the National Intercollegiate Golf Championship tournament held June 27 through June 29 in Princeton, New Jersey, with Gjolme placing eighth among finalists.

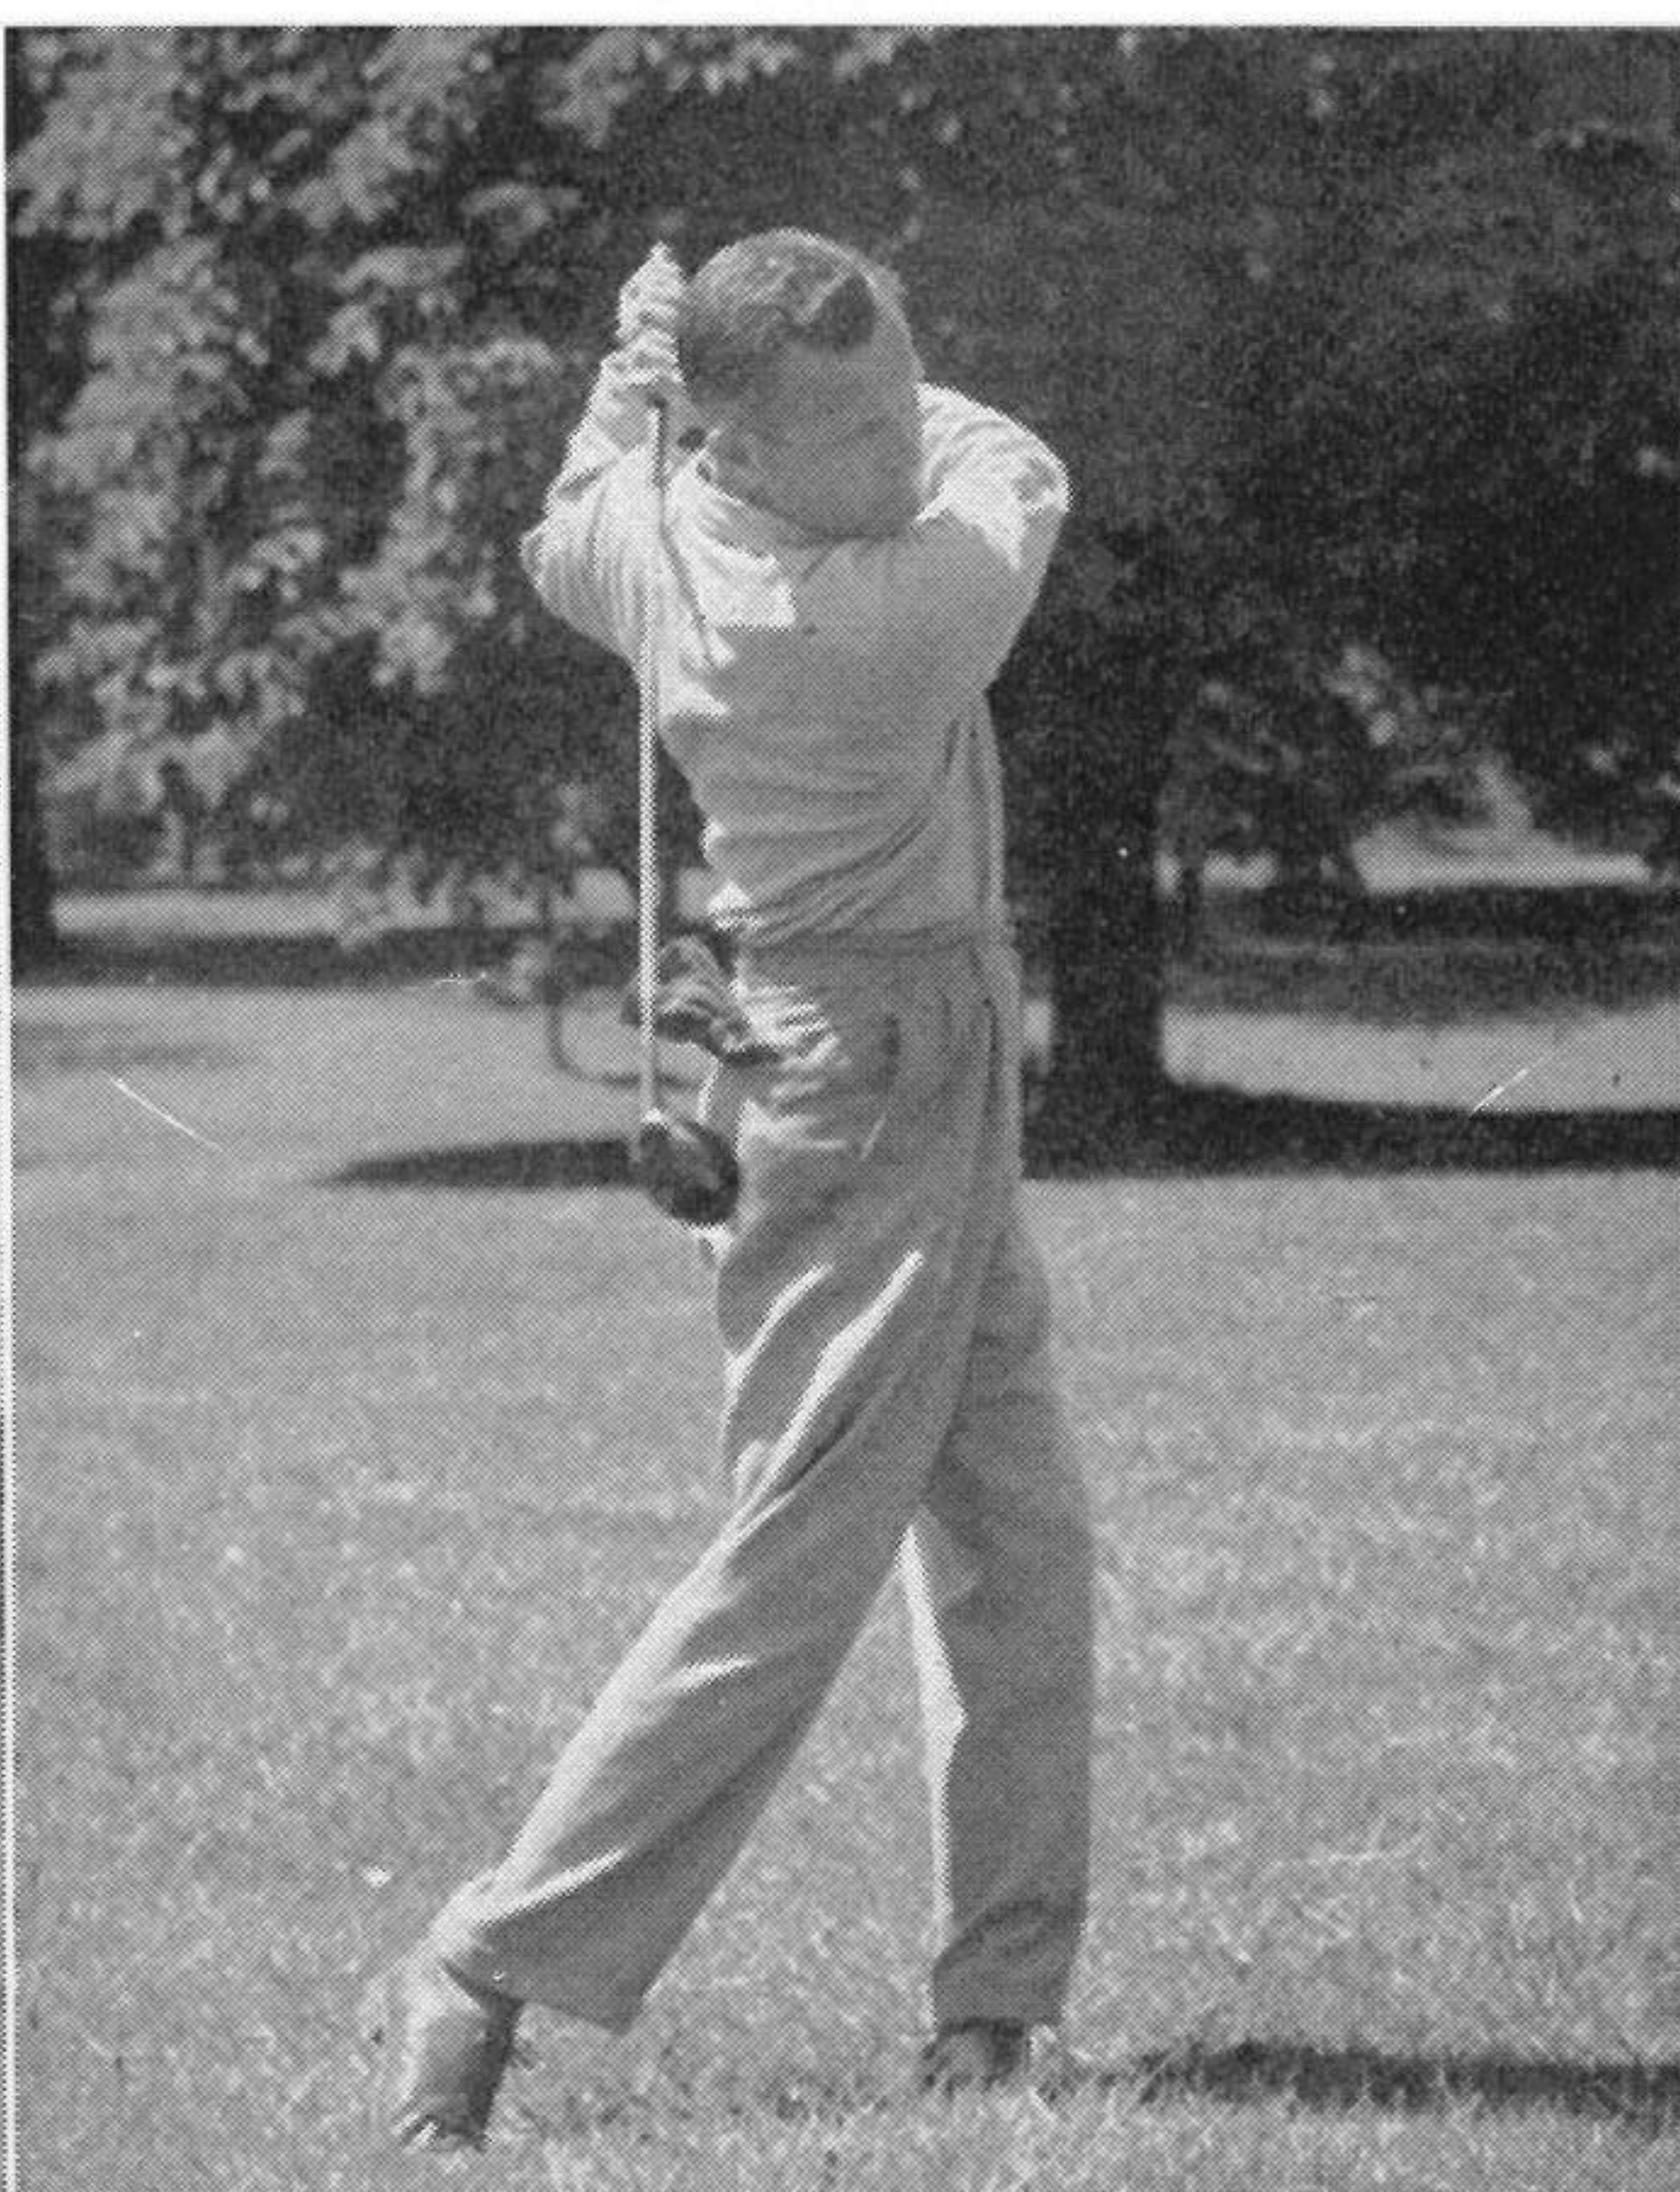

After opening the season in Vancouver, B. C., April 6, in an unofficial exhibition match which the Huskies lost, Washingtonians bounced back the following week to down the University of Oregon, $20\frac{1}{2}$ to $6\frac{1}{2}$. A road trip to Oregon brought two more victories to Washington over Portland University and Oregon State.

Squeezing past the University of British Columbia, 14 to 13, almost blanking Idaho, $26\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$, and sweeping aside Washington State, the red-hot Huskies added three more wins to the ledger and gave par a beating during their busiest golfing week.

Making up the "Big Four" for the Purple and Gold were Harold "Tass" Gjolme, Joe Greene, Jack Hazlett, Jr., and Vern Burks. Others who saw tournament play were Elwin W. Anderson, Elwood T. Gunnerson, Howard Stroupe and James Corlett. Bill Jefferson, Jr., coached the divoters while Herb Fritz acted as team manager.

FALL

FALL QUARTER INTRAMURAL competition between the various men's organizations drew to a close before the Christmas holidays.

Basketball honors for the fall period went to Delta Chi. Sigma Alpha Epsilon placed second in the tourney meet. Touch football results found Alpha Sigma Phi at the top with a perfect record. Second place went to Delta Tau Delta. Swimming champions for the fall were Sigma Nu in first place and Grant's Independents second. Cross-country honors went to Delta Tau Delta with Sigma Chi placing second. Table Tennis winner was Bill Dobson, Independent, with Win Olson, Delta Chi, runner-up. Wrestling title honors went to Kappa Sigma with five entries. Phi Gamma Delta placed second with two entries.

WINTER INTRAMURALS

NEARLY EIGHT HUNDRED participants gave proof of the continued interest in intramural athletics during winter quarter. Winning seven of his eight fencing bouts, Gordon Hefford became fencing champ; second place went to Ernst Rogers. Badminton honors were won by the Fiji team. Johnny Zeger and Jack Claypool, independents, emerged victorious from the handball tournament. Sigma Nu captured the volleyball championship.

Intramural boxing champs were: bantamweight, Perry Barth; lightweight, Dale Richardson; welterweight, Don Peek; senior welterweight, Herb Bridge; middleweight, Myron Ringstad; light heavyweight, Brad Young; heavy-weight, John Precheck. Doug Matheson captured the featherweight title.

In the skiing intramurals Randy Cooper, SAE, won the individual championship. The Little Davids . . . J. V. Ursic, Dick Whiting, Bob Kuss, Daryl Bate, Jim Whiting . . . won the team trophy.

THE ADVENT OF SPRING QUARTER showed livened interest in Intramural activities. Lambda Chi Alpha topped all competition for the softball crown with a 9-3 victory over the Fijis. The victors then went on to defeat the Civil Engineering nine, adding the All-University Championship to their laurels. Tau Kappa Epsilon placed second and Civil Engineers third.

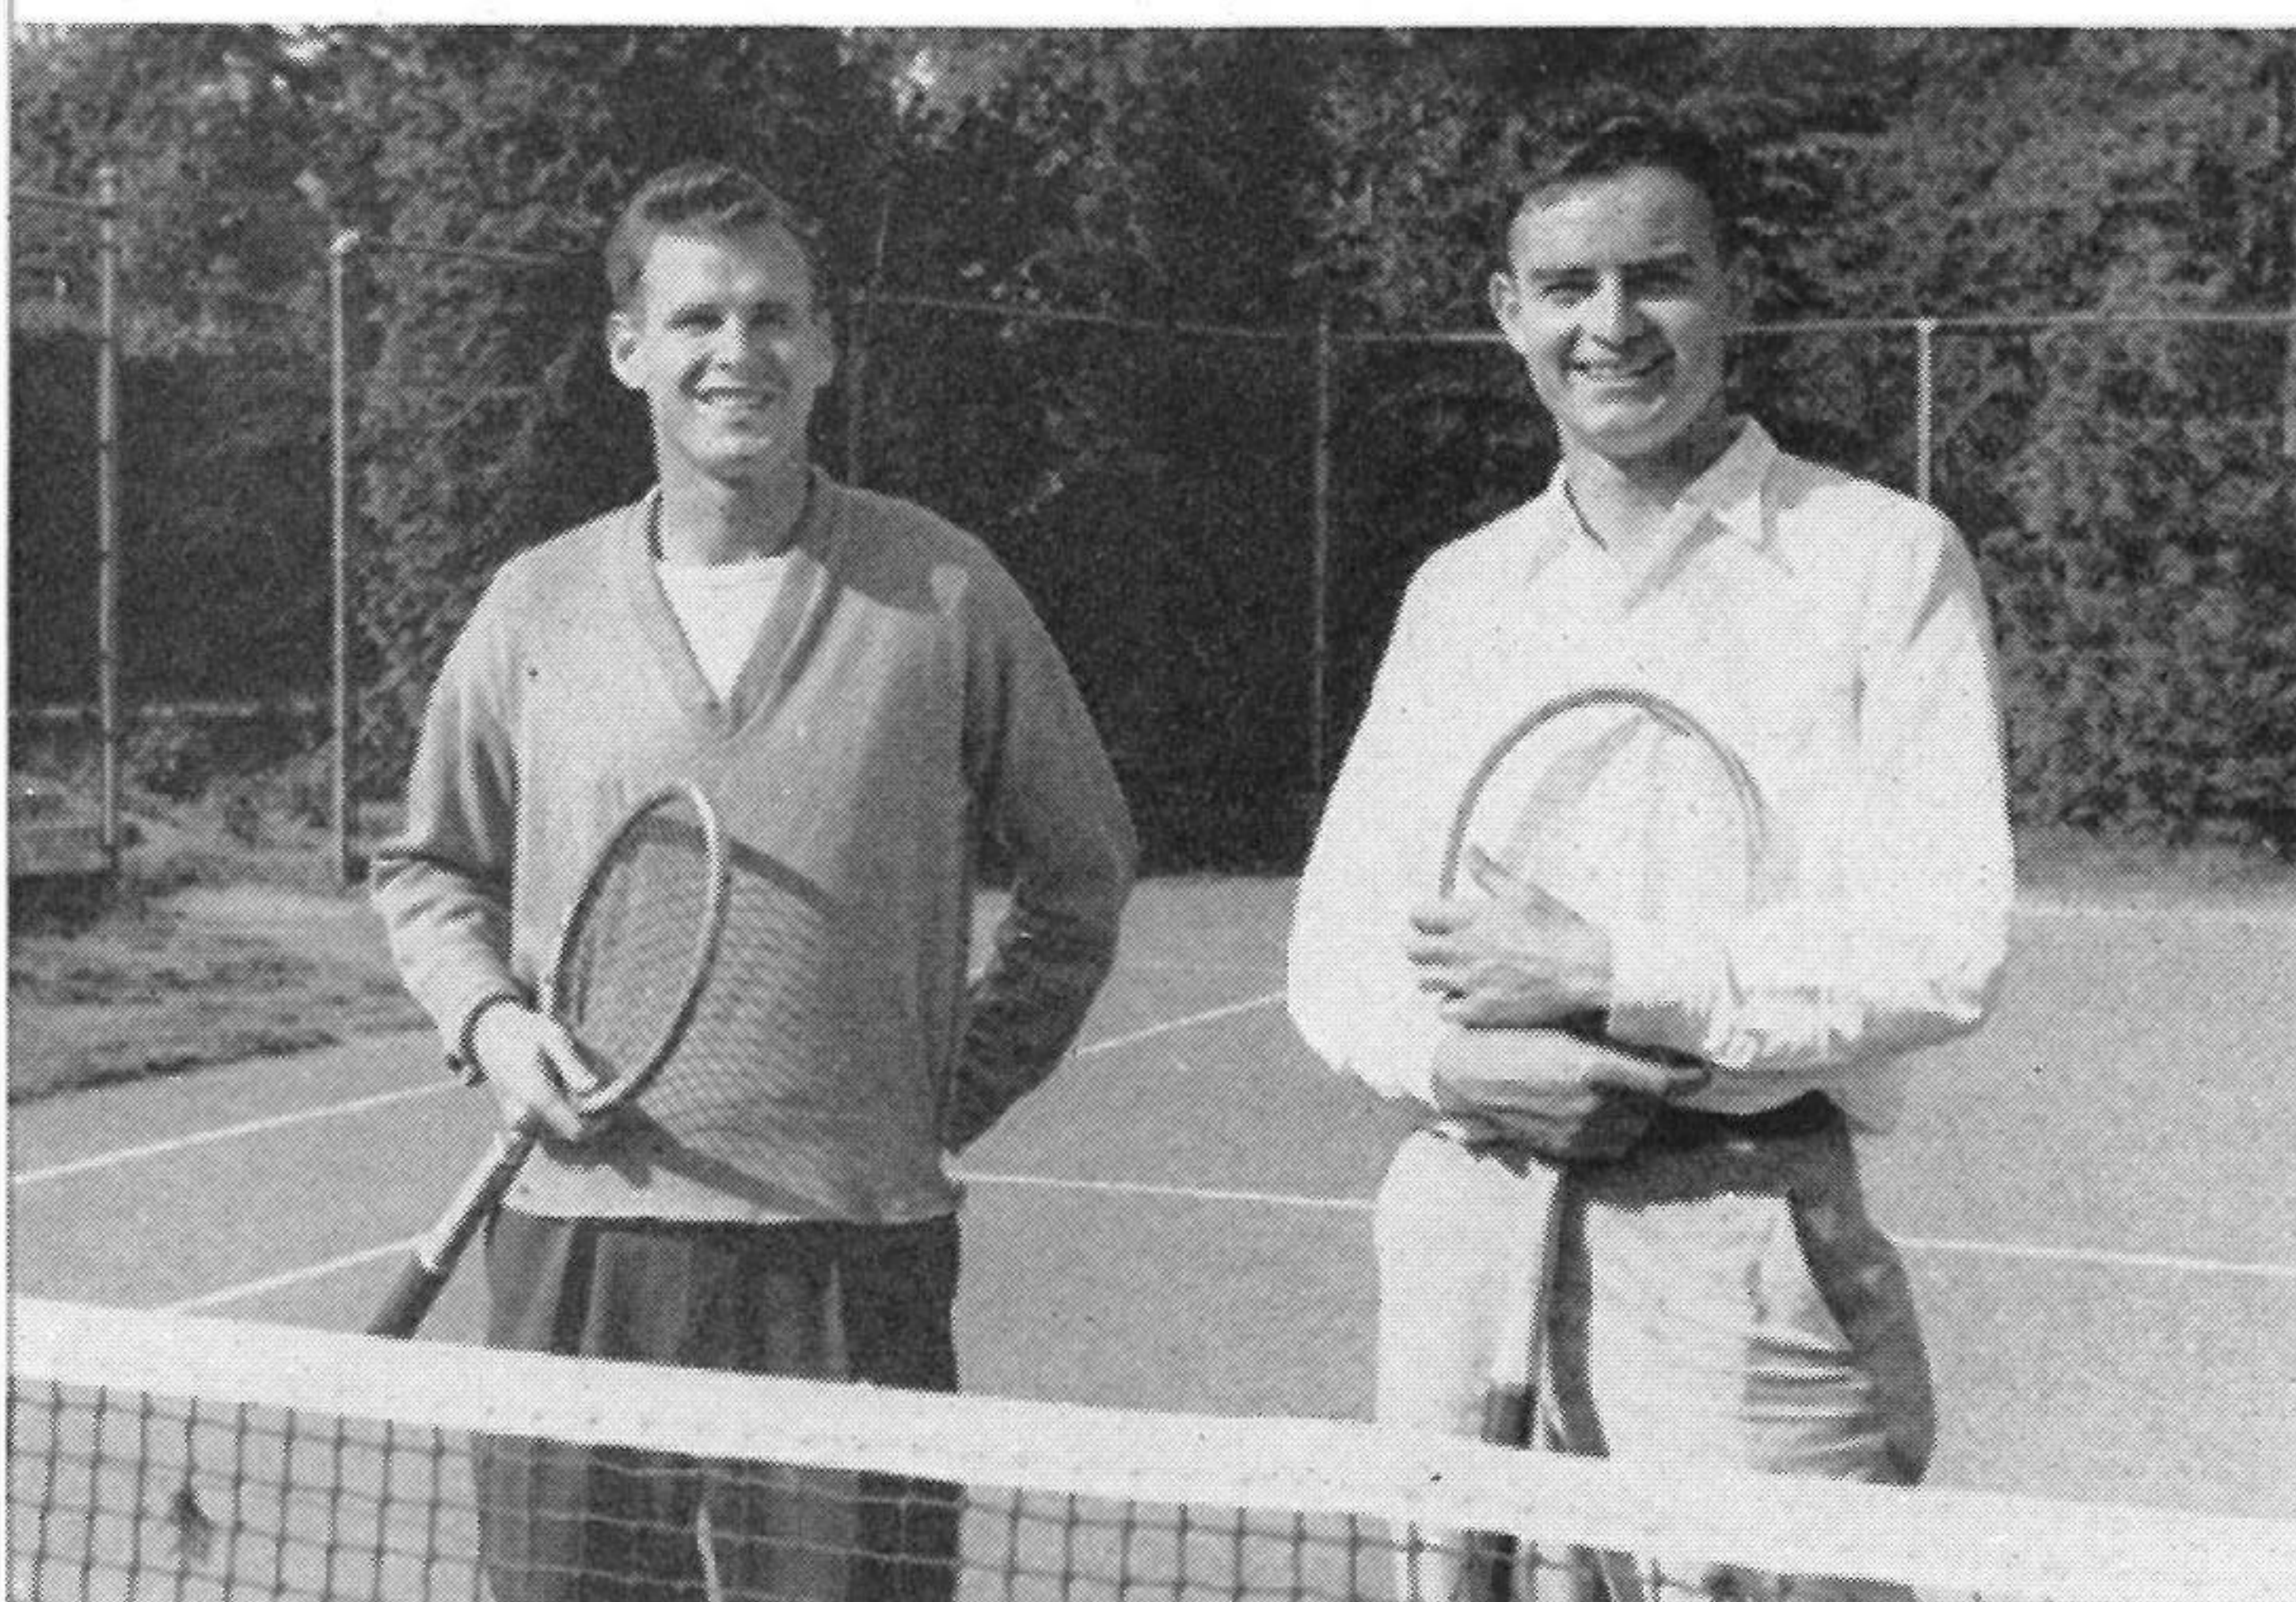

The Fijis eked out a 6-0 win over the Theta Chi's in the final playoff to annex the touch football championship. Lambda Chi Alpha finished in third place.

In the Tennis singles Bob Simpson, Phi Delta Theta, smashed out a series of victories to place first, and then teamed up with Phi Delt Stu Douglas to win over ATO, 7-5 and 6-2, for the doubles crown.

Phi Delts Bill McGovern and Don McDonald took the Golf Championship with Beta Theta Pi and Alpha Tau Omega tying for second.

Sigma Nu captured the horseshoe honors with Sigma Alpha Mu taking second place.

Lambda Chi Alpha claimed the All-University bowling championship.

THE 1947 UNIVERSITY of Washington ski team had its first taste of action in the Bradley Cup meet at Sun Valley in which 25 of the top ski teams of the nation competed. The Utah team took the championship. In the downhill, the Husky skiers placed five men in the first ten. In the four-way individual competition, Cliff Schmidtke of the Husky squad took third place.

Traveling directly from Sun Valley to Stevens Pass, the Huskies won the Penguin Ski Club invitational giant slalom for the second time and Rees Stevenson, who proved to be the outstanding Husky racer of the season, captured first place in the individual standings.

The Huskies then won the Northwest and Pacific Coast conference titles. In the Northwest meet the Husky B team regained the championship title from the University of British Columbia B squad. The varsity squad also won over their Canadian opponents.

The Husky B team represented the University in four meets during the season. In their last meet, the Pacific Coast Championships, class A and B combined, the Husky B team entered as the only second team and placed fourth in the competition.

Evening in front of the fire at the lodge.

Five HWSC big shots on the snow weasel.

THE SKI YEAR OF 1946-47 will be remembered in Husky Winter Sports Club history as one of new additions, improvements and general "hard work."

A new tow to the top of the power line was the largest undertaking. The purchase of weasels and improvements of lodge facilities also furnished many headaches and work parties.

Highlighting the year's activities were the Ski Carnival held in February, Christmas vacation skiing with powder snow and sunshine prevailing, and playing host to the Pacific Northwest Conference meet and later to the girls' ski teams from the University of British Columbia.

Through the continual responsibilities of the committees the functions of the club were carried out. Committee heads for the year were: John Gonnason, lodge; Bob Fallis, tow; Alan Taylor, hill; Johnny Newland and Dan Pulsifer, publicity; Jackie Hilscher, social; Sybil Levin, office staff; Harry Dorst, work parties; Betty Nelson, physical education representative.

Doing more than their share of work each week-end while others skied were Mark Barricklow, Gordon Syliaason, Jack Pederson and Gus Eriksen, club adviser, who shouldered many of the responsibilities.

Leading a membership drive at the beginning of the year was Lloyd Harmon who was later replaced by Bob Parker.

Always a popular time of day.

Oops, slipped!

THE SKI CARNIVAL, which began Friday night, February 14, with a ski shuffle mixer in the women's gymnasium, went to the mountains . . . to the Husky chalet at Martin, Washington . . . on Saturday morning. All day Saturday hot-shot skiers practiced high-speed skiing in preparation for Sunday's races and not-so-hot-shot skiers made tracks and prat-falls down the steep slopes of the area.

Saturday night, by the light of flares, lovely Nanette Garhart was mushed on a dog-sled to a snow throne where she was crowned queen by Bob St. Louis, captain of the ski team. After the coronation, a Schottische contest was held at Rustic Inn. Jeanette Burr and Bob Kuss twirled their way to victory.

Sunday's giant slalom race was run down the steeply-pitched Husky Hill on ice. Twenty-three teams entered and the Little Davids . . . Bob Kuss, Dick Whiting, Jim Whiting, J. Ursic and Daryl Bates . . . were the winners among the men's teams. Randy Cooper of SAE had the best individual time.

The women's intramural championship was won by Delta Gamma team: Ilene Madsen, Nancy McFadden and Pat FitzSimmons. Jeanette Burr had the best individual time, followed by Marilyn Dupar. Jim Whiting took first in the obstacle race.

WOMEN'S "W" CLUB

THE PURPOSE of the Women's "W" Club is to cooperate in the promotion of an athletic program on the campus and in furthering an interest in recreational activities. Each year the "W" Club initiates University women of junior standing who have fulfilled the requirements of the "W" award: a 2.2 scholastic average, and six quarters of participation in at least five sports and one club. This achievement is the highest honor to be attained in the women's sports program. The members are presented with white sweaters having the small "W" emblem of purple and gold by the ASUW.

PROMENADERS

PROMENADERS, the all-University square dance club, added men to its membership in the 1947 winter quarter as a result of growing interest on the part of campus men for square dancing. One of the big events of the year was the demonstration given at the national convention of the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation held in Seattle in April. Under Doris Jean Swanson's leadership, shows were also given for high schools, civic organizations and the campus.

THE HIGHLIGHT of the popular modern dance honorary, Orchesis, was the annual dance drama presented March 5, 6, 7 and 8 in the dance theater in the Physical Education Building. The dancers included Ruth Anne Ruhl, president of Orchesis, and other members: Lucille Badda, Virginia Hancock, Nancy Lawton, Ann Paynter, Shirley Ramaker, and Martha Schuh. Dancers assisting Orchesis were Kay Bricker, Jean Dougherty, Delores Decker, Joe Dawson, Carol Grover, Nancy Peters, Greta Pearce, Shirley Simmons, Dorothy Dung, and Nancy Kerr.

SILVER FISHES

EACH SPRING, the University women's swim club, the Silver Fishes, under Adviser Betty Slaughter, presents a colorful water pageant when the members demonstrate patterns of rhythmic swimming originated in club meetings. Tryouts for membership are held at the beginning of fall and winter terms with requirements of excellent performance of each of the major swimming strokes and the execution of two dives.

SKIING

THERE WERE TWO opportunities for women skiers to participate in organized skiing this year. The first, a ski rally held on February 8 and 9, was in the form of an intercollegiate meet. The second event was the University Ski Carnival at Martin where, in a giant slalom, Jannette Burr, Marilyn Dupar, and Ilene Madsen took top honors and Delta Gamma won combined laurels.

HOCKEY

THE HOCKEY CLUB provides the opportunity for women to participate in outdoor activities and to further their interest in a highly skilled game. During the fall quarter, the hockey players brush up on their technique by conducting an inter-club tournament. In December, the club's program was climaxed by participation in a two-day conference in Portland at which teams from Oregon, Idaho, and British Columbia were present.

MIXERS

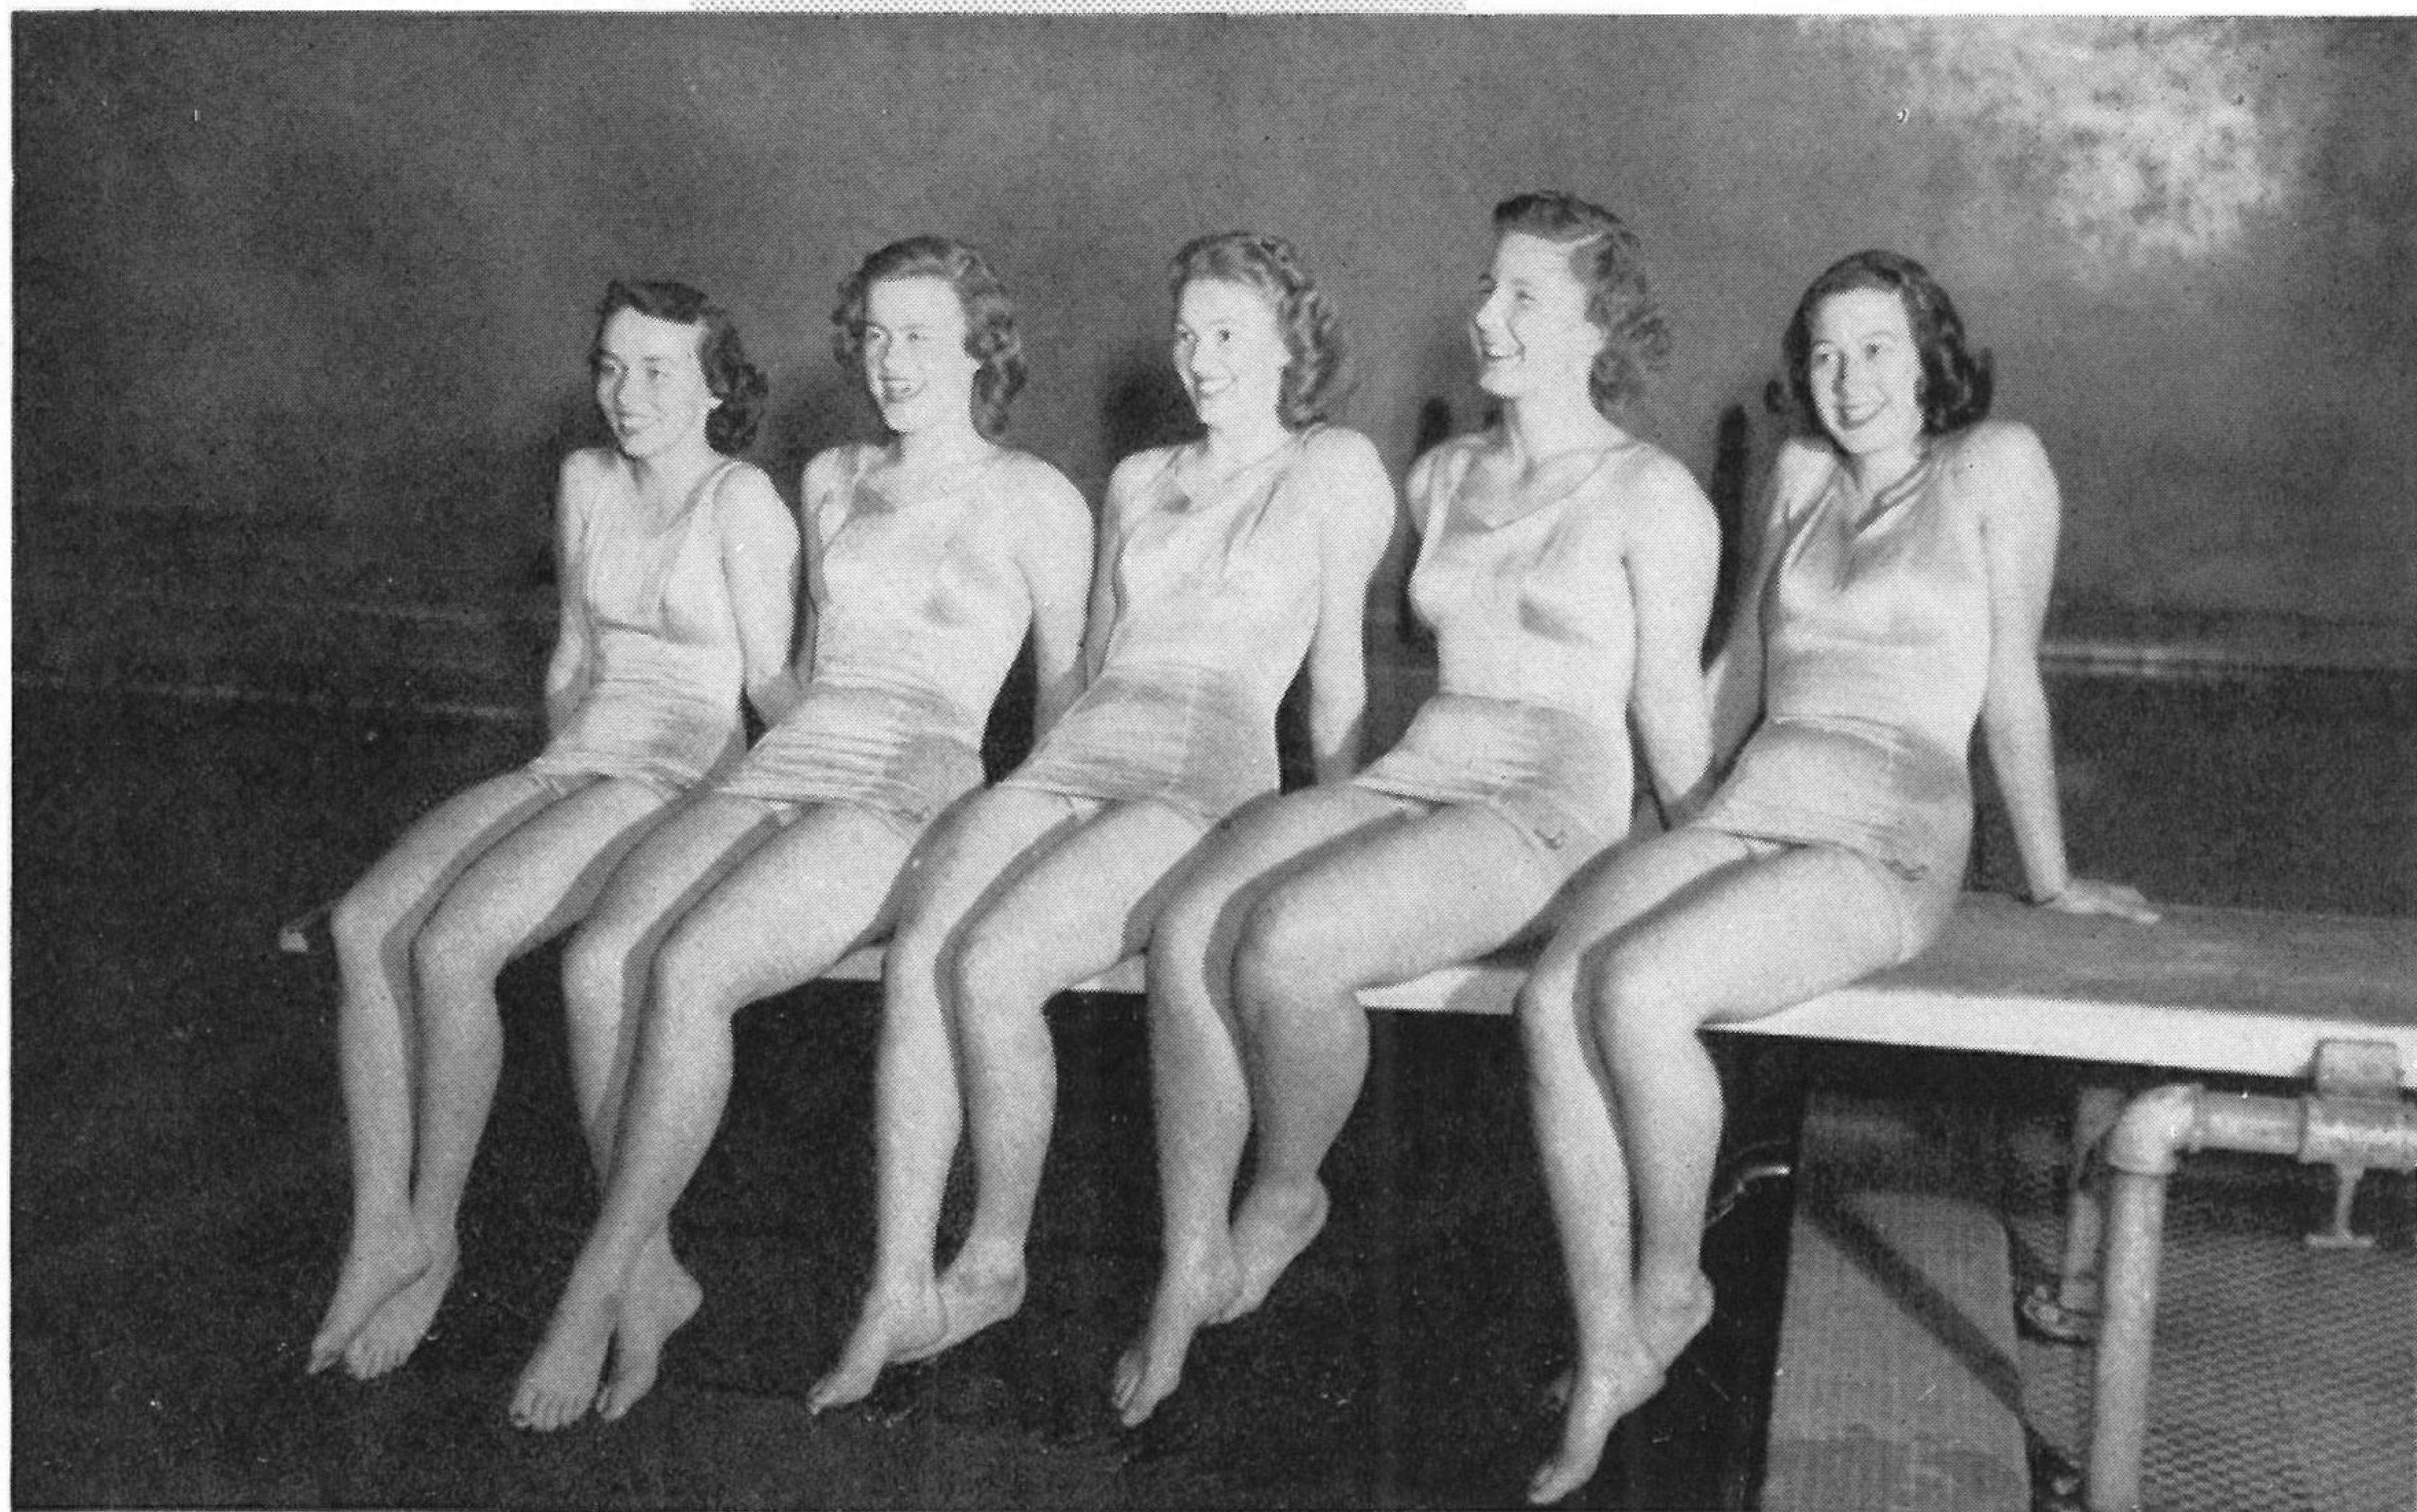

"ALLEMANDE LEFT, swing your partner" and "All jump up and never come down" are just a few of the phrases issuing forth from the women's gym on Wednesday afternoons. Under the leadership of Miss Wilson, adviser, Gordon Tracie, Marion Wilkeson, and George Phelps, the square-dance mixers enjoy increasing popularity for novice or expert alike.

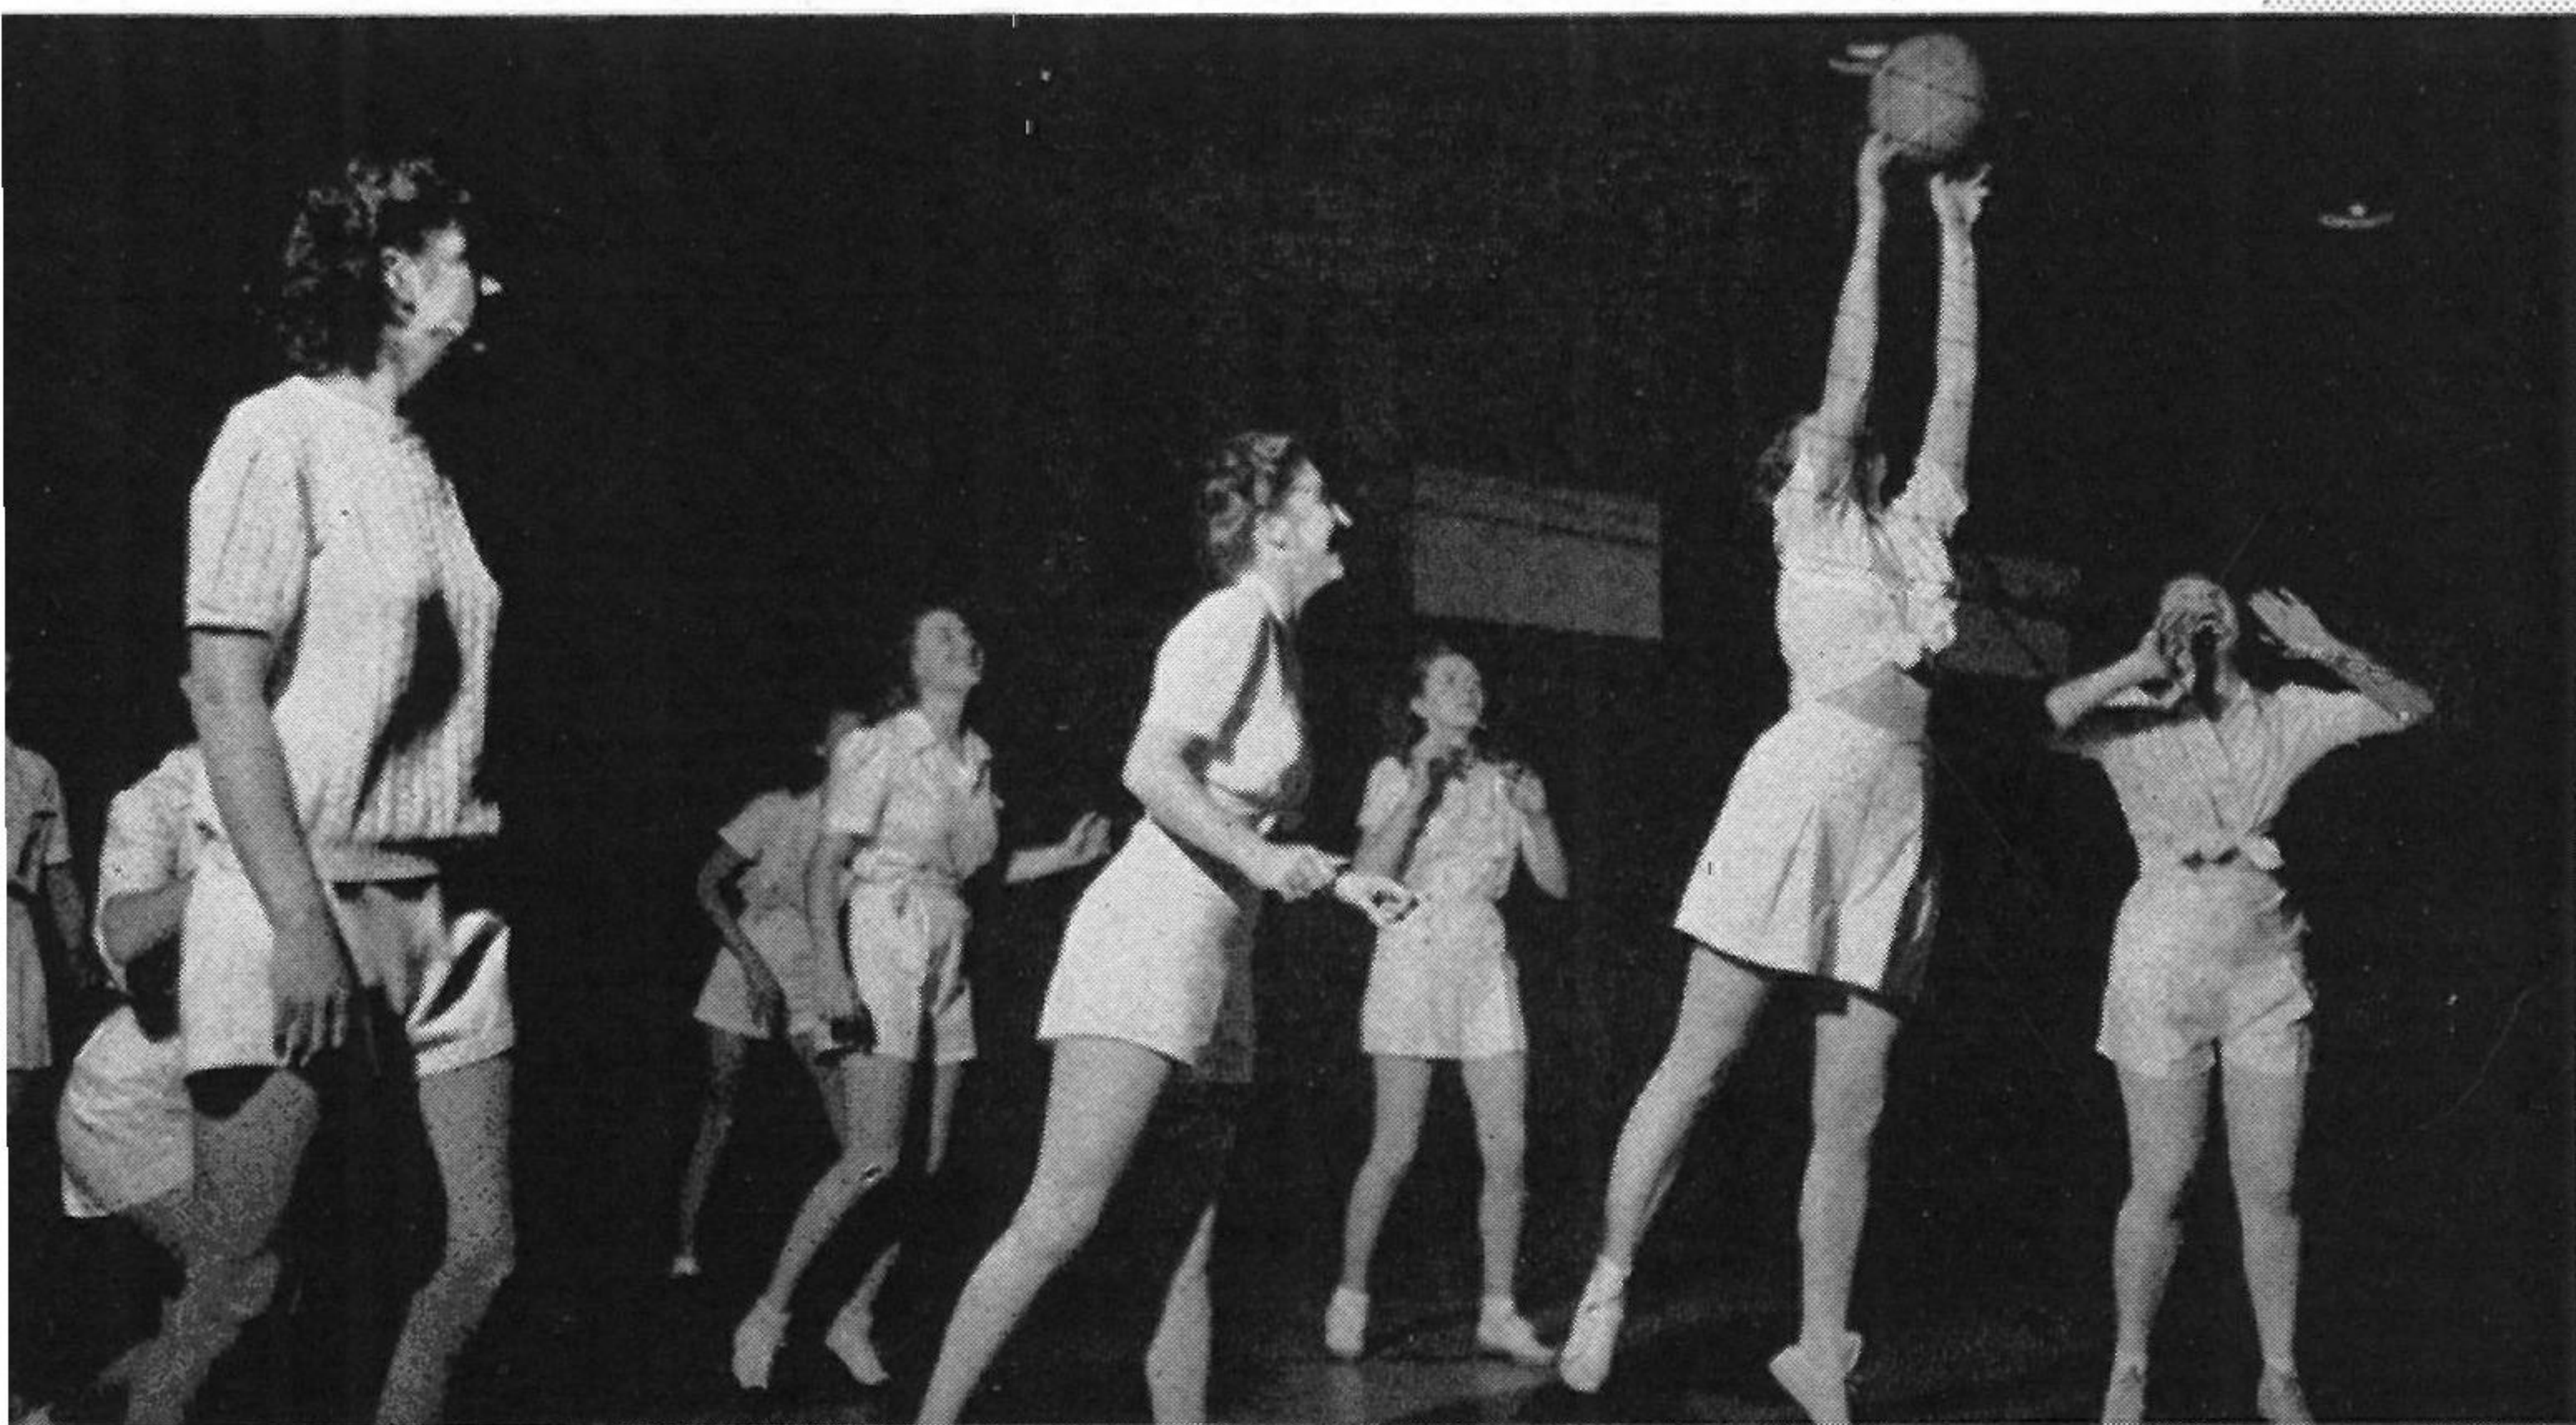

TOURNAMENTS

SWIMMING

HIGH INTEREST was exhibited in the intramural swimming tourney this year as two hundred and thirty-three enthusiastic women entered the swim meet. In organized house competition, a spirited Kappa Kappa Gamma team took first place, followed by Kappa Delta and Phi Mu. In open club competition, such champions as Anita Blois, Judy Crandall, Frances George, and Delores Weeks excelled in their performances of free style, breast-stroke, sidestroke, and back crawl.

VOLLEYBALL

THE ORGANIZED HOUSE division of the women's volleyball tournament came to an exciting climax when a champion Phi Mu team outfought the spirited Delta Zetas and forced Alpha Chi Omega into third place. The open club division, open to all university women, reached an equally thrilling finale with the final tourney schedule showing "Behind the Eight Ball" to be the leading team followed by "Fighting Irish" and "Faculty Few" in third place.

BADMINTON

BADMINTON, possibly more than any other racket game, provides all of the thrills and enjoyment of competitive play to expert and beginner alike, according to Washington's shuttle enthusiasts. Each year organized houses rally their entrants to the popular tournament. In the 1946 contest Austin Hall dominated the sport as Jo Ann Barton took the singles crown while Hazel Bright teamed up with Lillian Johnson to capture the doubles laurels.

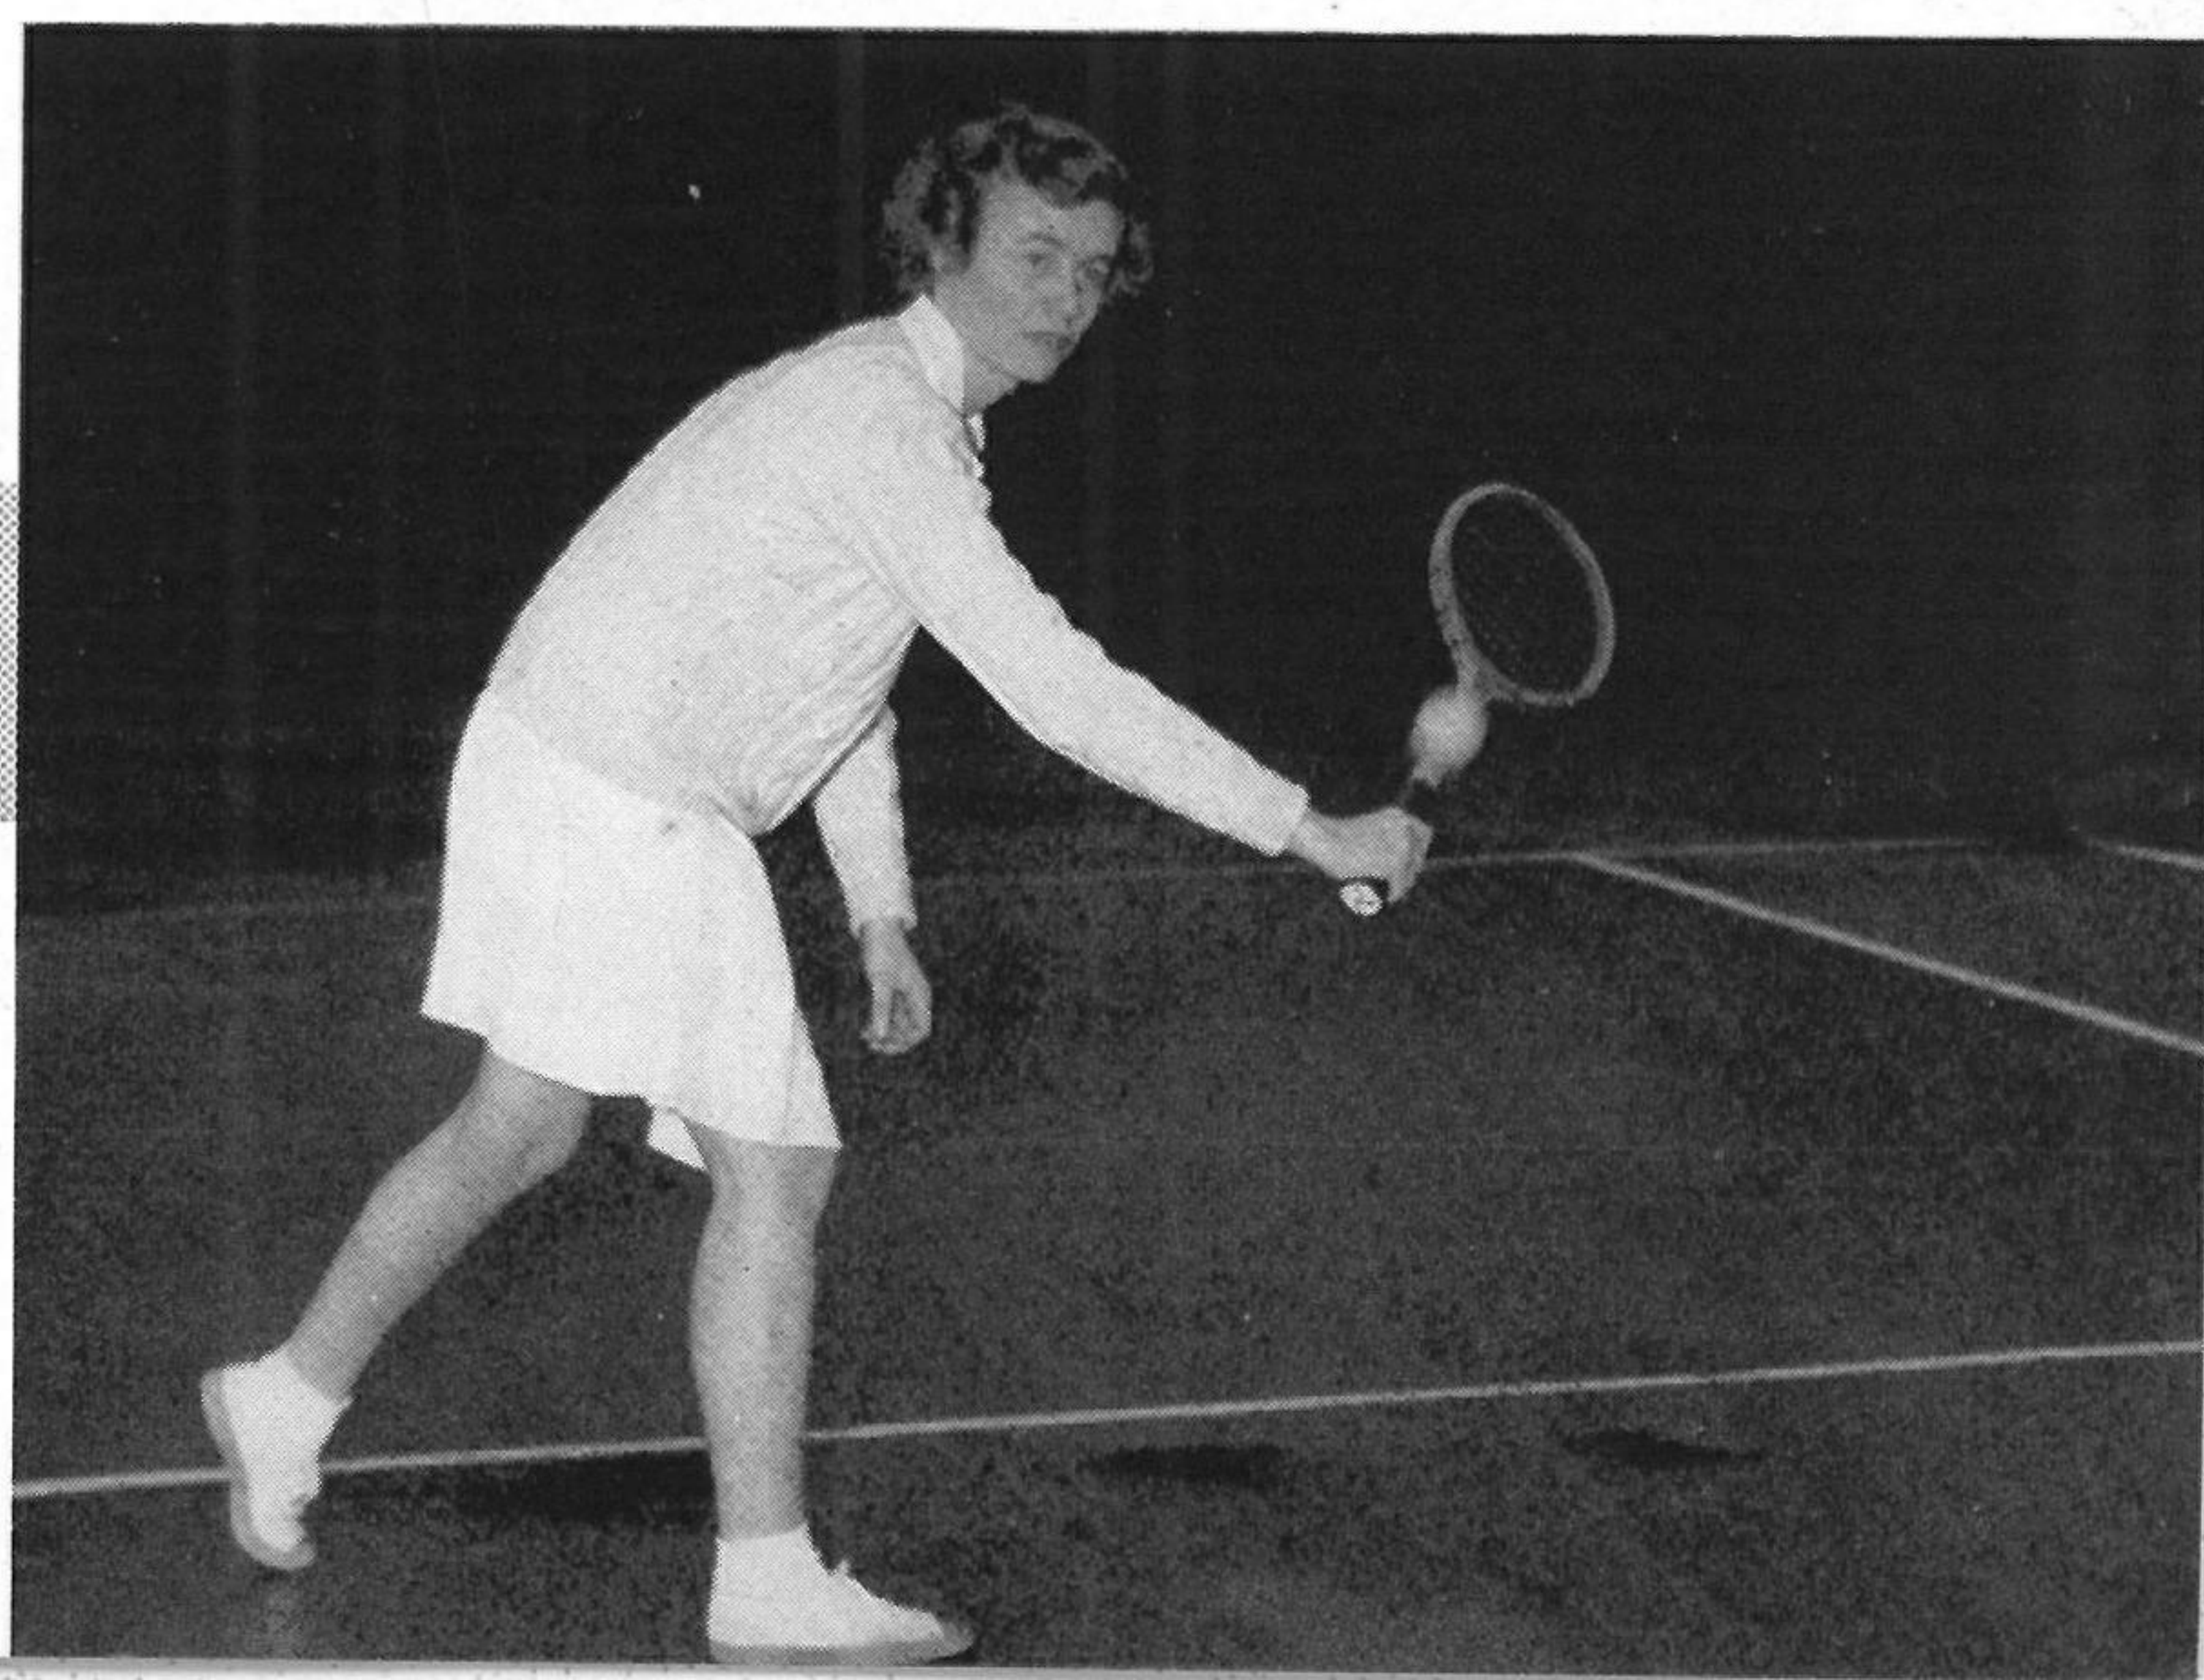

BASKETBALL

FLOOR BURNS and scratched arms are included in the annual women's basketball tournaments. This year it was a fast-moving tourney in which many women's organized houses, sororities and independents joined to battle for top honors. The inter-organization division was won by a determined Kappa Kappa Gamma team. An open club contest was run parallel to the other and the volunteer players formed such teams as the "Alley Cats," "Six Shooters," and "Fighting Irish," with good times and bruises shared by all.

BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS— Top: Marilyn Smith, Lisa Taubman, Silvia Clise. Bottom: Joan Wilson, Patricia Bendshadler, Emily Gene Ragle.

TENNIS

WITH THE FIRST warm days of early spring, there can be heard the ping of tennis balls on taut racket strings as campus women polish up shots on the courts next to the women's gym. The all-University tennis tournament is a straight elimination contest and in the 1946 tourney Gladys Ross and Pat Kyser skillfully captured the crowns.

VARSITY BOAT CLUB

ORGANIZED ABOUT 1910 for the purpose of building up spirit and morale and cultivating the tradition of rowing, the Varsity Boat Club requires four quarters of rowing for eligibility. This year the Club revived its annual Varsity Boat Club Dance, an all-University affair, to give crew men a final pre-training fling.

BETA, THETA, KAPPA OF PHRATERES

BETA TUESDAY NIGHT MEETINGS were always enlivened by tales of ski glides and plans for roller skating, a Mother-Daughter banquet, a Bar-B-Que or other fascinating affairs. THETA women are "third-termers." They won the scholarship cup again this year. They also enjoy sport, social or service affairs. KAPPA women are the more sophisticated Phrateres who line up their social calendars with exchanges, date dances and dinner. They are also good sportswomen.

LAMBDA, CHI, CHIMES OF PHRATERES

LAMBDA WOMEN PRIDE THEMSELVES in culinary artistry. They are also sportswomen and lovely socialites who enjoy conjuring up unusual parties. CHI women are famous as the "eatingest" Phrateres and seem to have no worry about figure facts. Traditional with Chi-ites are the annual Christmas Toyland and moonlight hayride. CHIMES has always been a small group so the women really get to know each other. They enjoy bowling and bicycling or anything that keeps them busy.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION

"To unite the Christian Scientists within the University in closer bonds of Christian fellowship . . ."

IN THESE WORDS is given the first purpose of the Christian Science Organization at the University of Washington. To those looking forward to the adventure of attending the University, and who are students of Christian Science, these "closer bonds of Christian fellowship" give promise of richer experiences and greater accomplishments.

The Christian Science Organization at the University is authorized by Article 23, Section 8, of the Manual of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. All faculty, students and friends are invited to attend the regular meetings which are held every Thursday evening at 7:30 in Eagleson Hall and to use the student organization house.

Every year the organization sponsors a free lecture on Christian Science which is given by a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church. This year the lecture, entitled "Christian Science: A Prophetic Religion," was given by Ralph E. Wagers, CBS, of Chicago.

Shown above is a picture of the Christian Science Student Organization House, located at 4305 15th N.E. It is open from 7:30 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. every day except Sundays and holidays. Here the Bible, the writings of Mary Baker Eddy and all authorized Christian Science literature may be read or borrowed.

WESLEY CLUB

WESLEY CLUB, organization for all Methodist students, assists in the preparation for a life of usefulness through helpful Christian fellowship. On their activity schedule are fire-sides, dances, parties, banquets and Chapels. A highlight of the year is Student Sunday when the Club takes over the service at the University Temple.

NEWMAN CLUB

W. Jordan Smith
President

Rev. T. J. Morrison
Moderator

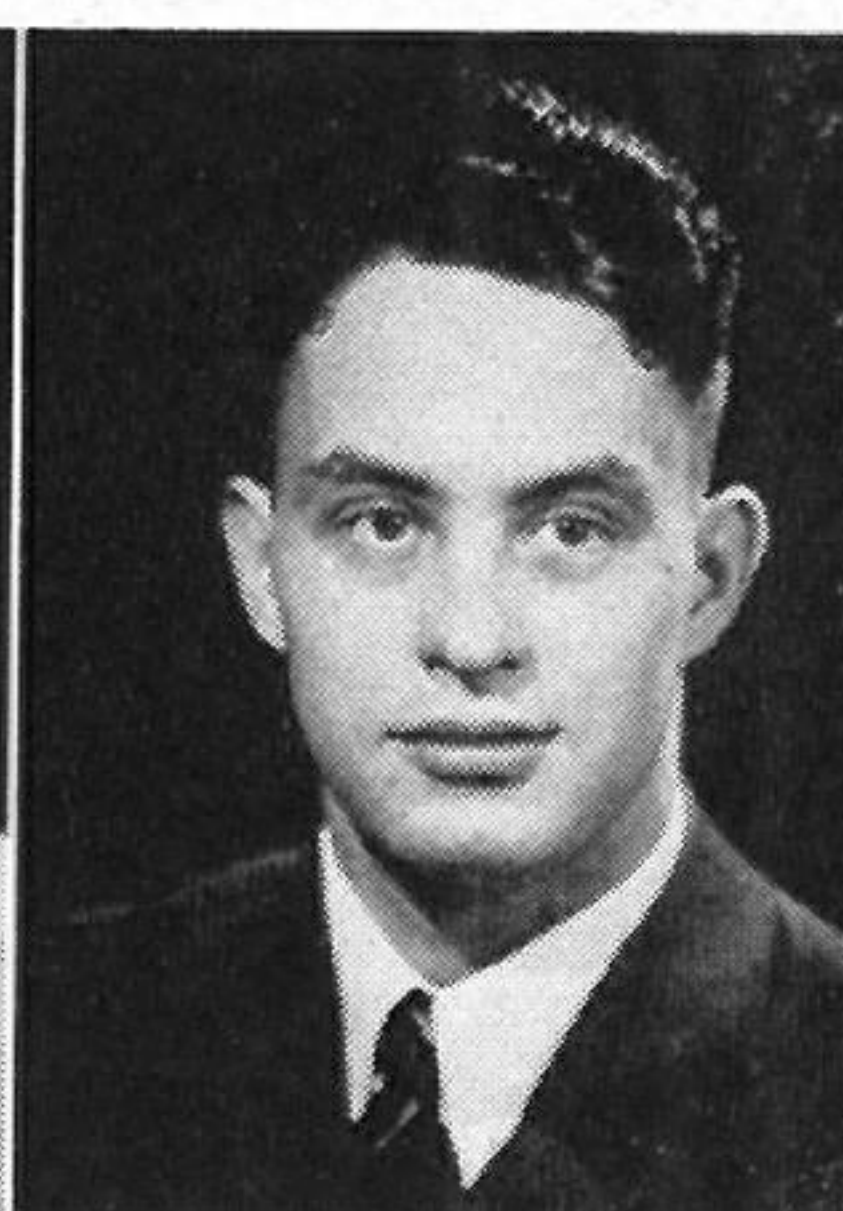

THE UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON NEWMAN CLUB, an affiliate of the national Newman Federation with branches in over 362 colleges and universities, was founded in 1906.

The purpose of Newman is to promote the welfare of Catholic students, serving their religious, intellectual and social needs.

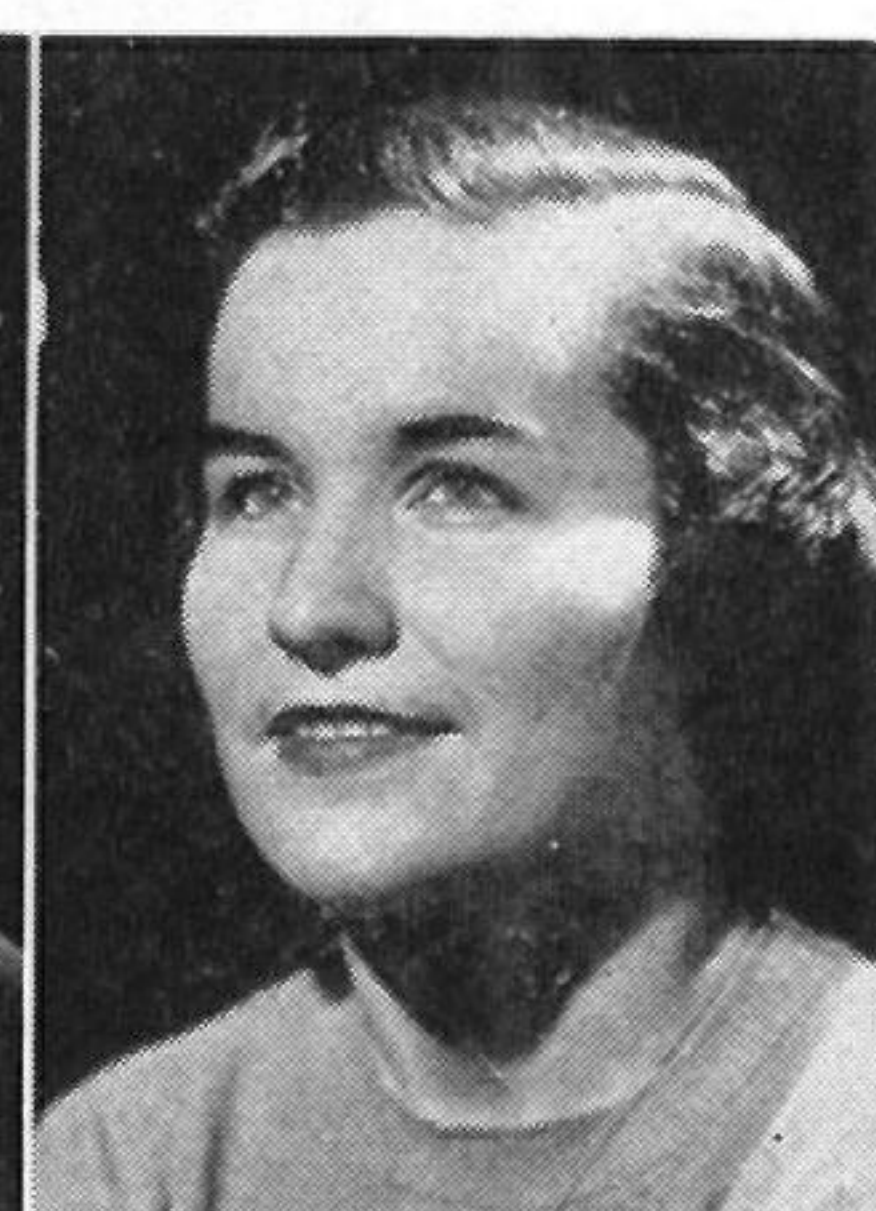

Newman Club well survived the war, emerging more active than ever.

CHALLENGED BY THE PROSPECT of an enlarged staff and increased meeting space, the YWCA prepared for an effective and significant year. Of particular interest were the development of evening firesides for Y members and foreign students, and the "Meet 'n Eat" luncheons devoted to meeting and understanding students of all minority groups.

The Freshman program occupied an important place in Y activities with regular weekly meetings planned by and for Freshman women, and supplemented by joint meetings with the YM Frosh Fellowship Club. Efficient and capable Kay Bricker served well in her term as president of Frosh Commission and was ably supported by an enthusiastic group of officers and committee chairmen.

The campus became aware this year that Wednesday was Y day and that the YW is concerned with making its members alert to the need of the world today and with enabling them to transfer their ideas into action.

THE UNIVERSITY YMCA is a voluntary, non-denominational association of students and faculty of all faiths and creeds. It offers opportunity for all students to participate in a program that encourages personal growth and maturity, as well as serving the campus and community.

Experiencing a vigorous upsurge of activity, the YMCA Freshman Fellowship Club has built a broad program of leadership training, recreation and social events. The club, which exists expressly for the purpose of orienting new freshmen to Washington and assisting them in adjusting to student life, is the only campus organization which is run by "Freshmen Only" for freshmen.

One of the most successful of all "Y" functions has been the newly inaugurated Public Affairs Program, which provided a more intelligent understanding of current affairs in the local, national, and international scenes. Other outstanding projects have been the student-faculty firesides, the marriage course, the International Banquet, high school relations and joint programs with the YWCA and the campus. With increasing student participation, Eagleson Hall is expanding plans for next year.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

With the completion of the 1947 TYEE comes the closing of a host of wonderful memories not only for the record-breaking number of students of the University of Washington, but especially for the TYEE staff.

There are no adequate words with which I may express my gratitude and sincere appreciation to the entire staff for their effort and time, involving many hours at night, on the week-ends and during vacation, which made this book a reality.

To those who are not staff members, my sincere thanks:

To Frank Pratt, Russell Graves, Ray Wilcox, Harry Larimer, Charlie Prowse and Leo Schroeder of Lowman and Hanford for their interest, advice and cooperation in the printing of the Tyee.

To Harleth Steinke of Dexter Engraving for the assistance which he so generously gave, and Burton Grinnell for the color picture of President Allen.

To Jean Hopkins and Mary Savery who assembled photograph panels; to Ed Egan who took organization pictures, and to Ed Kennell, all of Kennell-Ellis, uptown.

To H. C. Hunter of the University News Service for his assistance in assembling photographs for the faculty section.

To the University Athletic News Service, The Seattle Post-Intelligencer and The Seattle Times for the use of some of their pictures in the sports section.

To Cherami florists for the orchid corsage which was photographed for the social season sub-division page; to Dollie McAssey for the use of the manikin on the queens sub-division page, and to the Army department for the use of their bugle on the military sub-division page. And to Bob Hallgren, John Hieber, and Dean Palmer for photographing all of the sub-division pages.

To Dean Herbert T. Condon for his advice and assistance in assembling the information for the Board of Regents' page.

To Clyde A. Robinson, Publications' manager, for his advice, trips to the engraver and never-tiring patience, and to Donelyn Jaeger, Publications' secretary.

Looking forward with the BOOK STORE

As the University grows, so does the Book Store . . .
the friendly familiar part of life on the campus that will continue to serve you as you carve out your career in your home community.

And as greater facilities are planned for the University—so for the Book Store. Even now expansion is under way . . . more space . . .
larger departments . . . modern facilities to make your time spent in the Book Store more pleasant . . . supplying better merchandise in our many departments with a lifelong flavor of youth.

JUST A FEW STEPS OFF THE CAMPUS

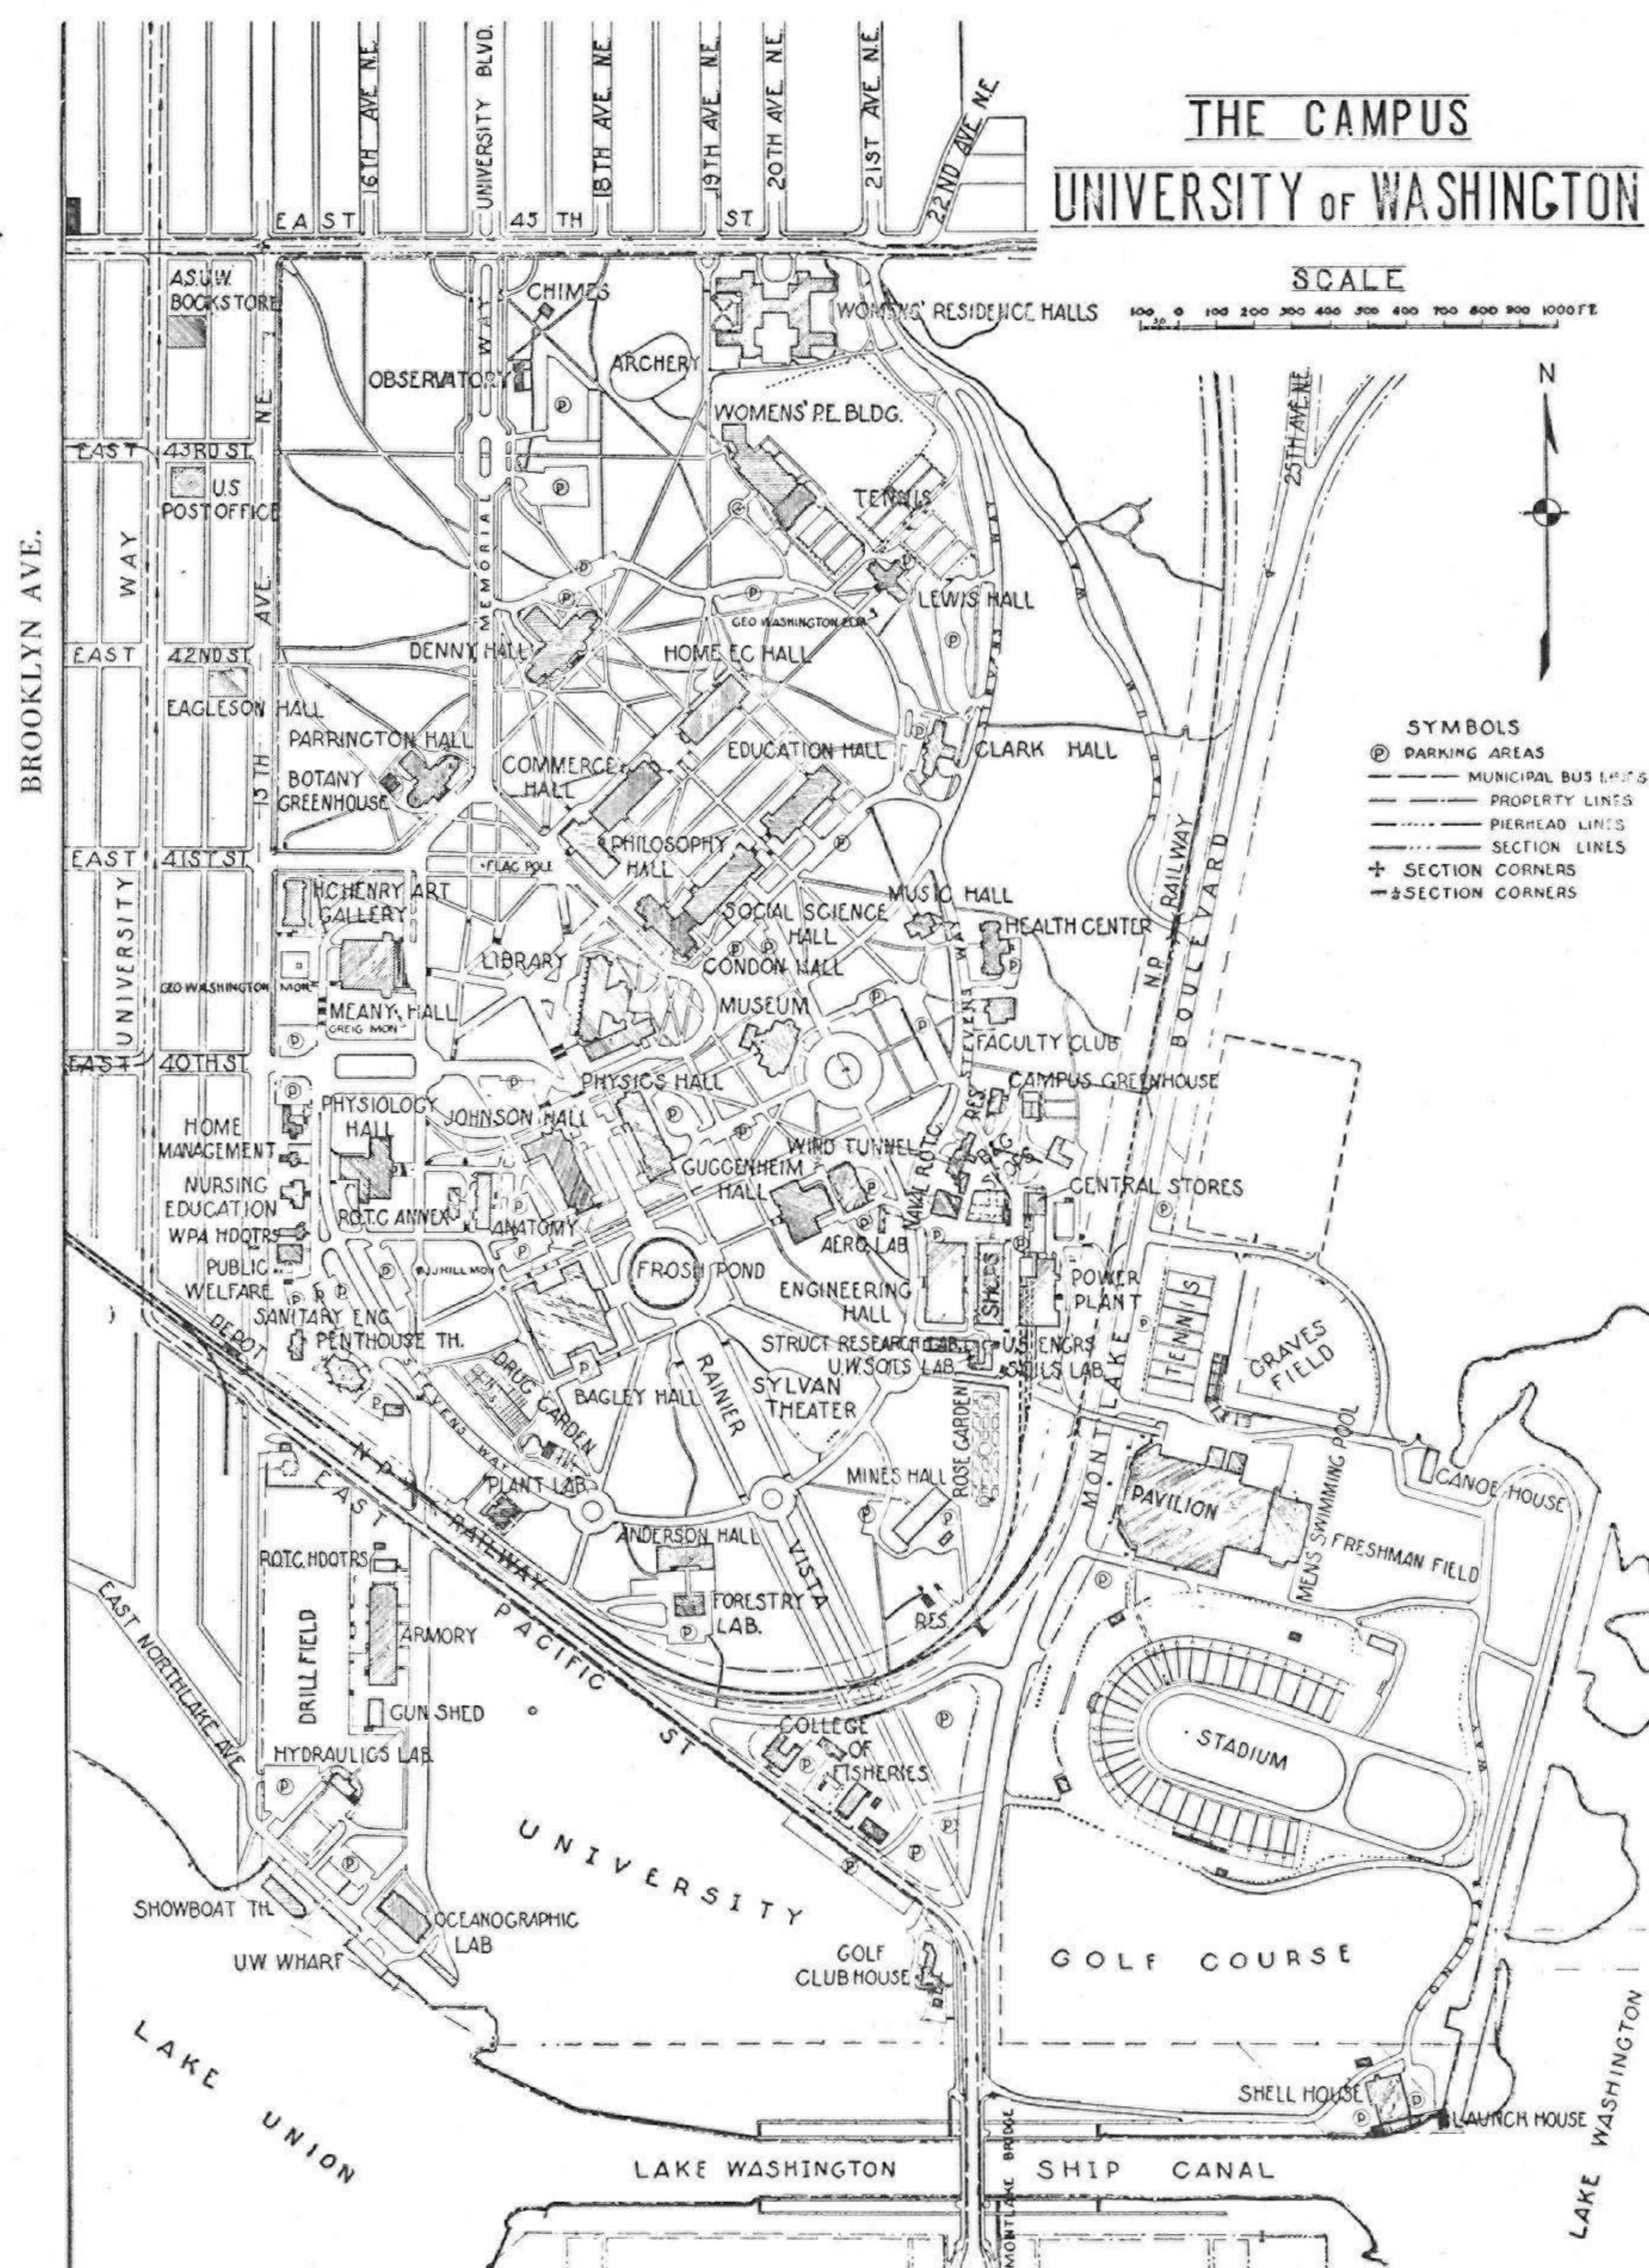

UNIVERSITY BRANCH
The National Bank of Commerce
E. 45th St. & Brooklyn Ave.

Anything you ever want in bank services . . . name it and Commerce has it.

For a good start, have your own Special Checking Account . . . costs little . . . handy . . . tells where the money goes.

Just buy your book of checks . . . no "nickel bookkeeping" or other charges. Keep any balance you like . . . go merrily on your way writing checks.

P. S. It's a good idea to have enough in your account to cover the checks . . . helps your credit.

A Good Meal Demands Good Meat

It's economical to buy only U. S. inspected and graded meat, so why not enjoy the best. We are conveniently located just a block and a half from the campus.

"THE MOST VALUABLE THING ON EARTH?"

Not a quiz question, that one. And not a "huckster" superlative. A distinguished analyst said: "Wood is becoming the most valuable thing on earth."

And you of the Class of '47 who expect to help harvest wood and promote that "wise use which is conservation" will meet, know, and respect Young products
—since 1902 the standard of excellence in logging necessities. Visit our plant—see Young blocks, Certified tools, Silver Line hooks, etc. made—you're welcome any time.

"WE HAVE OUR OWN FACTORY"

Isaacson and THE TOMORROW MIND

Industry looks to college men and women for that friendly, welcoming attitude toward change . . . the "tomorrow" mind instead of the "yesterday" mind . . . which is research as practical men use it and the only sure pathway to progress. Did you know that . . .

Isaacson pioneered "Engineered for Balance" tractor equipment for the toughest earth-moving jobs?

Isaacson helped make Northwest logging equipment the finest and most economical in the world? . . . Karry Arches, Winchoists, Loggers' Special Trac-Dozers — all Isaacson change-welcoming developments.

Craftsmen in steel for longer than most of you have lived, Isaacson practical pioneers have also been trail-blazers in skillful forging, scientific heat treating, better structural steel design for every purpose.

We look to you to help keep the West Coast "a great laboratory where men of imagination blaze new paths to technological advancement."

ISAACSON
IRON Seattle WORKS

PLANNING TO BUILD?

IT WILL PAY YOU TO . . .

1. Consult an Expert Architect and Engineer.

Then engage a competent contractor. Experienced builders know they save by using a qualified architect, engineer and contractor. Pioneer urges you to follow their experience.

2. Insist on Pioneer Building Materials.

Pioneer is equipped to furnish the quality materials specified by your contractor.
